

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce GEORGE W. HANSON as a candidate for the office of Superintendent of Public Schools for Iron County, Missouri, subject to the action of the voters at the School Election to be held Tuesday, April 6, 1915.

FOR MAYOR. We are authorized to announce ROBT A. RASCHKE as a candidate for re-election as Mayor of the City of Ironton at the coming April election.

FOR CITY MARSHAL. We are authorized to announce B. BLANTON as a candidate for City Marshal at the April election.

FOR CITY COLLECTOR. We are authorized to announce E. R. CURTIS as a candidate for Collector of the City of Ironton at the City election, April 6, 1915.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

See Brown's new prices. See Lopez Store Co.'s new ad. Has everybody had the mumps? February surely gave us some rain. Why not a night man at the Ironton station? This winter has surely played havoc with the roads. See The Trey O' Hearts, Friday night, March 5th. County Court convenes in adjourned session next Monday. Teachers' examinations Friday and Saturday at the Courthouse. For Sale—Seven weeks' old Sow Pigs. Good stock. W. CURRY. The next City expenditures should be for some street crossings. Badly needed.

The only opportunity to vote this year will be at the City and school election. St. Paul's Guild meets this week at Mrs. Mann Ringo's and next week at Mrs. Roehry's.

Coming this month, "Judith of Bethulia," a wonderful picture of the Bible story of Judith.

Attention is directed to the Little & Hays Bond Investment Company's advertisement on the first page.

March usually isn't a very pleasant month, but there is consolation in the thought that April follows, and then balmy May.

It was intimated when the light plant was put in Ironton the railroad company would use a few lights at the station. But not yet.

A good yield of what should help Iron County a whole lot, for the acreage sown last fall was large.

Single-Comb White Leghorn Eggs for sale. Thoroughbred stock, bred to lay, out of a 200-egg strain.

Mrs. B. P. BURNHAM, Ironton, Mo. We, the Juniors of the Ironton High School, extend a vote of thanks to the patrons of the High School who so willingly helped us in our tea of February 22d.

Geo. W. Marshall, assignee of C. J. Percy & Son, will adjust and allow all claims and demands against said firm at the office of Edgar & Edgar in Ironton on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

Dr. E. L. Barnhouse, we understand, will make his home at the Pruitt place, on Shepherd Street, which he purchased at Trustee's sale Tuesday of last week. The location is one of the most desirable in our City.

A number of finger-boards have, within the past few days, been put up at various "forks of the roads." They are a donation, and one that will be appreciated by the unacquainted traveler on his weary way. Blessings on the donor!

Mrs. M. G. Prueitt desires to go to the city where she can find employment to maintain herself and her invalid mother. Unfortunately she is penniless, and desires help. The assistance of our citizens will be gratefully appreciated.

If Ironton is to be made a stock yard and pasture again there will have to be a lot of money expended for fences. You don't have any stock but you'll have to fence to keep off your neighbor's cows. The proposition is absolutely wrong.

On another page of this week's REGISTER we print an interesting article on corn-raising, by Horace Markley. The subject is discussed from every angle by an expert, and we invite the discussion of the subject by our farmer readers.

The city council last Monday evening decided to submit, at the coming election, to the voters the question: "Shall the cows be turned out to graze the sidewalks?" Not in those words, exactly, but its ultimate meaning is as I express it.

The REGISTER has on its first page an account of the burning of four members of the Stutzman family in East St. Louis. They only recently were residents of near Ironton and this community deeply sympathizes with the surviving members of the unfortunate family.

We print this week the following announcements for City officers: Bobt A. Rasche for Mayor; E. R. Curtis for Collector; and B. B. Blanton for Marshal. These men need no commendation from me. They are capable and well known, and if chosen, will faithfully and impartially serve the public.

Mr. E. G. Stoney of Missouri Hog Ranch Co., shipped one car fine hogs from Olney, Mo., to Ironton last Sunday, to stock their ranch here.

There will be a Called Meeting of Star of the West Lodge, No. 133, A. F. & A. M., Thursday March 4th, at 7:30 P. M. Work in F. C. Degree. Also, on Saturday, March 6th, at the same hour, work in M. M. Degree. All members are requested to attend.

During the Lenten Season we have on hand a supply of fish as follows:—Smoked Herring, Smoked White Fish, Smoked Halibut, Fresh Oysters, in cans only, Milker Herring, Roll Herring, Fresh Catfish, Fresh Buffalo, Fresh Halibut, Fresh Red Snappers, Salmon Salad, Spiced Sardels. Fresh Cheese of all kinds.

