IRONTON, MISSOURI.
THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1904.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Lent begins next Wednesday.

Next Sunday is Valentine Day.

The roads are reported very rough.

County court proceedings are printed this week.

Madison county will vote on local option March 8th.

The "boss" is spending the week with relatives in Little Rock.

A thunder storm Saturday night—rather unusual for February.

The Republicans of Iron county have a mass meeting March 5th.

Jesse Pease is just recovering from a prolonged siege of typhoid fever.

The REGISTER does the best of printing on short notice. Give us your orders.

FOR RENT—The Forster cottage, furnished. Apply to T. S. Lopez & Sons, Ironton, Mo.

Everybody is much pleased with the efficient train service at present afforded our people.

Mr. Johnson, the ice man, put up about three hundred tons of ice during the late cold spell.

It is said that passenger traffic on the railroad is unusually large for the season of the year.

Prospects are said to be good for a busy season with the granite quarries the coming summer.

Dixon Fletcher of Arcadia has been appointed one of the Jefferson Guards at the World's Fair.

After the thaw a heavy rain fell Saturday night. It was of great benefit to the streets and sidewalks.

The county court adjourned last Saturday to meet again March 29th, when the annual settlement will be made with the collector.

Come to the REGISTER office when you want good printing promptly done, at reasonable prices. Satisfaction guaranteed.

To our young friend, Aug. Immer, of St. Louis, we are indebted for some Harry Hawes' literature. August is a strong advocate of Mr. Hawes.

There will be a box supper at Thorn Grove school house Friday night, February 12, 1904, for the benefit of the school library. All are invited.

H. W. Adolph, Clerk of the Modern Woodmen, last Sunday received a check for $2,000 in payment of the life insurance on the late John G. Yount. Mr. Yount died January 12th.

To our good friend, G. W. Clarkson, we are indebted for two very handsome calendars—one of them from the Bismarck Milling Company and the other from the Bank of Bismarck. They are certainly attractive.

Peyton Sides, a negro boy who was sent from this county to the penitentiary three years ago for robbery, was pardoned by Governor Doekery last week. Sides is said to be in the last stages of consumption.

Services at the Presbyterian church on next Sunday as usual, morning and night. Sunday school 9:30 A. M.; preaching, 11:00 A. M.; C. E., 6:45 P. M.; preaching, 7:30 P. M. Every one is cordially invited to come.

The general opinion seems to be that if the railroad company will indicate just what land they want to build the new depot on, there will be little trouble in raising the money among our people to make the purchase. We want the depot.

Dr. Marshall reports the following births: To Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Tual, Jr., Arcadia, on Monday, February 1, 1904, a girl. To Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jones, Marble Creek, on Monday, February 8, 1904, a boy. All are reported as doing very well.

Four white men and two colored boys were surprised in a game of craps at Johnson's ice house Sunday afternoon. The offenders pleaded guilty before Squire Fairchild next day and each paid fine and costs amounting to over $8.00—except the darkeys who will serve twenty-five days in jail.

The wedding of Robert Schneider and Miss Emma Steffens of Graniteville will take place at St. Peter's and St. Paul's Church in St. Louis to-day. Mr. Schneider and his bride will go to New Orleans and other points south on a bridal tour. The REGISTER wishes Mr. and Mrs. Schneider every happiness.

STRAYED—From my farm near Edge Hill, one red heifer, two years old in the spring; marked with smooth crop and under bit in right ear, and smooth crop and split in left ear; one red heifer, one year old in spring, unmarked. Any information will be liberally rewarded by J. M. BLACK, Edge Hill, Mo.

Mr. R. Boettcher was in the office one day the past week, and told us that an investigation had revealed that the peaches in this vicinity had not been seriously damaged by the recent cold spell. He says the report from St. Louis county is that the prospective peach crop there has been completely destroyed. This again proves that the elevation afforded by our hills makes this a more desirable fruit-growing country than the lowlands.

The very affable Wm. Trauernicht, from Middlebrook, made his first trip to Ironton since the New Year, Monday, and then he came and went on the train. Wm. says that traveling over the roads this season of the year is by no means the pleasure that it is in the "good old summer time," hence the scarcity of his visits at this season.

At the Presbyterian Sunday school on Sunday, the 21st, the Sunday nearest to Washington's Birthday, a patriotic programme will take place of the ordinary exercises in the Sunday school. They will have the assistance of the church choir, and design to make it interesting to all, and invite those not in the Sunday school to come.

The K. P. business meeting was held in Charleston last week, instead of Kennett, as was stated. Geo. R. Gay and H. W. Adolph attended from here. It was determined not to have any South-east Missouri celebration this year, but to join in a general celebration at the World's Fair on K. P. day. The business meeting next year will be held at Cardwell in Dunklin county.

George Blanks, colored, of Pilot Knob, asks the REGISTER to make the announcement that he will be sixty-five years of age on the 7th of April next. Whether George wants this statement made so that it will be generally known that he is still in the marriageable class, or that he just wants to apprise his friends that he is not so very far from three score years and ten, we do not know. But he wants the fact published anyway.

