BOXERS ARE BELLIGERENT COMING TO THE THEATERS.

Jack Daly Matched to Fight Ned McConnell to a Finish.

Young Parsons Knocks Out the Black Diamond in a Private Go in South Washington.

Young Parsons, the east end boxer, took part in a lively scrap with a colored antagonist, who is known as the Black Diamond, on Thursday night. The affair took place in private, in the south end part of town, there being a dozen or so of the acquaintances of the fighters present.

The bout was continued until the sixth round, when Parsons hit the Diamond a clip on the jaw that laid him low and ended proceedings. Parsons, the young man who is matched to fight Jimmy Davis at Riverside next month.

Manager La Fontaine, of the Fureka Club, received a dispatch from Johnny Glynn, at Baltimore, last night. Glynn is out on parole from the State Penitentiary, and is expected to return to the city on Monday. Parsons is expected to fight Glynn on Monday night.

Jack Daly has been matched to fight Ned McConnell, of Wilmington, to a finish on the 24th inst. under the auspices of the Philadelphia Athletic Club. The fight will take place on the 11th of next month at Wilmington. Daly will then come to Washington, having agreed to box Jimmy Lynch on the 15th of next month. Lynch is the young man who fought Jimmy Griffin a couple of years ago at Coney Island. He is a very clever pugilist.

Mr. John J. Lusky denies the assertion that he is going to leave the city to go into the dredging business, and asks that the following card be inserted: Sporting Editor Times: In your evening issue of the 24th inst. under the heading of "Notes About Boxers," you state that "Lusky, the athlete, who traveled with Milson and his combination at one time, will shortly leave with James Green for the oyster beds, where the pair will engage in dredging." I am not engaged in the dredging business, and never have been. I am sorry to hear that you have made this correction in justice to myself. Respectfully, JOHN J. LUSKY.

Sam Kelly, of this city, beat John Murphy, of Baltimore, in a six round go in the latter city last night.

HILL, NYE AND BERT POOLE. These Two Celebrated Humorsmen Will "Expose Farming" to-night.

If you would enjoy an evening of rare pleasure filled with merriment that you recall with pleasure, recollect the many days to come you must not miss hearing and seeing Bill Nye, America's great humorist, and Bert Poole, the famous cartoonist, in their combined entertainment, entitled "Farming Exposed," at Metropolitan Hall to-night.

A large advance sale of seats indicates that people know and appreciate a good thing when it is presented to them. It is almost universally the case that a large number of people have attended the entertainment room to attend Bill Nye's entertainments. There are yet, however, good seats obtainable, but they should be procured soon.

$1.25 to Baltimore and Return via Pennsylvania Railroad. Saturday and Sunday, October 26 and 27, good returning until Monday, the 28th. Rate, $1.25, good on any train.

A good, careful look through the big stock of children's apparel in our children's clothing department will teach you a whole lot.

It'll show you what a carefully selected, well-chosen, well-bought stock means. A lesson in style and good taste, and a lesson in economy, too.

- All-wool cheviot and cashmere suits, double and single breasted - fancy and plain collars - $8.50, $5.00. From that to $2.50, $3. $2.50. Reefers suits, double and single breasted - fancy and plain collars - $8.50, $5.00. Boys' long pants suits, double and single breasted, cassimeres, chevrons and worsteds. $5.00 UP.

Children's Overcoats, neat, stylish, made and perfectly made - $3.00, $3.50 up to $10.

Washington to Be Cleaned of all Forms of Gambling.

TEST CASE OF KURNITZI

History of the Attempt From Time to Time to Hit the Various Evils—Opposition in the Senate Finally Overcome in Part and Remedial Legislation Enacted.

The arrest yesterday of Koppell Kurnitzi, who has for several years operated a stock and grain broker's office on F street, on a check and "credit" system, is the District against gambling, is the beginning of a mighty effort to rid the city entirely of all forms of gambling. This will probably involve additional legislation by Congress, and the removal of some of the plague spots which the Times has been so actively engaged for a year.

With Washington's constantly changing population, there are many who are not familiar with the names of five or six years ago. But it does not take long memory to recall the time when there was a regular business of pool rooms and other forms of gambling, which were located on Seventh street, just outside the city limits.

They drew much custom from Department clerks, letting them become so general that soon after 4 o'clock a regular line of hacks, cabs and other vehicles started toward the resort, to say nothing of the street cars, which were crowded with gamblers. Sunday came, with the big day of the week in the den, with all forms of gambling, including roulette, craps, and other games.

