VANDE, Postmaster.

Announcements.

FOR CONSTABLE. W. J. HUNT is a candidate for Constable of Arcadia Township, subject to the voters of said township, at the November election.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The murder of poor Sanguinette was most atrocious. Shall it go unavenged.

The midnight burglar is very evident in Ironton these times. He ought to be taken care of.

"What so perfect as a day in June?" We don't know, unless it is the day in July all the world is now enjoying.

Howard Lindsay's Elite Ice Cream Parlors open every evening. Orders received. Bananas, Oranges and Lemons at cost.

One scrap and some bad language from fair lips gave variety to the picnic on the 4th. But excellent order was generally observed.

Attention is directed to the notice of the Democratic Mass Meeting called to meet in the courthouse in Ironton, Saturday, July 25th, at 2 o'clock p. m.

Gen. R. F. Wingate desires to hire a young man of good habits, a farmer, to go to Sulphur Springs to work on a farm, at $20 a month and board. Apply at once.

A. M. Shriver of the Reynolds Outlook was in Ironton a couple of days last week on business. While here he called on the Register, and we had a few moments' pleasant talk.

The building of the bank has been delayed by reason of lack of some of the materials, but the work will in a day or two be resumed in earnest and pushed rapidly to completion.

Collins is sporting the neatest rig we have seen for many a day: a "handmade" Phœnix, wheels finished in natural wood and body neatly and strongly made. It is a daisy.

Have you heard the new song, "In the Shadow of the Pines?" It is immense! Legg Bros., of Kansas City, have it, and they are making a cut price of 25c. a copy. Take our advice and send for one.

Henry Ahrens and a boy in blue came near having a scrap at the courthouse last Saturday. The timely interference of a comrade pulled off the mill and probably saved somebody from a bloody nose or two!

The Ironton REGISTER closed its 29th year last week. It is one of the brightest and ablest papers in the Southeast, and we wish it and its genial editor, Eli D. Ake, many more years of prosperity.—Farming Times.

The St. Louis Ore and Steel Company lately took up all the iron on the tramways leading to the top of the Knob, and, gathering up all the "scrap," shipped the whole to St. Louis. About two hundred tons altogether.

The Jefferson Barracks military band, twenty strong, came down to the Rifle Range Tuesday, and will remain probably ten days or two weeks. The evening concerts will be a great attraction, and the Range during that time have a greater attendance than ever.

Our young friend, J. E. Grandhomme, is at home for the summer. He was a member of the graduating class of Walker College, St. Louis, whose Commencement Exercises were held June 23d. Mr. Grandhomme took a Commercial course in the College, and comes out well equipped for business. The Register wishes him success.

Talk about an ostrich growing fat on stones and hoop-iron! John Boswell of Marble Creek the other day brought us the gizzard of a chicken killed in apparently perfect health, which gizzard when taken from the breast of the fowl was found to be clogged with a common brass pin. And yet the hen had never complained of indigestion.

There will be services, both morning and evening, at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath. Every one who has no other church services to attend is cordially invited to attend these services. Subject for morning service: "The eleventh commandment." John 15:12. Subject for evening: "The death of the soul." Ezekiel 18:20. GEO. H. DURR, Pastor.

A grand barbecue will be given at the Thos. Jackson Grove, near Annapolis, on Saturday, July 18th. A big time is anticipated, and arrangements will be made to accommodate the crowd that is sure to attend. John Head's Steam Merry-go-Round will be there. All kinds of refreshments will be at hand, and everything that can conduce to the interest and pleasure of the occasion will be on the grounds.

The following officers, to serve the ensuing year, were installed by Star of the West Lodge, No. 133, A. F. & A. M., at its regular meeting in June: Wm. R. Edgar, W. M.; P. W. Whitworth, S. W.; S. H. Gosney, J. W.; E. D. Ake, Treas.; Mann Ringo, Sec'y; Rev. Geo. H. Duty, Chaplain; H. L. Simerman, S. D.; B. S. Gregory, J. D.; Fred. Kinsell, Tyler; W. Curtis, S. F.; and Chas. Holloman, J. S.

