E. D. AKE, EDITOR.

VOLUME XXVIII. NUMBER 49.

The Doniphan Echo has changed hands and resumed its old name of Prospect-News. John H. Page, late in the government printing office at Washington, is now the editor of the paper. Mr. P., in a private letter to a friend, epitomized his opinion of the Prospect by calling him "a grand old rascal." This in connection with the late issue of government bonds. The friend gave him away, and Mr. P. was promptly "fired." Now the latter gentleman has a position secure from the wrath of princes, and beyond the reach of Cuckooism. He publishes a good paper, and the REGISTER wishes him success.

We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation to attend the Commencement Exercises of the State Normal School of Cape Girardeau to take place on the 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th of June. Following is the programme.

Saturday evening, June 8th—Contest for the Essay Medal or W. B. Wilson Prize—by several young ladies from the Literary Society.

Sunday morning, June 9—Baccalaureate sermon—by Rev. Dr. Thomas, of St. Louis.

Monday evening, June 10—Contest for Oration Medal or Regent's Prize—by eight young gentlemen representing the Literary Society.

Tuesday morning, June 11 Graduating exercises of elementary class.

Tuesday evening—Annual address by ex-President M. C. Norton; followed by Alumni Banquet.

Wednesday morning—June 12th, Commencement Day—Graduating exercises of the advanced class.

Wednesday evening—Annual Address to the Alumni Society and Reunion—Perryville Sun.

HON. H. L. ROZIER, member of the State Central Committee, was in attendance at its session in St. Louis last Saturday, and dutifully—in response to the demands of the Francis-Maffit combine. It is insinuated—yoted against the calling of a State Convention of Democrats to consider the financial question. We have been told that Mr. Rozier is not an experienced politician, but his intelligence, so far as we know, has not been questioned. He is of at least average ability, reads the papers, and mixes more or less with the people he is supposed to represent in the councils of the party. In his vote last Saturday, he misrepresented them, and, we are sorry to say, did so knowingly. This is unfortunate, both for him and his constituency, and he must have had grave reasons for his action—reasons that impelled him, to be true to himself, to thwart the wishes of nine-tenths of the people who chose him as their agent: for we are willing to accede to him honesty of purpose, and the approval of his inner consciousness. This being the case, there is but one thing left for Mr. Rozier to do to round out this implication of his integrity: Let him at once resign the place he can no longer fill acceptably to his people. The Thirteenth District Democracy has nothing in common with the combine which seems to have captured his sense of duty and determined his course of action.

Decoration Day.

Ed. Register—Decoration day was observed here to-day with a respectable attendance. Iron Post No. 346 visited Pilot Knob Cemetery and decorated the graves there, returning to Iron-ton, and at 2 p. m. went to the I. O. O. F. and Masonic Cemetery at Iron-ton, where, besides the regular Decoration Ceremony, a brief but very appropriate address was delivered by Rev. Dr. James. After the completion of the services which were held over the grave of Capt. P. R. Crisp, there was a general decoration of the graves throughout the cemetery. Noticeably in the procession was the color-bearer, Miss Carrie B. Hasty, who carried the flag with patriotic pride. Another noticeable feature was the conspicuous absence of so many of Iron-ton's and Pilot Knob's prominent citizens, whose friends and relatives are buried in these cemeteries, and the only business houses in town which made any display of "bunting" was L. J. Giovanni, who is always foremost in any public enterprise or display—his restaurant, opposite the courthouse, was beautifully decorated—and W. P. McCarver, our enterprising merchant at the Union Market. Even the U. S. offices did not display their colors except the Post-Office, where there was a diminutive flag at the door. The ladies and others who furnished the music for the occasion deserved the thanks of all. ONSERVER.

Personal.

Miss Cora Williams has returned to her home in St. Louis.
Misses Kate Craine and Alma Jaquith of Pilot Knob will soon leave on a visit to Denver, Colorado.
J. Lopez and Will Haller went to Piedmont Sunday.
Mrs. D. Taylor, with her granddaughter, Miss Annie Byers, returned to Iron-ton from Chicago last Wednesday.
Dr. Nifong and Nov. Logan were down from St. Louis Sunday.
Mrs. J. Biemel and Mrs. J. T. Baldwin were in Annapolis Saturday.

Having used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family and found it to be a first-class article, I take pleasure in recommending it to my friends. J. V. FOSTER, Westport, Cal. For sale by all dealers.

