

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Sheriff Fisher now has even nine boarders.

The band boys were out serenading last week.

The boys are hunting grapes, nuts and possums these days.

BOYS—Monday, October 16th, 1893, a girl, to Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Doty.

The Chicago rate is still $3.10, cheap riding and a chance to see the show of a lifetime.

Circuit court convenes in regular session next Monday. The docket is published elsewhere.

The St. Louis exposition closes next Saturday; if you want to attend the time is growing short.

The hoop business has revived to some extent and some shipments are now being made to the city.

All clocks and watches left at J. J. Sotile's jewelry store for repairs will be left at J. A. Segner's barber shop.

Sheriff Fisher and his deputies have been busy the past few days serving papers for the coming term of circuit court.

The boys say that the squirrels are plentiful if you only know where to look for them; but knowing where, that's the rub!

There was a nipping frost Sunday night, and the house plants that hadn't been carefully "taken in" were dropping next morning.

The city council has employed Gen. R. F. Wingate to assist J. S. Jordan in the prosecution of the hog ordinance in the circuit court.

The cheap rates to Chicago are still on sale, and a number more of our citizens will likely visit the White City before the end of the month.

J. N. Bishop has sold his residence on Russell street to Dr. A. S. Prince; Mr. B. will at once build a new house just west of the site of his old one.

To St. Louis any time during the present month at one fare for the round trip; the Iron Mountain is doing its full share in making reasonable rates to the fall festivities.

The semi-annual meeting of the Southeast Missouri Medical association will be held at Piedmont on November 7th, 8th and 9th. An interesting session is expected.

The city council at its meeting last week, ordered the street commissioner to put in two culverts at the intersection of Main and Reynolds streets. Decided improvements and badly needed.

The rains of last week and the decided change in the weather brought numbers of ducks to the creek. The sportsmen were numerous out and succeeded in securing some of the web-footed birds.

Judge Fox in the circuit east of here has made an order that all jurors and witnesses not in the court room when their names are called shall forfeit their fees for the day. The object is to prevent delay in the trial of cases.

Prof. L. E. Wolfe has just addressed a letter to Prof. Vance saying it will be impossible for him to be here October 27th, and deliver an address as he had previously said he would. He expects, however, to be here some time during the winter.

H. M. Collins, the livery man, will have charge of a half dozen racing horses at the Poplar Bluff fair on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. Most of the horses are from Iron county and Hartford hopes they will make a good showing.

Notary Public Jos. Zwart was called to Sabula last week and heard depositions in a case against the railroad consequent on the delay in traffic during the big wash-outs in the spring of 1892. The depositions are to be used in the federal court where the case will be tried.

About a month since the railroad company put train agents on the Belmont branch locals for fear the conductors were not turning in all the receipts. After several weeks' trial of the train agents and finding no increase in receipts, the conductors have again been left in charge.

Most of the visitors to the World's Fair have returned and are all of one mind that it is beyond question the biggest show the world has ever seen. He who can possibly attend and does so, will never regret it, or at least that is the opinion of every one you interrogate who has been there.

Mr. A. Winkler desires to inform the party who took that small package out of his buggy in front of the courthouse Monday afternoon, that he is on them; if they will return the same to this office at once there will be no trouble; otherwise he intends to prosecute them to the full extent of the law.

The Iron county F. & L. U. will meet in Ironton, Mo., on Friday, October 27th, 1893, at 2:30 P. M. Every Sub-Union will please send a delegate, as there will be business of importance before the Union.

J. B. HAMPTON, President. J. B. HOLLOMAN, Secretary.

Prof. Vance seems determined to have the banner post-office of Southeast Missouri, and scarcely a week goes by but what he makes some improvement that adds to the convenience and appearance of the office. He and his clever assistant, Mr. Goff Whitworth, handle the mail with unexcelled dexterity, too.

U. S. Commissioner Fox was to have heard the preliminary examination of one Mullens last Saturday, on the charge of cutting timber on government lands in the west end of the county; but the district attorney continued the case until November 4th. A number of witnesses were on hand but made the trip for naught.

Tramps are very numerous these days, and scarcely a train passes through but what a number are "fired off." They are not at all backward in asking for what they want, and in some instances we understand they have used threats because their requests are not readily complied with. As they grow in number the more desperate they seem to become.

Rev. Shoush, Wm. A. Fletcher, J. S. Jordan, Louis Miller, P. W. Whitworth and J. M. Whitworth attended the meeting of the Educational Commission at Bismarck Monday night. The attendance of so many of our citizens at this meeting attests the fact that we are always interested in a good cause, and that we have not lost our enthusiasm for the College.

P. W. Whitworth returned from the World's Fair last Sunday and in order that he might give the public the benefit of what he saw the courthouse was secured for Monday evening. A bad cold and sore throat prevented the gentleman from talking that evening, but he will doubtless delight an audience with the "wonders of the White City" in the near future.

