VOLUME XLVII. NUMBER 12.

IRONTON, MISSOURI.
THURSDAY - AUG. 29, 1912.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

September comes.

School next Monday.

Any celebration at Pilot Knob for this year?

Read the advertisement of the Piedmont Fair.

Ringling's circus will be at Flat River, September 17th.

Remember the picnic and horse show at Belleview Saturday.

Quite a lot of whooping cough in adjacent communities, we are told.

The local banks will not be open for business next Monday—Labor Day.

Don't miss the big picnic and horse fair at Belleview, next Saturday.

A. F. Bond has sold his automobile to a Mr. Sawyer in Bismarck.

The Arcadia Valley and Doe Run teams will play ball at Arcadia next Sunday afternoon.

To Miss Florence Fisher the REGISTER family is indebted for a basket of very fine tomatoes presented last week.

Rev. Day, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Alton Ill., is on the Heights this week, seeking relief from "hay fever."

Prof. B. W. Loomis has rented Thos. D. Jones' residence on the mountain side and will occupy the same the ensuing year.

Mr. H. R. Polak has shipped his automobile here from Jefferson City and will spend his vacation automobiling in the valley.

Squire Rasche Tuesday performed the marriage ceremony for Robert B. Rood of Piedmont and Margaret Sweeney of Des Arc.

Married—Ironton, Mo., Saturday, August 24, 1912, John H. Abbott and Eleanor Kennedy, both of Belleville, Illinois, R. A. Rasche, J. P., officiating.

Word's Work, one year ($3 magazine) and Bayard Hale's story of the life of Woodrow Wilson (a cloth bound book), both for $2.50. Baptist Ladies.

S. W. Andrews, Jr., made the trip from Charleston to Ironton—165 miles—on his motor cycle last week. Barring a collision with a cow at Iron Mountain, the trip was without accident.

Mrs. F. Rodach and daughter, Miss Louise, have returned to their home in Middlebrook after a week's visit to the latter's sister, Mrs. Herman Trauernicht, and other relatives.—Farmington News.

Geo. Kells, postmaster at Elvins, his brother, John, and Henry Davis, the Republican nominee for prosecuting attorney of St. Francois county, made a trip to the valley in an automobile Sunday afternoon.

Attorney W. H. Clopton came from St. Louis last Friday and he and Thompson Blanton, J. A. Reynolds and F. B. Runder spent several days fishing and camping on the St. Francis river, near Kesling's farm.

W. R. Allen, Jr., of Graniteville will leave next week for Massachusetts, to join his family, who have been there the past month. There is a probability that Mr. Allen will make his home in the east in the future.

A baby boy arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Edgar, Jr., Sunday, August 26, 1912, at 5 o'clock P. M. It is pleasing to state that all are well. The REGISTER extends congratulations and very best wishes.

The members of the county court will be in session next Monday as a board of equalization in the assessment of merchants and manufacturers. An adjourned term of county court will be held the following day.

Wm. Sellinger last week sold his interest in the livery stable in Arcadia to his partner, Mr. Algier. Mr. Sellinger will open another stable in Arcadia, we understand. Mr. Swearingin will be associated with Mr. Algier in the business.

No. 4, northbound, due here at 3:42 o'clock P. M., now stops regularly at Ironton station. Heretofore the train only stopped here to take on St. Louis passengers. The change is a good one and should have been made a long time ago.

Prof. G. W. Signer of Marble Creek left Tuesday for Oak Ridge, Cape Girardeau county, where he will have charge of the High School. We commend Prof. Signer to the good people of Cape county as a most worthy young man.

Rev. George Steel, who is spending the summer in Ironton, has accepted a call from the Baptist church at Dexter, Stoddard County, and will begin work there as pastor Sept. 1st, but will not move down until cooler weather.—Jefferson Democrat.

The editor acknowledges the receipt of a card from Mr. and Mrs. William Randolph Edgar announcing the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Maude Edgar Jurich, and Major Thomas Herbert Jackson, Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, Saturday, Aug. 24, 1912, St. Louis. To the bride, a valley girl, we extend our sincere wishes for a life of happiness unalloyed.

