

LOCAL BREVITIES.

B. N. Brown has a new ad. Watermelon time will soon be here.

The iceman, he smiles all day long now.

Read about the remarkable bargains at B. N. Brown's.

The last four or five days have been fine hay-making weather.

Mr. Cain's cottage, near the depot, is assuming proportions.

Lawn party at the rectory Thursday, July 27th. Everybody come.

Remember the REGISTER office when you want any kind of printing.

The probate docket for the August term is printed in this issue of the REGISTER.

The hub factory shut down Tuesday, that the employes might take in the horse show.

Harry Byers is now located in one of Dr. Smith's cottages, across the street from the Sanitarium.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will meet at the Manse, Thursday afternoon, at 3 o'clock.

W. J. Lee will probably move his hub factory from Hogan during the summer or in the early fall.

During the exercises at the horse show Miss Bessie Gilliam fell from her horse but fortunately escaped serious injury.

Some of the people who had stands at the horse show say they came out about even. Others say they lost money.

We understand that the Arcadia Hotel is enjoying good patronage these days, and the service is reported to be first-class.

FOR SALE—The R. W. Shapleigh home on Shepherd mountain side, Ironton, Mo. Apply to W. R. Edgar, agent, Ironton, Mo.

A. Winkler will probably put a stock of pianos in the store building on Main street, that he some time ago bought from W. H. Delano.

WANTED—Active and reliable man to act as salesman and collector for Singer Sewing Machine Co. Address the company at De Soto, Mo.

With a new boiler and other machinery recently added, we understand that the ice plant in Arcadia is proving much more satisfactory than heretofore.

W. T. O'Neal and wife, and Mrs. John W. Polk, all of Ironton, and Godfrey O'Neal, of Franklney, were in Bonne Terre for a few hours.—Bonne Terre Star.

A pleasing feature of the horse show was the parade on Main street. Dr. Summa's little girls, on the spotted ponies, were in the lead, and a pretty sight it was.

P. W. Whitworth was last week appointed administrator of the estate of W. H. Byers, deceased. The value of the estate, real and personal, will probably inventory $8000.

Mrs. John W. Polk has moved to the lead belt and will this week assume charge of a boarding house at Huntington. Many friends in Iron county wish this estimable lady every success.

The regular meeting of Knights of the Macabees will be on Thursday evening, July 27th. All members are requested to attend. Business of importance.

WM. H. HENSON, JR., R. K.

The diamond drill sent over to this county by the Doe Run Lead Company is now at work on the farm of Geo. Reeves, on Marble Creek, south of Ironton. The drill has now reached a depth of 140 feet.

Mrs. Dr. Prince and Mrs. J. N. Bishop Monday morning received the sad intelligence of the death of their sister, Mrs. Johnson Long, which occurred suddenly at her home in Lamar, Mo., the night before.

The ladies of St. Paul's church will have a lawn party at the rectory, Thursday evening, July 27th. Ice cream and cake and other refreshments will be served. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The Ironton and the Ironton base ball teams crossed bats at the Blue Ribbon Fair yesterday. The home team was victorious in a score of six to three. A team from Doe Run arrived this morning and want a game in the afternoon.

The editor acknowledges a sirenade by the Ironton band boys last Friday night. The boys are making fine progress with their music, and in a short time Ironton promises to have the best band in this part of the State.

FOR SALE—One seven-year-old, bay mare, weighing eleven hundred pounds; saddles, works perfectly single or double. Nothing better to buggy or carriage. Price reasonable. Sale must be quick. Apply to I. B. Manly, Arcadia, or Arthur Huff, Ironton, Mo.

Prof. B. Fox, of Hopewell, Washington county, was a visitor to the Valley last week. Prof. Fox now has charge of the public school and is a member of the Board of Education of Washington county. His friends in Iron county will be glad to know he is getting along very nicely.

Little Miss Madeline Bradley entertained a few of her little friends at a birthday party, Saturday afternoon, at her home in Arcadia, it being her fourth birthday. After refreshments were served the little folks departed for their homes, wishing her many returns of this happy event.

No. 5, the south-bound passenger train, due here at 11:25 p. m., jumped the track near Vulcan, this county, last Wednesday night. The train was pulled by two large engines which were badly wrecked and several coaches were demolished. It is fortunate that no one was killed and the injured were few.

Misses Blanch Amos and Stella Storms gave a reception at the home of John W. Amos last Wednesday night in honor of O. J. Buford, of St. Louis, Mo. It was one of the most enjoyable affairs that has ever been held in this vicinity. About fifty young people were in attendance.—Kemp-ton Correspondent to Tipton (Ind.) Tribune.