Capt. C. R. Pock, for many years a resident of this town, died at the home of his son in Independence, last week, and his funeral took place on Sunday, the 5th inst., the remains being interred at that place. He had long suffered from dropsy, and it is this that caused his death.

On the night of the 4th some persons broke into McCarver's store and made way with what pleased them, notwithstanding the proprietor lay asleep upstairs. Entrance was gained by breaking out a window-pane and then raising the sash. The north side was first tried, but as the window sash was nailed down, recourse was had to one of the southern windows with greater success. Some property but no money was taken. No clue to the burglars.

Mr. C. C. Russell of St. Louis favors us with an excellent article which appears upon the first page of this week's issue of the REGISTER. Mr. Russell recently passed several days in the Valley at the home of his father, Judge T. P. Russell. He gave the REGISTER a pleasant call on his rounds among his old friends. He was so unfortunate as to sprain his ankle some time ago which rendered him unfit for work, so he employed a portion of his enforced leisure in the Valley.

A Grand Military Concert and Ball, under the auspices of Capt. George K. Hunter's Troop "K" U. S. Cavalry, will be given at the Academy of Music, Ironton, next Monday evening. The supper will be given by Mrs. Blemel, and the music will be furnished by the military band. A big time is expected, and no doubt the boys in blue will be greeted by a crowded house. Admission, including supper, per couple, $1.25. Concert, only, 25c. Doors open at 7:30; concert begins at 8.

The Barbecue and Picnic was a grand success, not less than two thousand people attending. The dinner was ample for all who came, and 1600 pounds of meat—beef, pork and mutton—and 1000 loaves of bread were consumed. The refreshment stands were freely patronized, all the day, and the proceeds, together with the sum previously subscribed, were ample to defray all the expenses. The committee have settled all the bills and come out of the scrimmage with a clean balance-sheet.

The house of Mrs. Theresa Lopez was gay the fourth with young people. Misses Adele Prufrock and Mabel Hutchings and Mr. H. L. Caulfield came down Friday from St. Louis with Mr. George Lopez, and they pronounce the Valley the ideal summer resort, and Mrs. Lopez and her family royal entertainers. The party was joined Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Moore, who surprised the party by coming, and St. Louis on their tandem wheel. Mrs. Moore is a charming bride of three months. They report the roads in good condition.

Last Monday died at his residence, 2136 California Avenue, St. Louis, Mr. Jacob Cannmann, aged 85 years. He had been injured in the cyclone, and at the same time his little grandson, Charles Gallagher, was killed, which latter misfortune, it is thought, hastened the old gentleman's death. Mr. Cannmann for twenty-five or thirty years has been well known in this community, and none of his acquaintances but will hear of his death with sincere regret. He had resided in St. Louis since 1836, and leaves six grown sons and one married daughter to mourn his decease.

Tuesday night about 11 o'clock Mr. H. Davis, in company with Mr. Newton, the photographer, as they were passing up street, saw a light in Fairchild's store. As this was unusual they made a closer inspection of the premises. Mr. Davis tried the front door, and it opened to his touch. The light was in the rear room, and came and went, as if from the burning of matches. Mr. D. called out, "who is in there?" and two men bolted out of the room into the back yard through a rear door they had left conveniently open. They ran across the lot, leaped the fence separating the premises from Mr. Huff's lot, and disappeared. Next morning a large sack was found in the yard, evidently brought for the purpose of being filled with expected plunder. So far as can be ascertained, nothing was taken—thanks to the prompt concert which had detained the gentlemen first named from seeking their couches at the usual hour.

