

Drugs For Sick Women

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or secured so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Almost every woman you meet has either been benefited by it, or knows some one who has.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing over one million one hundred thousand letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved many women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made exclusively from roots and herbs, and is perfectly harmless.

The reason why it is so successful is because it contains ingredients which act directly upon the female organism, restoring it to healthy and normal activity.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials such as the following prove the efficiency of this simple remedy.

Minneapolis, Minn.:—"I was a great sufferer from female troubles which caused a weakness and broken down condition of the system. I read so much of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for other suffering women, I felt sure it would help me, and I must say it did help me wonderfully. Within three months I was a perfectly well woman."

"I want this letter made public to show the benefits to be derived from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. John G. Moldan, 2115 Second St. North, Minneapolis, Minn.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

When You Think

Of the pain which many women experience with every month it makes the gentleness and kindness always associated with womanhood seem to be almost a miracle. While in general no woman rebels against what she regards as a natural necessity there is no woman who would not gladly be free from this recurring period of pain.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well, and gives them freedom from pain. It establishes regularity, subsides inflammation, heals ulceration and cures female weakness.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence strictly private and absolutely confidential. Write without fear and without fee to World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.

If you want a book that tells all about women's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 21 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay cost of mailing only, and he will send you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Advisor—revised, up-to-date edition, in paper covers. HAWKINS' WIZARD OIL GREAT FOR PAIN
THE OIL THAT PENETRATES

HOW HIGH TARIFF PROTECTS AMERICAN LABOR.

FOR JUST TAXATION MIXED IN HIS STATEMENTS

THE ATTITUDE OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

Stands for Revenue Tariff All Along the Line, with Such Protection Only as May Be Incidental to the Raising of Revenue.

In his communication to the Republic, Senator Stone stated a truth that should be remembered in all tariff discussion when he said that the importation duty free of raw materials used in the manufacture of articles protected by a monopoly tariff is nothing more nor less than a bounty to monopoly.

The Democratic doctrine that tariff shall be levied for revenue does not mean that there shall be free trade in some articles and prohibitive tariff on others. There would be no revenue at all in a tariff like that. The Democratic principle is that the taxing power of the government shall be used to raise money for support of the government economically administered and that this power shall not be used to oppress the larger part of the people while conferring special privileges upon the minority.

The high protective tariff on blankets and woolen goods, for instance, restricts importations and deprives the government of the revenue it might derive from lower tariff taxes on those articles. Purely as a revenue measure, therefore, it is only just that the manufacturers of woolen goods should be required to contribute to the treasury through the tariff on raw wool to make up for the revenue that is lost by the prohibitive tariff on their products and in compensation for the privilege they enjoy of taxing the American consumer of woolen goods to the point of robbery.

There is hardly an article in the schedules of the Payne act the manufacturer of which cannot well afford to pay revenue through a tariff tax on the raw material he uses, and a tax more just could not be levied.

But the Democratic party does not advocate prohibitive tariff on manufactured goods and revenue tariff for raw materials. It stands for revenue tariff all along the line, with such protection only as may be incidental to the raising of revenue. The Democratic party does not propose to arrange a tariff on wool and its products, for instance, to put money into the pockets of either the sheep men or the manufacturers of wool. If the tariff on woolen goods is so arranged that it yields a good revenue, the revenue now derived from the tariff on raw wool can be dispensed with. And this is true of nearly every American industry.

For a wonder this Democratic policy was applied by the Republican congress when it put hides on the free list and reduced the tariff on leather, shoes and harness toward the revenue basis. The Democratic policy is to act upon this principle with respect to all manufactures.—St. Louis Republic.

Roosevelt Extravagance.
For the first two months of the new fiscal year the United States treasury deficit, including Panama canal expenditures, is $30,651,497, as compared with $31,370,032 for the same period last year, although the government's receipts have been nearly $15,000,000 larger than last year. The Roosevelt policy of extravagance, as exemplified in the appropriation bills passed by congress last spring, promises to embarrass Mr. Taft for a long time to come.

Truth About Special Session.
From beginning to end, the special session was a shameless, brazen orgy of special interests. Campaign pledges were brushed aside as mere ante-election rubbish and with an effort never before exhibited in an American congress, the trusts wrote schedule after schedule, and their enforcement means that 90,000,000 of offending American consumers will have to pay an added toll of hundreds of millions of dollars to the greed and avarice of a gang of commercial pirates whose equal has never been known in all the prior history of civilization.—Columbus (Mo.) Statesman.

End of Bonaparte Methods.
In undertaking to effect radical economies in the postoffice department Mr. Hitchcock is likely to wound the feelings of Secretary of the Navy Meyer, who was postmaster general in the Roosevelt cabinet. Still, almost any member of the Roosevelt administration who remained in office under Mr. Taft would have been exposed to no such danger. Mr. Bonaparte's methods became obsolete March 4 last.

Discrepancies in Arguments Seem to Suggest That There Are Two Tafts on the Platform.

We learn from Mr. Taft's speech at Winona that "the Payne tariff bill is the best tariff bill that the Republican party has ever passed."