G. G. Davis, the well known attaché of the Iron Mountain telegraph department, has closed a deal buying the handsome home of Dr. Redwine at 649 Lester street and at once he will occupy the property. He bought the place, paying $3,500 for it, trading in other property on the deal. The house is fitted out with hardwood floors, beautifully finished and equipped with modern conveniences, steam heat and so on. This is one of the prettiest places of the West End.—Poplar Bluff Citizen.

Mrs. H. R. Polak entertained the Pinochle Club on Tuesday evening at her home at 638 Cynthia Street and it was one of the really pretty parties of the season. The house was in the national colors and in decoration that took the thoughts back to the time of Washington. The picture was Colonial and was indeed pretty. Mrs. Polak had two extra guests tables. The cards was much enjoyed throughout the afternoon and a delicious luncheon was served. The first prize was won by Mrs. Jack Abington, Miss Elizabeth Chapline cut prize, and Miss Lucy Lazlier, consolation prize.—Poplar Bluff Citizen-Democrat.

The Ladies' Social Club met February 23, 1915, with Mrs. Mullin. The subject being George Washington, decorations which were lovely were suggestive of the day. Quotations relative to George and Martha Washington were given in response to roll call. Each member present was in Martha Washington attire—white fichus and caps. A kodak picture of the club was kindly taken by Miss Florence Newman. Several amusing and interesting games were greatly enjoyed. The sandwiches, ice cream and cherries were "just fine." Closing song, "America." Next meeting will be March 9, 1915, Mrs. Tom Newman, hostess.

Attorney S. L. Clark in company with his son, Ernest, left Tuesday for Centerville where they went to file a damage suit against the Missouri Southern Railroad Company in the Reynolds County circuit court. The suit is being brought by B. F. Hackworth of Garwood, who seeks to recover the amount of overcharges on freight which is said to have been received for transporting lumber and ties from various points on the company's railroad to Leeper, Mo., during the time the present rate law was held up by an injunction. The sum asked for damages amounts to about $12,000 and the case will come up for hearing at the next term of circuit court which convenes at Centerville in May.—Current Local.

The Rook Club, organized about a month ago, composed of seven girls.—Misses Lorene Polk, Louise Gross, Gladys Bishop, Naomi Rudy, Bernice Buckley, Velma Sutherland and Virginia Collins—spent Saturday night with the hostess, Miss Collins. After supper the girls walked up to the picture show. Each girl was dressed properly to suit the winter weather, and each representing the I.H.S. by an emblem of black and gold letters worn on the left arm. After the show the girls spent some time at the Kandy Kitchen and then started for their delightful walk home in the moonlight. Reaching home at 9:45 the Rook game started with plenty of lunch for all which was exactly suited to the young ladies' taste. The laughter from the room disturbed Mr. and Mrs. C. Collins, but remembering they were once young themselves they only said, "Girls will be girls." The Rook game ceased at about 11:30 and the seven girls' conversation drifted to various subjects that are most dear to them. Just as the dawn of day was creeping above the horizon the girls fell into a beautiful, dreamy sleep. At 7:00 Sunday morning the Collins home was again filled with the merry and joyous laugh and talk of the girls. At 3:00 Sunday afternoon the Rook Club departed for their homes, each girl declaring it was one happy event in their life never to be forgotten, and also, they were happy in having as joyous and entertaining a hostess.

The president, cashier and three directors, one of them a woman, of the Williamsville State Bank, were locked in the bank vault at 2:15 Monday afternoon by two masked robbers, and about $1,500 in cash was taken. The robbers fled from the bank building amid a shower of bullets and escaped. The two men, with handkerchiefs over their faces and wearing long raincoats, walked into the bank during a meeting of the directors. The cashier, C. E. Sharp, went to the window to see what the men wanted before he noticed their masks. He was confronted with two revolvers and commanded to hold up his hands and keep still. When the robbers saw the president, E. J. Duckett, and directors, they were also commanded to throw up their hands. One of the bandits took all the cashier's ready money, while the other one kept two guns pointed at the bankers. No attempt was made to get the money from the safe within the vault. After taking all of the money in sight, the robbers marched the cashier and directors into the vault and locked the door. B. H. Selvidge, a jeweler in an adjoining building, heard the noise in the vault. The robbers were leaving the building as he reached the street. He fired and pursued them a distance, but was unable to get close enough to hit them. The prisoners in the vault were liberated a few minutes later. The others locked in the vault were Mrs. Haney, W. M. Osborn and S. C. Haney. Bloodhounds were procured from Poplar Bluff, and pursuit of the robbers instantly instituted, resulting in the capture next morning of one, and, it is thought, the death of the other. They proved to be John and Frank Wilkinson, born and reared in Greenville, and the discovery of their identity was cause for surprise, they having always been considered honest and law-abiding men. Frank the one not yet apprehended, is supposed to have been drowned in an attempt in his flight to swim Black river, which barred his way.