After eating some plums last Friday, Fred. Schultz was taken sick, and intersusception of the bowels followed. His condition growing more serious, he was taken to St. Mary's hospital, St. Louis, Monday morning, thinking an operation might be necessary. This morning, though, the report is that he is improved and an operation may not have to be made.

About ten thousand acres of land in this county, belonging to the Big Muddy Coal and Iron Company, will probably soon pass into the hands of the Southern Hungary Land and Colonization Company. We understand that as soon as the deeds can be made out and signed the transfer will be made. H. S. Whitener, of St. Francois county, is president of the Colonization Company.

The Reverend Arthur Brittain, of De Soto, and at one time rector of the Episcopal church here, will visit the Valley Thursday. He will be accompanied by the organist and vested choir of his church. A full choral service will be given by them at St. Paul's church at three o'clock in the afternoon. An offering for church work will be taken. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

The new passenger coach for the electric railway arrived Wednesday, and now passengers between DeLassus and Farmington will have more comfortable service than was possible with the express car. Under President A. J. Zwart's management of the road every effort is being put forth to please and accommodate the traveling and business public.—Farmington Times.

Clarence and Walter Mayes, sons of John Mayes, who lives west of town, were arraigned before Squire Fairchild Monday on the charge of stealing timber from the land of E. B. Sawyer & Son, saw mill men at Munger. The defendants pleaded not guilty and entered their recognizance for appearance July 29th, when the case will be tried. The value of the timber alleged to have been taken is $7.

The only changes made by the Iron County Board of Education in the text books to be used in the public schools are as follows: Barnes' histories instead of Shinn's; Blaisdell's physiologies instead of Stowell's; Mother Tongue instead of DeGarmo's language; and Reed & Kellogg's grammars instead of Patrick's. The other books will be the same as have been in use for several years past.

The board to locate the sanitarium for the treatment of persons afflicted with tuberculosis met here Monday and organized by the election of Dr. Wm. Bayless of Macon, president; Dr. J. L. Eaton of Bismarck, vice-president; Dr. L. C. McElwee of St. Louis, secretary, and Dr. W. D. Craig of Galena, treasurer. The other member of the board is Dr. W. L. Gup-ton of Montgomery City.—Jefferson City Tribune.

Mr. P. O'Brien, late a conductor on one of the "pushers" at Arcadia, and in the service of the I. M. & S. R. for twenty years, left yesterday for Los Angeles, Cal., whither Mrs. O'Brien preceded him two months ago. Mr. O'Brien was joined at St. Louis by his daughter, Miss Leah, who accompanied him on his Western trip. The family will locate there, and their many friends here wish them the utmost success.

Mr. E. E. Cain, who has had charge of the screen factory here for the past two years, will leave in a couple of weeks for Michigan, where he has accepted the superintendency of one of the largest screen factories in the United States. While we are glad to hear of our young friend's promotion and good fortune, we regret very much to see him and his good wife leave Ironton. May every happiness and success attend them.

Wednesday's St. Louis papers state that Assistant Attorney General N. T. Gentry the day before visited the Spaug brothers in the St. Louis jail and secured from them a written statement, relative to the attempt made to mob them here on the night of July 7th. They give the names of fifteen men who claim were in the mob. Mr. Gentry, it is announced, will arrive in Ironton to-day, and may ask for a special grand jury to investigate the matter.

MARRIED—At the M. E. parsonage in Arcadia, Mo., Friday, July 7, 1905, Miss Lizzie Black to Mr. Albert A. Larkin, Rev. I. B. Manly officiating. The bride is well known in Des Arc, having made her home there for the past seven years with Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Graves. She was well respected and won many friends during her stay in Des Arc, who are sorry to lose her from their midst. Mr. Larkin is employed in St. Louis as a street car conductor. They left Friday for St. Louis, where they will make their future home.

Superintendent Tyler and Division Superintendent Daniels spent Tuesday night at Arcadia in a private car. It is said that the purpose of their visit was to determine as to the practicability of moving the Arcadia station house and tank to Hogan, and also to make arrangements for locating the pushers at Hogan. It is also stated that the company intends building a "Y" at Hogan. At present many of the south-bound trains "set out" at Hogan and two trains are made into one from there south, but the engines have had to back to Bismarck. The "Y" will be put in so the turn can be made at Hogan.