Hay is selling at about $14. Corn, it is said, will be from fifty to seventy-five cents a bushel this fall. Potatoes, that promised to be so plentiful earlier in the season, is now said by some will be as much as a dollar a bushel by Christmas time.

There will be a meeting of the Arcadia Valley Business Men's League at the court house Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Good Roads is the topic for discussion, especially the boundary of the proposed Special Road district. Everyone welcome.

The Baptist Ladies' Aid Society contemplates adding concrete steps to their church building in the near future. This society will be thankful for the mites gleaned from magazine subscriptions. These periodicals will be guaranteed or money refunded.

An interesting game of base ball between the Arcadia Valley and Belleview nines will be a feature of the picnic and horse show at Belleview next Saturday. The Belleview and Franklay teams played at Graniteville Sunday. Belleview won by a score of 7 to 1.

Editor Tussey of the Corridor Headlight was in town Wednesday night and while here informed us that he had sold his paper to the Holiness College at Des Arc. A. S. London of that place will be editor. Mr. Tussey will continue to publish the paper at that place.—Ellington Press.

During the last session of the circuit court we heard several out of town visitors remark that a town that did not have the pride or energy to keep stock off of its streets did not deserve to be the county capital. That pretty well indicates the attitude of the neighboring towns toward Greenville.—Greenville Journal.

Work on the electric light plant has commenced. The poles are being placed on the west side of Main street and will all be in position in a few days. Mr. Lawton, in charge of the work, says we will have light by the last of October. Nothing but first-class material is being used and we are assured the plant will be a model one.

Fuller Swift, representing The Missouri State Immigration Society, spent Wednesday in Charleston in the interest of The Missouri National Exposition and Land Congress to be held in the Coliseum, St. Louis, the week of October 14. Mr. Swift is visiting all the county seats in the state and arranging for exhibits from the counties. The land show is to be given under the auspices of the State Immigration Society and is not a private enterprise.—Charleston Enterprise.

W. W. Martin, wife and children, Dr. and Mrs. B. N. Robinson and baby, W. C. Lackey and daughter, Annie, Misses Feyrre Lawrence, Effie Doherty and Verna Thaxton got in home Monday, W. W. Gary and Misses Osa and Mary Martin, Friday, and Hershell Lawrence Saturday, from Arcadia Heights where they had been attending the annual encampment held under the auspices of the Baptist Young People's Union. At the Business Meeting held just before adjournment W. W. Martin of this city was elected president of the Assembly for ensuing year. More than 800 people were registered at this year's meeting.—Doniphan Prospect-News.

From the Poplar Bluff Republican: "The Baptist Assembly of Missouri concluded its meeting last night at Arcadia Heights, closing the most successful and largely attended meeting in the history of the organization. About 900 persons were enrolled, and of this number Poplar Bluff would probably have been declared the leader, individually, if the last day's attendance enrollment had been the first days, there being sixty-four persons from this city at the gathering. Yesterday morning's service was notable, not alone for Dr. Truett's remarkable sermon, but for the fact that an additional $1,000 was raised to aid in boring an artesian well so that at next year's assembly plenty of water might be obtained directly on the grounds, which are on top of a beautiful mountain with a commanding view of superb scenery. The well will cost about $1500 and the money has been raised to meet that expense. At last Sunday morning's service $3,000 was subscribed, that amount to be used for improvement on the grounds. Yesterday's attendance was enormous. Hundreds drove to the park from the Arcadia Valley and the whole countryside, and automobiles carried many persons from towns many miles away. An excellent road has been constructed to the grounds. The Sunset Rock prayer meeting, conducted by the B. Y. P. U., just as the sun sank behind the historic peak across the valley, was a wonderfully impressive service. Then followed the closing service of the Assembly at the tabernacle, the Rev. Dr. Truett, called the 'second Spurgeon,' delivering a powerful sermon. Nearly all of the Poplar Bluff people are expected to return home to-day, after their delightful sojourn on the mountain top in a tented city. Some may remain to enjoy the splendid, health-giving air and rugged scenery for a few days more. It is likely that several Poplar Bluffians will purchase sites for bungalows and have summer homes built by next year."