Now that midsummer is at hand the cicada has crawled out upon the catalpa leaf. The music of the song bird arises from every hedge row and thickets filling the sky in the early morning hour. The drowsy hum of insect life lulls the farmer to sleep as he takes his noontide rest. The air is freighted with the sweet odors from the meadows newly mown. The eye is pleased with the mosaic of yellow harvest fields alternating with the greener pasture lands. The apple begins to blush amidst the dark green foliage that surrounds it. And the dweller among the Ozarks indulges in a sigh of satisfaction at his surroundings, as he compares them with those of the less fortunate dweller in the city. The Valley has never done brighter colors or had a more inviting appearance than in the present season. Life flows along its usual channel smoothly in about the usual numbers; the soldier boy rides up and down our streets as erect and picturesque as if he were a piece of statuary that had been endowed with life, or mixes with our people as quietly and peaceably as if no thought of grimy-fronted war had ever entered his mind. The butcher and garden-sass man go their rounds with increased cheerfulness, rejoicing no doubt at the influx of new customers, not the less welcome because they wear blue coats. The old soldier goes down to camp to watch the maneuvers of the mental laddies at drill, and makes molder of the differences in equipment and drill that have arisen in the last quarter of a century—since the time he was the blue or the gray—but feels that the likely young fellows before him would stand the freights as it was abided by the old comrade some thirty years ago. Now that we are beginning to have "cool breezes in the sun" by day, and the nights have become all that heart could wish for sleeping, we have a higher appreciation of our Valley than ever.

The Commoner makes its second appearance this week. A very creditable paper and readable, albeit the publisher was a little behind time.

Last Friday morning at about 1 o'clock, an Italian named David Sanguinette, living at Iron Mountain, was awakened by an unusual noise in his dwelling. He rose out of bed and sought to light a lamp, but while so engaged was shot twice by unknown parties—one ball entering his thigh, and the other penetrating his abdomen. In the confusion and terror that ensued the burglars succeeded in removing a small trunk from the premises, and it was found rifled of its contents next morning at a little distance from the house. A part of its contents had been a roll of $100 in bank notes, and it is evident the murderers had knowledge of its being there for another and larger trunk was left unopened in the same room. As soon as the alarm was given, neighbors came to the assistance of the unfortunate man and his terrified family, consisting of wife and four children. Dr. Strong of this place was summoned, and he dressed the wounds and did what he could to relieve the sufferer. The doctor found that the wound in the abdomen was serious, the intestines having probably been severed, and Sanguinette was placed on the first train and sent to a city hospital for better care and treatment. There he died the succeeding Sunday, a victim to murderers unknown. We say murderers, for the two shots were from pistols of different calibers, and were evidently fired by different parties. Sanguinette was an honest man, and by hard work and frugal living had saved up the little fortune which cost him his life. The St. Francois county authorities were promptly notified and came upon the ground promptly; but as yet no clue looking the discovery of the murderers has been found. Another account says that both trunks were rifled and the money taken before the inmates of the house were aroused, and that at the moment the burglars were leaving Sanguinette awoke and called to them. They went out, but while he was examining one of the rifled trunks, returned and shot him so that he died. It seems from this that the robbery had been completed prior to the awakening of Sanguinette, and that he was murdered to prevent his identifying the robbers. He gave a description of the murderers before he died, which may yet lead to their detection.

Some three or four months ago there came to this town Mr. John Wyss and family, consisting of a wife and two children, on their way to a farm recently purchased by him, and supposed to be within five miles of Ironton. He left his family here and went out to view his farm, which he had never seen, but bought upon the representations of the seller. One night was enough, and Mr. Wyss came back utterly disheartened. The "farm" was a piece of wild mountain land situated about twenty miles west of here, and too poor to produce black-eyed peas. Mr. Wyss hails from Elgin, Ill., and he returned to that place to see what could be done in regard to the swindle that had been perpetrated upon him. He detailed the transaction to the editor of the Elgin Courier, and the following particulars are given: "There is no doubt but Wyss has been shamefully treated by somebody. He came here a dozen years ago, from the old country, and went to work in the watch factory. By working every day and devoting hours in the early morning and the evening to building a home, he accumulated property worth $5,000, consisting of a house and five unimproved lots south of the watch factory. The house cost $2,000, and he refused $1,000 for one lot. On this was a mortgage of $950. When the hard times came he lost his job and horse which he afterward sold, being $45. He is even told that the title to the Missouri farm is not good, he says. To-day he finds himself penniless and out of work, the savings of a dozen years of toil and frugality swept away, and a helpless family on his hands. Even $5000 of fraternal insurance, which had been carried for eight and ten years, has been forfeited, being impossible to pay his dues. He cannot speak of his troubles without tears filling his eyes." Wanless claims he had nothing to do with the sale to Wyss; that his deed was made in blank to another party; and that the subsequent transaction was without his knowledge or concern. We are sorry for the poor man who has been defrauded, and hope he may yet be able to make the really guilty parties disgorge. But it is a forlorn hope.

