FOR CONSTABLE OF ARCADIA TOWNSHIP. We are authorized to announce COLMAN B. HILL as an independent candidate for Constable of Arcadia Township, subject to the November election.

LOCAL BREVIETIES.

The weather the past week has been varied with frost and thunder-storm.

D. H. Palmer declines emphatically to be a candidate on the Independent or any other ticket.

Yesterday was Velled Prophets Day, and it exuded about fifty people from the Valley.

Look out for the Democratic Demonstration and Parade on the 20th. Full particulars next week.

Prof. A. P. Vance will address the Cleveland Club of this place next Saturday, at 7 P. M. Let us all turn out and hear him.

Our Independent friends are having bad luck with their ticket. First, the head dropped off; then the tail; and now the middle is gone.

J. B. Walker and J. C. Carty, Esqs., went to Keolin last Saturday, and in the evening preached some good Democratic doctrine to a full house. A club was formed, and several conversions made.

All sons of ex-Union soldiers over 18 years of age living in Iron County and vicinity are requested and notified to meet at G. A. R. Hall in Ironton Saturday, October 6th, at 7 P. M. ADJ'T IRON POST.

An amusing and instructive lecture, entitled "Straws," will be given by Rev. O. M. Martin, of St. Louis, at the New Church in Graniteville on the evening of October 15th, 1888. Doors open at 7. Admission, 25 cents.

Mann Ringo and J. C. Carty will address the Bellevue Cleveland Club next Saturday at 2 o'clock P. M. A full turn-out of the members is desired, since, in addition to the speaking, some very important business will come before the meeting.

IRONTON, MO., Oct. 2d, 1888. Notice is hereby given that the Independent County Central Committee will meet at the courthouse in Ironton Saturday, October 6th, at 2 P. M., for the transaction of such business as may be brought before the committee. Independent candidates are requested to be present. B. F. BONE, Ch'n.

The marriage of Rev. L. Pulliam and Miss Julia Swan was solemnized at the residence of Uncle Jimmie Smith on Tuesday last. The groom is pastor of the M. E. church, Arcadia, at which point the happy couple reside for the present, and the bride is a young lady of our city. Rev. C. M. Hensley performed the ceremony.—Charleston Democrat.

Miss May Tong returns from the city today, after a three weeks' sojourn. While we do not assume that she put in all her time examining the styles and selecting her winter stock of Millinery, there is no doubt that she has taken full advantage of her opportunities. To all who desire anything in her line, we commend Miss Tong's establishment as the very place to select the very latest and most fashionable.

MARRIED—At Irondale, Mo., on Tuesday, September 26th, 1888, by the Rev. Hillman, Miss ANNA MASCHMEYER to Mr. ADOLPH C. BRENNERCKE.

The bride is the daughter of our old friend, Chas. Maschmeyer, Esq., of Pilot Knob, and we congratulate Mr. Brennecke upon the excellent choice he has made. She will prove a true helpmate through life, and we trust that life may be long and happy. The printer was not forgotten 'mid the joyful celebration of the nuptials, but was duly honored with some of the cake that did give relish to the marriage-feast, and for this he begs to make due acknowledgement.

The Knights (and Ladies) of Honor gave one of their always enjoyable socials at the Academy of Music last Friday evening. The Hall was filled with the Knights, their families, and friends, and very entertaining addresses were made by Hon. John I. Martin, Grand Dictator, and W. M. Kinsey, Grand Reporter—both of St. Louis. After the speeches an oyster supper was served in the basement—served as the ladies only can. The tables were neatly laid and decorated, and the estates were first class. After the supper, a dance was enjoyed by the young people until a late time to "go home in the morning." The verdict is unanimous that our friends of the K. of H. know how to do these things well and handsomely, and, knowing, do.

CONVOCAION.—The first regular meeting of the St. Louis Convocation will be held in St. Paul's Church, Ironton, October 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th.

There will be Evening Prayer and Addresses by the visiting Clergy at 7:30 o'clock on the evenings of the 9th, 10th and 11th, and on Wednesday morning (10th) at 10 o'clock, Morning Prayer and Sermon. On Thursday morning (11th), at 10 o'clock, Holy Communion. On Friday morning (12th), at 10 o'clock, Litany and Sermon.

