

LOCAL BREVITIES.

No. 604 was three hours late Tuesday morning. The pay-car went down Monday, dropping checks on its way.

Bring or send your orders to this office, for job printing of every description.

W. F. Wiesner will please accept our thanks for a measure of good "eating-apples."

Ironton has no base-ball club, and consequently is at peace with all the world and the rest of mankind.

Dr. T. R. Goulding, who has been very ill, is now, we are happy to state, well and able to attend to his professional duties.

The Delano dam on Stout's creek, which was greatly damaged by the late floods, is being repaired, and will shortly be stronger and better than ever.

We have received from the State Auditor a pamphlet containing the revised laws relating to Revenue, Draughts, Insurance, etc., for which he has our thanks.

Mr. Diggs is going to take legal steps against several prominent citizens of Ironton for their unlawful use of fire-crackers. He will make it warm for them, he says.

The trial of the Downs case will be taken up on the 20th inst., but it is doubtful whether it will be prosecuted to a conclusion. A change of venue will be asked for.

We acknowledge the receipt of, and return thanks for, a basket of very fine new potatoes—the gift of John Brosline, Esq. For a Jerseyman, John is a very fair potato grower.

Bro. Hutson is busily engaged on an addition to his restaurant building. It will be two stories high, about sixteen feet front, and the same in depth as the building to which it is attached.

The furnace at Pilot Knob will be put in blast about the first of September, and we have reason to believe will give satisfactory results. Neither care nor expense has been spared in its remodeling.

The hay crop this year looks of that of all former years, so far as we can remember, and as corn now promises well, the outlook for stock is mighty good. Oats are in fair condition and their harvest is nearly over.

The Iron County Sabbath School Association will be held in Ironton, beginning Wednesday, August 1st, at 2 o'clock P. M., and continuing in session until Thursday night. Programmes will be published next week.

We are informed that Prof. Ebaugh, former Principal of Ironton school, has been chosen Principal of schools at Malvern, Iowa, for a term of nine months, at $80 per month. His friends here will be glad to learn of his success.

The whistle of the Arcadia Valley Flour Mills is now heard daily at morning, noon and night. The machinery of the mill is running smoothly, and the public will soon be supplied with flour, bran, cornmeal, etc., from its rollers and burrs.

The St. Louis Ore & Steel Company (Pilot Knob Department) paid off last Saturday, and the usual run of business followed. All evening Main street was enlivened by the coming and going of persons with wants to supply, and with money to buy.

Pilot Knob will have a brass band of its own in the near future. And so it ought. There's plenty of material for performers, and once the matter is fairly afloat, the money for the instruments will be easily raised. The "boys" have our best wishes.

Messrs. F. F. Cape and Chas. Patton give a ball at the Academy of Music to-morrow (Thursday) evening. Invitations were issued last week, and the arrangements have all been completed. The participants will have a good opportunity for enjoying the occasion.

James H. Chase, Esq., was in town last week, looking around preparatory to his taking charge of the office to which he is lately appointed. He bears the honors of office modestly, and will, we have no doubt, make a capable, honest and efficient servant of Uncle Sam.

James M. Tong, Esq., now here visiting his relatives, presented us the other day with a number of specimens of Colorado silver ore. Those who are interested in such things—who is not in the magic metal?—are invited to call at the REGISTER office and see them.

The St. Louis Ore & Steel Company last Saturday received five Norman horses from near Chicago, Ill. The largest, a two-year-old, weighs 1550, and the smallest, 1325 pounds. Three are iron grey, and the other two are of darker color. They are the individual property of President Hitchcock.

Aug. Riecke, Esq., returned from his visit to Germany last Monday night. We have not yet seen him, but understand from others that he enjoyed his visit greatly, albeit he found things greatly changed in his old home. The ocean voyage was free from accident, speedy, and he suffered not greatly from mal de mer.

There is one room in the school-building which will, in the ordinary course of things, be unused the coming year. Is there no way by which it can be put to good use? A teacher of advanced studies might be employed and paid by those desiring his services, at little cost to each subscriber. Why not try it on for once?

A white man, under the influence of five-cent whiskey, amused himself by throwing stones at a colored brother's house in Ironton last Saturday night. The City Marshal took him in, and we presume the school fund received its usual contribution. We say, presume, for we are not fully posted as to the subsequent proceedings.

With his feet every day in the stirrup, he caught cold and at last lost his chirrup. A bad cold he endured. Till finally cured. By Smith's Tar and Silkworm Syrup. For sale by Dr. G. W. Farrar, Jr., Pilot Knob, Mo.

