

230,108 was the TIMES' circulation for last week.
The STAR's circulation 187,520 for last week was . . .

The Times

EXCLUSIVE all-day service of the United Press, the New England Associated Press, the Southern Associated Press, the New York State Associated Press, supplemented by the exclusive right to publish in Washington the New York Herald copy-right Cable Service.

VOL. 1. NO. 118. WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 19, 1895. ONE CENT.

WAS A MULTI-MURDERER

Hayward Murdered Three Before Meeting His Last Victim.

HE LIKED THE EXCITEMENT

First Killed a Chinaman Who Cheated at Cards—Next Shot a Likely Girl. Played the Noble Racket With Kate Gling—Gambling Was the Vice That Led to His Downfall.

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 18.—Harry Hayward's confession, dictated to a stenographer the night before his execution, contains the confession of the Gling murder and also the startling information that he committed three murders before that crime.

Hayward stated in his confession that he never got into trouble until he began to gamble. This led him to form the acquaintance of counterfeiter, with whom he associated for some time, but he never spent much of the green goods; it was too risky.

"The first murder I committed," he says, "was in San Francisco, in the latter part of 1893. I was playing with a Chinaman for small stakes, and the Chinaman was cheating me. I jumped up and told him that I had found out, and he came at me with a knife. I pulled the heavy chair from under me, but I could not get a good swing to strike him, so I picked the leg at him and struck him in the face.

"He fell, and I punched the leg into his eye, and it crashed right into the skull and he lay still. After that I dug a hole in the place under the floor in the shed, broke up the chair, and laid it with the body there. I never heard any trouble from it, although the papers made a report of the finding of the body.

"After beginning, I rather liked the excitement. Then luck followed me, and I went from there to Pasadena. I had formed the acquaintance of a likely girl, a regular adventuress. I was a little pressed for money, and the girl had saved $500. I asked her for it, but I could not get the cash except by pretending I had an investment for her that was a money maker. She turned over the money and I took her to ride, and she and I went to the city. She was not very well known and was never missed. I never heard of that matter from that day to this.

"The last trouble before this was at El Paso del Norte. I was mixed up with a girl there and we used to paint things in a white. One time the man who had caught us together in my room, and had us dead to rights. He was crazy, and came at me with a knife. I tried to beat him with a chair, and the girl cried to me to shoot him or he would kill me, and she would be found out.

"I fired at him, and struck him in the shoulder, and I dropped the knife and the girl jumped out of the bed and picked him up. He was quiet enough after that, and I went to work. He had his wound dressed. He made up a story of how it happened to ward off suspicion. I promised to marry the girl and all was well for a time. She had a brother and learned afterward that he died from blood poisoning from the wound.

"I was introduced to Kate Gling in January, 1894. That was at a time when I had been suffering pretty heavy losses. It was about April before I was really acquainted with her, and then I set out to get her money. I secured about $1,000 from her. It was right about my playing the bank with her for a partner, and that Chicago business that I got into. I was not very well known, and I never took any notes, nor gave any to a time when we fixed up the last scheme. I hypnotized her, and played her right.

"She was a good business woman, but she was not highly educated, and yet wanted to pretend that she understood things readily. In that way I could work on her through mystery. Morally, with Kate Gling, there was absolutely nothing wrong. I was honestly talking to her, and she would explain to me, I played the noble racket with her, and she said that, even though I was a wild devil, I would do her a wrong for the world. I was playing her for other purposes, you see.

"The confession then relates that Hayward had the mill at Hamill burned and that he collected the insurance. He proposed to Ady to help him murder Miss Gling, but dropped him because he was too white-washed. Then followed the details of the murder, while I talked and pretended to her, she told her counterfeiter money could be secured. These drives were taken on the Saturday and Sunday nights preceding the murder. Miss Gling, while the counterfeiter on each occasion and meeting Hayward near the West Hotel.

STEAMER SPREE AGROUND

Went Ashore on Isle of Wight Coast Passengers Safe.

London, Dec. 18.—The steamer Spree, of the North German Lloyd, went ashore on Warden Ledge, on the northeast coast of the Isle of Wight, at 2:10 o'clock this morning.