Personal.

Misses Lydia and Dora Van Nort of Bellevue, accompanied by Mr. H. Mathews spent the fourth in Ironton.

Mrs. E. C. West came up from Des Arc Saturday, returning Monday.

Misses Lillie and May McClintock, two of Farmington's fairest young ladies, are visiting Miss Gay this week.

Miss H. M. Brown returned to St. Louis Monday.

Mrs. H. R. Dansman was in Ironton Saturday.

Walter Fitz accompanied by two of his sisters were up from Des Arc last week.

Chas. Newman is visiting with home folks this week.

Eugene Shepherd spent the fourth in town.

Miss Effie Bollinger, of Sabula, spent Sunday with Misses Maude and Blanche Fletcher.

Mr. A. F. Bond has returned with his family to the Valley.

Mr. N. Smith is visiting J. N. Bishop this week.

Mrs. Schmitz, accompanied by her two daughters, Miss Olga and Mrs. H. M. Collins, spent Tuesday in Middlebrook.

Des Arc Occurrences.

The 4th passed off very quietly. Everybody left for Ironton, Annapolis, etc.

Business is quiet. Still, Des Arc seems to be selling lots of goods. J. M. Morris' sales for the first three days in July amount to $825.87. He is running eight saw mills, and of course sells lots of goods.

E. W. Graves is also doing a fine business, but I will venture to say that Des Arc sells more goods in one month than any town in Southeast Missouri, notwithstanding there are only three stores here.

J. M. Morris went to the city to-day. Thos. P. Fitz was at Piedmont Saturday, the 4th. It was a dull town. A few drunken men on the street. F. K. Roney was there hollering "hurrah!" for somebody, but did not know who.

Some of our boys went to the Leatherwood picnic, and reports lots of Leatherwood bark, but not much grub.

A Household Treasure.

D. W. Fuller, of Canajoharie, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house and his family has always found the very best of its being there; for another and larger trunk was left unopened in the same room. As soon as the alarm was given, neighbors came to the assistance of the unfortunate man and his terrified family, consisting of wife and four children. Dr. Strong of this place was summoned, and he dressed the wounds and did what he could to relieve the sufferer. The doctor found that the wound in the abdomen was serious, the intestines having probably been severed, and Sanguinette was placed on the first train and sent to a city hospital for better care and treatment. There he died the succeeding Sunday, a victim to murderers unknown. We say murderers, for the two shots were from pistols of different calibers, and were evidently fired by different parties. Sanguinette was an honest man, and by hard work and frugal living had saved up the little fortune which cost him his life. The St. Francois county authorities were promptly notified and came upon the ground promptly; but as yet no clue looking the discovery of the murderers has been found. Another account says that both trunks were rifled and the money taken before the inmates of the house were aroused, and that at the moment the burglars were leaving Sanguinette awoke and called to them. They went out, but while he was examining one of the rifled trunks, returned and shot him so that he died. It seems from this that the robbery had been completed prior to the awakening of Sanguinette, and that he was murdered to prevent his identifying the robbers. He gave a description of the murderers before he died, which may yet lead to their detection.

Pilot Knob Items.

Dr. C. D. Kerlagon and family of Bellevue spent Sunday with our townsman, Wm. Biel.

John Schmittner of St. Louis celebrated his Fourth in the Valley. John W. Jaquith and Geo. A. Roeselein took in the Arcadia Barbecue and pronounced the roast beef "out of sight."