Resolutions of Respect.

IRONTON, Mo., June 2, 1895.
At the regular session of Star of the West Lodge, No. 133, A. F. & A. M., held at Iron-ton Saturday evening, June 1, 1895, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:
Resolved, That as Bro. Holloman was the oldest member of this Lodge, in Masonry as well as in years, his departure to the sphere of eternity is peculiarly suggestive and affecting. For many years he has been a landmark in our society, linking the present with the earlier days of Masonry, when Lodges were few and far between, and the "full moon" was a necessary adjunct to Lodge attendance—when many miles of horseback travel lay between the Lodge and the homes of its members. During all those years our late venerable brother was a consistent and assiduous Mason, not only in attendance upon the meetings of his Lodge, but in the practice of the virtues inculcated by the ritual of the order. We mourn his departure with the regret that follows the severance of the tenderest ties, but recognize that he descended to the universal tomb, full of years and honors.
Resolved, That this Lodge be draped in mourning for thirty days in memory of his decease.
Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Lodge; that a copy under seal be sent to the relatives of the deceased; and that a copy also be furnished the IRONTON COUNTY REGISTER for publication.

A Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism.

WESTMINSTER, Cal., March 21, 1884.—Some time ago, on awaking one morning, I found that I had rheumatism in my knee so badly that, as I remarked to my wife, it would be impossible for me to attend to business that day. Remembering that I had some of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in my store I sent for a bottle, and rubbed the afflicted parts thoroughly with it, according to directions, and within an hour I was completely relieved. One application had done the business. It is the best liniment on the market, and I sell it under a positive guarantee. R. T. HARRIS. For sale by all dealers.

Goodland News.

And still the crouth continues.
Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Eaton spent Sunday with H. W. H. Eaton and family.
Mrs. Lucinda Taylor of Goodwater, who is spending a few weeks with John Mayfield, was called home by the illness of her little daughter.
W. H. Smith and his charming bride attended divine services at Mrs. Crocker's last Sunday. Will has made himself a dandy road cart and can go a flying.
Aunt Josephine Adams has partly recovered from a severe illness. Her daughters, Mrs. Oesch and Mrs. Westerman, of Edge Hill, and Mrs. Crocker of Goodwater, visited her during her illness; also her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Hendrix of Black and N. W. Adams and family attended baptismal services at Clones last Sunday, and dined with J. T. Patterson.

Dr. Adams was called to Ottery to attend a little son of John Randolph, who was thrown from a mule and seriously injured.

Grandma Mason visited J. R. Adams lately. This "dear old gentleman," ex-courtesy judge, has passed fourscore years of age, and while feeble in body, yet retains his mental faculties perfectly.

S. O. Brooks went to Lesterville to Hodge's carding machine, and reports that the cards had been running for nine days and nights without cessation. Dr. Adams will soon have his new dwelling ready for occupancy. Such a neat dwelling on this well kept farm adds greatly to its appearance, and also to the comfort of the family.

Sol. Nelson also is building a beautiful five-roomed cottage which will soon be finished.
Mrs. Meda Newcomb, Belgrade, recently visited her relatives here and removed her household effects to her new home.

Three of our West End boys started this morning to Iron-ton to attend the Teachers Institute and expect to return soon, armed with credentials which will usher them into an untired field of labor. And none of them are six feet high, do not weigh 180 lbs, nor wear number 11's. Success to you, boys! TIMOTHY HAY.

The Conference School Location.

(Contributed.)

That your readers and the public generally may have an intelligent idea of the status of the school question and reach a correct conclusion as to the relative strength of the competing points is the single purpose of this communication.

First, then, let it be noted that the Commission were not justified in calling a meeting until some place had notified them that the requirements as laid down by the Annual Conference, at West Plains, had been complied with.

Second. The requirements were a subscription of $25,000 in cash and ten acres of land. This does not constitute all the requirements, but this is sufficient for the present purpose.

Third. The representatives of Fredericktown notified the Commission that they were ready to comply with the requirements and at the call of the Commission the representatives of the competing points met that body at Bismarck, Jan. 1, 1894.

Fourth. Let the reader dismiss all pre-conceived notions, look at the matter fairly and then determine whether there was not some most extraordinary procedure for a place that "met all requirements."