Rev. T. A. Waterman made the daily reports last week for one of the St. Louis papers of the convocation at Old Orchard, Mo., which were commended by the dean, the rector and others present. He does occasional duty of this kind, and when assigned acts as special correspondent from a distance, though owing to the large number of regular staff writers, contributions are only accepted as they are particularly needed or timely.

Following are the petit jurors drawn by the county court last week, to serve at the April term of circuit court:

Geo. W. Moore,	Gas. Kaesmacher,
Henry King,	Aug. Schweb,
F. Miller,	Jasper Orrick,
Hy. Ruble,	G. A. Backey,
John Brewer,	Joe. Bloomfield,
Mert Willet,	Joseph Price,
Albert Jones,	John Hartman,
Wm. Seidinger,	Freddie Thurman,
Joseph Evans,	Bart Rich,
Geo. Swearingin,	Ross Connor,
John Petty,	Jas. Goggen,
Dave Vance,	J. W. Wood.

DIED—At her home in Ironton, Mo., Friday morning, February 5th, 1904, at seven o'clock, Annie M. Calvert, nee Dinger, wife of Phil. A. Calvert, aged forty-three years, eleven months and five days. The funeral was held in the Lutheran church, Pilot Knob, Sunday afternoon, and the remains were interred in the Masonic cemetery. The deceased was the eldest daughter of the late Judge Franz Dinger and had spent nearly all of her life in Ironton. A husband and several children are left to mourn her demise.

Accompanying the rain Saturday there was quite a wind and thunder storm. The wind blew a gale and the lightning made the night as bright as day—continued flash after flash illuminating the sky. South of here the storm was much worse than it was here. At the telephone camp at Tip Top the storm was so severe that the men became frightened, got up and dressed, fearing every minute that the tents would be blown away. Eventually the storm abated without any great damage resulting. Further south, however, the wind was even more severe and no little damage is reported.

William Cotter, manager of the Missouri Pacific railroad, signed a contract last Saturday for the installation of an electrical automatic block system on all the main-line tracks of the Missouri Pacific system. Work will be begun at once installing the system on the 283 miles of main line track between Kansas City and St. Louis. The system will also be put in on the first 165 miles of track on the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern railroad out of St. Louis. The system will be used between Kansas City and St. Louis and between St. Louis and Popular Bluff by May 12th. Then it will be gradually extended to the other lines of the system.—Popular Bluff Citizen.

The County Court to-day made an order that the stairway on the south side of the court house hallway, leading to the Circuit Court room be removed and that two offices, one on the ground floor and the other just above it on the second floor be built, the one on the ground floor to be used by the County Treasurer, while the one above will be used by the Sheriff and during Circuit court will also be used as a jury room. The little stone building north of the court house that is now occupied by the Treasurer, will be converted into a jail, the Court making an order that a steel cage be bought and placed in same. Sheriff Jordan was appointed to superintend the work, and instructed to proceed with the work as soon as he can secure the material necessary.—Reynolds County Outlook.

The members and friends of the Baptist Church spent a pleasant and profitable time together at their Rally Day meeting, on last Saturday. There was a good attendance and every one entered into the spirit of the day. After a short and interesting service by the young people, the pastor, Rev. Geo. Steel, preached an appropriate sermon on "Mending Our Nets." The interval between the morning and the afternoon services was spent socially and in serving the lunch. It was the pastor's birthday, and he was the recipient of many well wishes. In the business meeting the church covenant was read. The roll call was made interesting by the reading of letters from absent and former members. Rev. Geo. Steel was called as pastor for another year. The following officers were elected: Robt. Love, deacon; Price Ringo, treasurer; Ezra Elgan, clerk. The meeting adjourned at 4 o'clock and all went home feeling that their interest in church affairs had been increased, and that the prospects for the year, in which it is hoped to see the new church completed, had been brightened.

Chris. Buss and Peter Peterson, two men engaged in digging post holes for the long distance telephone company, were badly injured by a dynamite explosion at Tip Top a few minutes before eleven o'clock Wednesday morning of last week. Peterson was engaged cleaning out some post holes that had been fired the night previous. He was not making satisfactory progress and Buss, who was superintending that portion of the work, took hold of the bar himself. He had not made more than a stroke or two when the explosion occurred. The explanation as to the explosion is that two sticks of dynamite were put in the hole the night before, but that only one of them exploded when the battery was applied—the reason for the other stick not "firing" probably being that it was frozen and in that condition will not discharge. During the night, however, the dynamite thawed and readily discharged when struck by the bar. Immediately after the accident a messenger was dispatched to Ironton for physicians, who hurried to the injured men. An investigation revealed that Buss' left leg was so badly mutilated that it would have to be amputated at the knee, and he also suffered the loss of an eye. Peterson was badly cut about the face and head and also lost an eye. The men were brought to town that evening and given every care and attention. Friday morning they were taken to St. Mary's infirmary, St. Louis, where, it is understood, they are getting along very nicely. Buss is twenty-five years old; his home is in Hematite, Jefferson county, and he has been in the employ of the telephone people a number of years. Peterson is a Dane, aged twenty-one years, cannot speak English, and has been in this country but a short time. Mr. E. L. Obermiller, the gentleman who has charge of the construction work, has been universally praised and complimented for the care and attention shown the unfortunate men. He overlooked nothing tending to their comfort or welfare, and could not have been more solicitous had they been members of his immediate family.

