On next Saturday twenty-one automobiles will make the trip from St. Louis to De Soto. The trip is to be made to test the different makes of machines, and it is proposed to operate a passenger line between this city and St. Louis. The train is to arrive here about 10 A. M.—De Soto Republican.

Services will be held in St. Paul's church Sunday. The offerings are to be devoted toward the Diocesan assessment and Diocesan missions and it is hoped that they will be liberal.

How much longer are the approaches to our depot to be left in the present miserable condition? It certainly looks to us like the company would have some regard for the public.

C. H. Polk tells us that he has loaded about 300,000 staves at Acadia the past month. The machinery in the stove factory at French Mills was shipped to Louisiana last week.

The Acadia beer depot has a new wagon. We understand that another depot is to be established at Graniteville. Well, we are shy on saloons and revenue, but we have "depots" galore.

Mr. Hummel went to St. Louis Friday to start Miss Ethel on her way to Philadelphia. He received a letter Monday morning announcing her safe arrival in the Quaker City Saturday evening.

Mrs. B. F. Thompson and son, Bert, were in Ironton last week to attend the funeral of Mrs. Thompson's sister, Mrs. J. W. Speck, who died at her home in that city, June 19, 1908.—Fredericktown Tribune.

Ironton and Bismarck played a seven inning game of ball Sunday afternoon here, and Bismarck was victorious in score of 6 to 5. The Ironton boys were not expecting the visitors and did not have their regular team.

J. Grandhomme, dispenser in soft drinks, was doing business Sunday. It was the first time in the forty years of its existence that the Grandhomme saloon was open and doing business the first day of the week.

Wm. Stevenson is extending his telephone line from Vulcan to Annapolis. Mr. Stevenson's lines already cover the south end of the county and reach out to the neighboring counties. Come on up to Ironton, Mr. Stevenson.

The REGISTER acknowledges a pleasant call last Thursday afternoon from Hon. John L. Bradley, of St. Francois county, candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Auditor. Mr. Bradley seems to think that he is certain to be nominated.

Ben. Crocker and Nancy Hall, both of Graniteville, were before Squire Rasche last Wednesday afternoon on the charge of illegal co-habitation. The prosecuting witness was a Mrs. Belcher, sister of the Hall woman. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

Dr. T. H. Shy, County Physician, and Sheriff Pitts were in Rubie Sunday and Monday. They went down to quarantine those who have small pox. There are eleven cases in and near that little town, but the disease seems to be in a very mild form. The presence of the disease has paralyzed business in and around the town.—Reynolds County Outlook.

Sunday evening witnessed the close of one of the most successful if not the most successful revival meetings ever held in the M. E. church in this city. The two weeks' meetings resulted in over forty conversions and nearly thirty accessions to the church. The services were conducted by Miss H. Rebecca Bell, deaconess evangelist, of St. Louis.

Al Woollem was shot in the right thigh at his home in Farmington at 10 o'clock last night by what is believed to have been a burglar. He heard some one trying to get in at the window and went outside to see who it was. It was very dark but he noticed a man standing in the rear of the house and just as he was about to ask him what he was doing there the man fired on him. The ball inflicted a serious flesh wound. Every effort will be made to apprehend the would-be murderer.—Farmington News.

An inquest will be held this morning over Gottlieb Schacht, of No. 6013 North Broadway, who died at the City Hospital yesterday from a bullet wound in the right temple, inflicted Sunday night with suicidal intent. Schacht was driven to the act by worry over a divorce suit against his wife, which was docketed in the Circuit Court yesterday.—Republic.

The deceased was the son of J. G. Schacht, of Pilot Knob. The remains were brought here for interment Tuesday night.

Mr. Wm. Hart, who lives west of town, was in to see us last Saturday. Mr. Hart tells us that he is not altogether convinced that the theory that orchards always do better on the highland is correct. He says in his orchard this year he has several trees along the creek that are loaded with apples, while some trees on higher grounds are barren of fruit. He says it may not be the frost that is responsible for the lack of fruit on the upland, but that he has noticed similar conditions in several orchards this year.

"Big Bob" Johnson, colored, and Jordan Johnson, also colored, (no relation) a train porter on the Belmont branch, got into a racket of some kind in the north end of town Monday afternoon. "Big Bob" had some rocks which he threatened to throw at Jordan, and the latter cut "Big Bob" with a knife. "Big Bob" was under the influence and was taken to jail. Next day both were arraigned before Squire Rasche and pleaded guilty to voluntarily fighting. Jordan paid fine and costs amounting to $13, and Bob paid $21.