The Commission held a private meeting and decided upon the advisability of a relocation of the Conference school and then called representatives of competing points together in an open session, thereby furnishing a rare opportunity to get at the real bottom of the question. The contest opens with much maneuvering on the part of Fredericktown to get Arcadia to present her proposition first, but the level-headed chairman decided that "as Fredericktown has signified her readiness to meet the requirements it is the duty of the representatives of that town to present their case," at which there was evidence of much discomfiture, but shortly their first speaker, Dr. N., arose and spoke in glowing terms of the general surroundings of their town, their streets, health, unusual number in public school; made mention of some real estate and wound up by saying, "we offer you $25,000 in cash and ten acres of land for the school."

Also referred to an endowment and mentioned Mr. Hazard's name, but in such a way as to leave room for doubt as to whether this gentleman's munificent gift of $10,000 was to go on the subscription towards an endowment. Let the reader note this as reference will be made to it again. Revs. Headlee and Hanesworth, the Presiding Elder, were observed to be present.

The Chair: "We shall be glad to hear from other places." But with the exception of a protest on the other part of Calcedonia against removal, there was no response.

Prof. M. made an eloquent appeal in behalf of his alma mater, urging the unfairness of removal. Rev. H. confessed his inability to see the matter as some of the brethren saw it. The school was doing better than ever before and needed only the concentrated efforts of Conference to make it go forward. A member of the Commission to Dr. N.: Have you got your subscription yet? Dr. N. (as if his eye tooth was being pulled), "a part of it."

Here seemed to be a curious state of affairs. A body of 8 or 10 intelligent men notify the Commission that they are prepared to "meet the requirements" and their spokesman confesses in open session that they have with them a part of their subscription!

Can it be possible these gentlemen thought it best to divide their subscription before leaving home, and bring only a part of it before the Commission?

Dr. H., with some warmth: "The proposition of Fredericktown is a cash one; it's $25,000 cash that we offer you and we confidently expect Mr. Hazard to aid in furthering the interests of our school as much as has been stated."

A member of the Commission: "I would like to ask Dr. N. a question." At which the gentleman stepped promptly to the front evidently much encouraged. "You spoke of large aid from Mr. Hazard. Is that to go towards endowment or on your subscription?"

Dr. N.: "I am not prepared to answer that, not having consulted with my colleagues." And, then, apparently fearing another question, found a seat by the nearest possible route.

"Sakes alive! What has become of that $25,000 in cash? They brought a part of their subscription with them and left the other part at home, and now they can't tell without a consultation what to do with Mr. Hazard's $10,000! It is really distressing. Then followed several speakers all affirming: "It is cash—$25,000—cash we offer you."

Space forbids mention of all that was said. It was now late and some one said: "We do not want to take up all the time. Would like to hear from Arcadia," but not a word from that place which seemed loth to speak.

The Chair: "We wish to hear from other places before we go into secret session."

Dr. N.: "We have a proposition to submit, but do not wish to make it before the world."
The Chair: "I will say that Fredericktown has a proposition which we will consider when we retire to secret session. We wish to hear from other places."

Clearly the Commission desired to hear from Arcadia. Finally Mr. C. said: "We have remained silent because we did not feel that we ought to speak. We came to this meeting not because we were prepared to meet the requirements, but because of our interest in the cause. You called this meeting because the representatives of Fredericktown had notified you that they were ready to meet the requirements. We of Arcadia did not notify you of our readiness, yet we believed before we came up here that we had a better offer than Fredericktown, and after hearing her representatives we are sure that it is a fact. Again, we frankly tell you we are not prepared to meet the requirements, but we have with us a $16,000 cash subscription, and if it's real estate you are after we have a 100 acre tract of land with clear title which we place at your disposal. And as evidence of the genuineness of our proposition we will deposit $10,000 any place you name." (Turning to a representative of Fredericktown) "You speak of the liberality of your Jew firm. We have a Jew firm who subscribed a $1,000. How much did yours subscribe?"

Answer: "It's not at all necessary to state."
"No, of course not. That's about like your subscription: so little on it you did not bring it along."

Here the Commission went into secret session calling before them two representatives from each competing point. After hearing in detail the propositions of each place the representatives retired to an ante-chamber where "his said some overheard one strong speaker affirm that "notwithstanding the Commission has been called at the instance of the representatives of Fredericktown they came up here without their subscription; and Arcadia has by far the better proposition of the two." And with him must have agreed all who closely watched the proceedings of that open session.

It May Do as Much for You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so-called kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure of all kidney and liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50c. For large bottle.
