C. J. PERCY & SON, Ironton.

Rev. N. B. Henry in Bonne Terre News.

When Mrs. Henry and I arrived at the Station here, we found brother Mann Ringo, an old pupil of mine, waiting for us with a surrey. We soon found ourselves and our suit cases in the parsonage, and a few minutes later found ourselves just across the street partaking of a most excellent dinner. From that day to this these good people have made us feel very much at home. They have uniformly shown that they know how to welcome a new pastor to their charge. For some of these courtesies I am indebted to thoughtful, kindly suggestions of my predecessor, Rev. J. R. A. Vaughan. The outlook is hopeful in many ways, and we are delighted with our appointment. The air is free from impurities, and the excellent water is health-giving. Bethesda Spring, owned by Louis Miller, Esq., is said to be good for indigestion, and I am prepared to believe this. The beautiful fringe of mountains, which entirely surrounds this valley of witcheries, has appeared more lovely than ever since the foliage has fallen so that we can see its entire circumference.

Of course the summer events of most importance in the "Valley" are the Methodist Assembly and the Baptist Encampment, the former of which will open some time early in July, and the latter August 3d. We hope the attractions will be sufficient to draw many, not only of Methodists and Baptists, but of all classes at our next sessions. We of the Assembly are planning for large things on an economical basis as possible, and we do not expect our Baptist Brethren to be found wanting.

For the benefit of the Assembly, our Annual Conference levied upon the various churches an assessment of ten cents per member. Hence the only collections next year, if the various charges come up with a fair percentage of the assessment, will be simply the incidental offerings always taken in a Methodist meeting.

The weather has been so delightful that we expected some of our friends over to have an outing and to see us, but so far they have not reported. We shall be glad to see any of them. "Grandma" Thompson came two weeks after we arrived, and so great have been the tonic effects of our air and water upon her that she thinks she is renewing her youth. There is no doubt she feels very much renewed.

The many friends of Rev. L. F. Aspley, who until the Sunday before our coming, had been unable to attend church for many months, will be glad to learn that he has so improved in health that he is a regular attendant at morning service. He is a great blessing to the pastor.

Annapolis News.

Dark and rainy for the past week and more. Threatening snow now. Artemissa M. Russell, of Sulphur Creek, near Crane Pond Creek, died last Wednesday of typhoid fever. She was the widow of B. H. Russell, who died ten years or more ago. She leaves five sons, three daughters and three brothers to mourn her demise. Rest in peace.

Squire Kitchell last Thursday received a letter from his son, Ben, in Halleyville, Oklahoma, stating that his son, John, living at that place, was at the point of death with typhoid fever. Another letter was received Sunday stating there was hope of recovery. James Kitchell of Bonham, Texas, is there. The old Squire would be there, too, were the trip not so expensive.

Wade Hampton, a boy reared here, now at Ohlman, in Reynolds county, is in a critical condition and it is said will not live much longer. He is suffering from the effects of a rupture, received while at work on the Iron Mountain railroad several years ago.

Health in general is good. "Possum hunting is popular sport. On last Friday and Saturday nights the air in town was blue with the profanity of drunken men. This practice should be stopped.

The Frost Mill Company, near Ohlman, in Reynolds county, has suspended operations. Frost, himself, has quit camp, taking with him three mule teams. No one seems to know where he has gone.

Ben Funk has moved to the John Buckner farm. F. C. Warneke purchased the place recently and deeded it to his daughter, Funk's wife. More than 300 acres in the place.

T. N. Marr of Ironton was in Annapolis last Friday with two men from Wisconsin, and took them over the W. S. Worley land. They seemed pleased with the situation.

Edward Funk is shipping a car of cattle to-day; and Parker Bros. are shipping a car of hogs and car of cattle to St. Louis to-day. Feed is so scarce and high stock can not be kept through the winter. Corn, $1.20 per bushel; hay, a dollar a bale, and sometimes the bales are not very large.

"Skipper" William Lewis of Bear Branch made a business trip to Piedmont Saturday evening and back on train No. 10 next morning. I don't think they will let him stop in Piedmont very long at a time any more, or he likes Bear Branch water too well to stay there. I don't know which.

Our station agent is taking a lay-off for a few weeks and a Mr. Daniels from Fredericktown is filling his job also the night man is taking a vacation, visiting at his home in St. Louis, and a Mr. Jones of Doniphan is doing his work.

The Des Arc correspondent has failed to give all the happenings of that little city the past few weeks. We heard up here that a great battle was recently fought, near the station, in that town. One man was badly butchered and guns were displayed. It does look like "Isaac" would have said something about it. It may have been some of the Annapolis boys, though none are reported missing. But some moved from here down there to get out of bad company. BULLETIN.

St. Francois Co. Land Optioned.

(Bonne Terre News.) For some time past Mr. J. P. Spence, our hustling townsman, has been busily engaged in securing options on lead land in this county, practically all of which land is situated within a radius of 2½ to 3 miles of Bonne Terre.

If all reports are true, and we have ample reason to believe they are, Mr. Spence has associated himself with an interested company of capitalists who are in a position to build mills and operate the now optioned land on a very extensive scale, which would terminate this into one of the largest lead producing enterprises of our county.

In the event that lead in large enough quantities should be found in the district they have chosen to operate prospecting drills, then the company it is said, would build railroad lines within four or five miles of Bonne Terre, thus bringing to us an era of prosperity and commercialism as has never been known in this county.

Mr. Spence is known for his push and hustling qualities and now that he has successfully interested the capitalists to develop our rough lands lying west of Bonne Terre and in this manner bring to us untold good fortune, should all plans work out, he merits much. He has about three thousand five hundred acres under option at this time all of which is in a solid block with the exception of one or two small tracks.