Among the subjects appointed by the Dean (Rev. F. B. Schertz) for addresses are the following: "Motives for Church-going;" "Giving an Act of Worship;" "The Church a Divine Institution;" "The Church's Inherent Missionary Character;" "Baptism and Confirmation;" "The Lord's Supper." All are cordially invited to attend. CHAS. G. DAVIS.

The celebration of the anniversary of the Battle of Pilot Knob last Thursday, was carried out according to programme, and was participated in by hundreds of the G. A. R. and citizens. Delegates from Belgrade and Farmington posts arrived early, notwithstanding their preliminary journey of about twenty miles. The procession formed at the hall, and headed by the Ironton Cornet Band, marched to Pilot Knob, through the town, and then back to the depot, to await the arrival of the excursion train from St. Louis. That arrived in due time, with about 300 excursionists. Line was again formed, and all marched to the old fort, where addresses were made by Major David Murphy, Mr. W. M. Kinsey and Mr. M. L. Ratchford.

Mr. Murphy's address would have been well enough if he had ignored politics; but his wailing the "bloody shirt" was no more pleasant to some of his hearers than were the political remarks of Mr. Ratchford to others. There is more excuse for the latter gentleman, perhaps, since many claim it was whiskey and not the man that was talking. Mr. Kinsey's remarks were appropriate to the occasion, and were attentively listened to. Ex-Gov. Fletcher also talked a few minutes, and his words were appropriate to the occasion. We think we could say the same of taking it all through the celebration was not the success hoped for; and we doubt if, within the present generation, there will be another equal to the first—held six years ago.

Judge Palmer Declines. BELLEVUE, MO., Oct. 1st, 1888. To the Citizens of Iron County: I notice in last week's REGISTER my name published as an independent candidate for the office of County Judge Western District. Permit me to say that I was asked by many friends to run for the primary for said office, and positively declined to submit myself for that or any other office. The publication of my name as seen in the last week's issue of the REGISTER was without my consent. While I appreciate the expressed wishes of those who placed it there, I must emphatically, but respectfully, decline to allow it to remain. D. H. PALMER.

"Granny" (bless her old bones!) of Arcadia, surrounded with her uncle Potes, Isaacs, Abel, et al., of whom she discourses so glibly—I repeat, it such were my environment, I might hope to write much, but as it is, I can only hope to gather a few floating happenings; and since the death of the horse that was hurt by the cars, the raising of the flag-pole, and the culmination of the Anniversary Picnic—I say, since all these things, which kept us at fever heat for so many days, have come and gone, the town has relaxed into its wonted gravity, and items are scarce as the proverbial tooth of the fabled fowl.

However, we "wait to do by doing," and this effort, my very maiden one, may and will help me to do better next time, provided you do not "set down on me" too hard for this. Yours, CATO.

FOR RENT.—The Hotel at Bismarck, Mo., occupied by Mrs. C. S. Archdeacon. For further information address F. RODACH, Middlebrook, Mo.

To the Teachers, Directors and School Patrons of Iron County: On last Saturday, 22d inst., several of the teachers met and re-organized the Iron County Teachers' Association. Our next meeting will be held the second Saturday in October. I expect this week to write every teacher in the county, excepting those I can see, stating why I wish you present at our next meeting. I beseech you not to fail to be present. We will have an interesting programme and, further, I have a matter to present to the teachers, which is of special interest to every one.

Last year I felt very charitable toward all who lived a long distance from Ironton and who failed to attend our meetings, but now I ride ten miles to attend and you can do likewise. You can afford to meet your county workers in council once a month even if you are compelled to ride twenty miles in order to do so. Don't say you cannot reach Ironton in time. Start on Friday evening if necessary and go a part of the distance. School directors and school patrons urge your teachers to attend every session of the Iron County Teachers' Association. Furnish them horses to ride and let them dismiss their schools at noon on Friday morning in order to attend. Every teacher who attends will be greatly benefited and your children will, in consequence of the attendance of your teachers, be greatly benefited through wiser management and more skillful teaching. We hope to see many at our meetings besides those of our profession. Respectfully, JNO. B. SCOTT, School Com. of Iron Co.