Rev. G. W. Duty, lately of Iowa, has accepted a call to become pastor of the Presbyterian Church and will in future fill the pulpit in that sanctuary. His family will be here this week and will occupy the property on Knob street across from the school house, and lately vacated by L. A. Poston. Rev. Duty is a pleasant gentleman, and we trust he may accomplish much in this section of the Master's Vineyard.

The Wabash fast train from Chicago with two hundred people on board met with a serious accident at Nakeomi, a few miles out of St. Louis Monday evening; the baggage car struck a defective frog and five cars rolled down an embankment. The train was probably running fifty miles an hour, but only five people were badly hurt and none killed. Hon. Sam. Byrns and wife of De Soto were among the passengers, but happily escaped serious injuries.

Messrs. J. M. Whitworth, W. A. Fletcher, J. S. Jordan and P. W. Whitworth went to Bismarck Monday to meet the committee appointed by the late M. E. Conference to have charge of the relocation of the Bellevue school. There was not a quorum of the committee present, however, and no action was taken. The committee will meet again in De Soto about two weeks hence; a visit will also be made to the Valley to learn the inducements we may offer.

"Dr." J. H. Sanford and Louis Hurdle, the two Germans who were captured at Piedmont and brought back to Ironton for endeavoring to beat several people out of small sums of money, had their trial before Judge Dinger last Wednesday. Sanford pleaded guilty to practicing medicine without registering and Hurdle was bound over to await the action of the grand jury on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Letters have since been received from De Soto which show that the same men have victimized a number of parties in that town.

The editor is in receipt of a postal card from his old friend, Frank Scoville, lately of Chicago. It was dated October 15th, written "on board train for California" and says "in future my address will be South Riverside, Cal., all well; regards to all."

Mr. Scoville was for many years a resident of Ironton, and ever body remembers him as a genial, jolly and whole-souled gentleman. He has purchased an orange grove in the Golden State and will make that his future home. All his friends here join us in wishing him and his health, happiness and prosperity in their new home.

The editor of the De Soto Press is much disturbed because the late Conference of the M. E. Church, South, at West Plains declared that De Soto was too much under the influence of the saloons and gamblers to secure the location of the Bellevue Collegiate Institute. The editor of the Press indignantly denies this imputation against that city's good name, and quotes figures to show that the number of saloons in De Soto has materially decreased during the past year. He is singularly quiet as to the gamblers, however. If a man is charged with stealing a horse and a hog and he stoutly denies the hog stealing but says nothing as to the horse, most people would conclude he had taken the horse. Is this the reason the Press is silent as to the gamblers? Now, Bro. Denholm, the man who says "there is more drunkenness and debauchery in Ironton in a day than there is in De Soto in a month" may not be an habitual liar, but he certainly is a "stretcher" of the truth. The court records of the past will show that there is less lawlessness in Ironton and Iron County, than in any section of Southeast Missouri. This is a fact. But the Press need not become angry at us and slander this community, just because the Conference has "tumbled" to the wickedness of De Soto.

From Des Arc.

We are having the dullest lumber trade I have ever seen, and I have been in the lumber trade for over twenty-five years; and unless something is done to relieve this state of things, in thirty days every mill in this section will have to close down, and that means suffering for a great many of the laboring class.

Mrs. Nettie Chase, of St. Louis, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Collins.

Mrs. John Drew is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. West, last week; also, Mr. Brown of Ironton.

Mrs. C. Collins, of Sabula, made a short visit to her children, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Homan, agent here.

Jimmie Gardner and children, Tommie and Jessie, have been visiting their old home; they left to-day for Crystal City to see their grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Gardner. They will be overjoyed to see their dear grandchildren, as they are all the relations they have on this earth. May they live to comfort them in their old age.

Jas. C. Morris went to the World's Fair Saturday night; he will meet his uncle and bride there from Baltimore.

Geo. Morris and family were in Des Arc Sunday. ISAAC.

COUGHING LEADS TO CONSUMPTION. Kemp's Balsam stops the cough at once.

From Vulcan.

The lumber business seems to be reviving a little. The Vulcan mill is running now, having been shut down for two weeks previously.

Thos. Ruble, who has been suffering from an attack of erysipelas, is convalescing.

An unknown person fired a bullet through the window of conductor Johnson's caboose below Vulcan, on the 14th. That was not a very good time to be looking a "littie out."

Rev. Alcorn preached at the residence of Jas. Reed Thursday night. Mr. Reed is an invalid, and is seldom able to attend church; so the good people decided to have preaching at his home.

Rufus Heath has his buggy repaired, and the way he rides out with his best girl makes the boys envious.

