

Methodist Mention

Sunday School attendance, 112. Offering, $3.45. Let every body go to Sunday School Sunday. It is world's temperance Sunday. The subject is "Daniel in the King's Court."

Des Arc Items.

We are having the driest fall for many years past. Forest fires are burning the acorns, but it has been a great time to gather corn and farmers are busy gathering it. I never before saw so much corn as is being shipped from lower southeast Missouri.

Wm. Stevenson has bought D. F. Stevenson's store at Taskee. Bud Stevenson and brothers will operate two saw mills; they are loaded down with orders.

The tie business is improving. They are paying 40 cents cash at Des Arc; 42 cents at Bismarck; 45 cents at Postol.

Frank Copeley has traded his Gads Hill property for St. Louis property and has moved to St. Louis to live.

The work train is still stopping here working about forty men.

The meat and flour market is very unsettled—up one week and down another.

I wish to correct an error in which I stated last week that C. S. Fitz was paying $15 for red oak; it was white oak instead.

Some new concrete walks are being laid which are a great improvement to our town. On Main street the walks are now made as far south as the Methodist church, and on the east side the walks lead to the Baptist church.

While Hon. O. L. Munger of Piedmont attempted to board a train here Friday night his foot slipped and he fell, receiving quite serious injuries. He was not able to go to Piedmont until the following day.

Mrs. G. W. Wallis is seriously ill with pneumonia. Her daughters, Mrs. Leo Strayer, Mrs. John Lovelace and Mrs. Jas. Lovelace, have been called home to help care for her.

Mrs. T. P. Fitz is home from a visit with relatives in Eldorado, Ill., Farmington, De Soto and St. Louis.

Wm. Stevenson, wife and little son, Woodrow, were visitors at Taskee last week.

J. W. Cooper and wife went to Piedmont last week to visit their son.

John Howard went to Ironton one day last week.

Mrs. John Reed was an Ironton visitor last week.

Glen Harrison and family spent Sunday with relatives at Piedmont.

Gilbert Wallis went to Poplar Bluff Saturday.

Miss Ora Lovelace has gone to Fredericktown to assist Rev. Mason and wife in a meeting.

Mrs. Turner from De Soto spent Sunday here with her husband, who is conductor on the work train.

Miss Maude Fitz is visiting her sister, Mrs. G. W. Morris, at Farmington.

The revival at the Baptist church closed Sunday night. Rev. O. L. Taylor preached some powerful sermons and great good resulted. The house was crowded Sunday night and many went away, not being able to obtain seats.

Rev. Geo. Brown, the M. E. minister, will preach next Sunday.

Annapolis News.

We had a fine shower Sunday night and looks like more to come.

Sam Moss moved out to Sandors' saw mill, on Black river, Sunday.

Chester M. Stevenson of Ironton was in Annapolis Saturday with a couple of landseers, James Maxwell of Illinois, and J. E. Davis, of Hannibal, Mo. They went out to Leatherwood, in Madison county, and contracted for one farm, and have located another one in Iron county that one of them may purchase. We hope to see them become citizens.

Charley Brewer and Elsie Sutton of Annapolis were united in marriage a half hour after noon, Sunday, November 7th, 1915, Squire Kitchell officiating.

Gus Funk and son of Annapolis had four mules and a mare, valued at $600, killed by an Iron Mountain train at a bridge, near Cleo Collins' farm, north of Sabula, one day last week. The railroad fence, washed away by the August freshet, had not been replaced.

Henry Lewis of Hampton Branch and Mrs. Amnden of near Brunot were united in marriage Sunday, Rev. Joseph Alcorn officiating.

We have a bridge across Big Creek on the Annapolis and Bedford road. It is only a temporary bridge, though, and the first little rise in the creek the bridge will go to New Orleans or some other port below.

Chas. E. Bolch had about two acres of fine turnips destroyed by cattle the past two weeks. Pretty tough.

Mrs. Fannie Colton of Annapolis and her daughter, Abbie, of Arcadia, went to Flat River last week to attend the funeral of Deans Kinney, son of Frank Kinney, who recently died in Arizona, where he had gone for his health.

Wm. (Skip) Lewis, who left here several months ago for Arizona, but is now located at Jadsola, Arkansas, was a visitor to Annapolis and his old home on Bear Branch last Friday, and got his old coon dog, crated him and shipped him to Arkansas to go on a possum hunt. His wife is in Arizona, he says he likes the country fine, but the high altitude did not agree with him. He said the hills were the highest he ever saw; could see the tabernacle in Utah, 160 miles away. He is thinking of making his home at Piedmont again in the near future.

We had quite a nice little show here last week and Campbell's tent show is billed for the 15th.

Kelly Bros. have their saw mill, on Sulphur Creek, near Minimum, running full blast.

Wm. Campbell, who is floating ties on Black river for the Moss Tie Company, is in town to-day.

Jeff Jackson, of Des Arc, was in town to-day. He used to live here and a mighty good citizen he was.

Illnesses making about over.

While in Ironton last Tuesday I had dinner with my old friend, J. M. Hawkins.

Some fire on the railroad right-of-way was communicated to Bro. John Seal's pasture last Friday, but was extinguished before any great damage resulted.

W. H. Dean had business in Des Arc and Ironton last week.

Wade Hampton was here last Wednesday on his way home, near Bunker. He found no work in the Flat River country to suit.