The following is reproduced from the last issue of the Farmington News: "For the murder of Gentry Gibson and Mont Hall at Iron Mountain Lake on the morning of June 15th, last, James Shrum has been sentenced to life imprisonment, and unless a motion filed yesterday afternoon by his attorney for a new trial is granted he will undoubtedly be sentenced in a day or two to pay the death penalty, also. As it is, of course, out of the question for both punishments to be inflicted upon him, the question naturally arises which one will be. State's Attorney B. H. Boyer contends that the lesser punishment will be absorbed by the greater, while Shrum's attorney, F. O. Poston, holds that as the life sentence was imposed first it must be satisfied first. So far as any of the local attorneys have been able to determine there has never been a similar case before the courts, and there is much speculation as to just which contention will obtain. Most of them, however, we believe, agree that the life sentence would have to be waived for the one of death. Shrum was tried the early part of last week only for the murder of Gibson. For this he was given a life sentence. A new trial was at once asked for. Before this motion was passed upon, however, he was put on trial for the murder of Hall. While the jury was deliberating upon the verdict they would return for the latter offense, Shrum's attorney withdrew the motion for a new trial and had his client presented for sentence, which was pronounced. No sooner had this been done than the jury returned a verdict fixing Shrum's punishment at death for the murder of Hall. This move, Mr. Poston thinks, strengthens his contention that the life sentence must be satisfied first. In any event, if a new trial is not granted for the Hall murder an appeal will be taken to the Supreme Court, which will stay the date of execution, if the death penalty is to be inflicted, for at least a year. Harvey Shrum, son of James Shrum, who was with his father at the time of the homicide, and who also shot Hall, pleaded guilty to second degree murder in both cases and was given a sentence of ten years in the penitentiary for the murder of Gibson and fifteen for the murder of Hall. Nothing new from what has heretofore been printed was brought out at either of the trials. There was very little evidence to justify the murder of Gibson and Hall by the Shrums at any time, and none whatever on the day the killing occurred. The verdict of both juries, according to what comment we have heard, meets with general approval."

Last Sunday afternoon a party of twelve Vallegians and visitors went up on the Heights, bearing with them all the comestibles necessary to the supper hour. The twelve were: Mr. and Mrs. T. J. St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. Miner York, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Nutt and two children, of St. Louis, Mrs. A. Heywood, the Misses Alice Pennebecker and Mildred St. Louis, and—well, I was there to make up the round dozen. Two of Rosentretter's best girls carried us safely up the mountain and at 5 P. M. we were overlooking as beautiful a prospect as ever delighted the eye. A light shower two hours previous had refreshed the earth and given a brighter glow to the face of Nature; had cooled the August atmosphere and made the fact of living a joy to the senses. We visited the Inn and were graciously received at several of the bungalows. Many of them are now untenanted, but a number of families have wisely determined to here linger the summer solstice away. I bear with me a most kindly recollection of the Todd family and trust they may be known to the Heights for many a summer to come. Yes, we went to Sunset Rock and from that point of scenic vantage saw the golden luminary disappear behind the western mountain ranges; but I am not going to talk about that—at least, not now; it were almost sacrilege to treat the glory of that picture with indifferent touch, or unskilled hand. Someone sometime may do it justice. At six o'clock a camp-fire was built and requisition made upon the commissariat. The ladies had charge of that department and every requisition was duly honored. There is nothing else on earth equal, on such occasion as this, to a rasher of bacon and an egg fried in the extract thereof: that is, to a healthy, hungry man. Reinforced by a cup of out-of-door, homemade coffee, golden-hued with Jersey cream, sweetly served by fair hands, and 'tis a meal to make one forget the past and banish concern for the future. That was the sort of supper we had on the Heights last Sunday evening, "just as the sun went down," or thereabouts. After doing full justice to the homely, tempting viands, the debris was cleared away, the dishes and utensils were stowed in the vehicles, and we sat us down for a social chat. I say "we," but for this time I was a listener only, and enjoyed the rather unusual role. Beside, I was occupied with my cigar—one of an approved brand and flavor. There were bright minds there to repay attention from one of the duller cast, and my silence had its reward. Presently the moon asserted her full power in the heavens and over the earth, flooding with her silvery light all objects beneath. The call of the convent bell came floating up to the mountain-top in tone so pure and sweet that all tongues were stilled in listening until its last soft sound had ceased. In the quiet of the peaceful, entrancing scene about us, one could not but marvel that strife, turmoil and hatred could find place on an earth so fair! Such hours, alas! pass all too quickly, and the time set for the return home came upon us unawares. The descent of the mountain was made without alarm or mishap, and, after a moonlight ride through the Valley, we sought our various habitations, vowing, each and every one, that did we see a fairer night and lovelier scene. Conjoin to please, since ever time has been!