Iron Mountain News. I was glad to see that you had two communications from this place in the last issue, and if you will allow and "R. V. W." don't care (as he told me he didn't) I will give you a few items this week. The weather is delightful. (You know when a fellow has not got anything else to talk of he talks about the weather.) We had the pleasure of listening to Rev. L. Pulliam, of Arcadia, last Monday night. He preached better than usual; the reason being that he had his bride with him. Mr. Pulliam will preach here once a month. His next appointment is for the second Monday in October.

Dr. J. W. Hall met with a serious accident a few days ago. He was on his way to Arcadia and when within about one mile and a quarter of Pilot Knob, his horse (and it was a daisy) became frightened, ran over a stump, throwing him out. Being without a driver he bounded away and attempted to cross the railroad but was struck by a freight locomotive which threw him some distance from the track. After lingering for a few days he died. The Doctor was not injured very badly, only his feelings. W. J. V. B. P. B. C. T. F.

Walker Wakes the Sleepers. Ed. Register.—On last Thursday night J. B. Walker, of Ironton, delivered a speech on the political issues of the day to our Cleveland and Thurman Club, and it was one of the best that has ever been heard in this town, and that is saying it in the highest railroad corporation, monopolists, land grants, and the tariff, to their fullest extent, but dwelling largely on the subject of tariff reform, with facts and figures that can't be disputed by even Ah Ben or any of his followers.

On the same evening, W. M. Kinsey, the Republican candidate for Congress in the 10th district, delivered an address to the Ah-Ben-Railroad-Corporation-Bankers-Morton Club, in which they were told of the danger in railroad corporations, monopolists, land grants, and the tariff, to their fullest extent, but dwelling largely on the subject of tariff reform, with facts and figures that can't be disputed by even Ah Ben or any of his followers.

On Monday last Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Drewry left for Tennessee, where they go to make their future home. They were greatly respected by all who knew them. On the 19th inst. Mr. and Mrs. H. Latham made a trip to Caledonia. I am reliably informed that Mr. Charley Carty and Miss Joanna Clide, both of Camp Ground, were married on Wednesday last. Mr. Carty is a son of G. W. Carty, and is an industrious young man, well respected by all who know him. While Miss Clide is an orphan, she was reared by G. B. Goggin, who instilled in her mind principles of virtue, and that stability of character and Christian fortitude, far superior to riches. The United Baptist Association will be held at Goodland on the second Saturday and Sunday in October next. Two horses of Bure Smiths were bitten by a mad dog last week. The roads in this district are in first-class condition.

Further said they were not prepared. That's a pretty hard one on Mr. Kinsey; a candidate for Congress and not prepared to meet a little one-horse lawyer like Mr. Walker, (so he himself put it.) And he (Mr. L.) still further says he would rather hear a jakesack bray than to hear Mr. Walker speak. The fact of the matter is he would rather hear a jakesack bray any time than hear a Democrat speak. We will give Mr. Lindsey to understand we are an organized body also, and were two weeks prior to their organizing, and have treble the number of members—and all legal voters, too. If any of the Ah Ben club here doubt this we can show them over a hundred and twenty-five good Cleveland and Thurman Democratic voters now, say nothing about what we'll have on the sixth day of November next. They will find out we are pretty well organized by eight o'clock that evening. When you fellows get prepared, please let us know, either by letter or otherwise, and we'll be too glad to accept, and either chew or get chewed, as the case may be, by you. If we'll give you a free drink of whiskey; if not we'll take a free suit of clothes, and acknowledge that we are not prepared, as it were. And we feel like Mr. Jas. G. Blaine, the uncrowned king of the Republican party, on the question of trusts: it's only a private matter with which Mr. Cleveland nor any other man has any right to meddle.