All passengers and mails have been taken off. At the height of the afternoon flood three tug-boats tried to tow the Spree off, but they were not successful. With the aid on the rocks inside the ledge and in a position sheltered from high winds and heavy seas.

CUSHING HAS ARRIVED

Torpedo Boat Makes Successful Trip From Brooklyn.

BY THE INSIDE PASSAGE

Ice Was Encountered in the Raritan Canal, but Sailed—No Hindrance. Lieut. Smith Is Pleased With the Experiment—Her Boilers to Be Re-paired While in Winter Quarters.

A small group of men stood on the dock at the Navy Yard this morning and gazed intently at a long stream of dark smoke hanging over the water way down the Potomac.

They were soon able to distinguish the black hull of the United States torpedo boat, Cushing, and within a quarter of an hour, at 10:50 o'clock, the doughty warrior had arrived at the dock.

Commander Leuze of the navy yard stood on the corner of the dock and waved his handkerchief to the Cushing's commander as a signal to have her enter the boat-house slip, and the other members of the group raised their heads to show their enthusiasm at the boat's arrival.

The Cushing looked very trim and neat as she steamed leisurely around the bend in the channel above the dock, and slowed up at the dock.

"Throw out the line," commanded Lieut. Smith, and the Cushing turned a sharp angle and brought herself up at the dock right family. As soon as the boat was tied up to the dock the hands busied themselves with putting things to rights on the deck. The Cushing's crew exchanged cordial greetings with Commander Leuze, and then went below to prepare for going ashore.

"You have a successful trip through the inside passage?" a Times reporter asked him.

"Yes, entirely so," replied the lieutenant. "This is not the first time we have made the inside passage, however, as some people, according to the newspapers, seem to think. Last year we went clear down to Florida by the inside passage. This last trip was no more successful than that last year, and no less so."

SHALL THIS ISSUE BE FORGOTTEN?

SENATE NOT IN A HURRY

Venezuelan Commission Bill Will Not Be Rushed Through.

CHANGES WILL BE MADE

Senator Sherman Favors Amending and Limiting It—Mr. Allen Wants Congress to Have the Power to Appoint the Commission—Mr. Voorhees Was Warlike in His Words.

The death of Capt. Bassett, the aged assistant doorkeeper of the Senate, was the theme of the chaplain's opening prayer to-day.

"We come before Thee," he said, "with bowed heads and sorrowful hearts, as the grave opens to receive all that was mortal of the late venerable doorkeeper of the Senate, who, through more than three score years has served this body with stainless honor and unshaken integrity."

"As we review his long career, his decorum, discretion, fidelity to every trust, his modest gentleness, his firmness and incorruptibility, we think Thee for those elements of character not peculiar to him, but the traits of so many of our fellow-citizens born and bred under the auspices and influence of American life."

Mr. Sherman of Ohio moved that the bill be referred to the committee on Foreign Relations, but as his attention was called to the fact that the present chairman of that committee, Mr. Morgan, was not in the chamber he withdrew the motion temporarily.

THE HOLIDAY RECESS.

Mr. Cockrell, chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, reported back favorably on the concurrent resolution for the holiday recess from Friday, December 20, until Friday, January 3.

Mr. Chandler objected to the present consideration of the concurrent resolutions; he would introduce a bill providing for an increase of the navy, and it was referred to the committee on Naval Affairs. He said that his previous proposal was of the like bill of last year, but that it provided for a much larger increase of the navy. It was an important subject, and he asked that the committee give it immediate attention.

WILL PLACIDLY PROCEED

British Papers Say Salisbury Won't Mind Cleveland.

AGAINST ANY OTHER POWER

Up to the Schomburgk Line England Will Hold—May Agree to Arbitration With Venezuela in the Territory Beyond—Canadians Doing a Great Deal of Blowing.

London, Dec. 18.—The Manchester Guardian claims to have knowledge that the foreign office will placidly proceed without regard to President Cleveland's message, and the demand for indemnity for the arrest of members of the British colonial police will be steadily pressed upon Venezuela.

LAMBERT HANGED AT LAST.

His Lawyers Managed to Cheat the Gallows for Two Years.