Quite a number of people were here from Des Arc and vicinity Monday as witnesses in a case in the probate court in reference to the estate of the late John Crowley. Before he died Crowley deeded his farm to a couple of sons, Chas. and John, and also, these sons claim, gave them the personal property amounting to about $1500. A couple of daughters, Mrs. Rumpel and Mrs. Chilton, want an administration of the estate, and deny the disposition of the personal property. About all of Monday afternoon was devoted to hearing the evidence. Judge Barnhouse Tuesday rendered a decision holding that the estate must be administered.

The "Seven Ages" Bazar given by the Gleaners of the Presbyterian church at the Academy of Music last Thursday was a success in every way. The following prizes were awarded in the various contests:

Brown-eyed Gertrude Guibor, a "hello girl" of the Bell Telephone Co., blushed demurely at the sentimental conjectures of her companions when she resigned her position. When they went further, and in anticipation of what they considered a possible event of the future, gave her a linen shower, she accepted the gifts with all the sweet confusion of a girl who has not yet announced her engagement. Her histrionic talent was revealed when it became known yesterday that she had been married since last October to Mr. Chester W. Brown, an electrician, of 3925 Westminister place. They eloped to Edwardsville, and succeeded in keeping the marriage a complete secret. They began housekeeping yesterday at 4271 Russell avenue, and will be at home to any of her friends who wish to laugh over the joke with them. Mrs. Brown is 20 years old.—Post-Dispatch.

The REGISTER last week inadvertently failed to mention the wedding of Mr. Phillip Hawkins, formerly of Bellevue, and Miss Gertrude Lowe, of Iron Mountain, which was solemnized at Tyler Place Presbyterian Church, St. Louis, Thursday, June 18, 1908, Rev. J. L. Roemer officiating. Mr. Hawkins is a brother of our genial circuit clerk, and has a lot of friends in Iron county. He is running an engine on the Kansas city, Mexico & Orient Railway out of Wichita, Kansas, and stands high in the estimation of his employers. His bride is a daughter of Mr. Millard Lowe and is a most charming young lady. Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins came to Ironton after the ceremony and have spent the past two weeks with relatives and friends here and at Bellevue and Iron Mountain. They will leave in a day or two for Wichita, where they will make their home. The REGISTER extends congratulations and wishes Mr. Hawkins and his bride every happiness.

On Tuesday of this week, Deputy Sheriff John Hinson arrested a boy who said his home was at Pilot Knob, but from his wandering talk it was hard to tell what his name was or where he really did belong. The boy is perhaps sixteen or seventeen years old and has been around here for two or three weeks. It was noticed several days ago that he was acting queerly, and when he was seen to chase women or children in the vicinity of Cherryville with a knife or razor, the people began to watch him, but he kept himself hid until Monday night when he showed up in the vicinity of No. 14 shaft. While there he asked one of the top cagers where he could find a place to sleep and not receiving an answer that pleased him, started after the cager with a knife. The boy was located next morning by Deputy Hinson and after a short chase was captured, and that afternoon was taken to Farmington. The lad is the most pitiable looking human we ever saw, and his horrible condition was only made worse by his filthiness. It is to be hoped that his people may be found and that they may be made to care for him or that he be put in some institution, as he is a dangerous character to be at large.—Elyria Herald.

The mandamus proceedings to test the local option election in this county was argued in St. Louis Court of Appeals on last Tuesday. The "wets" having taken the testimony of County Clerk Lawrence to try to establish the fact that the County Court did not properly determine the number of signers to the petition, their principal contention was to go back of the order or judgment of the County Court. After hearing quite a vigorous and thorough argument, the Court of Appeals very pointedly intimated that all matters of contention would be eliminated except the fact as to whether the February census of Farmington was legally and properly taken, and if so, whether it was in time to be of any binding legal force upon the County Court at the time of ordering the local option election. Again each side is apparently confident of victory. One of the attorneys of the County Court stated that the "wets" were "whistling to keep up their courage."

