NUMBER 21.

A GOLDEN JUBILEE

MISSOURI'S FIFTIETH ANNIVER-SARY GATHERING

Of Sunday School Workers to Be Held in St. Louis Nov. 16, 17 and 18.

Most fitting it is that the "Golden Jubilee" Convention of the Missouri Sunday School Association should be held in St. Louis, the city which gave it birth. This very first convention was called to order by Hon. E. O. Stanford, in the old First Methodist Episcopal Church, South, on the corner of Eighth and Washington, Oct. 24, 1866. Hon. S. R. Kellogg of St. Louis was the first president.

Twenty-five counties were represented by 63 delegates. St. Louis by 138, six other states by 27 and one from India. William Reynolds and Stephen Paxson were two of the leaders. One resolution expressed the "hope that the good work of organization will go on throughout the entire state until every county is thoroughly organized and at work."

The twenty-fifth convention was held in Sedalia in August, 1890. D. R. Wolfe was president. There were 180 delegates from 38 counties and St. Louis.

W. C. PEARCE

At the "Golden Jubilee" Convention at least 2,000 delegates are expected from a distance, with as many more from St. Louis. The president now is William H. Danforth, head of the Rawlston Furina Mills, St. Louis; vice-president, R. A. Long, the "Lumber King" of Kansas City; treasurer, L. F. Smith, head of the American Educational Society, St. Louis.

A new day has dawned in the Sunday School world. While there are many antiquated Sunday schools in Missouri, still operated according to the ideals of 50 years ago, as the workers are brought into contact with modern methods (through the more than 600 conventions and institutes held annually under the auspices of the Missouri Sunday School Association) more and more are the schools becoming real schools offering real courses in religious education.

The last three state conventions have reached a high standard, indeed, but the "Golden Jubilee" will set a new pace. The program will be intensely practical, much time being given to separate conferences, under expert instructors. No expense is being spared in providing the leading specialists of America.

JOHN H. ENGLER

Chief among these is W. C. Pearce of Chicago, international head of the "Adult Bible Class Movement," to whom is due in large measure the growth from one to 50,000 organized classes since 1907. Another leader, who will especially appeal to the 2,000 county and township officers of Missouri, is John H. Engler, for 19 years general secretary of the Kansas Association.

Additional leaders: Mrs. Antoinette A. Lamoreaux, Chicago; Walter S. Athearn, Des Moines; John L. Alexander, Chicago; Mrs. Katherine W. Eddy, Kansas City, Kan.; J. N. McDonald, Savanna, Ill.; Dr. John A. Rice and Dr. W. J. Williamson, St. Louis; Mrs. Mary Foster Bryner, Chicago; Dr. Frank G. Smith, Kansas City; Prof. J. D. Elmer, Columbia; Prof. George Platt Knox, St. Louis; G. H. Meyers, Detroit, Mich.; Dean Walter Williams, Columbia, and many others.

Any Sunday School member may attend—no credentials required. Main headquarters will be Third Baptist Church. Additional information, programs, etc., may be had of Missouri Sunday School Association, Fullerton Building, St. Louis, Mo.

From Mr. Hilburn.

LEWISVILLE, ARK., Oct. 18, 1915. Ed. Register—"A citizen army depends upon employers' attitude." So reads a black head-line in the Shreveport Times of October 17. What? Can't your Uncle Samuel have a citizen army without consulting the big employers? Certainly not. Working men are wage slaves and can't obey the call of Uncle Sam without the consent of their masters.

And the article goes on to say, "Administration officials are confident that even though it is proposed to enlist only 133,000 men a year in the continental, or a total of nearly 800,000 in the first 6-year period, more than that number will be attracted by an out-door military camp." "The army plans for more than one million trained men in six years, and the navy program of ten dread naughts and six battle cruisers within five years, both of which will be presented to Congress with the endorsement of President Wilson, were the absorbing topics of interest here to-day."

And is this the man who set aside a day to pray for peace in Europe? But to quote further: "The proposed army appropriation bill will be $182,000,000, or an increase of $72,000,000 over last year, and that of the navy is $215,000,000—an increase of $68,000,000." And there you are! And the "Muts" and "Hurly Dubs" that are expected to furnish the "long green" and the "cannon fodder," will they be consulted? Not on your tin-type.

Well, Mr. Editor, this wasn't news to your correspondent. Oh! No! I read the "Little Old Appeal to Reason" and knew several weeks ago that the jingoes were going to make an assault on the United States treasury for patriotic purposes and to buy armor plate with blow-holes in it. Will these so-called or self-styled patriots favor government made arms and munitions, although much cheaper and more honestly made? Oh, no! they are patriots for revenue only. I don't want any of my sons to join the navy. They might be placed behind that piece of armor plate into which a workman ran a wire 18 inches that is now "somewhere" in the navy. Or the gun furnished him explode.

Here is a part of an affidavit made by a workman and read in the halls of Congress by a Mr. Raney, Congressman from Illinois: "I know of a slide for a twelve-inch gun that was being machined when a blow-hole was discovered. The yoke was taken off the machine and at night the hole was filled with metal and the yoke was put back on the machine, the inspector not discovering the trick." And lots more like this; and next year we are going to invest one hundred forty millions extra in this the product of American patriots(?). F. P. HILBURN.

Wrongfully Accusing Editors.