T. J. Sandford, Esq., of Brooklyn, N. Y., returned to Ironton last week, on a visit, after an absence of nine years. It is pretty difficult for his many friends and acquaintances here to realize that he is the same Jethro Sandford that left here in 1874. He was then 19 years old, and small for his age. Now he is a grown man—not of herculean proportions, certainly, but a manly, fair-sized, eligible beau, for all that. He was warmly greeted by his legion of friends, who were perhaps as glad to see him as he was to get a view of old faces and scenes once again. Thursday evening a picnic was given in his honor at the residence of Capt. Zwart, and all the young folks of his acquaintance, and others, too, participated. They had a royally good time, and enjoyed themselves in various ways until a late hour, chatting, dancing, partaking of the splendid collation set before them, etc., etc.

Mr. Sandford left for Fredericktown on Tuesday following, whence he will in a day or two depart for the East. May good fortune be with him.

We acknowledge, with thanks, the receipt of an invitation and "complimentary" to a Grand Concert at the City Hall, Piedmont, Thursday evening, July 26th. The programme accompanying it is an excellent one, and promises a rare entertainment to all who are fortunate enough to be present. It opens with an overture (violin and piano) by Mrs. Charlton and Miss Lulu Yancey, which we are certain will be excellently rendered followed by a dozen songs, choruses, and selections, and closes with a Grand Minstrel Finale:

Keep in de middle of de road.....Sam. Oh Sam.....Uncle Edward. Old folks at home.....Topsy. Oh dat Watermelon.....Uncle Edward. The old Cabin Home.....Annah. Where am de children.....Parson Joe. Admission, 35c. Reserved seats, 50c. Children, 25c.

Supposing the St. Louis wisecracker who put $100,000 into the played-out Montezono Springs had invested the like amount in Arcadia Valley? We are not envious nor seriously disconcerted with things as they come, ordinarily; but we can't help thinking how much might have been done with that money toward making the Arcadia Valley a summer resort that would attract visitors by the thousand. Our time will come—it is bound to come—but a little well-directed effort will wonderfully hasten its coming.

The County Court, at its June term, raised wine-and-beer licenses to $300—$10 for State, and $550 for county purposes. This was contrary to law. The license for county purposes cannot be more than double that for the State, and the highest amount allowed for the latter is $25. So that $75 is the largest amount that may be assessed for wine-and-beer license. Such is the law as laid down by the State authorities, and the court's order will have to be modified accordingly.

Master Albert A. Zwart, who is now on a vacation visit to his parents, has well earned the pleasure he finds in being at home again. He this year carried off the following honors at St. Mary's College, Kansas, which had an attendance of 286 pupils from all parts of the Union. First Grammar Class; 1st Premium for Christian Doctrine, English, Arithmetic, History and Geography; and 1st premium in Third Class of German. That's what we call a pretty good tally.

The storm which did so much damage to other sections last Friday evening, broke harmlessly over the heads of the good people of the Arcadia Valley. The clouds were of inky blackness and came on from the north at fearful speed, making nervous even the hill protected denizens of Pilot Knob, Ironton and Arcadia, but its force was spent against the everlasting bulwarks which stand between them and the terrors of the Storm King.

The colored Masons will have a picnic, on the 18th of August, at Goulding's Park. Several lodges from neighboring towns will be in attendance, and addresses will be delivered by Rev. J. W. Jackson and others. The Potosol colored brass band will be in attendance, and the other arrangements will be such as to insure a fine time to all who may be in attendance. Dinner will be served on the grounds at reasonable price.

Whatever we may think as to the policy of bringing second-hand houses from the neighboring villages and setting them down on Main street, all will agree that Jno. Albert, Esq., understands his business. He hauled the Delano storehouse nearly a mile in six days, and if one of the roller plinths had not given way, would have had the building in position before quitting-time Saturday evening.

It was weak, brethren—very weak. And he who invested one dollar in caramels and staid on the outside to eat them, with his girl to assist him, was wise—wondrous wise. That is, Friday night. Saturday night, no one who had been there the previous evening was weak enough to be taken in. O ye Berger-Fox Combination, farewell—a long farewell!

Mr. Crumb, Receiver of the Land Office, has removed into the south room, second floor, of the Academy of Music building, and those having business with him will please make a note of the fact. The U. S. Register's office will be removed into one of the ground floor rooms in the same building so soon as Mr. Chase takes charge.

The time for the payment of city taxes is rapidly rolling round, and everybody who pays now will have the satisfaction of knowing that one good debt, at least, is discharged. The City Collector will take pleasure in giving receipts to all who may desire to be forehanded in this matter.

In All Thy Gettings, Get Strength.