Ford Immer, Jr., says he enjoyed his fourth immensely, and wished it occurred twice a year.

Henry and Fred King, formerly of this place, but now of St. Louis, were down renewing old acquaintances.

Philip Pfoertner and family are the guests of his mother, Mrs. C. Pfoertner.

Miss Birdie Hunter and friend, Miss Moore, were at the Arcadia Picnic. Will Kath has left for Annapolis, Md., to take his examination for Cadetship.

Jos. Moore of St. Louis is visiting his mother.

James C. Davis of St. Louis is visiting friends and relatives.

G. W. Craine, Esq., made a flying visit to St. Louis.

Miss Mary Walter is spending a few days with her mother.

Joe Immer has returned to Crystal City.

Wm. Steffens, Esq., of Graniteville, and his son Ed, passed through town Sunday.

Misses Byers and Rieke of Ironton were in town visiting friends.

C. Markert and family of Farmington were the guests of Mrs. P. H. Jaquith.

Will and Henry Emfanger will remain at home for the summer. P. K.

Farm to Trade.

I have 640 acres of the finest land in Northern Texas, which I will trade for a farm near Ironton.

HOWARD LINDSAY, Ironton, Mo.

Granteville News.

Ed. Register—Another glorious forth of July has spent its course, and the observance of the 120th anniversary of the greatest and grandest country under the canopy of heaven by her seventy millions and upwards of people. The insignia of our great nation, with a cluster of forty-five beautiful and loyal stars, indicative of a solid and compact union of states, was floating numerously in the breeze of every state and territory, regarded with wonderful admiration. And the American that was not inspired with that patriotism commensurate with the love of one's country is endowed with little humanity, and smacks with the highest possible insult to those grand and noble framers of our constitution and the signers of the declaration of our independence, that occurred on the fourth of July, 1776, at 15 minutes to 3 o'clock p. m. Vive la America! and hurrah for the red, white and blue!

Our town people observed the 4th in various ways and at various places. The major part of them, however, took in the picnic and barbecue at Arcadia. Mr. and Mrs. William Mill of Sny-Leite, Mo., spent the 4th in town, guests of Mrs. Christina Hannan. Chas. Reno and family spent the 4th and 5th in St. Francois county. Eddie Steffens and Willie Jack of St. Louis, and Randall Bateman of Murphysborough, Ills., are with home folks for a few days.

Misses Maggie and Anna Burk came down from the city to see home folks in town.

Mrs. William O'Brien of St. Louis is spending a pleasant time with friends at this place.

Fresh arrivals every day or so in the line of stone-cutters.

Mr. William Baum is quite poorly with an attack of cholera morbus.

Mrs. Kane is yet quite low; also Mrs. Martin.

Miss Minnie Trauernecht went to the city Saturday, to visit her mother, who is in ill health, and there under medical treatment.

Louis Hiltz and sister Emma, spent the 4th in the city.

The little Misses Irene and Lucille Gresson, who have been visiting with their aunt, Mrs. J. D. Gresson, for the past two weeks, returned to their home at Poplar Bluff last Saturday.

Several of town people have been having pretty good luck at fishing here lately.

The Presbyterian folks are preparing for an entertainment and "Bazaar" in the near future. The exact date, however, is not yet fixed upon.

Rev. Elder Crow held quarterly meeting here last week.

Rev. Mr. McCormick discoursed to a large audience at the M. E. church Sunday evening.

Mr. E. M. Smith and family spent Monday at the rifle range.

July 7, 1896. Cap.

Notice to District Clerks.

Will the school district clerks please report to me by July 15th? See Section 7990 and Sections 8011, 8012 of School Laws. Respectfully,

J. L. HICKMAN, Co. Com'r.

Bismarck Brevities.

Ed. Register—Bland will not be represented at Chicago this week by any Bismarckians, but in November next this side of creation will all be his own.

