Rev. W. Strohmer and some more of the Holiness people are now holding a meeting at Edge Hill.

A gentleman by the name of Ruhl from St. Louis is now domiciled at "The Maples." It is said he may purchase the place.

It looks very much like the government has abandoned the rifle range; that is, so far as using it for target practice is concerned.

Thos. Johnson tells us that his plants promise to yield strawberries until the 4th of July. About the longest season ever known.

Graniteville Camp, M. W. A., will give a grand ball at Workmen's Hall, July 4th. All invited to attend and have a good time.

Prof. J. T. Patterson Monday bought the E. E. Chambers' farm in Bellevue, but will not remove there until the first of the year.

The best bargains of the season in Ladies' Muslin Underwear—now on sale. LOPEZ STORE CO.

Rev. W. A. Humphreys, formerly pastor of Fort Hill, but now presiding elder in the district south of here, was an Ironton visitor one day last week.

John Wilkinson, the surveyor, recently purchased a few acres of land on the mountain side, west of Ironton, and will probably build a home thereon, we are told.

Miss Avanelle Marshall went to De Soto Tuesday to attend the pretty wedding of Mr. Harry Gordon Grainger and Miss Thurza Stone, June 14th, at 3 o'clock.

A new $1000 pipe organ was installed in the Convent Chapel at Arcadia last week. It is a magnificent instrument and the good sisters and the parishioners are very proud of the recent acquisition.

Emil Roehry arrived home from Columbia Monday. Emil has completed the six year course in the University and last week graduated from the school of Engineering.

W. J. Schwab was in Ironton for a few hours Monday evening. Mr. Schwab's present run as train auditor is between Knobel and Helena, Arkansas, on the Helena branch.

Miss Ida Belle Smith returned Saturday from Arcadia accompanied by Hallie Browne and George Clarkson who are visiting relatives in Potosi.—Potosi Independent.

Mr. Wilkinson, the surveyor, was thrown from his buggy and quite badly bruised and lacerated on the road east of Pilot Knob last Wednesday. He has pretty well recovered.

W. T. O'Neal and wife drove over from Franklany Tuesday evening. They left next morning for Des Arc, where they will spend several days with old friends and neighbors.

Lost—Between the school house and Lopez's store one lion head stick pin with small diamond in center, and one plain gold cuff link, with beaded edge. Please return to this office.

Mr. R. D. Lewis is removing his family from St. Louis to his Mountain View home this week for the summer. Col. and Mrs. J. A. W. Lewis will come to the Ozark Home next week.

At best, I have little use for your bloviating Land Congress, and this little is utterly wiped out when the l.c. is made the tail to a personal kite, as was the case in the late widely exploited Ozark exposition.

REWARD OFFERED—$25 offered for arrest and conviction of any person for cutting timber on our land in Iron and St. Francois Cos., Mo., without our written consent.

WALTER-LONDON REALTY CO. Walter Hensley of Farmington was in Ironton Tuesday. Mr. Hensley is now in the south end of the county in the interest of his candidacy for Congress. He says that the situation is very encouraging.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Fort Hill Home Mission Society will be held at the residence of Mrs. A. M. Allen in Arcadia, Friday, June 17th, at 2 P. M. A good attendance is requested.

A report was brought to town last Saturday that there had been a killing affray at Edge Hill and for some time there was some excitement. An investigation revealed that the report was without foundation.

The valley was visited by the most terrific electric storm we've had in years last Wednesday night. There was also a very heavy fall of rain and much wind. The storm was general throughout the county.

Rev. and Mrs. Walter Strother and daughter, and Miss Chilton, of Des Arc, who have been holding a series of Holiness meetings at Flat River, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Reese, here on Saturday.—Desloge Sun.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Lemro M. Hill, on Saturday, June 4th, a 10-pound girl. Lemro is able to get out, but if he is absent from his duties for a few days, it will be because of his desire to make the little Miss' acquaintance.—Desloge Sun.

Fred A. Twomey is reported as being in a serious condition, suffering from appendicitis, at the Centenary Hospital, St. Louis. Mr. Twomey is a worthy young man, and we hope to report an early improvement in his condition.

