

FILLED ALL REQUIREMENTS.

She Wanted a Real Sensible Book and She Took Robinson Crusoe.

The trials of librarians in city libraries have often been cited; those of the guardians of small country libraries are of a different character, but require perhaps the exercise of even greater patience, says Youth's Companion.

"Ma wants you should pick her out a book," said a freckle-faced girl to the bright young woman in charge of the free library of a New England village.

"Nor she don't want anything she's ever read before," the librarian tapped her pencil thoughtfully on the desk, without a trace of despair which a chance listener to this dialogue expected to see on her face.

"Nor she don't want anything that's chopped up into short stories, ha says," continued the girl, bent on the librarian's further enlightenment.

"She wants a real sensible book, the kind grandmama likes and I like, too," volunteered "ma's" emissary; then suddenly she leaned over the librarian.

"Certainly," said the librarian, pleasantly, and a moment later the well-thumbed copy of the famous adventures had changed hands and the happy possessor of it departed wreathed in smiles.

HE WAS CONSIDERATE.

The Subject Was Painful But He Had to Enter His Objections.

In every up-to-date and well-regulated hotel the force of waiters is rigidly disciplined and each one is entrusted with special duties aside from those of the dining-room.

"The disciplinary system at one of Detroit's prominent hotels is as severely exact almost as that controlling a body of soldiers. The head waiter is an Irishman with a thick brogue and every morning before the dining-room he lines his men up in the dining-room and impresses upon them the rules of the establishment and lectures them as to their behavior.

There is one serious objection to establishing communication with Mars. It will inevitably bring on more of the same kind of stories.—The Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

WHEELER WAS TOO POLITE.

Embarrassing Dilemma in Which "Fighting Joe" Lately Found Himself.

At Washington the other day it was raining hard, and the street cars were crowded with passengers more or less bedraggled. Among them was Gen. Joe Wheeler. Next to him was a woman wearing a mackintosh.

The woman looked puzzled, but took the umbrella. Gen. Wheeler resumed his seat. Then a woman on the other side of him gave a little scream and said: "Why, you nasty little man, you gave that woman my umbrella!"

"I'm sorry," said the general, "but I'm sure you're right. I don't know how it happened, but I'm sure you're right. I don't know how it happened, but I'm sure you're right."

"I'm sure you're right," said the general, "but I'm sure you're right. I don't know how it happened, but I'm sure you're right. I don't know how it happened, but I'm sure you're right."

"I'm sure you're right," said the general, "but I'm sure you're right. I don't know how it happened, but I'm sure you're right. I don't know how it happened, but I'm sure you're right."

"I'm sure you're right," said the general, "but I'm sure you're right. I don't know how it happened, but I'm sure you're right. I don't know how it happened, but I'm sure you're right."

MADE THE INDIAN REAL MAD.

Senator Stewart the other day related the story of an adventure with a big Indian when he was prospecting for gold in the Indian country.

"I guess they needed my wagon and my mule more than they needed me," said the senator, "and I'm sure you're right. I don't know how it happened, but I'm sure you're right."

"I'm sure you're right," said the senator, "but I'm sure you're right. I don't know how it happened, but I'm sure you're right. I don't know how it happened, but I'm sure you're right."

HEAD OF THE HERD.

Selection of a Bull is a Matter of Paramount Importance to Dairy-men and Stockmen.

There are three points which should have special attention in the selection of a bull, viz. breed, pedigree and individual merit.

"Where the Thieves Were." The wife of a well-known and very popular member of the house of representatives was telling a story on him the other day.

"There is a class of people who are injured by the use of coffee. Recently there has been placed in all the grocery stores a new preparation called GRAIN-O, made of pure grains, that takes the place of coffee.

THANKFUL TO MRS. PINKHAM

Letters Proving Positively that there is No Medicine for Woman's Ills Equal to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

MRS ANNIE THOMPSON

"I cannot say enough in regard to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has done me more good than all the doctors. I have been troubled with female weakness in its worst form for about ten years. I had leucorrhoea and was so weak that I could not do my housework."

"I was taken sick five years ago with 'The Grippe,' and had a relapse and was given up by the doctor and my friends. Change of Life began on me. I flowed very badly until a year ago, then my stomach and bowels got so bad I suffered terribly; the blood went up in my lungs and stomach, and I vomited it up. I cannot tell what I suffered with my head. My husband got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and before I had taken half of it I began to improve, and to-day I am another woman. Mrs. Pinkham's medicine has saved my life. I cannot praise it enough."

$5000 REWARD.