The Prairie Eagle, edited by Frank Lee, in Mississippi County, in its last issue puts at rest a very untrue and unjust charge coming from partisan opponents. Mr. Lee's Eagle stands up to be counted and gives itself as a concrete example to prove the truth of its claim that the democratic press of the state is supporting Roach for governor because he will be an acceptable nominee. The Eagle says:

"There seems to be a sentiment prevailing among the editors of several of our Republican exchanges that in order for a Democratic newspaper to support Hon. Cornelius Roach the paper must have been one of those who got a few hundred dollars political sop in the form of constitutional amendments, and that the editors who were 'favored by Con' are returning the compliment. This is not true. We can mention numbers of Democratic papers that did not receive any of the election printing—among which is the East Prairie Eagle—that are supporting Mr. Roach because they believe that he is the proper man for the gubernatorial honors. In spite of all criticism and trifling accusations, Mr. Roach has proven himself wholly efficient as secretary and there are many, not in the 'sop' class who are supporting him, believing that he will make an acceptable governor. Since when is it necessary to attach some sinister motive to an editor when he prefers to give his support to anyone? If all the men who run for office depended upon their ability and willingness to give 'pie' and 'paw' for services rendered there would not be many who would receive the support of the average country weekly. Can not even an editor have honest convictions without being accused of being bought? Seems to us that those papers whose connection with the Republican slush fund is well known should not question the conscientious loyalty of the Democrats."

Make it a National Crusade.

One of the Chicago papers has hit upon an exposure and reform that ought to be speedily converted into a national crusade. It is entitled "Useless Laws Driving Us to Lawlessness." It deals with the appalling increase in arrests in American cities, and also rural communities, due to statute and ordinances that are the result of reformed-crazed people.

We boast of being a free people, self-governed and all that, yet we make more interference with the liberties of the people than any other country on earth, and we have a record of more arrests and more men who have been compelled to look through the steel bars of jails. And we endure it without protest. Most of the laws under which these appalling arrests are made are the fountains of half-diseased brains, men and women crazy with the idea of making others conform to their standards of morals or even living. We see legislation after legislation piling on these useless laws, and most of us have become so cowardly that we are afraid to protest—some for fear of being called unprogressive if we do not fall into line with each new theory of the social reformers.

Those who by reason of balanced brains ought to be influential at the polls are apathetic, disgusted with the whole "game" or merely cowardly—and often they do not want their money making processes interfered with—and so it is that we have our statutes clogged with laws that do not represent public sentiment or opinion, laws that make criminals of thousands of Americans and put on them the stain of arrest and imprisonment.—Evening Times, Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Rev. John Adrian Will Found New Catholic Parish.

(The St. Louis Globe-Democrat.) Archbishop Glennon announced Sunday the appointment of Rev. John Adrian of Arcadia, Mo., to organize a new Catholic parish at Jennings. Coincident with this is the announcement of the gift of a farm at Jennings to Rev. P. J. Dunne's Newsboys' Home and Protectorate, for his small boys with agricultural tastes.

Father Adrian is known as the "priest-farmer." His "model farm" on the grounds of the Arcadia Academy of the Ursuline nuns in Arcadia was carried on such scientific principles and with such excellent results, even in the dry seasons, that it attracted high commendation from state agricultural officials. His "model farm" has been written up several times in newspapers and periodicals.

Father Adrian's "farmers" were the workmen necessary in the academy building for the furnace and other winter work. In the summer they were idle, and he turned their talents "back to the soil." His corn, his beans, his methods of renewing the soil, all have been much noticed.

A wider field for a "model farm" is given in the new farm. It is the gift of Mrs. Hannah Duryea of Jennings, who herself will reside by the side of the newsboys. The tract contains fifteen acres and lies on Jennings road and Florissant avenue, in front of the station. Mrs. Duryea was the possessor of twenty-five acres. She kept ten acres and her home and gave away fifteen acres. No house exists on the new farm.

The first purpose in sending Father Adrian to Jennings, the archbishop said, is to found a new parish. His second duty will be to care for the newsboys who live on the farm. About twenty-five of these youths will be on hand before the winter is over. Father Dunne does not intend to force any boy to live on the farm. He will send only those who show a preference for that kind of life, and those who wish to sell papers, run the printing press and perform other work of the city will remain at Washington and Garrison avenues. Father Dunne just now has 135 boys in the home and protectorate. It is pretty well filled.

HOME STARTED TEN YEARS AGO. It will be ten years, February 6, since Father Dunne picked up the first newsboy, Fleming, whose portrait, a man grown, hangs on the walls of the home. The institution grew from small beginnings, until now its substantial brick building and beautiful little chapel are the pride of the inmates.

By Father Adrian's counsel, the boys have already plowed the farm and planted it in rye. This is done to enrich the soil, as they wisely tell the uninitiated, and they can hardly wait till winter is over and the ground is ready for "the man and the hoe."

Rev. H. Krankemeier of Kirkwood has been appointed to succeed Father Adrian at Arcadia.

This mineral itself is by no means plentiful, but known deposits are sufficient to make aluminum an important competitor of certain metals, such as copper and tin, in a good many lines of work.

Already aluminum has displaced steel in certain classes of construction where strength is required in combination with extreme lightness, such as in the manufacture of flying machines. An alloy known as duralumin, containing about 95 per cent of aluminum, is claimed to have qualities as good as those of good Bessemer steel, although it is only one-third as heavy. This alloy possesses great hardness when annealed, and its melting point is above 1,200 degrees F. The great future of aluminum lies in the perfection of a process whereby it can be commercially extracted from the unlimited deposits of alumina-rich clays and rocks, which exist in all of the world. The day which shall yield really cheap aluminum holds out boundless possibilities. The chemist or investigator who can devise the needed process of extraction will not be forgotten by succeeding generations.