Wm. Henson left Saturday on a visit to friends and relatives in Flat River. Mr. Henson has been in bad health for some months past, but we are glad to state, is much better now, and his many friends hope soon to see him fully restored.

Luther Daniels of Des Arc was in Ironton Tuesday and informed us of the death of Mr. W. H. Hay, a well known farmer, which occurred at Brunot shortly after midnight Monday. The deceased was a good man and leaves a widow and six sons to mourn his demise. The funeral occurs Thursday.

Mr. Whitener informs us that the reservoir on Arcadia Heights has been completed and now has some water in it. The reservoir holds five hundred barrels and the water is pumped from the hub factory. There will be no shortage of water when the Assembly meets this year, Mr. Whitener tells us.

The fast mail train was wrecked on the curve just south of Carondelet Park in St. Louis last Thursday morning about three o'clock. The engineer and fireman, W. A. Douglas and Robert P. Shepard, and a mail clerk, Jasper L. Laster, were killed. A dozen or more people were injured. It was one o'clock that day before we received the morning papers.

We this week print the announcement of Judge Wm. Stevenson of Des Arc, who is a candidate to succeed himself as County Judge of the Southern District of Iron county. Judge Stevenson has filled this office the past two years. He has made a careful, painstaking and conscientious official. He will be re-nominated without opposition and triumphantly elected in November.

While engaged in a quarrel with Noah and Cleveland Barton on West Fork, about eleven miles north of Centerville, Sunday evening, June 5th, George Epright, aged fifty-six years, was fatally out, dying in less than half an hour. Noah Barton, it is said, admits doing the cutting. Epright leaves a wife and eight children. The Bartons are both married. The Bartons are under bond for appearance at a preliminary examination this week.

The tabernacle meeting in east Flat River drew large crowds and 28 professions were reported in the meeting which closed Monday night. It is thought by many who heard Rev. Strother that he is one of the ablest preachers that has ever been in this country.

Rev. Strother is known as the Holiness Evangelist. His home is in Des Arc, Mo., and he is the founder of a Holiness College at Des Arc and Field Representative for the same. He is called back to Flat River to hold another meeting in September.—Lead Belt News.

Sister Bernadina, for forty years a religious in the Ursuline Convent, No. 2112 South Twelfth street, died at 10:15 o'clock yesterday morning after a week's illness. She was 62 years old, formerly Theresa Pfeiffer, daughter of John and Catherine Pfeiffer, and was born in Aldorf, Prussia. She took her vows soon after coming to St. Louis. She survived only by a sister, also a member of the Ursuline Order. Mass will be said at the convent at 8 o'clock this morning by the Reverend Father F. W. Gerhold, the Chaplain, after which the body will be shipped to Arcadia, Mo. The Ursuline nuns have another convent, also a private burial ground, at Arcadia, and there the interment will be, following another special mass tomorrow morning.—St. Louis Republic.

