Otto Buxton was released from the county jail on Tuesday, having served his sentence, imposed at the August term of circuit court for having struck James O'Neal in the head with a rock, on August 29. Buxton was in jail from the date of the offense. He left the county immediately after being discharged by Sheriff Casey.—Potosi Independent.

The lower House of Congress has passed a bill basing pensions on the service of the soldier. Those who served three months and under six months will get $15 a month, those who served six months and under nine will get $20 per month; those who served nine months and under one year will get $25 per month and those who served one year or more will get $30 per month. The Senate has not yet passed on the bill.

The custom of hanging up the stocking on Christmas eve arose from an incident in the life of the good St. Nicholas. One day, when he was overtaken by a severe storm, he took refuge in a convent, and the next day being Christmas he preached a sermon to the nuns which they liked so much that they asked him to come the next year and preach to them again. On his second visit, which was also on a Christmas eve, before going to bed he asked each of the nuns to lend him a stocking, and he filled the stockings with sugar plums in return for their hospitality.—Es.

The following appeared in Wednesday's Globe-Democrat telegraphed from Cape Girardeau under date of December 19th: "Miss Rita Harrison of Morehouse won the interclass declamatory honors at the Normal School last night. The other contestants were Misses Ruby Cox, Virgie Hope, Nell Stimson and Eunice Hindman. Miss Freda Ringo of Ironton headed the school in work for the first term, her average being above 95 in all branches."

Our friend of a half century, Mr. John Newman, called to see us one day last week. Mr. Newman tells us that it is just fifty-two years ago that he and his father landed in Ironton. The first work he did in the valley was hauling brick from Arcadia for the courthouse, which was then building. Mr. Newman says he is the only person now living in the valley who worked on the construction of the courthouse. "There may be a few living elsewhere but most of them have passed in to the Great Beyond. Mr. Newman was nineteen years of age when he came here.

From far and near have come Christmas tokens to the editor—from the frozen north, the sunny south, the old east and the new west—tokens that show that distance does not eliminate kindly remembrance. To the friends who thus greet me I make earnest acknowledgment. Among them are Dr. R. T. Minor, Portland, Oregon; Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Bellis, the O'Briens, and others, Los Angeles; Mr. G. W. Clarkson, St. Louis; H. A. Nall, Jefferson City. May all of them, as well as every reader of the REGISTER, be happy and prosperous in the New Year upon whose threshold we stand in hopeful anticipation!

Announcement is made that the Mercantile-Allee Tie Company of this city has been awarded the contract to furnish the Iron Mountain and Missouri Pacific ties for the next two years. The company has been doing business here for some time and their ties have been taken over by the Bagnell Tie and Timber Company of St. Louis but when the contract was let last week it was awarded to the local company. This is a big thing for this section of Missouri as the Mercantile-Allee Tie Company will pay out many thousand dollars to the farmers, tie makers and others during the next two years. The company will open new headquarters in the post-office building.—De Soto Republican.

Mrs. Kate Nifong, wife of Mr. George A. Nifong, died at her home in Colorado Springs, last Thursday. Mrs. Nifong at the time of her death was 44 years of age; she was a daughter of the late Judge Joseph Schulte and was married to Mr. Nifong in this city 23 years ago. They left here a few years ago for the benefit of Mrs. Nifong's health and while there she contracted quick consumption, of which she died. She was buried in Colorado Springs, beside her little son, Caruthers, who died there a few years ago. Mrs. Nifong was born and reared in this city. Her mother was living with her in Colorado. She was a member of the Christian church. To the bereaved husband and children, also the aged mother, the Democrat-News extends sincere sympathy.—Fredericktown Democrat-News.

The body of a young baby was found lying at the bottom of a well on Sinking Creek, where the Hampton saw mill was formerly located, Tuesday by a boy named Wells, who happened to look down in an old well, which was dry, as he was passing by. Prosecuting Attorney Wadlow was notified who in turn notified Coroner Bugg, of Corridor, and an investigation was begun. A jury was impaneled and the dead body taken from the well. Upon examination it was found that the infant had been brutally mutilated and killed a few minutes after the inhuman mother had given birth to it. Its tongue had been cut off and a long gash made on one side of its face and it appeared to have been struck on the head with a hammer in several places. The jury examined every one who they thought could give any information but obtained very little conclusive evidence. The infant had been in the well several days. The inhuman, unnatural beast of a woman who is responsible for this heinous crime will no doubt be brought to justice.—Centerville Outlook.