If the skin be yellow and the bowels constipated, if you have ringing in your ears and dull pains in the side, sick headache, sour stomach, hot or dry skin, spots before the eyes, bad taste in your mouth, cold feet and hands, sleepiness, giddiness, loss of appetite, bad circulation of the blood, swollen limbs, etc., you may safely conclude your liver is out of order. The liver is more apt to become disordered than any other organ of the body, as its duty is to filter the impurities from the blood. When it becomes weak, obstructed and diseased it must fail to do its duty, and the whole body suffers. Go to G. W. Farrar, of Pilot Knob, and get a bottle of White's Prairie Flower, the great Liver Panacea, which has the largest sale of any liver medicine in the world. Dr. Farrar will present you with one dollar and sixty-five-cent's worth of choice music with each 75-cent bottle. Samples 25 cents. 1-cp20-1y

Friday's Storm in the Southeast.

At Malden, Dunklin county, last Friday evening a church, a school house, the Masonic Hall and an unfinished hotel were demolished, and several residences seriously injured, by a wind storm. The loss is over $30,000. At Benton, Scott county, during the same storm, the water mills were blown into Grand river and completely wrecked. Loss $8,000. The Presbyterian Church was destroyed. Loss $5,000. Many other buildings at that place were badly damaged.

Two of a Kind

Don't amount to much in poker, but two doses of Smith's Chill and Fever Tonic, with a Bible each night, will undermine the Chills and Fever every time.

Heirs Wanted.

Margaret Lindenborn, maiden name Eckstein, wife of Philip Lindenborn, resp. her heirs, who are said to live at or near Bellevue, Mo., will please send their address to the German Consul at St. Louis, Mo.

Some time since, Judge Thomas entered suit in our Circuit Court against James P. Foster for $20,000 damages, for slander. Last Monday the case was amicably settled, with Judge Jos. J. Williams on the bench as special Judge. Mr. Foster confessed judgment in the amount sued for, and Judge Thomas entered satisfaction. Thus the matter ended, with no expense to either party, except a small amount of court fees, which Mr. Foster paid.—DeSoto Watchman.

Progress at the Knob.

The largest blowing engine in this country is now being put up by J. R. Miller, master mechanic of the St. Louis Ore & Steel Co., at their furnace in Pilot Knob. That it is truly an immense machine and worthy to be classed among the sights of our Valley, may be seen from the dimensions. Length of engine, 58 feet 9 inches. Diameter of fly-wheel, 20 feet. Weight of fly-wheel, eighteen tons. Diameter of the two blowing cylinders, each, 63 inches. Diameter of the two steam cylinders, each, 30 inches, with length of stroke six feet. Length of the two piston-rods, each, 30 feet, with diameter of 9 inches. The foundations upon which the engine rests are built of patent hydraulic pressed brick, of which there were 165,000 used. Though this mammoth machine is not yet ready to be set in motion, the work of its erection goes on with great rapidity, and under the skilled hand of Mr. Miller its huge parts are placed silently and without apparent effort. It will be complete and ready to supply the blast for the furnace by September 1st. TIMEIZER.

Pilot Knob Items.

Our news items and personal mention of last week seem to have miscarried. The most novel bird cage of the season can be found at Mr. Jaquith's, in which he keeps two beautiful robins.

Mrs. W. A. Lyman, Miss M. J. Adams and Miss Alice Love attended the July examination and wrote manuscripts for certificates.

Mr. Joe Davis, Sr., has been very low during the last week from dyspepsia; scarcely able to live, but we are glad to say is improving again.

We understand that the late peddler's license enacted by the Town Board has been modified to remove the objectionable features of it.

Mr. J. A. Roden, of Deer Brook, Mississippi, on his way home from Hot Springs, and Mrs. C. G. Warner, of St. Louis, visited their sister, Mrs. F. C. Miller, last week.

Saturday was pay-day for the company, and both horses and men were given a day of rest. This is right, but the pity is that many men can not rest without dissipation.

Two dances were arranged for Monday evening, one at the arbor in front of Richter's and the other at Killalee's Hall. The rain spoiled the former. The latter had prepared excellent music and we presume was a success.

Your correspondent has had an opportunity to observe the business done by the Company Store here, and was indeed surprised at the large amount of provisions, clothing, &c., dispensed every day to the workmen. It may be said that Mr. Delono has quite thoroughly learned the business, and that the clerks get around quicker than is usual where such large sales are made.

The Normal Institute, previously announced, began Monday. About twenty teachers were present the first day. Sickness prevented Prof. Norton's arrival until Tuesday; the work, however, was begun Monday by F. C. Miller and continued until Mr. Norton arrived and took charge. The work of the session promises to be of more than ordinary interest to teachers. Parents would do well to attend. ITEMIZER.