Finally the crowd became so bold and careless that they gathered in the rear of the little brick chapel, and with their hands on the windows, they watched the school and other services. This aroused the indignation of the attendants upon the premises, and a crusade was begun against the gamblers.

Christian sentiment was awakened all over Washington and a great petition, in the name of the city, was presented to the House of Representatives, asking for a law to break up the iniquitous practices and places.

HIS BOLD ANNOUNCEMENT. The jockey club had just then bought over 600 acres near Benning and laid out a mile track. Senator Blackburn in the demand of the petition, which was presented to the House, was to pass the Senate that day, and would have killed the Benning enterprise dead as it now is.

The racing season at Kentucky said it could not be held in this city. Already the long session of the Fifty-first Congress was drawing to a close. If anything was to be done, it must be done in a hurry.

The promoters of the legislation were not disposed to attack the Jockey Club especially, but they were financially interested in it. It was only out to break up the racing season, and to do this they had to attack the Jockey Club.

Mr. William Wagner, who just missed winning the first prize in the great championship shooting tournament, yesterday, is receiving the congratulations of his many friends in and outside of the Capital City Club.

Mr. Wagner was the champion of the tournament, and he was the only one who was not killed by the bullet. He was the only one who was not killed by the bullet.

Mr. Wagner is an old-timer at the shooting business, and is pronounced by those who know him to be an enthusiastic sportsman. He is a native of Baltimore, and he has been in the city for many years.

GRIMES WON ON THE SQUARE

Emphatic Denial That He Was Faced in the Road Race.

The Charges Characterized as But One of Many Dilatory Proceedings in Settling the Controversy.

The statement made exclusively in The Times yesterday that charges had been made that Grimes was the winner of the Dupont Cycle Club's road race on Monday, had been guilty of foul riding, was freely discussed among bicycle riders generally last evening.

The general opinion seemed to be that the charge against Grimes was inspired by jealousy more than anything else, and that it would not be made good. In fact, this view of the matter was taken by members of the committee who have the investigation in charge.

In taking the matter over yesterday in the presence of The Times reporter, a young man whose name has been prominently mentioned in connection with Monday's affair declared that he could stop Grimes from getting first prize if he wanted to. He was told by a member of the committee that they were using the station as an assertion, but the young man showed no disposition to do so.

As to the "maroon tandem" matter, Mr. Charles O'Neil writing in The Times says: "The charge is unwarranted and absolutely without foundation in fact, and appears to be a mere attempt to get out of the dilatory proceedings that have characterized the conduct of this race."

The tandem in question was ridden to a finish by two men, one of whom was the winner of the race. The tandem was ridden to a finish by two men, one of whom was the winner of the race.

Another new cycling organization has been gotten up by young colored men. It is called the Tassie Cycle Club, and has headquarters on a street, between Sixth and Seventh. The thirty members all bought wheels at one time the other day from one agent here. Clarence Gray is the captain and manager of the club.

A novel scheme to get wheelmen easy terms has been adopted by a number of ladies and gentlemen in this city. They have organized a fifty persons to go into the movement, thirty of them having already joined it. When the fifty names have been obtained each person will have a bicycle, and a year's insurance on the wheel.

The Potomac Wheelmen have arranged for a run to Baltimore to-morrow. They will start from their clubhouse about sunrise. A large number of the members will be in the party and a good time is anticipated.

P. J. Berio, with his quintuplet and ten of the fastest bicycle riders in the country, left Westboro, Mass., yesterday, for the South and West, to make trials for all-wheelers in New York. It was to be the professional tandem, one mile flying, paced.

Charlie Coulter rode the former in 1:09.25, against Johnson's 1:11.45 of the last year, and against the record of 1:09.25 to 1:20. Time by thirds: 2:34 1-5, 1:09.25; tandem, 1:35.5, 1:12, 1:30.

Tom Cooper won the third mile, open class B event at Salt Lake City yesterday. He was followed by Murphy. Bold won the mile open event.

John A. Johnson has challenged Michael, the famous Welsh champion, who has been beating everything in Europe, for three match races for $1,000 a side and the championship of the world.

Many have been inquiring within the past day or two as to what had become of the much-talked-about relay race between this city and New York. It was to have been run, according to the original intention, long before this, and the race has been abandoned. This idea is an erroneous one.

It has been impossible for Capt. Wargin and Lieut. Libby of the Military Corps, who have the race in hand, to arrange matters as yet by which the race can be undertaken with as great a chance for success as they desire, but it has now been definitely settled that it will take place between the 5th and 15th of next month.

The men who will take part in it, about twenty in all, will not be named, however, until a day or two before the start, as new material is being regularly recruited by the corps, and some of it will be used in the coming event, along with the best old material.