The following, which I take from the Memphis (Mo.) Democrat is of local interest. Some of its conclusions and inferences may be amended, but in the main I endorse its general sentiment in opposition to the particular purchase proposed. Our own valley offers superior advantage for a park: "Ha Ha Tonka or some such outstanding title is the name of one of the roughest, roughest, most unattractive spots in Missouri although it may be in some respects picturesque and its owners and some real estate brokers are describing the place just now. A junketing committee has been over in Camden county to look this illustrious spot over and will advise the legislature whether the state of Missouri ought or ought not by this spot of ground comprising a section more or less of Camden county land the property of the estate of Robert Snyder. As we understand it the price proposed to be paid for this pile of rocks in the Ozarks is $165,000. It is estimated that in order to properly improve the spot and make it a beautiful park it would cost the state approximately $300,000 more. Then to maintain the place as a pleasure resort there would be an extra annual expenditure which in all probability would grow from year to year like the state university appropriations grow. This would be a peach of a snap for the Ozarkers to sell fifty cent land at $165 an acre and dump it off on the state. If the state wants ground for a park let the legislature send its junketing committee to Northeast Missouri where the land will not have to be made new in order to grow flowers and shrubbery, some of the things a park has to have. In the Ozarks you have to cover the clay and rocks and sand with fertilizer before it will grow anything. Here we have bluegrass plots as pretty as Tower Grove park and flowers can be made to grow in a season. This land will sell for less money than they are asking for the rocks and the state will then have something when she gets it. As for the Democrat it is opposed to the legislature making that purchase and we believe the representative or senator from North Missouri who votes for it might have to do a lot of explaining when he gets home. Ha Ha Tonka is an euphonious name (?) The Ozark rocks are picturesque but we think the owners of the land or the real estate men handling the proposition had better come down to about two dollars an acre before the proposition would be worth considering."

Divine services at the Lutheran Church of Pilot Knob next Sunday afternoon, March 7, will be as follows: Sunday School at 2 P. M. Sermon at 2:30 P. M. An English sermon will be preached of which the theme will be "The Suffering of Christ in Gethsemane." You are invited to worship with us. H. C. HARTING, Pastor.

If your Gasoline or Steam Engine, Pump or Auto, or Electrical Machine, needs fixing, callon me. Phone 15. J. C. ENDERS. Fort Hill Church. The Local Department of the Woman's Missionary Society and other ladies spent a very pleasant afternoon at Mrs. Hatten's Thursday, and made some money. They will meet again to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock, and desire all the ladies of the church to meet with them, bringing their needles and thimbles.

The Sunday School afforded a very pleasant surprise, there being eighty per cent of the enrollment present. 43 of the pupils remained for preaching, a very good attendance. But we were short on daily Bible readers—only 19. Mrs. Henry's class of young ladies will meet at the parsonage Saturday night, organize, and apply for a charter.

The music at both services was very fine. The morning voluntary, "One More Day's Work" was very effective; rendered; while the evening voluntary, "We Shall Shine as the Stars," was much appreciated also.

There is a rising tide in the prayer-meeting again, and it is to be hoped that it will keep on rising. The first 15 minutes to-night will be given to a study of the District Conference. Come and learn about that, and then worship with us. If you do not go to Sunday School any where else next Sunday, come to Fort Hill. If you do not go to church some where else, come to Fort Hill. The pastor announced the receipt of a cordial invitation from the pastor of the Baptist church to attend revival services to be held next Sunday, and ask his congregation to attend as they could do so.

The "Adolescent at Home" is the Missionary topic for discussion at the parsonage March 11. All the mothers belonging to Fort Hill Church are urged to attend that meeting. Topics for other Social Service meetings will be as follows: The Adolescent at School, and The Adolescent in Religious life Our Opportunity. Mrs. Grace Whitworth, the Superintendent of Social Service hopes to make these programmes very helpful to mothers.