But is probable he (the U. K.) would give as much to have this little saying of his obliterated as the British Banker Morton offers the stock-maker in Maine—say the sum of six thousand dollars—to take his sign down for fear of an injury to him in his political career. No, sir, Mr. Cleveland nor any other man has any right to interfere with matters of trusts. Take the sugar trust, for instance: for every dollar's worth of sugar we buy, we pay 78 per cent. duty; we then get twenty-two cents' worth of sugar and seventy-eight cents' worth of protection for country workers in cotton once a month even if you are compelled to ride twenty miles in order to do so. Don't say you cannot reach Ironton in time. Start on Friday evening if necessary and go a part of the distance. School directors and school patrons urge your teachers to attend every session of the Iron County Teachers' Association. Furnish them horses to ride and let them dismiss their schools at noon on Friday morning in order to attend. Every teacher who attends will be greatly benefited and your children will, in consequence of the attendance of your teachers, be greatly benefited through wiser management and more skillful teaching. We hope to see many at our meetings besides those of our profession. Respectfully, JNO. B. SCOTT, School Com. of Iron Co.

Ed. Register.—Owing to ill health I failed to come to time with my communication from this point. Farmers out here have been very busy for the past ten days cutting tops, making molasses, sowing wheat, etc. Messrs. Bell & Vollner threshed oats for Rev. J. R. Adams last week. It is said that he had about five hundred bushels. Married, not long ago, at the residence of the bride's mother, Mr. Henry Stafford to Miss Sarah Goggin, both of Black. Long may they wave! I am informed that J. S. Jordan, Ironton, delivered an address on the tariff question, at Crocker school house Tuesday night last. Your Correspondent at Pine Grove gave you a very readable description of the picnic at Black.

The writer was there and observed the workings of the whole thing, and, while I am no heartier in saying that it was a grand success, there were some features of it quite amusing. I have often tried to form at least a meager conception of the sublimity of the baptism of Christ by John in the river of Jordan, but for one to step from the dancing platform to the water's edge for so different a purpose causes one to blush with shame. The people of Black deserve great praise for their efforts to make the occasion a grand success.

Rev. Dr. Lucas, of Goodwater, was in this vicinity one day this week. He informs us that his son, James, is now selling merchandise for the Farmers' Alliance at that place, and is having an unusually large trade. The teacher of the Clones school submitted the following report last week for the month ending September 3d: Number of pupils attending during the month, 41; No. of days attended by all pupils during the month, 545; average No. attending each day, 27.35; No. cases tardiness, 13; No. cases of corporal punishment, 1; No. days taught, 20; Names of pupils neither absent nor tardy: Julia McMahon, Dora Stricklin, Louisa Baxter, Becca McMahon, George Thompson, Charley Thompson, Becca Stricklin. Happily, the discordant element in the district is being converted, by an impartial discharge of duty.

On Monday last Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Drewry left for Tennessee, where they go to make their future home. They were greatly respected by all who knew them. On the 19th inst. Mr. and Mrs. H. Obituary. Died, August 29th, 1888, at the residence of his daughter in Ironton, Mo., George Esenweia. Mr. Esenweia was born in Germany November 27th, 1807. He came to America in 1850, settled in Pennsylvania, living there till 1868, when he came west, finally making his home in Ironton. We have known the deceased for many years, and can truly say that he was a man worthy of the esteem so generally accorded him: his quiet, unobtrusive life won the respect of all. Those who knew him intimately, as we did, will, while grieving for his loss, acknowledge that the community was made better for his life. Though past 80 years of age, he had none of the querulous petulance, and but few of the weaknesses, of the octogenarian. He had the rare gift of growing old gracefully. In his last sickness he was attended by his children and grand-children, whom he loved, and who loved him. And while their grief is softened by the consciousness that the fruition of old age must be garnered in, the separation is none the less keenly felt. To them we tender heartfelt sympathy.