Messrs. Rozier, Anthony and Faris represented the "wets" and Messrs. Marbury and Tucker the "drys." It is not expected that the final opinion will be handed down before the October term of the St. Louis Court of Appeals.—Farmington Times.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Pillsbury, of 3925 Westminister Place, was the scene of a pretty home wedding last Wednesday evening, June 24th, the contracting parties being Miss Nannette A. Brown, daughter of Mrs. S. J. Brown, and Mr. William M. Ward. The house was decorated in a profusion of pink and white roses. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George Steel. Miss Florence Brown, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Misses Lottie Prince and Lela O'Neal were bridesmaids. Mr. Oliver Ward, brother of the groom, was best man. Little Arthur Ward, nephew of the groom, acted as ring bearer. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. William H. R. Brown. The bride was gowned in a white lingerie toilet of Paris muslin, elaborately trimmed with insertions and plisses of hand-made lace. She carried a shower of white roses and sweet peas. The maid of honor and bridesmaids were pretty toilets of white muslin, each gown being trimmed in a profusion of lace. They each carried shower bouquets. An informal reception followed the ceremony, after which the bride and groom left, amid a shower of rice, for a trip on the Great Lakes, and a sojourn in Canada. Upon their return they will reside at 1277 Goodfellow avenue, where they have a well appointed home ready for occupancy. They expect to return before the close of July. May every blessing be theirs!

There is quite a colony of Irontonians at Los Angeles, California, numbering in its aggregation several good friends to the REGISTER, which in return takes pleasure in expressing its good-will toward them and in noting their incoming and outgoings. I take the following from the Onarga (Ill.) Leader and Review: "Helen Kirkpatrick O'Brien gathered a number of Onarga friends at her pretty new home in Los Angeles to say goodbye to Mrs. Doolittle just before she returned to Onarga. It had been announced as a cafeteria luncheon, therefore most of the ladies were prepared to wait on themselves. Soon after twelve o'clock when all had arrived, a line was formed and the visitors marched to the tune of 'Here we go round the mulberry bush, the mulberry bush, the mulberry bush.' All singing, helped themselves to plates, napkins, knife and forks and marched on into the dining room, where a prettily dressed table stood. This was loaded with goodies and each guest helped herself. In ten minutes the whole company was back again in parlor and living room, had chosen a cozy nook and congenial companion and the cafeteria luncheon was voted a great success. In the afternoon games, charades and the singing entertained the guests. The songs chosen first were those old favorites written by Onarga people: 'Darling Nellie Gray' by B. R. Hanby; 'The Vacant Chair' by Henry Frisbie and a song by Mr. Kirkpatrick was sung by his daughter, Mrs. O'Brien. Mrs. Doolittle and Mrs. Nelson sang several sweet old duets and Mrs. Groh a little lament of 'The dolly of long ago.' This she made more complete by showing her little doll of girlhood days. When the time for separation came the departing guests were presented with little photographs of Mrs. Doolittle, and all declared that instead of being a farewell it should be 'auf wiedersehen.'"

You have no enemies? Then you have never dared stand up for the right against the wrong; you have never protected the weak against the bully; you have never dared defend your own right against oppression. Had you done any of these things you would have enemies. Even if you had done of these things, but simply achieved a little more success in your business than your neighbor you would have an enemy, for failure always hates success.

"Old Maid," one of the correspondents for the Enterprise at Pilot Knob, seems to think no one will know him under his assumed name. I am not made as old as he is, but there is one thing I know about him: he had better attend to his own business, or resign and give some one else the job.

Hon. Polite Elvins addressed the voters of Pilot Knob at the Union church last Saturday night. Mr. Elvins says there is a panic at the present time. But he says that the Republican party has the power to make a panic, and also that it has the power to cure one. That looks like it might have had something to do with making the present panic, doesn't it? He says also that the revision of the tariff, immediately after the inauguration of the next president, will cure this panic for ever, and prevent another from ever coming. If it is such a good thing why wait until after the election? There were many cries of theft and skullduggery and still other things that they may have fancied grand allurements. But none of their slippery and deceitful allurements are bright enough to deceive honest, loyal Democrats, and thereby bring about a Republican victory—such as they said they were certain of next November.

From Goodland.

Children's Day was observed at Goodland last Sunday. A large crowd gathered to hear the little ones sing and recite. All the performers were worthy of praise, yet especial mention should be made of a solo sang by little Miss Lora Eaton. Each member of the school carried a flag while over the head of our dear Doctor Adams floated a large edition of Old Glory. A flag exercise by some of our young men was one of the best things we ever saw. A temperance selection by Randolph Adams was excellent. A song by the infant class led by Master John Sherman, Manila Brooks and Jewell Eaton, was delightful. The pleasure of the
