TWO OTHERS FOUND UNCONSCIOUS FROM STRYCHNINE IN CHICAGO FAMILY.

HUSBAND IS SUSPECTED

Police Say Indications Are That He Watched Mother and Son Die—Dependency May Have Been Cause of Rash Act.

Chicago, Ill.—Two members of a family were found dead and two more were unconscious in the home at 2733 Sacramento avenue. The police believe an attempt had been made to exterminate the entire family by strychnine. The two found dead were Mrs. Andrew Dzurgot and her baby, 13 months old, whose bodies were side by side in a bed.

In another bed in an adjoining room were the husband, Andrew Dzurgot, and a 4-year-old son. While the physicians believed, after examining the bodies, that the wife and baby had been dead several hours, a cigarette, which had fallen on the chest of the husband, was still moist where he had held it in his lips. This caused a theory to be formulated that the wife and baby had been poisoned first and that the husband had watched them die while smoking a cigarette and lying on a bed beside his son.

Couple Had Quarrelled.

According to neighbors, Dzurgot and his wife were heard quarrelling during the night. Dzurgot, sickly and out of work, had been unable to get any more groceries for the hungry family, the neighbors were led to believe from the words which passed between the husband and wife.

When no signs of life were seen about the Dzurgot home the neighbors, recalling the quarrel, became alarmed and went across the street to the city dog pound and notified William Stuart, who is in charge there.

It was believed that the poison was administered in beer. A bucket of stale beer was found on the floor of the house. This was taken by the police, to be chemically analyzed.

Physicians at the hospital say the father and son show signs of strychnine poisoning.

NEGRO IS LYNCHED ON THEATER STAGE

OPERA HOUSE IS STORMED AND SLAYER OF WHITE MAN RIDDLED BY SHOTS.

OVERPOWERS 6 DEPUTIES

Victim Is Dragged From His Hiding Place, Hanged, and, at Signal, Filled With Bullets by Infuriated Citizens.

Livermore, Ky.—Will Potter, a negro, was the central figure in a tragedy when 50 citizens dragged him upon the opera house stage and, after hanging him, riddled the body with bullets.

Potter had shot and killed Frank Mitchell, 22 years old, while in a quarrel.

What the pair quarreled about is not known. A pistol shot was heard and the negro was seen fleeing from the scene.

News spread rapidly that Mitchell had been killed and the citizens began searching for Potter. All were armed, and it was freely stated that if Potter was caught he would be lynched.

Potter was captured by Marshal V. P. Stabler and placed in the city jail. Hearing the mob approaching, the marshal swore in half a dozen deputies, and the prisoner was rushed to the opera house, where he was hidden beneath the stage. A messenger was sent for the sheriff, but before he arrived the mob had taken the place and the negro had been captured.

Cringing from terror, the black was dragged from his hiding place. He was taken upon the stage and tied securely to one of the uprights, while the mob gathered in the orchestra pit below.

A signal was given and the body was riddled with bullets. A few minutes later the mob stole quietly from the playhouse and the drama was over.

An investigation will be made by the coroner's jury to identify the participants in the mob.

WILL LOOK TO CANADA FOR WHEAT

ONE REASON WHY AMERICANS GO TO CANADA.

In the Chicago Inter-Ocean of a few days since reference was made to the fact that in 1909 the United States raised 737,189,000 bushels of wheat, and last year grew only 696,443,000, a decrease of 41,746,000 bushels. The article went on to say: "True we raised last year more than enough wheat for our own needs, but it is apparent that if production continues to decrease in that ratio we will soon be obliged to look to other countries for wheat to supply our rapidly increasing population."

The purpose of the article was to show that reciprocity was to be desired. This is a question that I do not propose to deal with, preferring to leave it to others who have made a greater study of that economic question than I have. The point to be considered is, with the high price of lands in the United States, and with the much lower priced lands of Canada, and their ability to produce probably more abundantly, it is not well for the United States farmer to take advantage of the opportunity Canada affords with its lower-priced lands and take a part in supplying the needs of the United States, which it is quite apparent must come sooner or later? It is probable there are now about 200,000 American farmers in Western Canada, cultivating large farms, and becoming rich, in the growing of 25- and 30-bushel-to-the-acre wheat, in producing large yields of oats and barley, and in raising horses and cattle cheaply on the wild prairie grasses that are there, both succulent and abundant. All these find a ready market at good prices. Amongst the Americans who have made their homes in Canada are to be found colonies of Scandinavians, and all are doing well. I have before me a letter from an American Scandinavian, now a Canadian, an extract from which is interesting. Writing from Turtle Lake, Saskatchewan, he says:

"I came up here from Fergus Falls, Minn., October 24th, 1910, and thought I would let you know how I have been getting along. We had a very mild winter up to New Year's, but since then it has been quite cold and lots of snow, but not worse than that we could be out every day working, even though we had 65 below zero a few times, but we do not feel the cold here the same as we did in Minnesota, as it is very still and the air is high and dry. This is a splendid place for cattle raising and mixed farming. There is some willow brush and small poplars on part of the land, which is rolling and covered with splendid grass in the summer. Not far from here there is timber for building material. There are only 8 Norwegians here, 6 Scotchmen, 2 Germans. The lake is 20 miles long and full of very fine fish.

"There is a lot of land yet that has not been taken and room for many settlers, and we wish you would send some settlers up here, as there are fine prospects for them, especially for those who have a little money to start with. Send them here to Turtle Lake, and we will show them the land, if they have secured patents, showing the vacant lands, at the Dominion Lands office in Battleford. Send us up some good Scandinavian this spring."

The Canadian government agents will try to meet his wishes.

Youthful Criminals.

One of the most distressing cases he has ever had to deal with faced a Liverpool (England) magistrate recently, and one cannot wonder at his exclamation: "What can I do with these babies?" as he gazed upon five tiny prisoners in the dock. The youngest was only seven years old, and the oldest eleven, yet the quintet for two months have carried out thefts and other depredations with such skill and cunning that for two months the police and detectives have been trying in vain to find out who were the thieves. No fewer than 40 charges were brought against the children. The 7-year-old child was the ringleader, and quite an adept at thieving and planning thefts.

Johnson and the Smart Children.

Full of indignation against such parents as delight to produce their young ones early into the talking world, Samuel Johnson gave a good deal of pain, by refusing to hear the verses the children could recite, or the songs they could sing. One friend told him that his two sons should repeat Gray's Elegy to him alternately, that he might judge who had the happiest cadence.

"No, pray, sir," said he, "let the dears both speak at once."

GIBSON'S ONE GOOD POINT

In the Old Gentleman's Eyes It Outweighed Any Slight Error in Orthography.

The old man had given his son a very fair education, and had taken him into his shop. The young fellow was over-nice about a great many things, but the father made no comment. One day an order came in from a customer.

"I wish to goodness," exclaimed the son, "that Gibson would learn to spell."

"What's the matter with it?" inquired the father, cheerfully.

"Why, he spells coffee with a 'k'."

"No—does he? I never noticed it."

"Of course you never did," said the son, pettishly. "You never notice anything like that."

"Perhaps not, my son," replied the old man, gently; "but there is one thing I do notice, which you will learn by and by, and that is that Gibson pays cash."

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as strictly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.,—take the advice received and be well.