TO SUBSCRIBERS.

Again we call the attention of subscribers to the REGISTER to the fact that under the ruling of the Post Office Department we are not permitted to mail the paper to any one who is more than twelve months in arrears. So, if you are delinquent, please pay up AT ONCE. If you do not, we will have to take your name from our list. We do not want to do that, but we have no alternative.

MOOTHART'S BUSINESS COLLEGE, De Soto, Mo., offers a complete course in BOOKKEEPING, SHORTHAND, TYPEWRITING and BANKING. Established in 1899. Experienced teachers. For free catalogue, address H. C. JOHNSON, Principal, De Soto, Mo.

School Notes.

The Public Schools of Ironton and Arcadia will open Monday, September 2d, 1912. The school management would urge upon all patrons the necessity of starting the children the first day of school and continuing a perfect attendance throughout the school. This will greatly aid the teachers in organizing their classes with no loss of time in repeating and reclassifying for the sake of late entries.

No books should be purchased until the pupil has consulted the teacher. But few changes have been made in the books. It was thought best to finish the books the pupils have and use supplemental books with them. In some cases the supplemental book will precede the regular adoption.

Several new courses have been added to the high school course of study for the coming year. They are Advanced American History, American Literature, Solid Geometry and Trigonometry, Bookkeeping and Agriculture with Experimental work. The last two courses are to be very practical. The complete High School course as now given is outlined as follows:

First Year—English Grammar and Composition; Algebra I; Physical Geography (Laboratory and notes); Ancient History (notebook required).

Second Year—English Composition and Rhetoric; Algebra 2; Agriculture (Laboratory and notes); Medium and Modern History (notebook required); Latin (Elective).

Third Year—History of American Literature; Pl. Geometry; American History (notebook required); Pedagogy (Elective); Latin 2.

Fourth Year—History of English Literature; English History (notebook required); Solid Geometry, Trigonometry (Elective); Latin 3. (Elective).

The course as outlined will meet the requirements of the University for 17 units; 4 in English, 4 in History, 3 in Mathematics, 3 in Science and 3 in Latin. This will give two electives in the course which may be taken either in Latin or Science or Mathematics.

Besides the regular courses all pupils have an opportunity to take Vocal Music and Elocution.

The grade work this year will be strengthened by supervision and supplemental work. More attention will be given to handwriting, writing, drawing and excursions.

With the course of study offered this year it is not necessary for any resident of the district to send their boy or girl away to school for work that is below Normal or University standard. It is hoped people of the valley will appreciate the opportunities offered at home and save their money for a real finishing course after the ground work is given.

The attention of all patrons is called to the Compulsory Attendance Law. All pupils between eight and fourteen must attend some school. It is well. Every child has the right to be educated.

Very respectfully,
BURT W. LOOMIS,
Supt. of Schools.

For Sale—Ten acres of land, three miles west of Ironton, good house and other improvements, also, a town lot. Address C. F. Lashley, Ironton, Mo.

Camping on Arcadia Heights.

Up in the morning, when ever you choose, Down to the office to gather the news, Eating your breakfast. My! such appetites Have the Campers on Arcadia Heights.

Then to the study class where you can hear, Frasers whose talents are praised far and near.

Of course you get often in many plights, What's that? When camping on Arcadia Heights.

There surely are chiggers, "many a batch," You seldom get good things without a scratch.