We learn also that the wool schedule "is too high" and that it "ought to have been reduced," but that a combination of the wool growers and wool manufacturers "was sufficiently strong to defeat any attempt to change the woolen tariff, and that had it been attempted it would have beaten the bill reported from either committee."

We learn also that through the tariff board the president expects to obtain data "upon which a new and proper revision of the tariff might be had," but that it will probably take the rest of this administration to accumulate such data.

We learn also that after the Payne tariff (which is "the best tariff bill that the Republican party has ever passed") has been in operation for two or three years "we can tell more accurately than we can to-day its effect upon the industries of the country and the necessity for any amendment in its provisions."

The average reader is likely to be hopelessly bewildered by the contradictions and conflicting statements of Mr. Taft's speech, but it must be remembered that there are two Tafts on the platform. One Taft is the Republican party's lawyer. He has a bad case and a sinful old client who has been caught with the goods more times than can be enumerated. The other Taft is a straightforward, honest-minded statesman who is trying to do his best and is having a good deal of trouble with some of his associates. When both of these Tafts talk at once there is bound to be confusion.

Tariff War with Canada.

Taught by the ravages of the forests of this country, Canada has taken steps to protect its timber lands from like devastation. The province of Ontario forbids the exportation to the United States of lumber cut from the "crown lands," and the province of Quebec levies an export duty of 25 cents a cord on white pine lumber for paper manufacturing. In retaliation for this policy the duty of $6.10 is levied on paper from the province of Quebec without waiting for the application of the maximum rates on the thirty-first of March, 1910, when the tariff war will be opened upon Canada, not merely in lumber and printing paper, but all along the line. This duty of 25 per cent, in addition to existing rates will be imposed on all imports from Canada and such other countries as shall "in any manner, directly or indirectly," discriminate against any product of the United States.—Philadelphia Record.

Wool and the Tariff.

The duties on wool, besides having had a depressing effect on the sheep industry, have forced the manufacturers to use cheap substitutes for wool—still further narrowing the market for that commodity—and so have had the effect of greatly cheapening the quality of the clothes worn by our people. From every point of view, therefore, they are bad. The farmers have been fooled into believing that they made a lot of money out of them, and, so believing, they have combined with the manufacturers of New England to keep up the tariff. Now there is a split in the ranks of the wool growers, and we doubt whether those who are so discriminated against will again combine with the manufacturers in a campaign for a high wool tariff.

Betrayed the People.
The Republican party in its platform, and the Republican candidate in his speeches, having promised a reduction of the tariff burden, a Republican congress has increased that burden, and now these men who have broken the pledge they made to the country are seeking by false parade of meaningless figures to conceal their crime from the people, whom they have cheated and betrayed.—New York Times.

The Insurgents in the Party.
To read the insurgents out of the Republican party with their constituents, if the president could accomplish it, would be to read the party itself out of power. But before he goes much further, he will be apt to find in them a courage inspired by a sense of public duty as great as that which he evinces under the assumption that the party organization is behind him.—Philadelphia Record.

Says Mr. Taft: "I believe it to be Mr. Aldrich's desire to aid the people." Does this refer to the people of Providence, R. I.?

GOOD LAUNDRY BAG

PRETTY GIFT FOUND USEFUL WHEN TRAVELING.

Six Sheer Handkerchiefs, with Linen Insertion, the Materials That Composed It—To Clean Wall Paper.

An attractive bag to hold handkerchiefs, neckties and other small articles for the laundry, was made by a girl for a friend, who was going abroad on her wedding trip. To make the bag dainty and at the same time serviceable was something of a problem. Six sheer handkerchiefs with a graceful vine, in light blue, as a border were picked up at a sale, also some fine linen insertion that washed well.

The six handkerchiefs were joined by strips of the insertion one strip running lengthwise and two across. This put two handkerchiefs side by side in each of the three rows.

The strip was doubled over through the middle row of handkerchiefs and the outer edges overcast together in tiny stitches. The bag was lined with lawn and color of the blue vine and the ends were bound in an inch-wide facing of the lawn, which was used as a casing. A good quality of blue wash ribbon was used for a draw string.

In the center of the upper left hand handkerchief was worked the initials of the bride-to-be in a heavy padded monogram.

Cleaning Wall Paper.—To brighten wall paper that is stained and dirty, apply a cleanser made of equal parts of cornstarch, whiting and Fuller's earth. Mix these ingredients well and put them into a pail. This cleanser is rubbed on the walls with a pad, made by covering the end of a mop handle with cheesecloth. This pad should be about six inches long and four inches wide, and must be soft.

Dip it in the powder and rub it on the paper, making the strokes only up and down. When the surface has been thoroughly rubbed, wipe with fresh cheesecloth.

Ceases spots will frequently disappear before a combination of ammonia and Fuller's earth. Make a thin paste of the two and spread it over the stain. Let it remain until dry and brush off.

Baked Asparagus.