A lonesome looking man passed through Vulcan on the 14th, carrying an old bride. We learned, upon inquiry, that the man had been off on a horse-swapping expedition.

Oct. 16, 1893. ENQUIRER.

Annapolis Items.

Ed. Register—Geo. Frost of Monet, Mo., was in town several days last week. Geo. is a grand son of Judge Hart and spent several years of his boyhood here.

Rev. Maeria, a Methodist minister, has located here. There is plenty of work in this end of the county. He ought to be returned to the pen.

Mr. and Mrs. Holcamp passed through Annapolis last week.

Cisero Collins of Sabula was in town to-day.

John Alcorn has notified the railroad company to put in two crossings between Annapolis and Sabula; one one mile south of Sabula and the other at E. P. Benson's mill, where the old county road used to be. This road was worked last year but the railroad company refused to put in the crossings and as a consequence the road has been a dead letter up to date and it remains to be seen if the company will put in the crossings or allow them put in without a fight.

Will Nelson is at home on a visit.

Dan Sutton is at home from Lone Star where he has been hauling logs.

The piling business is in a flourishing condition at present.

It is rumored that Gus Funk will soon open up a store here.

T. C. Reark is caring for the stock on the Sawyer place.

Oct. 15, 1893. MURPHY.

From Graniteville.

Ed. Register—The M. E. Church Sunday school has been re-organized with the following staff of officers: Edward Kooth, superintendent; William Baum, assistant; Miss Lizzie Fitzpatrick, treasurer, and Miss Maude Ferguson, secretary. The opening hour will be 9:45 for the future.

Mr. and Mrs. David Archie, Jr., and Dr. Blanks have returned from the World's Fair.

Messrs. Bruce and Sheehan were down from the city Sunday.

Mrs. Ernest Ebrecht, of St. Louis, is visiting in town, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Robt. Trauernick.

Nothing new in the state of trade in this locality as yet.

Some four or five granite cutters left last week for Texas, and three or four more arrivals; among them are Alex Archie and George Murray.

Miss Kattie Phillips returned Saturday from a few day's visit to relatives in the city.

Ghermanville now sports a new and elegantly finished barber shop, manned by that all-around handy man, Mr. Dely.

Some of our local nimrods are doing fine shooting these days. Ben Waldron bagged 75 quail on Friday last. William Turner brought home a large pelican, measuring seven feet, six inches from tip to tip of wings. Several duck and turkey have been brought in during the past few days.

A wedding in high life was the most eventful feature of our last week's happening. At 6:30 o'clock on Thursday evening at the Catholic Church, Miss Ernest Joseph Hitzman, a knight of the key at Bismarck, Rev. Father Wornert, of Arcadia, performed the ceremony. Long before the hour for the marriage to take place people began to throng the sanctuary, and by the appointed time the chapel was filled with those who were anxiously waiting the arrival of the contracting parties. At the stipulated time, the gentleman who was soon to take for his companion for better or worse, was ushered in with Miss Martha Herman, a maid of honor followed closely by the young and pretty bride leaning on the arm of her brother, Mr. Joseph Kerchner, marching slowly to the altar under the sweet strains of the wedding march played by Miss Clara Osterdock, of De Soto. The bride is a lovely young lady, whose gentle nature and fascinating ways have made her always popular and a great favorite among her many friends not only of this but other localities. She was beautifully attired in a rich robe of duchess white satin, corsage finished with trimmings of exquisite point lace. She carried a bouquet of bridal roses tied with white satin ribbon, and was the picture of pure blonde beauty. After the ceremony, the bride and bridegroom, maid of honor and best man entered the carriage that stood in waiting out side, and were driven to the residence of the bride's parents where an elegantly and sumptuous wedding meal was served, after which the customary congratulatory toast offering, speech making and so forth was indulged in by the many invited guests. The presents were many and some of them exquisitely nice, rich and rare. Following are the guests from out of town: Messrs. Mamie Herman, Bertha Herman, Emma Messer and Theresa Ames, St. Louis; Miss Clara Osterdock, Mrs. E. Burger, and Mr. Hubert Spidele, De Soto; Miss Alice Collier, Mrs. H. Barth, Mr. and Mrs. John Hitzman, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hitzman, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hitzman, Bismarck. There were several intimate friends of this vicinity in attendance. On the following morning the newly married couple accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John Hitzman, brother of the bridegroom, left on the Arcadia train on a wedding tour to the World's Fair. It is useless to say that

The boys were not left out, as Mr. Joe Kercher had three four legs of the foamy liquid on tap or the Workman's Hall, and to say that all were merry is sufficient. Now for the next. Judging the ministerial appearance of the best man on the occasion that evening with his high plug hat, one who were not acquainted with the interested parties, would have thought that Joe was the prime factor. However, Joe says his turn comes next, and to use his own expression "by golly, we'll have a high old time." It must not be forgotten that Gus Rieko was another conspicuous personage, with prince Albert suit, plug hat and white gloves.