In the afternoon you may see the sights, There are many, on Arcadia Heights.

There's a beautiful view from Sunset Rock, One gazing o'er mountains which seem to lock, Sees the sun as it descends on the night, Shed wondrous beauty on Arcadia Heights.

The sermons at night all hearts do inspire, And the words seem burning with living fire,

Whose brilliant flames shed most glorious light O'er the people on Arcadia Heights.

There are all kinds of sports upon the ground, A slide, two swings and a merry-go-round, Which to the children furnished great delight,

They live these on Arcadia Heights.

T'ward the swimming pool with floor of concrete, The re-echoing sounds of many feet, Can be heard, for every one has their rights,

When they're tenting on Arcadia Heights.

There are two tennis courts, side by side, And you can also take a horseback ride, None of these amusements can cause you fright,

Or they would not be on Arcadia Heights.

Down from the mountain to Mulligan Hole, Ladies and ladies at last reach the goal, And all things seem wrought with the Hand of Might,

To the people upon Arcadia Heights. F. M.

Do It Now.

Buy or lease the Baird home-stead, College street, near hotel site, Arcadia. Ten rooms, cot tage and out-buildings, with 3 1/2 acres productive land. Terms to suit.

Hammond's oleomargarine and creamery butter for sale at Codding's.

Annapolis News.

Hot and dry to-day, with promise of rain.

John T. Webb and Ed Moss went through here Friday with a car of watermelons that they purchased near Sikeston. There were 1200 melons in the car; 400 were unloaded here.

Elmer Loyd sold seventeen cases of beer Saturday, and many were more or less intoxicated.

Miss Cynthia Lee, who has been at Poplar Bluff for some time, has returned to Annapolis and will again make her home with Mrs. Bolch.

J. O. Reed had a little difficulty with a few of his students in the school at Sabula where he is teaching school. He appeared before Squire Kitchell and had warrants issued for Howard Hughes, Arthur and Albert Huff. The boys pleaded guilty and were fined $5 and costs, each, and not having the money to liquidate, will spend 25 days in jail. This ought to be a lesson to the boys.

D. A. Worley's daughter lost a lady's small silver watch Sunday. Finder will please return.

There was some outrageous conduct here Saturday night. The worst I have known in the thirty-two years I have been living here. The offenders are known and a few indictments by the grand jury would help wonderfully. No difficulty in securing witnesses. All the prosecuting attorney will have to do is to enquire about the case.

Mr. Warner will ship a car of cattle from here this week. This is getting to be quite a shipping point for stock.

Gus Funk will have his wheat threshed to-day. He has a fine lot of it for a small crop.

Dr. A. O'Bannon and wife are on a two weeks' preaching tour at Redford and Ellington.

Mrs. Lane preached here Sunday night to a good congregation. The grading gang is being cut down.

The claim agent is in town to-day settling claims for stock killed.

E. C. Warncke and J. J. Sutton are in town to-day.

Santhuff & Bro. are putting out two car loads of inch pine flooring.

Wanted—White and red oak ties. Highest price paid.

BUY IHC Wagons for True Economy

YOU cannot farm without a wagon any more than you can keep house without a stove. You work your wagon oftener and harder than anything else on the farm. Buy a wagon that lasts longer than the average. It is an easy thing to do, even though all wagons which are painted alike may look alike. The difference in wagons is underneath the paint. It is the material and workmanship, entering into the construction of IHC wagons,

Weber Columbus New Bettendorf Steel King

which make them the best wagon investment. We want every purchaser to convince himself before buying, that when IHC wagons are advertised as having oak or birch hubs, hickory axles, and long leaf yellow pine box bottoms, these are the materials actually used. When an IHC wagon reaches a farmer's barn, that farmer has one of the best-venting, easiest-running farm wagons that skilled labor can make or that money can buy. There is no need to speculate in buying a wagon. IHC wagons are made for nation-wide uses, with special features adapted to local conditions. Weber and Columbus have wood gears. New Bettendorf and Steel King have steel gears. The IHC wagon dealer in your town sells the wagon best suited to your neighborhood. Ask him for IHC wagon literature, or, write