In Search of Spring.

I don't like the season of snow and ice; when the prospect overhead is gloomy and forbidding, and under the feet are slippiness and uncertainty; when one to be comfortable, must so engulf himself in wraps and mufflers and gloves and overshoes as to be a walking monument of clumsiness and discomfort; when, in fact, one's sole sustaining thought is that some time, sooner or later, the roses of spring will displace the ashen gray and lily white of nature now despairing. "Resurgam," cries all life and in that sign it conquers; or, at least takes on the courage to wage unceasing war on the stubborn forces arrayed against it.

I say, I don't like the winter time, and I don't; the fact, upon reflection, is matter of some surprise, for I have not forgotten the years when I greeted the first of the season's snows with joy and hilarity. But with age, I hope, comes wisdom, along with the desire for peace and comfort. The boy with his sled climbs the mountain side, in happy expectation of the few seconds of down-rushing course which shall reward his many minutes of toil and breath expenditure. We older folks laugh at him, overlooking our own more serious foolishness. We have climbed the hill in vain anticipation, and now that we are on our inevitable downward way, how short and inadequate are the hours of recompense? About the only difference in the parallel lies in the fact that the boy sees with delight the acceleration of his speed as he flies along his icy path; we don't.

Well I am a long time about it, but I just want to say that while the thermometer was browsing down in Zero's confines, I determined to seek a sunnier clime, and here I am in the City of Roses—so called. I haven't seen the roses yet, but expect to if I am not called untimely to home and duty. We—there were three of us—left the loveliest of Valleys last Saturday morning on "The Fast Mail" and came through without let or accident, to happily find all the friendshaps (vide Rieke or Davis, if you are not a Gorman) enjoying good health and apparently glad to welcome us.

Next week I will tell you all about the trip and Little Rock and the balmy breezes and bright sunshine. E. D. A

Des Are Items.

A cyclone struck the residence of Mrs. John Parrish, one mile south of Gad's Hill, Saturday night, completely demolishing the house, barn and contents. There were in the house at the time Mrs. Parrish and her mother, Mrs. Busby, some 80 years old, also the youngest daughter, Etta, and a neighbor girl, also an operator that was boarding there, and this was his first time at the house as he had just arrived that day to re-leave the regular operator. The young ladies were sleeping up stairs and were carried away by the storm some fifty yards and landed in a cornfield, where they were found with the bed-clothes wrapped around them; they received but few bruises. The operator received a wound on his head near the eye; Mrs. Parrish was caught by some flying timbers and her face cut, the doctor had to take five stitches in it; Mrs. Busby, the old lady, had one leg broken and is in a critical condition. The young man and girls hurried, bare-footed and in their night clothes, to the nearest neighbor, Mr. Nevens. As soon as they returned with help all the wounded were taken to Mr. Nevens' house. In the meantime the doctors at Piedmont were sent for. The wounded are doing fairly well. The clock was found and showed that the storm struck there at 12:03. The cyclone went east from Gad's Hill, blowing down a barn at Peach Tree Fork, some four miles away. So far we have heard of no more damage down there.

Quite a little storm struck Des Are Saturday night, blowing down E. W. Graves' water tank—some 60 or 80 feet high—which landed on the coffin house, destroying four caskets besides damaging the building considerably. The loss is $100. It also blew T. P. Fitz's wagon shed down, and the roof of John Ashbaugh's house, besides fences and trees.

The advance agent of the Bell Telephone Company was here Saturday to get a right-of-way through our town. The board met at the residence of T. P. Fitz and gave the company permission to have an office here, and will have it in operation by the 1st of March. This will be quite an advantage to this section.

Drs. Farr and Toney took my leg out of the swing last Thursday, and I am feeling more like myself again. I can now sit up, and will soon be on crutches. I will say that I never can repay Drs. Farr and Toney for their kindness toward me, especially Dr. Farr, who has visited me almost every day, and some times at night, for forty-five days. May God bless and protect them and their families is the prayer of "Isaac."

Ed. Maddock returned home from the railroad hospital Saturday.

Misses Bessie Wallis and Maude Reese visited in Piedmont Sunday. Miss Mollie Brewington, of Bruno, spent Sunday with relatives here.

There is a Christian Science meeting now in progress at Brunot. L. White is one of the believers in Christian Science. I understand he is quite sick, and they go there every day and pray for him. It is said that unless he has medical attention in a few days he will die. It is strange how some people can be led off with such doctrine.

This is what we live for; we can not take anything with us when we cross the river, as it may hinder us on our swimming contest; so eat, drink and be happy while you can, and the Arcadia Valley Grocery Store is the place to get the one thing needful to make the inner man glad and happy all his days. "Tell me not in mournful numbers, life is but an empty dream;" and you will find this out when you buy good things to eat at our store. My country friends have been urging me to put in a full line of goods, and I have come to the conclusion their advice is good and sound, so as soon as I get my store building enlarged I will put in a full line of