Wash two small bundles of asparagus until perfectly free from sand and stand them upright in a kettle of water, leaving the tender tips uncovered; in this way the steam will cook the tips while the boiling water is making the stocks tender, and the former will not be cooked to pieces, as is so frequently the case. When done drain and cut into small pieces, removing only the toughest portion of the ends. To each two cups of asparagus add an equal amount of grated bread-crumbs, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one cup of milk, one-half teaspoonful of salt and three or four dashes of pepper. Dust a well buttered mold lightly with the crumbs, then arrange the asparagus and crumbs in alternate layers, dusting each with salt and pepper and dotting with little bits of butter. Have the last layer of crumbs, pour over the milk and bake in a moderate oven 20 minutes. Serve hot. This dish is worth trying.

Bread Baking.

"After many years at bread baking," said a woman, "I found my bread long in rising in winter after working it on the bread board, which was usually cold. I bought a tin oven, heated it before the fire and have never since chilled the bread. Instead of using a pan, which quickly chills, I bought a wide crock, always had it heated on the stove, placed my bread in it and covered with a piece of woolen blanket, with the result my bread was ready to bake much sooner than it was when this precaution was not taken."

A slate slab, such as is used for roofing, also makes an excellent bread board, and it is often procurable for nothing. It can be heated very hot and placed under a crock or pan of dough to assist slow bread in rising on a very cold day.

Mint Jelly.

Let one tablespoonful of granulated gelatine stand for some time in cold water to cover. Boil one cup of granulated sugar and one cupful of vinegar five or six minutes. Add the softened gelatine and one-fourth a teaspoonful each of salt and paprika and stir until the gelatine is dissolved. Then add three-fourths a cupful of mint leaves chopped fine and enough green vegetable color (liquid) to tint as desired. Set the dish into ice and water and stir occasionally until the mixture begins to thicken. Then turn into small molds or winceglass and set aside to become firm. When turned from the molds garnish with tips from two or three stalks of mint.

Pressed Chicken.

Cut a small chicken into four parts, boil in a little water as possible without burning, and watch constantly. When done very tender take out the meat, but keep broth boiling. Pick the meat from the bones, chop it, add butter, pepper and salt. Take all fat of broth, then pour over the chopped chicken. Then press it, put on top with something heavy to hold it down. Set on ice and when very cold slice it, and you have a delicious supper or breakfast dish.

Piccalilly.

One peck green tomatoes, six onions and four peppers are required. Slice or chop as desired. Put one cupful of salt over them and let stand overnight. Drain, put in a kettle with enough vinegar to cover them, add two tablespoonfuls of clove, cinnamon and mustard mixed, and two cupfuls of sugar. If you use whole spice two ounces are required. Boil one hour.

Washing Stockings.

New colored stockings should be soaked a half hour in a gallon of cold water containing either a cup of salt or a tablespoonful of turpentine to set the colors. Do not mix brown and black ones together when washing them. Add a large amount of bluing to black ones and they will not turn a ugly brown; dry brown ones in the shade.

Origin of Word "Bible."

The word "bible" is derived from the Latin name biblia, which was treated as a singular although it comes from the Greek neuter plural, meaning "little books." This Greek diminutive was derived from byblos, or papyrus, the famous material on which ancient books were written. The title "Bible" was first used about the middle of the second Christian century in the so-called second epistle of Clement (xiv., 2).

Proper Love for Wife.

"When a man really loves his wife he ought to combine all his nicest sentiments toward other women into one big sentiment for her."

"He should show her the respect he feels toward his mother, the politeness he shows other women and the responsibility he feels toward his sister."

"To all of that he should add the great love he should feel for a wife."

HE BIT.

Ex-Police Commissioner Bingham of New York said of graft at a recent dinner:

"The grafter isn't so easily caught; he isn't quite so naive as an old fellow they used to tell about in Andover."

"This old fellow was suspected of tampering with the church collections. A couple of clumsy traps that were set for him failed to work. Then one day a young deacon walked past his house leading a new horse."

"That's a fine horse, deacon," the old fellow shouted. "Did you buy him at the fair?"

"Yes," said the deacon. Then, as the other came nearer, he added: "I bought him with my pickings out of the collection plate."

"The old man looked horrified. "Good gracious!" he said. "I've often taken enough myself to buy a hat or a pair of trousers; but deacon, in takin' enough to buy a horse ain't you committin' a positive sin!"

When to Send Children to Europe.

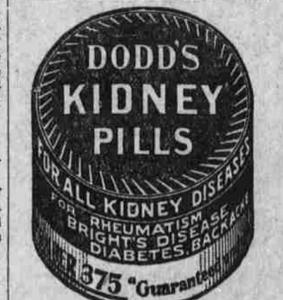

Some people wait so long before sending their children to Europe that the little ones are humiliated by others who have already been there. Every self-respecting parent will be careful not to subject his children to this evident injustice; at the same time all unseemly hurry is to be avoided.

Some people argue that as soon as a child can walk well and speak a few necessary French words, he should be placed in a stateroom, next to a private bath, and sent to Paris. Others feel that he must naturally lose much at this age, and that the proper time is between five and six, when—as an American—he has reached his maturity.

Probably the ideal age is about four. At four a child can easily do England, France and Italy, and get home in time for the first night at the opera—Judge's Library.