Instead of holding any more ministers' meetings this season the Southern Methodist ministers intend to concentrate their energies on the opening of their summer assembly at Arcadia. Last year a tract of 247 acres was purchased by the Southern Methodists, on the top of a well-wooded hill, with gently sloping sides, just across from Arcadia College, in Arcadia. It is now proposed to make this a resort for regular summer services, and yesterday at the ministers' all the other districts in the St. Louis Conference—Farmington, Charleston, Poplar Bluff, West Plains and De Soto—were invited to co-operate with the St. Louis district in these meetings, which are to be held the last of July. A St. Louis District Committee has been appointed, consisting of Rev. Dr. S. H. Wainright, chairman; Rev. W. B. Hays, Rev. L. E. Todd, Rev. C. M. Hawkins, Rev. Dr. E. C. McVoy, Rev. C. N. Clark, Rev. Josephus Stephan and Rev. J. E. Martin. The plan as at present formulated is in general as follows: A sunrise prayer meeting in the morning; a class in Bible study at 9; a workers' conference at 10; preaching at 11; outings, riding, fishing and mountain climbing in the afternoon; and an evangelistic service at night. The Baptist summer assembly will have its second gathering in the same month, and it is expected that the Presbyterians may open their grounds this season. A number of Methodist families are buying building lots. The assembly will meet in tents.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Says the Dunkin Democrat published at Kennett: "Every reader should study the partial report, from the Ironton REGISTER, in this issue, of the Murdock-Crumb land lottery at Ironton, week before last. Editor Ake of course did not want to be too rough; but he tells enough to show that the affair was a fake, of the first water. And that scheme will always be regarded as a part of the Arcadia Valley Land Congress, which was held under the auspices of the immigration board and under the approval of Gov. Hadley. The hundreds of land-seekers who were so badly disappointed, will charge the fraud up to Missouri. And the state will be injured for years to come. To publish to the world that Missouri has good and desirable farm lands that may be bought for $2.50 an acre, or even $10, or $20, is using the United States mails for unlawful purposes. All who do so should be prosecuted. Of course there is rocky, hilly, unproductive land in this state that may be bought for such prices; but it is not desirable, and the settler who buys it expecting to make a home, and make a living, on it, will soon return to the city, or back to his old home disgusted. Those disappointed land-seekers at Ironton were so desperate that it became necessary to swear in additional deputy sheriffs to prevent a riot, a gentleman informs the Dunkin Democrat. It seems that nothing can be done to stop Mr. Curran, of the State Immigration Bureau, at present; but the legislature will be in session in a few months and then something should be done."

The following letter from a descendant of one of the pioneer families of the Valley was received shortly after the issuance of the REGISTER last week. The writer, a lady of refinement and culture, though now removed from the scene of her childhood and youth, evidently retains the love and reverence due her progenitors, and these hushing days of "progression" have not banished from her memory an old-time respect for their co-laborers. Of my own motion I suppress her name because the letter was to me personally—not marked for publication: "In the absence of Mr. — and son, I went to the post-office yesterday, between showers, to get the mail, in which was the REGISTER. After reaching home I sat down to read it and the first thing that my eyes lighted upon was your editorial, 'As to Falshood and 'Animas.'" I read it through—every word, and when I had finished I said, 'Good for Mr. Ake!' and pounded the arm of my chair so vigorously with my fist the dog lying peacefully asleep in the door-way sprang up and with tail and ears erect raced about the room in search of the disturber of my peace. I thank you and I know every descendant of my father and mother, as well as those of the dear old friends you mention, will do the same, for taking up the cudgel in their behalf and the loved ones who are at rest in the 'home over there.' Was the beautiful valley never discovered or made what it is till the M. D. A. and M. C. Company 'arriv' It makes me weary, woefully weary. I can not write one-half as strong as I feel, but I know you will understand. Kindest regards to all."

About the close of the late land "sale" a lady contract holder, awaiting at the Ironton station the arrival of the train to carry her home, was observed to be much cast down. Her dream of "a farm in the Ozarks" had been rudely broken and she was not in buoyant mood. A bystander, himself a late and welcome acquisition to the Valley, sought to cheer her,—so a reliable informant tells me—saying, "Don't you believe all that you hear about your land. Some of these people don't want newcomers to settle here, and discourage all such. The Valley is good enough for these old residents, but they are jealous of outsiders." Now, with all respect, I ask Mr. Bystander who was it that gave him such impression as to these "old residents?" I am sure none have given him the cold shoulder, for every expression I have heard as to his coming has been directly to the contrary. In behalf of those old residents I beg him to disabuse his mind without delay. And as to him, so all of us feel toward all who bona fide come to take part and lot with us. We may not be "progressive" in the grafting sense of the term, but we do have a sincere desire for the Valley's progress in a substantial way. We would like to see an hundred summer homes established in the Valley; to have every outivable nook and corner occupied by industrious, thrifty people. To this end some of us have worked for many years, with an abiding faith in ultimate success. The healthfulness of the climate, the beauty of the scenery, the pure waters—all these we have extolled unceasingly, in season, and out of season, to induce the coming of those we are now charged with repelling. I regret exceedingly that so erroneous a conception of the spirit of our people has found lodgment in the mind of so good a man as Mr. Bystander. But a longer residence and a closer acquaintance with us will cure all that.