The Spaug brothers have given out a statement which was published in last Monday's Star-Chronicle implicating thirteen of Ironton's prominent citizens in the attempted lynching. They claim that the sheriff led the mob and unlocked the jail doors. We don't believe the men mentioned or any part of them, with most of whom we are personally acquainted, had anything to do with the attempted lynching, or knew anything about it. In fact one of the above named alleged participants, Prof. Daugherty, was some three hundred miles away from Ironton at the time. Before we could swallow such a statement we would have to be "cited" by better authority.—Reynolds County Outlook.

A severe wind, hail and rain storm visited the eastern part of this county and western part of Iron county on Wednesday evening about 6 o'clock. The rain fell in such torrents that small streams were soon raging and washing down fences, growing crops, etc. Particularly was this true of Mill creek in this county, and Carver and Big creeks in Iron county. At Annapolis the railroad track was washed away for quite a distance and a passenger train was dethatched, but no lives were lost. The damage from wind was mostly from blowing down corn. On the farm of J. T. Dobbins, southeast of Lesterville, it is said the entire crop of corn was laid flat on the ground.—Reynolds County Outlook.

W. H. Byers, formerly an Iron Mountain detective in this division, died very suddenly at his home in Ironton at an early hour Monday. Mr. Byers has, for the past several years, been engaged in the mercantile business at Ironton and had amassed quite a snug fortune. Mr. Byers was well known in this city by the older inhabitants. He is the detective who shot and killed Buck Martin many years ago, while the latter was attempting to assault him while in the discharge of his duties. Mr. Byers was a close friend of our townsman, Judge H. E. Johnson, and was one of the old characters in this section of the State.—Poplar Bluff Citizen.

The foregoing is true to some extent, but the Citizen is somewhat "mixed on its dates." Long years ago, when in the employ of the railroad company, Capt. Byers did take a few shots at Buck Martin and injured him quite badly. But Buck did not die. Not by a long way, and is "still alive and kicking." Buck is by no means a dead coon.

The following is taken from an exchange: "A Missouri preacher has announced that hereafter he will preach only the truth at funerals, and that he does not propose to make immaculate saints of hell-bound sinners. That's all wind. Whenever a preacher or an editor starts out to tell the entire truth in either funeral notices or wedding announcements there will be something doing. And yet there ought to be a happy medium which will meet the demand for reform. It certainly should be disgusting to read some of the sickening slush which appears whenever a couple gets married; and this advertising of the bride as the fairest specimen of womanhood, when she is probably pug nosed and freckle faced and so darning pigeon-toed that her tracks point east when she is going south, is just a little too strong to set well on the average human. The same thing happens when the preacher eulogizes a notoriously bad citizen right into the pearly gates, and the living know it is a sham, while it certainly doesn't do the dead any good. No more sense is shown by a long-winded resolution on the part of the people who would not associate with the man or woman when alive. A reasonable amount of soft soap is a good thing, but this overdoing of the thing is to be deplored."

The campaign of removal of officers at the State hospital here, begun by the new board at its meeting last month, was continued at the meeting held here Monday. At the meeting held last month when all the officers of the institution were asked to resign, Steward Hoeken refused. A resolution was introduced deposing him, but was laid on the table until this meeting, when at a late hour Monday night it was passed and John B. Highley elected to succeed him and to take charge at once. Mr. Hoeken refuses to vacate the office, on the grounds, it is said, that he was regularly appointed for a term ending the first of next February and should be allowed to hold until that time, unless the board can prefer charges against him. This, no one here, so far as we know, nor does the board, believe can be done. That Mr. Hoeken is a shrewd buyer the committee and all the officials of the institution will admit. It appears to an outsider that it is clearly a case of a Folk crusade to give the Governor's henchmen places at the institution, and it further appears that the committee used the worst kind of judgment in not permitting the officials to serve until the expiration of their terms, which would have been only a few months more at most and which is also customary always.—Farmington News.

The following was printed in the last issue of the Lead Belt News: "Early Saturday morning Mr. D. L. Rivers, one of the attorneys for the Spaug boys, was called by phone to Ironton, and at once secured an order from the Governor on the sheriff to convey the boys to St. Louis for safe keeping, and they were accordingly taken there Saturday evening, and will remain there till the October term of the Iron county circuit court. Speaking of the matter on his return to his office in Elvins, Mr. Rivers said: 'Yes, they came very near finishing the boys. The prisoners were in their cell, and fought the mob with a zeal and ferociousness befitting the exigency of the occasion. They used bed slats as bludgeons and kept their assailants from entering their cell and hanging them. The mob finding it dangerous to enter fired some thirty or more shots into the cell and left the boys presumably for dead. No, I have no idea who they were. I am defending the Spaug and went there to secure their removal to a place of safety. It is no concern of mine who was in that mob, and I made no investigation into that matter. I succeeded in my purpose of securing protection for my clients, and I have no interest in the inquiry which I suppose will be made by the authorities in Iron county as to who was connected with the effort to lynch them in the Ironton jail. That is not my case. In this connection I will say that I do not believe that John Marshall, the present sheriff of Iron county, is in any way to blame in the matter. I have known him for years, and I regard him as one of the best officers in the State. He is courageous and prompt in the performance of his official duties. I don't believe he connived at or was passive in the matter.'"

