

A Merry Millionaire.

The death at New Orleans, the other day, of the rich young Englishman, Abingdon Baird, will be generally regretted in sporting circles.

Mr. Baird was born a gentleman and inherited a fortune yielding him an income of $750,000 a year. Although a millionaire, the young man sought the company of jockeys and ballet dancers, and spent his money freely upon his gay companions.

Now, let us see what this youngster did with his money, or with his income for he was able to get along without touching the principal. He spent hundreds of thousands of dollars for fine race horses. He won and lost fortunes on prize fighters, and his visit to New Orleans was to place his money on one of the pugilists in the recent mill. Turning aside from his rough sports, he found time to run away with the wife of the marquis of Aylesbury, and paid the injured husband $500,000 not to sue him.

He was the cause of the Lancaster divorce case, and figured prominently with such adventuresses as Bessie Bellwood and Gladys Leslie. He posed as the lover of Mrs. Langtry and spent $600,000 on her, although he once knocked her down and gave her a black eye. His gifts were princely. When Mrs. Langtry wanted to visit America last year he gave her $300,000 to abandon her tour, and it is rumored that his will leaves her an income of $200,000 a year.

With his ability, his social position and his great wealth, Baird might have made his career a blessing to mankind. He had it in his power to aid literature, art and science relieve the wants of the poor, build churches and establish free libraries and hospitals, but he seemed to have only one thing in view—his own pleasure, and his income was squandered in a continuous round of dissipation. For a gentleman of education and wealth, Abingdon Baird has certainly left behind him a remarkable record. The monumental folly of such a life robs its ending of the solemnity that usually accompanies death.

NOTICE. I have been in the business for a number of years, and am thankful for patronage I have received. I have learned the only way to do justice to myself and patrons is by the season, money or note at time of service, with privilege of return next year free should the mare fail to be in foal. Should the horse or jack die, or be sold, money or note to be refunded. This way it gives me something for the service of my stock, to the patron a show for his money, and enable me to stand my stock for a less fee.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION.

In the Circuit Court of Iron County, Mo., in vacation, February 20th, 1893. The State of Missouri at the relation and to the use of P. W. Whitworth, Collector of the Revenue of Iron County, Mo., against

Nathaniel V. Barlow, a minor, Chas. Scudder, Public Administrator of the City of St. Louis, Mo., G. W. Eltonhead, Thomas Betts and all unknown interested parties. (Action to Enforce Payment of Taxes.)

Now at this day comes the plaintiff, P. W. Whitworth, collector of the revenue of Iron County, Missouri, and files his petition and affidavit, setting forth among other things, that the defendants, Nathaniel V. Barlow and G. W. The west half of the northeast quarter, the east half of the northwest quarter, the northwest quarter of the southeast quarter, the east half of the southwest quarter and the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter —all in section 32, township 33, range 1 west. (An itemized statement in the nature of a tax bill, showing the amount of taxes now due on said real estate, for the years aforesaid, amounting in the aggregate to the sum of $7.65, is filed with said petition, as provided by law.) And unless they be and appear at the next term of said court, to be held for the county of Iron, and State of Missouri, at the Court House in said county on the fourth Monday in April next (1893), and on or before the third day thereof (if the term before the end of the term), and plead, answer or demur to said plaintiff's petition, the same will be taken as confessed, judgment rendered in accordance with the prayer of said petition, and said real estate, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy said judgment, interest and costs, shall be sold under a special fieri facias to be issued thereon.

It is further ordered that a copy hereof be published according to law in the Iron County Register, a weekly newspaper published in said county of Iron, and State of Missouri, on the 1st day of May, A. D. 1893.

A true copy: Attest, with seal, this 20th day of February, 1893. JOS. HUFF, Clerk. Iron county circuit court.