Alton Adams, 49 years old, who lives with his parents in what is known as Barn Hollow, below the Silver Mines in Madison county, had his left arm frightfully mangled by a dynamite explosion early Christmas morning. Adams had secured a stick of dynamite to set fire to it, placing the dynamite and the fuse on a stump. The paper burned quickly but the dynamite did not explode and Adams thought it had not ignited. But just as he stepped to the stump to pick it up the dynamite exploded. His hand was torn in shreds and his clothes blown off his body. The noise deafened him and he has been scarcely able to hear since. Dr. Farrar was called but when he saw the terribly mutilated hand he ordered the young man brought to Ironton that he might give the patient better and more frequent attention. Adams was brought to town and all his left hand, except the thumb and index finger, was amputated. It is not known yet whether these can be saved. It is a deplorable accident and the young man will be a cripple the remainder of his days. Surely, with these calamities happening every day one would think more care and judgment would be exercised in the handling of these deadly explosives.

As a result of his failure to get telephone connection with a Flat River physician because he didn't have a nickel for the slot, Marshal Black got what he termed sweet revenge a few minutes later, when he had the pleasure of arresting the company's linesman for leaving a horse untied in the street. According to our information Black had attempted to call the Flat River physician to attend August Williams, a piano tuner of Elvins, who had drunk some chloroform. Both the Elvins physicians were out on calls and Marshal Black rushed into the toll station to summons Dr. Williams, of Flat River. When he was told to drop a nickel, the required toll fee, in the slot, the Marshal told the operator that he didn't happen to have a nickel in change and tried to persuade the girl to give him connection by explaining the nature of the call. The girl refused, contending that it would be a violation of the company's orders. Black then gave up the task and asked Mr. Woods, proprietor of the store, to get the call through, and when the latter tried for the connection the operator also refused him because he was trying to put through Black's call. The refusal also angered Woods and he immediately ordered the toll phone removed from his store. The company promptly ordered their linesman, Ernest Jones, who happened to be in Elvins, to carry out Woods' request by removing the phone. When Jones drove his horse up in front of the store and left the animal untied the Marshal saw a chance for quick and sweet revenge by merely doing his duty as the operator had done concerning the call. He arrested Jones on a charge of violating the city ordinance, requiring animals to be hitched in the city limits. Jones pleaded guilty and was fined $2 and costs, the total cost being $10.15, which the company paid under protest. Black refused to release Jones on a promise of a check for the amount and demanded cash payment of the "city toll." A threat to put Jones in the "cooler" brought the ready cash. Incidentally Williams had drunk but a small amount of the chloroform and recovered without the aid of a physician.—Farmington News.

NOTICE—The guessing contest for the 100-piece set of imported chinaware ended with a few guesses just prior to the closing down of the store at 11 o'clock Saturday night, December 23d. The jar of beans upon which the guesses were based contained 7972 beans. Mrs. B. W. Loomis, wife of the principal of the public schools, of Ironton, Mo., secured the dishes with the guess 7974 missing it only by 2 beans. About six years ago we gave away a handsome parlor lamp much the same way, using the same glass dish for the beans. Mr. Robert A. Dunn of Sabula got the lamp, missing his guess at that time by only 2 beans. The following gentlemen of Ironton very kindly consented to act as committees in the contest: Just closing: Mr. J. E. McGinnis, Attorney at Law; Mr. E. L. Cook, Cashier of the Bank of Ironton; Mr. Bradford Burleigh, Assistant Cashier of the Bank of Ironton. These gentlemen, with the aid of several others, counted the beans, examined the guesses and then verified them. The guesses in many cases were close. Mr. Loomis made a guess of 7968, missing it only 4 beans. Mr. E. L. Cook, one of the committees, had a guess of 7987, missing it only 15 beans. Hartford F. Collins, A. Mayes, A. B. Fletcher, Henry Boyd, Ed. Brown, and Freeman Martin came close, as did also Prof. E. P. Burnham, superintendent of county schools, and Prof. Howard C. Taylor, superintendent of the Arcadia Heights School. The number of guesses made went into the hundreds, and the range of beans guessed was very wide, running from 82 beans, a tablespoon full, to twenty-five millions, a freight car full. The guessing contest was absolutely free to any over 16 years old, no purchase required to guess, the object being to secure new names for the circulating list for advertising purposes of the store. The contest was pleasantly carried on without a ripple of disappointment, and we are sorry that we have not a hundred sets of dishes to give to the hundred nearest guesses in appreciation of the fact that this year's holiday business was by all odds and a way beyond the largest holiday business we have ever known.

