About 900 pennies feeds the slot machine for chewing gum at the Arcadia station each month. Cents make dimes and dimes into dollars grow.

The railroad company has put a few men at work in the shops at De Soto and the people of that town are in hopes that better days are coming.

From observation we are inclined to the opinion that there is just as much beer sold in Iron County to-day as there was when we had saloons.

There will be a grand basket picnic at Shular's farm, eight miles south of Ironton, on Marble Creek Saturday, August 8th. Everybody come and have a good time.

The foot bridge built across the branch in Arcadia by Mr. G. W. Clarkson is artistic and very serviceable. Mr. Clarkson has made a new place out of the old home.

The shipping of staves from Arcadia is just about done. The state interest put considerable money in circulation in this section for a number of years past.

Well the primary is over. The battle royal will be held in November. So far as Iron County is concerned the skies are bright for Democracy. Mark the prediction.

Mrs. Georgia J. Meredith died at the home of her uncle, W. T. Gay, in Ironton Thursday, July 30, 1908, after a long illness. The funeral occurred the following day and was largely attended. The bereaved have the sympathy of the community in their affliction.

The school house at Annapolis was burned on the night of July 30th. The school moved to the church house and last night (Tuesday) Sheriff Marshall received word that the church house had been burned. Both fires were unquestionably of incendiary origin.

The members of the Bartsch family north of Ironton who have been suffering from smallpox the past month, have all recovered. The quarantine has been abandoned and the doctors say there is no longer any danger of the disease being communicated to any one else.

Mr. Jessie M. Elvins, the well known St. Francois county mining man, spent Monday in Poplar Bluff with W. E. Hooper, leaving for Cape Girardeau Tuesday morning. Mr. Elvins told the Citizen he would establish an iron furnace either in this city or at Cape Girardeau. He said it would probably be located at the Cape since the citizens of that place had offered more encouragement to the enterprise.—Poplar Bluff Citizen.

The Ironton ball team went to Poplar Bluff Sunday and wiped up the club from the city on the "raging Black" by a score of six to five. One of the Poplar Bluff players had his leg broken during the game. The Ironton boys speak in high terms of the treatment accorded them by the Poplar Bluff people.

My friend, Mr. J. M. Whitworth, seems to think that in case the county had gone "dry," the "wets" had a trap ready set to catch the unwary and unsophisticated anti-saloonists. I have never before heard of such a scheme, and am not inclined to discuss possible might-have-beens. The certified, plain and undisputed facts are that the county went "wet" and some of the anti-saloonists refuse to abide the decision of the question they were so insistent in submitting to the people at a public cost of over $800. That is all there is to the whole matter, and further discussion thereof would be "flat, stale and unprofitable." Therefore, as far as the REGISTER is concerned, the incident is closed.

The primary election in Iron county was quiet. At the Ironton precinct the Democrats polled about two-thirds of their vote while the Republicans did not poll more than a third of a vote. There was a fair vote throughout the county. The race between Ball and Cowherd for Governor is close. There will probably not be more than twenty-five votes difference in the county. Cowherd is forty-six ahead with four or five precincts to hear from. Simmons for Lieutenant Governor, Graves for Supreme Judge, Bradley for Auditor and Bland for Court of Appeals Judge will carry the county by small majorities. The race between Lovelace and Burnham is very close and will require the official count to determine the result. Lovelace is about fifty votes in the lead with the west end precincts yet to hear from.

Charles Brawley of near Redford was in town a few hours yesterday and paid the Outlook a visit. Mr. Brawley told us that Rev. W. W. Strother closed one of the most successful series of meetings ever held at Redford on last Sunday night. There were sixty conversions during the ten days Rev. Strother spent in the meeting, and Mr. Brawley says much good was accomplished. Our informant says Rev. Strother and his band of assistants will visit Redford again sometime in September for the purpose of holding another series of meetings and uniting the different denominations so that they will all work together as a unit. In the meantime the people of Redford and surrounding territory will erect a large shed or tabernacle in which the meetings will be held. From what we have been told this was a glorious meeting. We would have published the names of the converts had we been able to secure them.—Reynolds Outlook.

