Mr. James W. Dixon of Arcadia Saturday morning left at this office two very fine, large tomatoes. They were of the "Matchless" variety and beautiful to look upon. Mr. Dixon is a superior gardener.

The gardener says that last year, bad as it was, was more preferable for his business than the present year. Last year you could sell everything. This year every thing is so plentiful, that you can not sell anything.

The M. E. Assembly, at Arcadia, which closed Sunday night, was successful and satisfactory throughout. An immense congregation filled the tabernacle to overflowing Sunday morning to hear Bishop Hendrix.

Wilson was placed in jail here and will be turned over to the Crawford county authorities.

Mrs. Kate Hefferlin and son, Willard, of Livingston, Montana, were in Ironton last Thursday and Friday on their way home from Murphysboro, Illinois, where Mrs. Hefferlin's mother, the late Geo. W. Craine, of Pilot Knob, was buried the Saturday previous. Mrs. Hefferlin thought that Ironton had improved greatly since her last visit here ten years ago.

The Misses Edna and Irma Summa have as their guests for the summer, at "Shady Nook," their cousin, Miss Marian Doll, of St. Louis, and Miss Ruth Breyspraak, the talented young violinist of Chicago, Illinois, and Berlin, Germany. A train of 92 cars was made up in the yards here Tuesday and taken to St. Louis by one engine. Eighty-eight of the cars were loaded, the total tonnage being 3908 tons. Engine No. 1254 was used to handle the load.

Conductor Rouse and Engineer Tom Carney were in charge of the train. Trainmaster Cheatham was here and assisted in making up the train. A few years ago three or four trains would have been required to handle that number of cars.—De Soto Times.

There has been much rejoicing in Bonne Terre this week on account of the lifting of the small pox quarantine which has been in effect since June 4. Since that time up until Monday no public gathering of any kind was permitted. Bonne Terre has been hard hit industrially this year. This together with the quarantine had a disastrous effect on business. There are still a few convalescents, but no new cases have been reported lately and the situation is now well in hand.—Lead Belt News.

Mrs. F. Earl DeWeese, of Ironton, Mo., is spending the week with her mother, Mrs. Jesse Davis. Mr. and Mrs. DeWeese arrived in Chillicothe from their home in Missouri last Saturday and are here to take charge of Mrs. T. J. Blosser's (a sister of Mr. DeWeese) business, the manufacture of the Mosher Lifting Jack, in Chillicothe, during a two months' absence of Mr. and Mrs. Blosser and their son John, who left to-day for the coast, where they will spend one month; the remainder of the time will be devoted to hunting in Oregon.—Athens (Ohio) Messenger.

George W. Barber of the U. S. insect station at Charleston was over here this week. The station is making a study of the Hessian Fly and how best eradicate it, and Mr. Barber is making inspection for the work. He said one of the things he is collecting data on is the effect on the fly of disking of the stubble. The best way he said to handle the fly, where it is possible, is to burn the stubble. There is no question then as to what becomes of the fly, but the plowing under of the stubble, he said, would not likely destroy all of them.—Doniphan Prospect-News.

Other Jackson, of Annapolis, son of Thomas Jackson, had a pair of valuable horses killed by lightning last Sunday. Mr. Jackson and family were paying a visit to Riley Wallace and family on Upper Sinking Creek, six miles south of Centerville. They arrived at the Wallace home just as the rain began to fall, and hurriedly hitching the horses to a post in the yard, ran into the house. On the post to which the team was fastened was tied a clothes line, which it is said, by those present, the lightning struck, killing both horses immediately. It is also reported that another horse was killed by lightning in that vicinity the same evening, but the report is unconfirmed.—Centerville Outlook.

From the Schneiderville items in the Bismarck Gazette: "The construction of the extension of the Bellevue Valley Railroad from here to Bellevue is progressing very fast, especially owing to the hot weather. The grading is completed on the first 2 miles and will be done into Bellevue within the next ten days, as well as the bridges and culverts. We are informed that the laying of ties and rails will begin within the next ten days. The completion of the extension of this road and putting it into operation on a regular schedule from Iron Mountain to Bellevue means a great deal for the comfort and convenience of the people of Bellevue Valley and surrounding country."

The management of the Baptist Assembly, which convenes on Arcadia Heights, Tuesday, August 3d, reports everything in readiness for a record attendance which is expected. The water supply is abundant; the large reservoir and swimming pool will be filled to the brim when the Assembly opens. The 500 foot well will be operated continuously during the session. A barber shop, laundry and general store on the grounds will add to the comfort and convenience of those in attendance. The Stephens College will throw open the entire lower floor of their spacious bungalow for a reading and rest room during the Assembly. They also propose to give a high-class musical concert by skilled musicians during the session.

Among the recent guests at Dr. Hugo Summa's summer home was his nephew, Dr. Louis Schrieber, a graduate of Maryland University and the University Hospital in Baltimore. The Dr. has decided to become an assistant to his uncle with the possibility of becoming in years his uncle's partner. Dr. Schrieber is an exceedingly interesting and pleasing young man. We look to see him achieve fame and fortune in his profession.

J. W. Thompson, post-office inspector, arrived from St. Louis Thursday noon to make an investigation of the safe blowing in the Ironton post-office the Tuesday night previous. After checking up and going over the books the inspector arrived at the conclusion that the burglars had secured $1355 worth of stamps. This loss is borne by the government. The safe blowers seem to have made good their escape, as no trace whatever has been secured of them since they were seen by Linus White, leaving the post-office, immediately after the explosion. The only hope of apprehending them now is that they may be caught in trying to dispose of the stamps. But this is little more than a forlorn hope, for it is more than likely that a place to "plant" the stamps had been arranged before the robbery. Some of the officials are of the opinion that the safe-blowers made the trip to and from Ironton in an automobile, but this is only conjecture.