Des Arc Items. While at Fredericktown last Monday I had the pleasure of dining with my friend, Rev. W. W. Strother, and family. They are located on College Hill in a beautiful little home and are enjoying life. Their daughter, Miss Selma, is attending Marvin College. She will graduate in music at the end of the term. She played a number of fine selections for me, which I enjoyed very much. Walter is full of business and is getting along fine. He hardly has time to talk to you. We were sorry to lose Walter and family when they left our town, but they could do better financially, and when they get ready to come back there is a welcome here for them. I also met with my friend on the train, Attorney Bob Davis. He is Attorney for the Iron Mountain, Cotton Belt and Frisco. He rides on a pass over all these roads. Bob, as we call him, is one of the brightest young lawyers in Southeast Missouri; has a big practice outside of the Railroad work.

I was in Piedmont a short while Saturday. There was a number of farmers and tie haulers in town trading. The streets were full of people. Chas. Carter seemed to be doing a big business. I noticed in Friday's Republic where

For Ladies to Read.

DEAR MR. AKE—Will you please tell the ladies of the Valley that I'm home from St. Louis, where I've been for ten days, getting new style ideas for Spring Millinery, and will have some of the very prettiest hats we've ever had. The Tipperary Sailor and Turban, and the Chin-chin are the leading styles just now, with the large Shepherdes and other large hats to be worn later. The new colors are—Belgium Bine, Ashes of Roses, Battleship Gray and Wet and Dry Sand color. We attended the demonstrations twice daily at Rosenthal-Sloan Millinery Co.'s. Mr. Harry Ross, who is in charge, spent the winter in New York, and is a very clever trimmer and designer. Miss Walker, of the Shubert Theater, playing with the Mann Co., modeled for us while I was there, and, as she had just been to New York, she also gave us some excellent style ideas, both in hats and costumes. To be perfectly up-to-the-minute, hats small or large, hair dressed low, skirts very full, and two inches above the shoe top. No trims, even on evening gowns.

All girls from 15 to 20 years of age are invited to be at the Style Shop Monday evening, March 8th, from 7:30 to 8:30, to see just how the hair is to be arranged for the Castle Bob without "Bobbing" it. All Matrons who care to know how to arrange their tresses are invited Tuesday evening from 7:30 until 8:30. Remember, girls, Monday evening, and ladies Tuesday evening. Spring Millinery Opening latter part of this month.

THE STYLE SHOP.

Uncle Jimmy Lewis had a sale at his farm near town last Saturday. I have not heard how the sale went, but hope he did well. Uncle Jimmy and family will leave soon for Pangburn, Ark., where his boys are in the lumber business. Uncle Jimmy will run a store in Pangburn. We are sorry to lose him, but wish him success in his new home.

A fine baby girl arrived at the home of Marvin Keathley and wife last week.

Horace Morris was here from Kenett, Arkansas, last week, to visit relatives.

Miss Stella Meyers, from St. Louis, is visiting her parents.

Wm. Stevenson went to Ironton Friday.

Quite a lot of moving the past week. Jeff Jackson has taken charge of the Wm. Stevenson farm, Mr. Lawson moving over in town in a cottage. Mr. Irvin Davis moved on Rev. Strother's farm. Marvin Keathley has moved to his father's residence.

Rev. Myers failed to fill his appointment here Sunday, owing to illness. ISAAC.

Annapolis News.

The weather moderated from rain to snow the past week, and this is March 1st, and we are not expecting much better weather during this month.

Dr. Whiteside of Des Arc and Dr. Whiteside of Greenville were called out to Silvey's, on Black River, to perform an operation on young Silvey for abscess, and it is reported that the young man is getting along finely.

George W. Hampton has been holding meeting in Annapolis for a few days. Parson Jenkinson has now got the floor, and it is not sure how long he will remain here in the pulpit; but, as he generally stays a week or so at a time, it is expected he will not pull out under that time.

Sam Moss had a fine horse to die last night; also it is said that David Paris had one to die the past week, and have heard of several more lately.

Grandma Elizabeth Middleton is very sick. Old age and general debility is the ailment of Sister Middleton.