Died—at his residence, near Pilot Knob, September 19th, 1888, Carl Kaesemacher, aged 54 years. Deceased was a native of Germany—born April 17th, 1834. He emigrated to America during the Civil War, coming first to St. Louis, removing thence to Bellevue in this county, and finally settling down on a farm, which he had bought, near Pilot Knob. He leaves a wife and two children to mourn his loss. Mr. Kaesemacher was a type of the educated German—having received a University Education, and a course in a German Agricultural School. The greater part of his time was passed in the seclusion of his farm; and therefore his list of acquaintances was drummer-like; but those who had the good fortune to know him, loved him well. Falling illness had disqualified him for the active duties of farm life; but the society of his family, and his love for books and music largely compensated for ill-health and rendered an enforced inactivity tolerable. A genial friend, kind-hearted and true, he was; a tender husband, and a loving father; a refined and educated gentleman; a good man and a worthy citizen. Our hearts go out in loving sympathy to his bereaved family. It seems hard that he should be taken; but God knows best.

DIED—September 14, 1888, at Sabnis, Mo., EDDIE, infant son of A. C. and Nancy A. Kinnell, aged 11 months and 8 days. At Arcadia, Mo., Saturday, September 29th, 1888, at 11:50 o'clock P. M., C. M., infant son of John A. and Mary M. Hogue, aged ten months. At Arcadia, Mo., Sunday, September 30th, 1888, at 1 o'clock A. M., HARRY, infant son of James F. and Eliza P. Hatton, aged four weeks.

From Warren's Store. Ed. Register.—As "J. H. P." has gone the way of "Holling Jack" or some other way, and believing that this live community should be represented in your interesting columns, I will assume the role of correspondent until some one more capable takes my place. The protracted meeting on Imboden closed last Wednesday. There were several accessions, sowing wheat, etc. Our school is moving along nicely. Mr. Wilson is an experienced and successful teacher, and the people were fortunate in securing his services. A Democratic club was organized last Saturday at the schoolhouse on Imboden with a membership of 23. Mr. Brooks and Mr. January, of Centreville, were the speakers of the occasion. The weather was unpropitious that a few of the toughest old Democrats were all that ventured out, but I think we will "soop 'em" all in before the election. The Republicans are going to have grand blow-out of some kind on East Fork next Saturday; will give particulars in my next. The F. F. seems to be in a comatose condition. Hope it will wake up after the election and do something. We learn that Mr. Alfred Hale will move to Bellevue next month. We are sorry to lose so good a citizen. Miss Maude Haral is visiting relatives in Tennessee. So no more till the next time. Fox, Sept. 24th, 1888.

Well, Mr. Editor, I will give you a few items, to let Harry know I am not dead—if my physical coposity does not strike the olfactory nerve with the quintessence of conglomaterated sweetness. I have been gone from the field for some time, but when I returned I found our correspondent, Mr. Tet, idle, so I started about to gather him a load of pumpkins to peddle for employment and gain his equilibrium. We have a full supply of school teachers started out from our Little Black River school house. T. L. Wilson is teaching at St. Marys Chapel this term. He will then quit for a brief period, as he will be the future assessor of Reynolds county. Hope he will prosper in all his undertakings. Harry Padfield has left our vicinity and gone to Bellevue to teach school at the Elm Grove school. Success to you, Harry. Henson Muse is teaching first-class and successful school on the Imboden, and am glad to hear it, as that school was cheated out of their money last year. Henson is a model young man and success will surely crown his efforts in advancing the pupils for their future welfare. Miss Ellen Wilson is teaching school on Mill Creek in this county. Harvey Drury left this vicinity for Tennessee on the 18th inst., taking with him his wife and household effects. We had divine services here last Sunday, Rev. Fulton occupying the pulpit. Two received the sacred rites of baptism. While in church I saw many old friends and acquaintances, all looking well and happy. Miss Sina Hapner, of Bellevue, is down in our midst visiting her aunts and many friends. Dave Kness was down from Bellevue, last Sunday, with a smile on his face like a cross-cut saw, and extending from ear to ear. Come again, Dave. Miss Mand Haral is gone to Tennessee on a visit to relatives. Alfred Hale will move to Bellevue in the near future and will go on Mr. Long's farm. Molasses making is all the go now in this neighborhood. There will be but little wheat sowed here this fall. More news. ROYAL JAW. Warren's Store, Sept. 30th.