I regret to hear of the formation of another Missouri Baptist Assembly, second to that located in this valley. A special from Warrensburg to the St. Louis Republic last Sunday tells me that "The first meeting of the Perte Springs Baptist Assembly closed this evening with 2,000 members present. An organization of 150 Baptist churches was effected to-day, and the Perte Springs Assembly will be permanent, furnishing for the Baptists of Western Missouri an annual meeting similar to the one held yearly at Arcadia Heights." The Assembly here has been in existence five years, growing constantly in favor and attendance. Perte Springs as a church outing resort is not to be compared to the Arcadia Heights, whose towering elevation and far-reaching surroundings impress one with the infinity of the Almighty and beauty and grandeur of His works—raising the soul out of its daily rut, and possessing it with nobler aspiration. For the purpose instituted the Heights can have no rival and ought to have no competitor.

"Behold this Dismal Void," which once contained the famous speech-miracle known and recognized on the Western Circuit as "Terrapin." It was Terrapin's habit to stay in front, which well known custom "inspired" the noted Evangelist, Steve Burke, to reverentially christen the people of Arcadia Valley "Terrapin Herders." Historical research indicates that this is a direct descendant of the Terrapin who, in the Aesopian Age, won the wager by passing under the wire in front of Jack-Rabbit. But "Terrapin," notwithstanding his splendid pedigree and low record, was defeated on the track known as the "Arcadia Trail," between Ironton and Black's, by Roy Reel, who is known throughout the length and breadth of the Iron Mountain System as the most illustrious Terrapin herder of his day. The Terrapin took the record from the rabbit, but Roy indelibly registered his name as the Don Patch of his day by overtaking "Terrapin" August 1, 1908. "Terrapin" like "Hamburg Bell," died of heart failure soon after being defeated, and his dead shell was discovered in the blue grass pasture by Jess Hawkins, July 4, 1915.

I attended the Arcadia Assembly Sunday and heard a fine sermon by Bishop Hendrix. It pays one to attend these meetings, not only to hear some fine sermons, but it is a home-coming, where you meet so many old friends, besides you mingle with the people of God. Delegations were there from Des Arc and Farmington, and Jas. C. O'Neal was there from Irondale. He made a talk there Sunday evening that surprised those who heard him. He said, in part, that he had served the devil for fifty years, but now he was on the Lord's side. We are certainly glad to see him come out on the Lord's side. It will be so much help to many friends who are battling for the Lord. I did not get a chance to speak to my friend, George W. Clark, son of the late Joseph G. Clark, one of the best men who ever lived in Iron county, and who is following in his steps. If I had had the time I certainly would have called on him and his family. I went from Arcadia to Farmington in an auto with J. M. Morris and family. Took the train Monday for Charleston. Will be at Arcadia Heights if the Lord spares me. ISAAC.

Fort Hill Church.

Of course, the last two Sundays the Sunday School was held in the tabernacle on Mount Assembly. The attendance the first Sunday was 304, and the second it was 324. The offering for both Sundays was over $21.00. The Epworth League did not meet either Sunday, there being other things at the League hour. Topic for next Sunday is "The Promise of Protection." Scripture: Psalm 91.

Sunday morning Dr. M. N. Powers will preach for us and administer the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. There will be no services at night; the pastor and congregation worshipping with Dr. Powers at the M. E. Church in Ironton. Both pastors hope this arrangement will please both congregations.

Under the inspiration given by the Assembly just closed, which many think one of the best sessions thus far held, it is hoped our congregation will be very greatly increased, and that the church will push the battle to the very gate of the enemy. A "pull all together" is what we need. Will you pull forward, or are you a "balky horse"?

Des Arc Items.

We have had fine weather. Wheat threshing, where I have been, is about over. There is considerable wet wheat; some of it was put in stack damp.

I was out at Ellington last week; called at M. L. Copeland's home. He is putting in a Milwaukee Light & Water Plant. It will furnish lights and water in every room. It is the most complete plant I ever saw. He also has a new concrete cellar, which makes his home complete in every respect. His son-in-law, Mr. Geitz, has charge of the Ellington and Bunker Nazarene churches.

Ellington is building up all the time. They have some lovely homes here. I notice like Chilton, on the Mo. S. R. R., has quite a crop of sunflowers planted. Down near Charleston and Sikeston they have large fields of it.

The Mo. S. R. R. is now in fine order; her trains are making good time; the Conductor and Trainman are very accommodating fellows. Conductor Haskeworth had his two boys with him. They certainly are bright boys, and if properly trained will make fine business men. You can almost tell what is in a boy by his movements.

I was at Mill Springs Tuesday night. Attended the Christian revival meeting there. Rev. Friend is a fine preacher and he held up spell-bound with his interesting sermon. I called on my old friend, Rev. Birdwell, of Patterson. He preached for us in 1892-3. He has a lovely daughter who is a teacher in the public school at Piedmont.

I met my friend, Chas. Wayland, in the Bank of Piedmont. He looks better than I ever saw him. He is one of the best business men in Wayne county. I have known him for many years. He has a lovely home out on the Patterson road, and is in the corporation limit. I also met one of my best friends, Dr. Geo. Tony. He had just returned from St. Louis, where he took Mr. Ruble; he hopes the trip will benefit Mr. Ruble. We certainly feel sorry for him and his family.

Miss Edna Smith, from Dexter, Mo., is visiting her parents. A. M. Costner and wife, from Coldwater, spend Sunday at the Arcadia Assembly.