Well, in reference to my good old friend in last week's REGISTER being surprised at Esquire Kitchell taking the 14th for Groundhog Day, the old Esquire has put in near about seventy years among the groundhogs and it is an old saying the above date is Groundhog Day by all old-timers. I know not who wrote the aforesaid last week, but doubt if he is as old as the old Esquire by thirty years, or ever made any moccasins out of groundhog hides, whereas the Esquire has made the wearing material, also tanned their hides for shoe strings, parboiled, cooked and eaten many of them, and has seen two groundhogs dead in the past two weeks, and both killed by Arthur Castle. And he saw another one, but let it get away, and has killed them both since the 14th day of February, 1915. He says he knows he has not much knowledge of men, but is a good judge of a female and good roads and highways.

Mike Toppings was in town to-day on business with Charles E. Bolch. He reports his mother in a helpless condition. She is eighty odd years old. Also, his baby is very sick, only two week old.

Thomas Luna and Ida Luna of Annapolis got a visitor last week; it is a boy, 11 pounds. Wife and babe are doing well, but Mr. Luna can't rest much since.

Otto Buxton and wife caught a visitor the other night. It is a girl 10 pounder. All doing well. This makes three girls for Otto Buxton and wife.

Ties are still coming in to town. It is now for grub or starve. It was only grub before. Why growl now, boys?

W. T. O'Neal was hurt seriously in a Railroad accident while switching in the yards in St. Louis. He formerly lived at Piedmont and was a son-in-law of the late Lowery Lovelace. He was removed to the Missouri Pacific Hospital. We hope he may soon recover.

Price of wheat hangs on fate of Dardanelle, outlet for Russia, the only thing to prevent rise of wheat to $2. Government experts say wheat speculators are sitting on edge of a volcano. If the strait is forced the price of all grains will drop, especially wheat. If the Turkish government forces are able to prevent the opening of the Black Sea to Russian commerce, $2 wheat will come.

Dr. N. A. Farr has bought the Telephone System here and will remove the Central to his drug store.

Weddings are getting numerous in our community.

Ben Keathley, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Keathley, who are now living in Florida, and Miss Della Semands, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Semands, were quietly married at the home of the bride on last Saturday morning. They are both among the most popular young people of our town. They left here on No. 4 Sunday for St. Louis, where they will reside, the groom having a good position there. We wish them a happy journey through life.

Oliver Douglas and Miss Ella Lewis were married Sunday morning at the home of Rev. Wm. Seals, pastor of the Nazarene Church. Only the family and a few friends being present. Rev. Seals performed the ceremony. They will make their home here with the groom's mother. We wish them much joy.

Uncle Jimmy Lewis had a sale at his farm near town last Saturday. I have not heard how the sale went, but hope he did well. Uncle Jimmy and family will leave soon for Pangburn, Ark., where his boys are in the lumber business. Uncle Jimmy will run a store in Pangburn. Dr. Price's CREAM BAKING POWDER. For sixty years Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder has been the standby of countless housekeepers who have relied upon it for healthful, home-baked food. Dr. Price's contains no alum or lime phosphate. There is never any question about the absolute purity and healthfulness of the food it raises.

Ed. Sutton has bought the Drew Lewis place of C. E. Bolch.

Mrs. Mathema Bolch returned home last Friday night from her visit to her sister at Fulton, Missouri.

George W. Collins loaded out last Saturday one car load of hickory axles and wagon tongues, inspected on the yard and not a cull left on the ground.

Little Edna Henson, the daughter of Dickey Kitchell, is now on the mend and if she doesn't get another setback will soon be up again.

Charles E. Bolch will, in the near future, shut his Handle Factory down. He cut the wages on Mr. Cox and he quit the works and will move his household goods from here this week and put them in storage at Des Arc, until he gets located again.

F. F. Farr bought a fine mule of Pete Young last week; consideration $150, so said.

Mrs. Nancy J. Lotz is home again. She has been in St. Louis the most of the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Anna Loyd.

Wm. Kitchell's two-year-old boy got hold of a bottle of Watkins Horse Liniment and drank some of it, and some poured over his breast, yesterday afternoon. He was in a critical condition for some hours, but is hoped he is better. Dr. E. E. Whiteside of Des Arc was called in to see him.

This afternoon, the 1st day of March, is beautiful, but cool for the day. A. Q. Daniels had business in Annapolis last Saturday and returned on the local.

Charles E. Bolch will make a flying trip to Ironton to-day. James Colman will accompany him.

BULLETIN.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces.