Fourth of July was a tame day at this place until in the evening, when fire works at the City Hotel were fine. Mr. Heitrich, son of the proprietor, came down from St. Louis and spent a few days with his parents, and freely made joy for the many little ones who came over to see the fire works. Many of our citizens spent the day at Arcadia or Irondale.

Mrs. Ellinor Norwine, mother of Dr. Norwine, and his sister, Mrs. Tillson of Potosi, visited the doctor's family several days last week, including the fourth.

Mr. Horace Coffield took charge of Dr. Norwine's drug store this week, and in the future will be the same obliging, genial gentleman of the past. He will soon move his family here, and by this presence the town will have another good family to count upon.

Mr. H. Hinniz, a German farmer from Illinois, has purchased the farm of William Devine, one mile southwest of town, and moved his family last week. The gentleman comes well recommended and well appreciated by his German friends who knew him in Germany. On Sunday last as a compliment to the new comer, and peculiar to the German sociability, a party was given at the residence of Mr. George Deitz, near town, for the purpose of renewing old friendship and introducing the new citizen. Fifty-six ladies and gentlemen were present, but four families consisting of thirty-eight, who had been invited from Bellevue, failed to put in an appearance. On account of being new settlers in this portion of the State they invariably took the wrong road and were lost most of the day.

Every year several Americans owning farms about here are selling to Germans, and 'tis unnecessary to state that progress follows. They are the typical tillers of the soil—good citizens and enterprising farmers—and plenty room for more of them.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pfler and children of St. Louis are the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. Barth.

A gentleman friend of Mr. Mike Dowling from St. Louis (name forgotten), another of our wide awake farmers, spent fourth of July and Sunday with Mr. Dowling and family.

The members of the Catholic church at this place will in the near future give an ice-cream festival.

"Uncle" Henry Meyers and wife of Medora, Ills., dropped into town this morning from Ironton, and will shake hands with old friends for a few days. Considerable sickness reported, but none fatal.

Farmers are making hay, stacking wheat, and plowing corn, all of which is fine. Nrx.

Mrs. Rhodie Noah, of this place, was taken in the night with cramping pains and the next day diarrhoea set in. She took half a bottle of blackberry cordial but got no relief. She then sent me to see if I had anything that would help her. I sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and the first dose relieved her. Another of our neighbors had been sick for about a week and had tried different remedies for diarrhoea but kept getting worse. I sent him this same remedy. Only four doses of it were required to cure him. He says he owes his recovery to this wonderful remedy.—Mrs. Mary Sibley, Sidney, Mich. For sale by all dealers.

Black Locals.

Ed. Register—Picnics have been the order of the day. Centerville was on the list, and quite a number of our citizens attended. There was also a grand picnic at Pine Grove on Ostry, and the greater number attended at that place.

The hum of the thresher is heard in our community. Wheat is not very good.

R. Hughes and family went to Red Point on the 4th, to visit relatives and friends.

The Institute closed in Reynolds county last week. We are reliably informed there were 14 first-grades instructed. If they would step over into Iron it would mean 14 "second and third grades." We speak from experience. I do not pretend to say here which is right. But this great difference should not exist in adjoining counties. Things should be more equal.

Our post office was not supplied with mail last Saturday, 4th, a regular mail day, and the only important one, as we get all our papers on that day. Our postmaster locked the office and it was not open all day. They claim down in this rural district, mail does not have to be attended to on holidays. It is a late thing to us, if Uncle Sam has got to favoring his servants in this way. It didn't use to be that way. In 1891 the Second Assistant Postmaster General stated on the subject that mail must be carried on the 4th of July, same as any other day. Mr. Editor, I think we should have our mail. Don't you?

J. J. Jamison was in this section last week, buying sheep. He succeeded in getting a fine drove.

A. J. Miner and family returned home, after an extended visit to friends in vicinity of Black.

Sam Thompson will begin a six-months' term of school at Burgundy on Monday, the 6th. We predict a successful term for him.

The school at Black will open the 13th inst., with J. G. Hartman at the helm again.

There were five failures at the late institute in this county.

Miss Katie Valle has returned home, after an extended visit to relatives in Bellevue and Potosi.
