Judge Fyan Dead.

Hon. R. W. Fyan, one of the foremost citizens of Missouri, died at his home in Marshfield, Tuesday evening, July 28, 1896, at 8 o'clock. The deceased was a native of Pennsylvania, born in that State March 11, 1835, and was 61 years old.

Robert W. Fyan removed from his native State and located in Marshfield, Mo., in 1858 and entered actively in the practice of law. During the war he took the side of the Union and rendered active service in the Federal army, serving as Captain and Major in the 24th Missouri and Colonel of the 46th Missouri Regiment, remaining in the service until the war closed. In 1865 he was elected Circuit Attorney of the Judicial Circuit in which he lived and in 1866 was promoted to the Judgeship, which position he held continuously until 1882, when he was elected to Congress. After serving in Congress for two years he retired to public life for a time, but in 1890 was again nominated and elected to Congress.

In 1875 Judge Fyan, while a Circuit Judge, was elected to the Constitutional Convention and assisted in the formation of the present State Constitution. In politics he was a Democrat, came from Pennsylvania as a disciple of Jeremiah Black, and entered the army at the outbreak of the war as a Democrat, but the close of the strife found him affiliating with the Republicans, but in 1870 he returned to the party of the Constitution and for a quarter of a century was one of the ablest Democratic champions in Missouri.

Judge Fyan was a remarkable man. As a lawyer there was no one more able or zealous, and his employment formed an oath of allegiance to his client. As Judge of the Circuit Court for sixteen years he endeared himself to the people and his retirement from the bench to accept a seat in Congress, brought universal regret. He was, perhaps, the ablest stump speaker in the State and his magnetism was such that whole communities could be swayed and counties changed by his personal canvass. Fyan was great in many characteristics that constitute greatness. But great men must die, and Judge Fyan is dead. Their deeds live after them and Judge Fyan will not be forgotten during the life time of the present generation.

In 1865 he married Miss Lizzie Harrison in this city, a sister of Mrs. E. L. Greenleaf, and they had one child, Harry Fyan, an attorney, who lives at Marshfield. Mrs. Fyan died more than twenty-five years ago, and the Judge married again, his second wife being killed by the cyclone in 1879, which destroyed the town of Marshfield, including the Fyan mansion.

During the past few years the deceased had been a physical wreck and a great sufferer. He is now relieved, as he could not hope to recover. To his relatives and friends, we offer heartfelt condolence, for his death is a great loss to the State and community. He was buried in this city at 1 o'clock P. M. July 30th by Webster Lodge, A. F. & A. M., of Marshfield, of which he was a member, assisted by Laclede Lodge of Lebanon.

THE FUNERAL

The remains arrived in Lebanon at 11 o'clock this morning from Marshfield, accompanied by relatives and a large Masonic escort from Marshfield Lodge.

There was a large crowd at the depot, many old friends and acquaintances, and all were visibly affected as the casket containing the body of their dear old friend, was taken from the train to the hearse in waiting. Under escort of the Marshfield and Lebanon Masonic delegations, followed by the bereaved relatives and sorrowing friends, the remains were taken to the residence of Mrs. E. L. Greenleaf on Harwood avenue. The funeral took place from the Greenleaf residence at 1 o'clock this afternoon and was attended by many friends.—Lebanon Rustic.

A Democratic Governor

Probably no man in the country has suffered more injustice at the hands of the public press of the country than Governor Altgeld, of Illinois. On the part of the press of Chicago, this injustice is the result of a well-defined programme; on the part of the press at large, it is unintentional.

It is charged against him that he sympathized with the anarchists and pardoned men who had been found guilty of complicity in the Haymarket riots.

There is not a word of truth in the charge. He pardoned the three men because there could not be found a scintilla of evidence connecting them with the anarchist oblation. If that evidence could have been found, the court that tried them would have condemned them to the gallows, as it had condemned the others.

In pardoning the men, Governor Altgeld only did his duty as he believed it. He was denounced for it not because he did wrong, but because he did right, but because he was bold enough and democratic enough to do what he conceived to be his duty, in the face of the protests of sensational newspapers. There is not a responsible business man in Chicago to-day who will say that he believes the governor of Illinois is an anarchist, or that he is not opposed to all forms of disorder and lawlessness.

Another charge against Governor Altgeld is that he refused to maintain law and order during the late Chicago riots. There is not a word of truth in that charge. Well-known railway and business men—men who are interested in maintaining law and order—declare that there was not a moment during the strikes when the governor was not ready to restore order. He showed his willingness by maintaining perfect order along the lines of the great railway going out of Chicago. This is the testimony of the most prominent railway managers of the west.

The question naturally arises, if Governor Altgeld was so anxious to put down rioting, why did he fail to restore order in Chicago? The answer is simple and conclusive. He was never called on to put it down. At the very beginning of the troubles he placed himself in communication with Hopkins, the goldbug mayor, informing him that whenever he felt himself powerless to cope with the mob, the authorities of the State were ready to take hold of the matter and restore order. Gov. Altgeld was never called on. The mayor and the element behind him, despising Altgeld because he is a Democrat, and thinking to humiliate him, invoked other aid.

Thus occurred this celebrated rape of constitutional Democracy. Gov. Altgeld was not humiliated, but the rights of a sovereign State were invaded and the Democratic party grievously assaulted.

Why, then, it may be asked, should certain elements in Chicago unite to denounce Governor Altgeld as an "anarchist?" First and foremost, because he is a genuine Democrat who can neither be bought, bribed, cajoled or bull-dozed in the performance of his duty. When he went into the Governor's office, he found that the land occupied by a certain prominent building in Chicago belonged to the public school fund. It had been occupied without rent for twenty-seven years. The Governor immediately collected this rent and has been promptly collecting it ever since. Out of the building on this land issues a newspaper, and it is this newspaper that has been one of the chief slanderers of the Democratic Governor.

Many of the southern delegates to the Chicago convention were in a position to investigate the charges against Governor Altgeld. Those who did so not only found that they were untrue, but heard some of the best business men of that city pay high tributes to the wisdom, conservatism and courage of the Democratic Governor. His administration of State affairs has been clean, consistent and wise. His success is best attested by the hold he has on the common people. He is the most popular man in Illinois to-day, and as true a Democrat as can be found in the country.—Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution.

Mr. Bales Righted.

Ed. Register.—In your issue of July 30, 1896, I notice this clipping from the Current Wave, preceded by your comment:

We find this "pointer" floating on the placid bosom of the Eminence Current Wave: "David Bales this week wrote a letter to Chas. Kiepzig, chairman of the Shannon county Republican central committee, resigning as central committeeman of Eminence township. The reason given by Mr. Bales for so doing, put in his own words, is as follows: 'I intend to align myself in the future with a party which, according to its latest national platform, favors legislation in the interests of the classes—i. e., the Democratic party.' We welcome Dave into the fold and extend to him the right hand of fellowship."

The extract from The Wave should have read as follows: "David Bales this week wrote a letter to Chas. Kiepzig, chairman of the Shannon county Republican central committee, resigning as central committeeman of Eminence township. The reason given by Mr. Bales for so doing, put in his own words, is as follows: 'I intend to align myself in the future with a party which, according to its latest national platform, favors legislation in the interest of the masses and not in the interest of the classes—i. e., the Democratic party.' We welcome Dave into the fold and extend to him the right hand of fellowship."

You will, of course, admit that the omission of the words, "masses and not in the interest of the" changes the meaning of the item somewhat, and gives me credit (or discredit) of having some peculiar ideas of what is just and right.

There are about 1,000 Democratic and 100 Populist voters in Shannon county, but Bryan will receive between 1200 and 1300 votes. For the proof of this I refer you to the election table which will appear in The Current Wave of November 5, 1896.

Four members of the county Republican central committee are outspoken for free coinage, and one-half of the Republicans of this (Eminence) township have promised to vote for Bryan and Sewall, and a majority of them are "as good as their word."

Respectfully,

DAVID L. BALES.

[An apology is due Mr. Bales. The "see copy" in the margin of the proof-sheet ought to have corrected the error, but it didn't. Yet we regret the mistake the less since it has called forth so interesting a correction.—Ed.]

Six weeks ago I suffered with a very severe cold; was almost unable to speak. My friends all advised me to consult a physician. Noticing Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised in the St. Paul Volks Zeitung I procured a bottle, and after taking it a short while was entirely well. I now most heartily recommend this remedy to anyone suffering with a cold. WM. KELL, 678 Selby Ave., St. Paul, Minn. For sale by all dealers.

The Weekly

St. Louis

Post-Dispatch

Only 50 Cents a Year, By Mail Prepaid.

For the Campaign, Till Dec. 1st,

Only 25 Cents.

Published Every Thursday

During the past year the conductors of the Post-Dispatch have been many times urged to publish a weekly edition. The requests have come chiefly from farmers, laborers and others, who are not so situated that they can take or read a Daily newspaper. Similar requests have come from postmasters, news agents and others who are in close touch with the people.

In compliance with these requests, which seem to indicate a widespread popular demand, the publication of THE WEEKLY ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH will be begun on Thursday, MAY 14.

It will be an eight-page newspaper, consisting almost entirely of reading matter—carrying little or no advertising.

It will be issued once a week (on Thursdays), at the extremely low price of 50 cents a year. As the object of the publishers is to furnish a weekly newspaper for the masses of the people, it was deemed preferable to publish a regular once-a-week weekly at half the regular price, rather than a twice-a-week issue at the usual price of $1 a year.

It will, like the Daily Post-Dispatch, be a Newspaper for the People, championing Western Men and Measures, and standing for those Policies, the success of which is essential to the prosperity of the masses of the people in the West and South, and in the country at large.

The Post-Dispatch is known as the only metropolitan newspaper that uncompromisingly advocates the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, and that steadfastly resists the encroachments of Plutocracy and Corporation Influence in politics. It is also known as the liveliest, most enterprising, most readable and best illustrated newspaper in St. Louis.

The qualities that have distinguished the Daily Post-Dispatch will also characterize the WEEKLY POST-DISPATCH. It will be crisp, bright, readable, and well illustrated. In addition to All the News and the cream of public discussion, it will contain the best of the Editorials in the Daily Post-Dispatch; Short Stories, a helpful Women's Department, Gossip about Men and Women who attain prominence, Political Cartoons, and plenty of Fun and Humor.

During the campaign it will keep its readers informed on Political Developments and the Progress of Events throughout the country.

Subscription prices, by mail, prepaid, 50 cents a year. For the campaign, until Dec. 1, 25 cents, or 75 cents, to one address, $1 per year; $2 to Dec. 1. Remit by Postal or Express Money Order, or for small amounts under a dollar send two or one-cent postage stamps—never stamps of larger denominations. Don't send checks on local banks.

Job-Work of all kinds at this office. Call and see specimens.

Newspapers in the Campaign.

In the present campaign, the newspapers will be the greatest of educators, in teaching the voters of the land the proper way to view the political questions of the day. The Republic, of St. Louis, is without doubt the most able instructor published on the Democratic side, as it explains in almost every issue, by editorial or learned article why the mass of the people should vote for the Democratic Presidential candidate. In addition, it prints all the news of the doings of both parties and all the speeches of state-men. The Republic is only $6 a year, $1.50 for 3 months, or 65 cents a month by mail. Semi-Weekly Republic $1 a year.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last for hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at Crisp's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.10.

Howard Lindsay's Elite Ice Cream Parlors open every evening. Orders received.

HAVE YOU A PROSPECT?

Do You Want a Well? If you do, address Al. Woolen, Flat River, Mo. He has a diamond drill, and is prepared for the work. Terms reasonable.
