At a special meeting of the City Council last Thursday evening, Wm. R. Knorr, of De Soto, was awarded the contract for rebuilding our streets. The price to be paid is $4265. Main street is to be rebuilt from Knob creek to St. John's creek. It is to be built of crushed rock taken from the ore dumps at Pilot Knob, 30 feet in width and 6 inches deep. In addition Russell street, in south Ironton, is to be graveled from Knob street to Goulding's Park. The only other bidder was Muskopf & Irish of St. Louis, but they wanted $2,000 more for the work. Mr. Knorr has had much experience in road building and ought to be able to do us a good job. He will commence work in a couple of weeks. He has six months in which to complete his contract, but says he will get through much sooner than that unless weather conditions are too bad. Mr. Wm. Trauernicht was appointed as Councilman to succeed Chas. J. Tual, resigned.

A tremendous rainfall occurred throughout the greater part of St. Francois county on last Friday night, swelling Wolf Creek, Big River and Terre Blue to almost record heights and causing much damage not only to farms and crops along these streams, but on upland and especially newly-plowed ground, as well. Big River was several feet higher, some of the old settlers say, than it had been for fifty years. George Ford bridge near Dealego went out about 8:30 Saturday morning at a loss of several thousand dollars to the county. The 130-foot span was completely wrecked and carried down the river a distance of a few hundred feet. * * * Nearly all over in the shock along Big River, Terre Blue and Wolf Creek was washed away or ruined by the high water. Corn still standing was in many places badly damaged. Land everywhere was washed badly and many fields of newly-sown wheat were nearly ruined. The loss is indeed a serious one to the county.—Farmington News.

About four o'clock Sunday morning Sheriff Blue was awakened from his slumbers by the vigorous ringing of the telephone. He answered the call and was informed by night telegraph operator, George Shores, at the Arcadia Station, that the crew of a south-bound freight train had just arrived and had seen several boxes of merchandise lying along the railroad track between Pilot Knob and Ironton and supposed it had been thrown from a car on another south-bound train which had preceded them a short time. Sheriff Blue and his son, William, at once went to Pilot Knob and along the track they found several cases of shoes and other merchandise.

There was nobody in sight and the officials decided to secrete themselves and await developments. They had but a short time to wait; in a few minutes a couple of young Hungarians by the name of Albert Haydu and Joe Apponey appeared and gathered up some of the shoes and other stuff preparatory to taking it away. Then the Sheriff took them in custody and placed them in jail. At first they vigorously denied having any knowledge as to how the merchandise happened to be along the track. But afterwards they admitted having boarded the freight train at Bismarck, broke the seal on a car and threw the stuff out. The parents of these young men live at Pilot Knob, but the boys have been working in St. Louis for some time past. Haydu is 23 years old and Apponey 19. They were arraigned in circuit court Monday afternoon and entered a plea of guilty to burglary, receiving a sentence of two years each in the penitentiary. That's speedy administration of justice. Crime committed Sunday morning; in custody in less than two hours and in 36 hours sentenced to prison. Evil doers must keep out of Sheriff Blue's bailwick if they don't want to suffer the consequence. The merchandise recovered by the Sheriff is probably worth $100; it was consigned to Alexandria, Louisiana, and, being an interstate shipment renders the defendants liable to prosecution in the federal courts.

Sister Monica's Diamond Jubilee.

Wednesday, October 21st, there was a great religious celebration at the Ursuline Convent, Arcadia, Mo.

The Ursuline nuns celebrated the Diamond Jubilee, the 60th anniversary of one of their members' entrance into their community.

Sister Monica, the Jubilarian, was born January 10th, 1833, at Werloch, Baden, and, according to the custom of that place, baptized the same day.

Her parents were grape-growers, and vintners for generations, from whom she learned the art of making the delicious Arcadia wine. From her mother she had learned the art of growing flowers, and the perfection to which she had brought this art is well remembered by the pupils and many visitors. The development of flowers was always one of the chief delights of Sister Monica's occupation, and her success in this branch was always seen on the altars and on the sanctuaries of the Ursuline chapel.

Her parents having died, Sister Monica and her sister came to relatives in New York in 1852.

They came to this country with the intention of becoming nuns, as the condition in Baden at that time was unfavorable to religious. Sister Monica's sister entered the Order of the Precious Blood in Cincinnati, and she came to St. Louis and was received as a member of the Ursuline Order in 1854. At that time the mother house of the Ursulines, 2112 South 12th St., was located in the woods, and here her experience on the farm and garden proved to be a decided advantage for the community. Soon, Sister Monica had cleared space and prepared a vegetable garden; moreover, each pupil had a small space given to her as a flower garden.

In 1877, when the Ursulines brought the Arcadia College property, Sister Monica was among the first few nuns that arrived, the others being Mother Rose, Mother Benedict, Sister Xavier and Sister Anselma.

At Arcadia Sister Monica resumed her former occupation, making a vegetable garden, but by no means neglecting the flowers. Among her other occupations she also baked the bread for the community and pupils. Sister Monica's bread became famous, and former pupils returning to their Alma Mater always inquire for Sister Monica's bread.

On Wednesday, October 21st, the celebration took place.

There was a Pontifical High Mass celebrated by Bishop John J. Hennessey of Wichita, Kansas.

Rev. E. T. Lemke, Pastor of St. Barbara's church, St. Louis, was Assistant Priest to Bishop Hennessey. Rev. Thos. T. Walsh, Pastor of St. Anne's Church, St. Louis, was Deacon of the Mass; and Rev. Thos. Casey of Desloge, Mo., Subdeacon. Rev. C. M. Canning of Potosi, Mo., was Master of Ceremonies, and Rev. Assistant Master of Ceremonies was the Pastor, Rev. L. O. Wernert. Rev. Thos. M. Kerman, of Wichita, Kansas, was Thuroifer.

Assistants to Bishop T. H. Thien of Lincoln, Neb., who occupied a seat in the sanctuary, were Rev. P. T. Byrne of De Soto; and Rev. Adolf Holt-schneider. The leaders of the choir were Rev. J. M. Huber, and John F. Adrian.

Bishop E. H. Thien preached a most eloquent sermon on religious life, etc. The choir sang the Salva Regina Mass. After the Pontifical High Mass, Bishop Hennessey gave Benediction with the Most Blessed Sacrament.

The Ursuline nuns served a banquet to the visiting Bishops and Clergy in the rectory.

On Tuesday evening at 7:30 the pupils of the Academy gave a most delightful entertainment to the bishops and the visiting priests.

The charming and well known Miss Stella De Mete, the soprano diva of St. Louis, also delighted the audience with several songs, which were received with rapturous applause. Miss De Mete received her first musical education at the Ursuline Convent in St. Louis, and finished it in Milan.

On Wednesday afternoon, through the kindness of Messrs. E. Fletcher, of Arcadia, and A. Feary, of Ironton, who gave their services and placed their automobiles at the disposal of the distinguished visitors, they took a delightful trip to the famous Graniteville quarries. The visitors admired the scenery of the elephant and the other high rocks very much. Several never knew that Missouri had such attractions.

But all things come to an end, and No. 4 took the visitors north bound, but they departed with a delightful impression of the beauties of the Arcadia Valley.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system.