The dishes, which were secured by Mrs. Loomis, who is now away with her husband on his vacation, will remain in our window until her return when they will be replaced with a red cardboard notice of great reduction price sale at our store on Tuesday, December 26th, on overcoats, long coats, cloaks, underwear and other winter articles, once more clearly demonstrating that "we can save you money." Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear, there is no way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; this case out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness caused by Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

This has been the most prosperous Christmas week we have had for many years. The merchants are paying 35 cents cash for ties and 40 cents in trade. For ten days there has been an average of more than sixty loads of ties and lumber in town every day; some days 75 loads. Quite a lot of shaverd hoops were brought in, so everybody had money and the jugs came in freely. I understand Annapolis, Sabula and Hogan had a fine trade.

The Sunday Schools gave a treat to the children of candies, nuts, etc., which they enjoyed very much. Bro. J. L. Strader's Bible Class gave him a fine bible, which he appreciated greatly. We have two large Sunday Schools here. One thing I have noticed all over the county, and that is our public school teachers do not take any part in our Sunday School work. It seems to me they ought to be right in front. It would be such a good example for the children. Our school commissioner takes a very active part in Sunday School and church work. I hope our commissioner, Mr. Burnham, will take this matter up at his teachers' meetings and advise the teachers how important it is that they attend Sunday School, as well as church.

Mr. J. H. Stevenson has moved into his new home.

John Robinson has bought P. Powers' interest in the blacksmith shop. Mr. Robinson is a deserving young man. He has also purchased a home on College Hill.

Forty-seven years ago to-day my brother and I spent Christmas at home in Virginia. We were encamped near Culpeper Court House, only 43 miles from home.

Virginia soldiers went home quite often, as they lived near the battlefields of Virginia. This is seventy Christmas days that I have seen and I am very thankful that God has spared me through these long years. Forty-seven years ago to-day my brother James and I got leave from the army to visit home. We had already spent three years in the war, and now, instead of going to farming, we had to return to be shot at another year or longer. No one but the poor soldier knows what a cruel thing war is.

I am in receipt of a souvenir from my best friend, Dr. R. T. Minor, now in Portland, Oregon. It is the song, "Lead, Kindly Light," in pamphlet form. I appreciate it very much, coming from one of my old comrades. May God bless him!

Most of my children and grandchildren are with me to-day, so I am as happy as happy can be!

Flag Raising.

Mr. W. G. Whitworth presented the Arcadia Public School with a large flag, 8x10, at the beginning of the school year. Some trouble was found in securing a suitable pole and pulley until Mr. George Sutherland was pressed into service. He carried off the honors by bringing a pole 48 feet long, from the nearby woods, and with the aid of twelve representative men it was erected, ready for Friday.

The pulley and rope were donated by Louis Miller, Sr.

On Friday afternoon the flag-raising services were held. After a short prayer by Rev. Self addressees were made by Mr. Oren and Mr. Jacobs, and while singing America all marched out around the pole and the flag was raised by Mr. Kanouse with military form, unfolding as it was raised. A goodly number of Ironton and Arcadia citizens were present to encourage the boys and girls in demonstrating their love for our country.

Kate Russell, of Hillsboro; Miss Ruth Bynum, teacher at Belmont, and Houston McCall, who teaches at Cedar Grove.

The entertainment by the young people of Bellevue last Saturday evening was quite a success. We think it very commendable in these young people to attempt a work of this kind, as it not only draws them nearer in ties of friendship, but it affords innocent amusement at home.

Miss Jennie Logan came down from St. Louis last Saturday to spend Christmas with her parents.

A Statement from Mr. Fitz.

DES ARC, Mo., December 21, 1911.

Mr. Eli D. AKE, Ironton, Mo.:

Friend Eli—I noticed in last week's REGISTER that you had a little note concerning an article I had written some weeks ago in my correspondence.

Regarding this matter I want to say that I was talking with Mr. Boyer, the Roadmaster of the L. M. Railroad, and everything has been cleared up between him and myself. I feel sure that you people misprinted my statement about fast trains, as I fully intended saying freight trains, but if I did not am willing to bear all the blame. I intended to say that Mr. Boyer told me in his statement that the freight trains had been cut down to a running schedule of thirty miles per hour, and I notice that you have it fast trains have been cut down to thirty miles per hour.

Also regarding the ties, Mr. Boyer told me that it would require from five hundred to one thousand ties per mile to fix the road between Piedmont, and a point nineteen miles north of Piedmont. I think this a mistake. I gave this as one thousand ties, and it should have been five hundred, and not to De Soto, but to a point nineteen miles north of Piedmont, the distance that had been covered by Mr. Boyer at the time I had this conversation with him.

I am very sorry these mistakes occurred, and I hope there will be no further trouble about this matter, and would like you to publish this letter, or something to clear this matter up.

In regard to Mr. Boyer, want to say that I don't think the Railroad Company could possibly get a better man for the position he holds, than Mr. Boyer.

Hoping there will be nothing further in regard to this, I am