From last Monday's Globe-Democrat we reproduce the following: "William and Arthur Spaug, who are rapidly recovering from the bullet wounds inflicted by a mob, while they were prisoners in the Ironton, Mo., jail a week ago, were interested members of the congregation of jail prisoners which attended religious services in the 'bull ring' yesterday afternoon. Both were propped up by pillows on their cots. They sat up throughout the services, listening intently to the words of the preacher and making an effort to join in the singing. The day following the shooting the boys were baptised into the Catholic church. Since their incarceration in the St. Louis jail they have spent considerable time reading religious pamphlets, and going over the catechism. Yesterday morning, in order that they might take part in the services, their cots were moved from the corridor behind the tiers of cells to the 'bull ring'. The cots were placed at the opening of the new door, which was cut last week at the southwest corner of the jail, through which they were able to get a glimpse of the outside world, and receive the benefit of any breeze which might be blowing from the south. During the exercise hour many of the prisoners in the jail talked with the boys. They were the center of interest throughout the day. Both of the boys are exceedingly complimentary concerning the treatment they are receiving at the hands of Jailer Dawson. They stated yesterday that they expected their mother, who is at present out on bond on a charge of complicity in the killing of John W. Polk at Ironton, to visit them within a week. A bunch of roses and fern leaves were sent into the jail yesterday by one of the friends of the boys. The flowers were divided between them."

The following is reproduced from last Thursday's St. Louis Republic: "The will of Philip W. Schneider of No. 1832 South Sixth street, president of the Schneider Granite Co., was filed for probate yesterday. He directed that a granite mausoleum, to cost $6,000, be erected in SS. Peter and Paul's cemetery for his body. He left $1,000 to the rector of SS. Peter and Paul's church, for general purposes, and $300 each to the Little Sisters of the Poor, St. Vincent's German Orphan Asylum and the German Protestant Orphan's Home. To the Kinderwahrungs Anstalt in Eltman near Hamburg, in Bavaria, Germany, he left $500. He left his household furniture, horses and vehicles to his wife, Sophia, property at Nos. 2341 and 2349 Park avenue, to his daughter, Bertha B. Schneider, and at No. 2351 Park avenue to his daughter, Mamie Blank. He left in trust to his wife and son-in-law, Alois Blank, his stock in the Lafayette Bank, the Schneider Granite Company and the Bellvue Valley Railway Company. His sons, P. W. Schneider, Jr., and Charles W. Schneider are to receive $1,000 each in monthly payments. The will recites that when Charles has received his $1,000, if in the opinion of his mother, he warrants it, the trustees shall pay him the dividends on 500 shares of the Schneider Granite Company stock. His son Robert is to receive the dividends of 500 shares of the Schneider Granite Company's stock as long as he, in the opinion of his mother, gives his undivided attention to the management of the quarry. The rest of his income goes to his widow. At her death, his son Robert is to receive 400 shares of stock in the Schneider Granite Company; his daughters, Bertha and Mrs. Blank, 200 shares each, and his son Charles 300 shares, subject to the dying approval of his mother. His stock in the Bellvue Valley Railway Company is to be divided equally among his children. Charles' share is to be subject to his mother's approval. The rest of the estate will go to the children in equal portions. Mr. Schneider died suddenly last Friday, on a B. & O. train near O'Fallon, Ill., on his way home from French Lick Springs, where he went ten days before in apparent good health. The construction of the mausoleum had commenced before his death."

The Blue Ribbon Fair and Horse Show at the Newman farm, west of town, Tuesday attracted a large crowd of visitors. The weather was ideal and the day passed most pleasantly. J. P. Gilliam and Dr. Temple were chosen as Marshals; and J. C. Smith of Caledonia, Sergeant W. W. Reese of Ironton and Judge T. A. Johnson of Wayne county were chosen judges to determine the winners in the various contests. Following is a partial list of the premiums awarded:
