The long term of hot weather terminated with a wind storm and rain Wednesday afternoon, and in about an hour the mercury in the thermometer dropped 24 degrees—from 94 to 70. The heated term thus ended was the most excessive and longest in duration ever known in the Valley. For eighteen consecutive days the thermometer registered over 90; and for eight days 99 was reached. There has certainly been plenty of excessive heat for one season and strong hopes are entertained that the weather from now on will continue pleasant.

The Ice Cream Festival which was to have been given in the yard of the M. E. church at Graniteville on the 10th of August was postponed on account of the sad accident which resulted in the death of Harvey Warren, a young member of the M. E. Church at Graniteville. The accident occurred at about 9:30 Monday morning and he died at 12:35. An account of the accident appears in the REGISTER. The Festival will be given on the 17th of August. It is to be regretted that some of the friends were disappointed, but feel sure of their sympathy to the bereaved family, and also to the church of which he was a member.

A sad accident happened on the railroad leading from Schneider's quarry to Iron Mountain last Monday morning, in which Harvey Warren, a young man eighteen years of age, lost his life. The engine had been doing some switching and in some way several cars got away and were running down the track. Young Warren happened to be near and mounted the front car. He succeeded in bringing it to a stop. Just then several cars from behind came up, bumping the forward car and knocking Warren on the track. Immediately the cars started and four loaded cars passed over poor Warren. Both limbs were severed below the knees. The unfortunate boy lived but two hours. The coroner finding the facts as above did not deem it necessary to hold an inquest. No one, as far as can be ascertained, is in any way to blame for the most unfortunate affair. The death is a singularly sad one as Warren was the chief support of a widowed mother.

A very pleasant affair took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Collins of Ironton on Monday evening, August 10th. About seventy-five children surprised little Hartford by their presence. The party was planned without his knowledge, and all things in readiness; when about 7:30 Monday evening the crowd of happy children came marching in to "have a party." The surprise was so great that Hartford did not enjoy it immensely. Nor was he the only one who had a good time. Games of all kinds were soon started, and each child seemed inspired to help make another happy, and make this one of the most enjoyable evenings of the season. When fun was at its highest, about 9:30, the ever welcome call to refreshments was given. What a sight met their eyes as they filed into the dining room. Such a table of good things! You might have thought the suppressed glories of delight as each little lady or gentleman was served. Hunger and thirst being satisfied by the many good things, other games were introduced, and until eleven o'clock the wads and lassies made merry. After wishing Hartford all the good things that could come to a little boy, the guests went home feeling better for the time so pleasantly spent, and wishing that such delightful diversions came often.

Several of the larger members of society were present, lending a charm to the happy youngsters, and we know they enjoyed the evening equally as well as the little people. U. P. A.

The Blue Ribbon Fair, Barbecue and Picnic at J. A. Reburn's, southeast of town, on last Saturday, attracted a large number of visitors. They came from every section and several different counties were represented. Arrivals began pouring in early in the morning and continued until long after the noon hour. It was estimated that the attendance was fully one thousand. The weather was extremely warm but the day was an ideal one for a picnic. The sun shone from a cloudless sky and the rays came down with ever increasing heat and fierceness. The crowd, apparently, was oblivious to the warm weather and all seemed to fully enjoy the day and occasion. The races were a decided relief to the usual dull monotony of a picnic programme, and furnished considerable entertainment and pleasure to everybody. The occasion was unanimously declared a decidedly successful one, and the pleasant recollections thereof will not soon be forgotten. Following is a list of the contests with the prizes awarded:

I carefully read the directions and gave it accordingly. He was very low, but slowly and surely he began to improve, gradually recovered, and is now as stout and strong as ever. I feel sure it saved his little life. Mr. West can praise the remedy half its worth. I am sorry every one in the world does not know how good it is, as I do.—Mrs. Lina S. and young. I found Mr. Blanton right in the thick of his hayring. His married daughter and her husband were at home on a visit to help. Mr. B. has a blacksmith shop and his son-in-law is a splendid smith. He mended the mowing machines and wagons and such other tools as needed repairing. And as I sat out in the shade of those big trees with the ladies, and read to them, and talked with them, it made the days seem so short. It was so restful to have no cares or anxieties to trouble me. How fast the hours passed away! And to sit at that long table laden with all the good things to eat and drink, with all these young folks, a dozen or more. It brought up the days when my own table was filled with boys and girls. One day at dinner Mr. Blanton told his little boy, about nine years old, to go with me fishing at the fish pond. Mr. B. has a fine pond full of nice fish. I sat on the bank of the pond with my back against a big shade tree and my feet almost touching the water, with a pole, and that little fellow, not bigger than a half-grown grasshopper, and three smaller boys, two of them in dresses yet, catching grasshoppers for bait to see those little fellows jump up a hopper and take after it, and when it would light to take breath, they would pound on it like a duck on a junebug. I tell you it was amusing. And to see that boy just pull those great, big bass out, one after another! It was really exciting. He caught nine bass, and I did not catch a fish. I was too much taken up with the boys. And there right across, were all the men with two mowing machines, one raking hay with a horse rake, and two big teams hauling hay to the barn, where with a big horse fork a load was carried away in a very few minutes.

As I sat and pretended to fish, how the old days came up so fresh, when the grass was cut with a scythe and raked with a hand rake. Everything is so different. And at night, as I laid me down to sleep on a bed as soft as down, how refreshing!

All too soon my visit came to an end, and one morning Mr. B. brought me home much refreshed, and with the promise that he would in the near future fetch me back for another visit. I tell you, Mr. Editor, Mr. Blanton's is a nice place to visit, and every one has my thanks. T. P. R.

Since 1878 there have been nine epidemics of dysentery in different parts of the country in which Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was used with perfect success. Dysentery, when epidemic, is almost as severe and dangerous as Asiatic cholera. Heretofore the best efforts of the most skilled physicians have failed to check its ravages, this remedy, however, has cured the most malignant cases, both of children and adults, and under the most trying conditions, which proves it to be the best medicine in the world for bowel complaints. Honor the Dead.
Ed. Register—As I have been asked by many friends to set a day to clear off the cemetery half mile west of Sabula, Mo., I wish to answer them through the columns of the REGISTER, that on Thursday, August 20th, would be a very good time, for we can get a Minister to preach a sermon on the grounds on the above date. The graveyard is all grown up in brush and weeds, and is unfenced. Bring tools to work with, and we can bring our ladders, too; and after the sermon at 11 o'clock, we can have dinner at a spring near the ground. My friends, this is our duty, that we should keep the graves of our friends and relatives that God has called home, free from brush and weeds. May we as living mortals do our duty to the City of the dead. Respectfully,
Sabula, Mo. B. GEORGE LEWIS.

Tolu Talk.
Ed. Register—As some prevaricator has taken it upon himself to do "Tafty's" corresponding "Tafty" has remained silent for more than a month. I don't pretend to be a critic, or to possess the ability to criticize; therefore, I wish to say to other correspondents of the REGISTER that I glory in your spunk in re-stating with the illustrious correspondent substituted for "Tafty."
A good rain would be a great help in making corn and pastures good at present.
Schools in this part are progressing and developing the interest of the people.
A few cattle and sheep buyers have been through here but yet there are some of each for sale.

On last Friday night they discussed the question of "Woman Suffrage." The judges gave the decision in favor of the affirmative speakers.
We predict a good picnic and an amusing time for those present at Tolu on the 15th inst.

We have the material and should use it to the best advantage.
Teachers, come out. It will cost you nothing but will be of much value to you. Come and bring your friends with you. The people of Ironton will entertain you, and it will cost you nothing. Can you afford to miss such an opportunity to enrich your understanding? Please come and partake of the feast prepared for you.

WINE OF CARDUI TREATMENT OF FEMALE DISEASES
Thousands of women are nervous, listless, have headache, sick stomach, fainting spells, dizziness, scanty or profuse menses, weak back, constipation; their sides, shoulders and limbs ache constantly—in fact, they suffer from general debility of the whole system. The superior tonic qualities of McEUNE'S WINE OF CARDUI make it the leading remedy for this class of troubles.