Oct. 16, 1893. NOVICE.

La Grippe.

During the prevalence of the Grippe the past seasons it was a noticeable fact that those who depended upon Dr. King's New Discovery, not only had a speedy recovery, but escaped all of the troublesome after effects of the malady. This remedy seems to have a peculiar power in effecting rapid cures not only in cases of La Grippe, but in all Diseases of Throat, Chest and Lungs, and has cured cases of Asthma and Hay Fever of long standing. Try it and be convinced. It won't disappoint. Free Trial Bottles at Crisp's Drug Store.

From Arcadia.

Ed. Register—It is not always that chimes of the church bells ring out so simultaneously on a Sunday morn in Arcadia Valley, as to awaken to dreamy consciousness the soul of the sinner to the one all absorbing thought or reflection that the spiritual commonwealth, bounded by the spurs of the Ozark range of mountains, nestling so sweetly, sweetly content in the variegated autumnal scenes surrounding it, affords an easy transition from the realms of the real to the ideal, conjured up in the brightest fancies of our spiritual guides; for once the links were broken in the chain of sweet sounds which met and interlocked over cornice, tree and steeple, and a voice was silenced which now is heard on a Sunday morn and eve in new notes from its lofty belfry, painted purely white, (though continuing skyward in a spire of brownest hue) and again is the echo taken up from Fort Hill and a sweet response is sounded afar to other churches, that the M. E. Church, South, under the tutelage of the wide-awake Mr. Monroe Whitworth, whose unremitting attention to its welfare shows it bright and improved in its new dress, and ready to welcome its new pastor, Mr. England, to his fields of labor and pastorate, amid all that is fair and promising—is "as still in it."

Wonderful indeed, are the ways of a wise Providence which made to shine forth in fitful flames the angry cannon, and bade his Angel of Peace to silence them; that where the spring of destruction reigned should be placed a pillar of peaceful progress and altar of devotion.

Like Grace Church at the head of Wall Street in New York, it overlooks the money-changers; for, far adown the long, low street, may be seen the beautiful business house of the new firm of Baird & Green, lately newly swept and garnished with treasures of trade and traffic; for an invoice was taken of merchandise and a partnership formed at the beginning of the present month, the new partner hailing with his extensive experience and capital from the honored employ of the Iron Mountain Co., in the mercantile department.

Further on, or down the road on the opposite side, in the Hazel Hill building, the long established merchant of Arcadia, Mr. J. W. Whitworth, who is now of Uncle Sam's favorites, having been honored by the new Administration with the commission of postmaster. As he wields the pen of a "ready writer," and has competent clerks to assist him, it is no drawback to his other business, and "John" is getting rich on "small profits and quick sales."

There was a whole Hegira of Arcadia folks to the World's Fair among the class of "free riders," who are now making their way back in tandem—the last of the crowd being expected within the next ten days. No money was better expended by all who could afford it, even if it required a little sacrifice of valuable time. Among those who were interested in the exposition, none took a livelier interest or profited more from a business standpoint, than those who saw representations which accorded most with their own professional ideas of the perfect. This was the basis of the thought of the great exposition and its contributors. Those who went to look on, drank in their need of inspiration for a life time, and drew patterns not fanciful, but real, from which to paint or draw until the world will see the brilliant outcome in all departments of business, from that which adorned the feminine form divine, in garments of inexpressible beauty and grace,—which needed to be seen to be appreciated in all their loveliness—to the architectural splendors of the palaces, of the exhibits and electric fountains. In Memoriam. HALL MEMORIAL LODGE, No. 260, I. O. O. F. IRONTON, MO., Oct. 11, 1893. To the officers and members of Iron Mountain Lodge, No. 260, I. O. O. F. We, your committee, appointed for to draw up resolutions of respect of our deceased Brother, PATRICK H. CAUGHLIN, would present the following to you for your approval: WHEREAS, With feelings of profound sorrow, we are called upon to record the death of Bro. Patrick Coughlin, classed, and his departure from our midst to the unknown world is from the voice of him who commands "be ye also ready;" and though we bow down in sorrow, yet we humbly submit, and in our loss we are warned of our situation and are admonished to prepare for our dissolution; that while we bow in submission to the will of God, we deeply deplore and mourn for one whom we loved and respected for his manly and honest traits of charity, and we sympathize with his mother and friends in their sad bereavement, and join with them in mourning for one who mingled with us fraternally, and we earnestly pray that God in his infinite mercy will enable them to bear up under their sad bereavement. As a tribute to his memory, we drape our charter in mourning for thirty days; and that a copy of these resolutions be presented to his mother and entered in the minutes of this Lodge, and also be published in the IRONTON REGISTER and the Farmington Times.