There is, or rather there used to be, a "frenzied financier" in Piedmont. Least, we judge so, from the following, taken from the last issue of the Piedmont Banner: "David E. Lovelace, a young man who has been a resident of Piedmont for several months, being proprietor of the pool room here for a portion of that time, has disappeared, leaving behind him notes to the aggregate of $1,500 or more which are said to be forgeries. It is stated that Lovelace after his departure wrote a letter from New York to a relative at Brunot saying that he was leaving the country for Paris, France, and that the reason would develop later. It seems that he had secured money on two notes presented at the Iron County Bank of Ironton, and that he offered a third note for $500, signed Dr. N. A. Farr and Walter Fitz, of Des Arc. The suspicious of the bank officials being aroused they declined the note and wrote to the Des Arc persons whose names were signed as securities. It developed that this note and the two upon which Lovelace had already realized, were forgeries. The Banner has been able to discover the existence of various other notes, which the supposed signers assert are forgeries. The list so far obtained is as follows: In the Bank of Iron County, Ironton, security, C. L. Stevenson's note for $120. Pronounced a forgery. Same bank, note for $90 signed Dr. C. H. Jones. Pronounced a forgery. Note for $300, at Citizen's Bank, Greenville, dated July 3, 1908, signed, George Creath; D. E. Lovelace and B. A. Shepley, securities. Pronounced to be a forgery. Note for $400 in Wayne County Bank, Greenville, dated July 3, 1908, purporting to be made by B. A. Shepley to D. E. Lovelace, with Geo. Creath, Jno. W. Young and J. G. Chilton, securities. Pronounced a forgery. Note held by Jno. W. Young, Piedmont, made June 3, for $150, Marvin Stokely to D. L. Lovelace, secured by Mrs. A. J. and Joe Stokely. Pronounced a forgery. Note for $100 held by Jno. W. Young, dated Feb. 18, 1908, supposed to be made by D. F. Stevenson to Lovelace, secured by O. C. Morris and G. W. Wallis. Pronounced a forgery. In addition to the above notes there is some of Lovelace's paper in the Bank of Des Arc to the amount of $300; but this is secured by Manual Lovelace, David's father, and is said to be genuine."

Annapolis News.

Hot, hot, to-day. Dry with it. Well, Mr. Printer, I thought I would write again and tell you there is nothing doing at the present time.

Tuesday is election day, and there are only two opponents on the Democratic ticket and that is for assessor. One of them may as well call it a draw, as they have the same battle this fall with their friend on the Republican ticket.

Esquire Kitchell has made his trip down in Arkansas to see his best girl. He found a nice country of rolling lands, clear of rock for miles. But it is all sandy land, and a few years in cultivation it is gone, and don't look as though it would raise wild prickly pear. The people at Prescott, Ark., are good people. Especially, the ladies, and that is what his eyes were looking for. There are lots of fine timber west of Prescott—as far out as he went—25 miles west of Prescott, by rig drawn by four horses, and made the fifty mile round trip in about thirteen hours, and he saw some as fine girls as any one would wish to see. The country is about two-thirds colored people, and saw several school houses with a full attendance of colored children. It is a good backwoods country, yet when you get out ten or twelve miles from the railroad there is some fine timber, principally sweet gum, pine and white and black oak.

The Annapolis school house was saturated with coal oil and set on fire by some one on the night of the 30th of July, 1908, and burned to the ground. William Sutton's child died last night on Hytti Creek in Reynolds county.

Charley Williams is at present postmaster at Annapolis. Alonzo Miller of Crane Pond spent Sunday here with his son-in-law.

Bennie Funk, son of Gus Funk, is a very sick boy. It is said he is unconscious. The writer hopes he will recover, as he is a good boy.

Annapolis has been very quiet for the past week. The town people have all gone to Black River to see a ball game to-day.

A. J. Loyd, who has been in poor health for some time, is improving. Is able to do light work, and is at present employed as a clerk in the store of S. Kitchell and seems to do business well and is not afraid of work.

Charles Williams, the Annapolis school teacher, has received school-books for this school, and there is a number of people who cannot send their children to school this year as they are not able to buy books for them, and the writer thinks it is an imposition against the people. The ball game on Black River scored 6 to 20 in favor of Annapolis.

J. M. Long, Minimum, is in town to-day in the interest of John Lovelace, and it is certain that Lovelace will carry 3 to 1. As "Isaac" said between the wet and dry sides. But the election is not over yet and I cannot say until after it is decided. But my vote will never buy dollar corn or buy new books, because three men say I shall, and watch for the Committee that was in that wholesale and Book Trust when asking for office in this county.

If all is published will come again. BULLETIN.

The railroad to heaven was made, with Gospel truths the track was laid; the Bible is the engineer, it points the way to heaven so clear. The railroad to hell is made, with beer bottles the track is laid; the brewery is the engineer, it points the way to hell so clear. We often see the liquor bar—yes, the bar to all that is good, and full and open door to hell. The one that named it, named it well. When I am dead and laid to rest, as I will some day be, it can't be said I am lying in a drunkard's bed. Of all the things I do detest, it is a drunkard at his best. BLUE BIRD.

Rev. J. M. Tinnel, pastor of the Methodist Church here, has been holding a series of meetings here during the past week. We have not been advised whether the meetings will continue longer than Sunday. Rev. Tinnel is a good preacher, and there is no reason why his efforts may not be productive of good results.

Dr. Adams has for the past three weeks been making a tour of the west looking for a location. We are advised that he contemplates buying a farm in Nebraska, near a town of four thousand inhabitants, where he will locate for the practice of medicine. Of course he will put a renter on his farm, and he, himself, will devote his whole time to his profession. We have no doubt that twenty years from to-day, Dr. J. Q. Jas. Womble, of Munger, has been hauling ties to town for several days. J. T. Patterson opened school at Munger last Monday. This is his fourth term of school in that district; and notwithstanding the recent change in text books has very seriously handicapped the best interest of both teacher and patrons, the enrollment is much better than it was during the first week of the term last year.

Mr. Conway, the district clerk, had the school house thoroughly scrubbed, and the seats put in proper position. It certainly is a pleasure to a teacher to teach in a district where the school board, as well as the patrons, takes an interest in the success of the school. P.
