VOLUME XXI. NUMBER 41.

IRONTON, MO., THURSDAY, APRIL 19, 1888.

FOR CONGRESS—10TH DISTRICT:

MARTIN L. CLARDY,
OF ST. FRANCIS.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY COMMITTEE.

To the Members of the Democratic Executive Committee of Iron County:

You are hereby notified that a meeting of the committee will be held in Ironton, Monday, April 23d, at 2 o'clock P. M., at the courthouse for the purpose of calling on the Democratic voters of Iron County to elect Delegates and Alternates to the State Convention at Sedalia, Mo., on the 17th day of May, 1888, to elect Delegates and Alternates to National Convention at St. Louis, June 5th, 1888, and to attend to other important business. ELI D. AKE, Chairman, County Committee.

The State Press Association meets at Warrensburg, on the 12th of June.

The candidates for county officers are announcing in old Wayne. Early birds are they.

The Marble Hill Press has been victimized by a peripatetic member of "the craft," and thus holds the danger signal for the benefit of the rest of us: WARNING: We warn all persons against having any relations with a printer who signs himself "J. D. Hanson." He is a deep-eyed scamp and rascal of the hoodlum-thug order. He left here between two suns when honest people were asleep. He carries in his rotten bosom a putrifying mushroom instead of a heart, and has no more conceptions of the principles of an honest or a gentleman than an owl has of geometry. He beat his boarding house, beat a hardware merchant, beat the Press, and what else has not come to light, other than that he forged false entries on an account book. He is on the beat. Is built that way. He takes to a lie like a hog does to its wallow. He is a SCAMP and a RASCAL. Pass him around if you like. At least, pass him by.

Our Charge Verified.

Some time ago, in answer to an assault made upon the Democratic party, by R. M. Summers, M. W. Assembly No. 561, we called the attention of Iron County Democrats to the scheme on foot by Republican politicians, working through the K. of L., to compass their defeat. The New Order, a K. of L. journal, is before us, and if we are to judge the effect of our little shell by the contortions of the editor of that sheet went through when he penned it, we certainly printed this week, we certainly struck center. Our diagnosis of the case must have been searching and struck "more terror to the soul of Richard than could ten thousand soldiers." We asserted in our former comments that the mouth-piece of the K. of L. found everything to censure in the Democratic party, but to the Republican party it was "mild as summer." The New Order sees the mote in the Democratic eye, but cannot locate the beam in the Republican eye of vision. Here is one sample of the paroxysm called the New Order:

Perhaps it would be news to the Ironton worshiper of the so-called "party of Jefferson and Jackson" to learn that even that Democratic saint Thos. A. Hendricks voted for ninety-three land grab bills during his career as a legislator, and that he was ably assisted by other Democratic saints when they could spare time from their secret machinations in another direction to destroy the government and its credit.

Yes, this certainly is news to us, as fakehood is always unexpected. We are surprised at such a small number of bills. Why not make it 993? Why not take the position of the boy, who, when he returned from hunting, swore that he killed a dozen ducks at one shot? When attacked and it was shown that he had not killed one, he disarmed discussion by saying, "do you suppose I was going to tell a lie for one duck?" We simply quote from the New Order to point a moral. Does not the above quotation verify our former assertion, that their only aim is, as an "annex" to the Republican party, to defeat the dominant party? Not satisfied with living issues they rifle the grave and assault the fair fame of Thos. A. Hendricks, one of the purest statesmen this country has ever produced. After a long and honest life the character of Hendricks is made; his memory rests in the true heart of Democracy, more enduring than marble, and his escutcheon cannot be tarnished by noisome dew from the vampire wing of The New Order. Neither the character of Hendricks nor the party he loved so well can be injured by the venomous pen of those who clamor for agitation in favor of the laboring man, and who will still join the corporations to down Wm. R. Morrison, of Illinois, whose whole official life had been spent in honest endeavor to aid the laborer and improve his condition under the law.

Colored Society Notes.

I arrived, says G. A. Maston, at Piedmont 2:30 A. M. Sunday and was kindly conducted by Price, the porter of the Commercial Hotel, to the residence of Mrs. Mary Polly where I was reverently received and hospitably entertained. At 9 o'clock I began the work of learning the ropes and becoming acquainted. I soon found myself at the house of Henry Bostie, one of the leading colored citizens, who engaged me telling me how bad the flock needed a shepherd, and how well disposed the white citizens of Piedmont were toward colored divines. I next visited the Sunday school at the southern Methodist church and had a notice read. From the appearance of the Sabbath school the church is prosperous. I next met Mr. Richard

Booker, who is a gentleman of no ordinary intelligence. His wife was formerly Miss Sue Polly, of Ironton. I was agreeably surprised to find that she is a subscriber to the REGISTER, and is an interested reader of the "Colored Notes." Mr. Booker is an honored member of the "Paving Cutters Union," and meets with lodge No. 4 of Piedmont. He says that with the proper credentials from his lodge he can work at any quarry he may desire in the State. Mr. Booker told me of a friend of his, Rev. D. Williams, of Poplar Bluff, who is a member of lodge No. 18, and was formerly elected one of the vice-presidents. Besides showing the gentleman's abilities and the esteem in which he is held, it also shows that these men have a common interest and are fighting for a common cause that caste and prejudice on account of color vanishes. Rev. Williams was ordained on the 24th of March, and is held in high esteem by his church. I also met Richard Denwood who has been at Piedmont all winter and is making a good living. The climax was finally reached at 10 o'clock P. M. when the pastor arose and announced his subject to be "The church of Christ." Taking this text for the afternoon discourse, "Thou art the Christ, the son of the living God," "Thou art Peter and upon this rock I will build my church"—Matt. xvi, 16 and 18 verses. At the conclusion of the sermon a Sabbath school was organized with the following officers, Miss Annie Polle, superintendent; Henry Bostie, assistant superintendent; Miss Surrena Bostie, treasurer; a Miss Clark as secretary; Mr. R. Booker, leader of the singing. A prayer meeting was also organized with Mrs. Clark as leader. By a special request services were appointed for the first Sunday in May. So the good work has assumed a definite shape and will hereafter be looked after by the Ironton church.

Mr. Creath, of Piedmont, is putting up a new building in Piedmont, which will soon be occupied by Mr. Wesley Arms as a soda factory. Mr. Arms deserves great credit for his pluck and energy.

G. A. Maston and Miss Minnie Bream recently received their commissions as captains of the "Grand Army of Christian Education." The commissions were issued by Dr. Kynett, secretary of the Freedman's Bureau.

The parsonage has been fixed up in good shape and Rev. McAlister is using it as an office and a study. From all appearance the Rev. has taken a hold upon the hearts of the people and his success is assured. The Rev. is a widower, you know? He has secured board for the present at the house of George Carter.

From Bellevue.
Ed. Register—We are having beautiful weather, but it is getting dry and oats and wheat are needing rain. Farmers in this section are busy planting and plowing for corn.

A number of our farmers spent a few days at our city last week attending the County Alliance held at that place.

There was church at Cedar Grove Sunday. Rev. Berryman delivered a very interesting discourse at 11 o'clock in the morning and Rev. Enoch at 4 o'clock in the evening. The services were characterized with an unusually large attendance.

Mr. Williams delivered a lecture on Sunday schools at the Middleton district schoolhouse Sunday, after which a Sunday school was organized with J. Black superintendent and J. Hilleman secretary; the others to be obtained later.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lashley, of Black P. O., were visiting in our valley Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. T. B. Miner, who I informed you had gone to Sedalia, Mo., to attend school, is now in Washington Territory. He writes that the country is not near what it is represented to be by some. Wages are from $20 to $40 per month, according to what a person can do.

Mr. Robert Black that I spoke of in my last issue as being at the point of death, died April 7th and was interred at the family cemetery on old farm near Black P. O. Mr. Black was a Christian gentleman, and we have all reasons to believe that he has gone to that elum from which no traveler ever returns. He leaves a wife, three children and a host of friends to mourn his death. They have the sympathy of all who knew Mr. Black in this country.

We just received the sad intelligence of an accident that happened to Charlie Gallaher, of near Edge Hill, by being thrown from a mule; he will probably die, having his collar bone broken and also his arm. ROYER. April 16, 1888.

Clones.
Ed. Register—The past ten days' beautiful weather have been utilized by the farmers of this locality by sowing of oats, breaking for corn; while a few have planted and others are not done breaking.

On a recent trip to Ironton, I observed that the wheat crops present an unusually nice appearance, notwithstanding the fact of the severe winter.

While the measles are as yet quite prevalent in many localities, there are but one or two cases reported here.

There is talk of A. H. Eaton putting up a stock of goods at Black.

T. B. Minor, who left Black to attend school in St. Louis, is now in Oregon.

It is reported that there are not less than twenty-five persons at Lesterville who contemplate immigrating to W. T. this spring.

Giles Henderson, Esq., Bellevue, was out here not long ago for the purpose of buying mules. He purchased one of J. M. Latham; price paid, $165.

The following is the result of the annual meeting in this district: Jno. McMahon, director for two years; J. H. Stricklin for one; J. Sumpter for three. Length of term five months. The teacher who taught last term was re-employed.

It appears that "F." is somewhat shy over what "P." had to say relative to the Farmers' Alliance, in his last communication to the REGISTER. Now, sir, "F." did not attack the organization, but its method. "P." is a stanch friend to the farmer and anticipates the time when the farmer will be the independent man, and not dependent, as under the present surroundings. I know of a lodge not far from this point that has among its members, lawyers, editors, merchants, doctors, and the Lord only knows what else. Yes, sir, union is strength; but if we attempt to unite, to legislate against an evil, and have the evil ones with us as members, it is very evident that we must inevitably fail. Now, sir, I have no objection to the ladies being honorable members of the Alliance. I have a profound respect for them, bless their saccharine existence; but I cannot see where nor how the average lady can be of any benefit to the organization. While I believe that the intention of the Alliance is good, I cannot refrain from saying that, unless the organization eliminates a few of those who are not in some way at least an auxiliary to farming, it will need "rejuvenating ere long."

Mr. and Mrs. John McMahon visited us on the afternoon of Sunday last.

Dr. Waller Parker has returned to his field of practice, after an absence of several days.

I am reliably informed that Giles McMahon, Esq., will accept a position in St. Louis about the first of July next. Giles is a young man of more than ordinary intelligence, hence I predict for him success.

Adam Henderson, Esq., will engage in the pedagogue business next fall. He is an industrious young man, well qualified for the business.

James Wood has gone to M. T. on business.

John Stricklin has received of J. C. Getz, St. Louis, through his agent, an Eldridge "B" sewing machine.

Reports say that Mr. Robert Reed, who is attending school at Cross Roads, will teach school near here next fall. We welcome you, Mr. R. April 7th.