Camden, N. J., Dec. 18.—Lambert was hanged at 10:13 o'clock.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

The Westminister Gazette continues discussion of the Venezuelan controversy in the light of the connection of the United States with the case.

NO PARDON FOR BARDSELY.

Philadelphia's Defaulting City Treasurer Must Serve His Sentence.

Harrisburg, Dec. 18.—Ex-City Treasurer John Bardseley of Philadelphia must serve his sentence of fifteen months in the penitentiary for his early release from prison.

MURDER FOR THIRTY CENTS.

Son Shot Instead of Father by the Latter's Wife.

Mount Vernon, Ohio, Dec. 18.—At the hamlet of Bradon, five miles south of this city, yesterday afternoon Douglas Bricher shot at his nephew, Postmaster Jesse Hartsock.

OPPOSED OF THE PLAN

His Influence With Col. Ludlow, the Military Member of the Commission. Attacks on the Record of the Former Engineer Commissioner of the District—Reply Being Prepared.

An interesting story has been going the rounds of the diplomatic corps apropos of the Bayard impeachment talk.

CHARGED IT TO BAYARD

Incited the Adverse Report on the Nicaraguan Canal.

Mr. Bayard has long been recognized as an opponent of the Nicaraguan Canal. A surety, their property had been destroyed at Harpoon and Marsh, in the former case to the extent of $100,000.

THE PLAN WAS TO RAISE VESSELS BY MEANS OF huge derricks, placing them on cars, and thus transport them by rail from ocean to ocean. It is reported that Mr. Windom, then in the Senate, and Mr. Bayard together to see the model, at a time when the diplomat who is the authority for this story was present.

THE AUTHOR OF THE PLAN.

He conceived the idea of it, drew the plans on which the present cut was made, and is at present chief engineer of the Nicaragua Canal project. It was in virtue of this latter position that the President appointed him to the position of chief of the canal project.

DIES WHILE TALKING WITH FRIENDS.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 18.—Anton Griesdeck, aged 68, founder of the National Brewery of this city, died suddenly last night at Liederkrantz hall while conversing with friends. Mr. Griesdeck was one of the wealthiest and most respected citizens of St. Louis.

FIRST BARON KNIGHTLEY DEAD.

London, Dec. 18.—Raimond Knightley, first Baron Knightley, died at his seat, Laxey Park, Darnley, Northamptonshire, this morning. He was born in 1818, and created a peer in 1892.

FALLING DOWNSTAIRS CAUSED DEATH.

Hennepin, O. T., Dec. 18.—Mrs. Jane Allison, aged fifty-six, of Captontown, died yesterday, the result of injuries sustained by falling downstairs three months ago. For eight years she has received the reservation doing missionary work among the Cheyenne Indians, under the auspices of the American Mission Society.

DECLARED TO BE DISTRACTED.

Chicago, Dec. 18.—James W. Oakley, the wealthy tanner, was declared to be a distracted person by a jury in the probate court yesterday. The verdict was returned after a hearing on a petition filed by his daughter, Mrs. Knley.

NO NEW YACHT TO BE BUILT.

London, Dec. 18.—Mr. George L. Watson has informed the yacht world that the Henderson of Glasgow has received an order for a yacht designed by him to compete for the America's cup entirely unaffiliated.

ARCHBISHOP KENRICK BETTER.

St. Louis, Dec. 18.—The condition of Archbishop Kenrick is slightly improved today. He slept nearly all of last night, and this morning partook of a light breakfast.

Dr. Gregory visited him at 9 o'clock on Monday as to the outcome of his venerable patient's illness.

CONGRESS HAS IT

Armenian Correspondence Sent By the President.

The President today transmitted to Congress a communication from Secretary Olney in response to the resolution of the Senate.

SHORT MESSAGE WITH IT

President Cleveland's Letter Contains no Recommendation.

Secretary Olney states that the cessation of massacres and hostilities against Christians is more apparent than real—He sees little in present situation to cause abatement of anxiety unless United Action of the Great Powers Can Be Taken—Minister Terrell's Acts Commended and Supported by the Administration—Measures for the Protection of the Missionaries.

TURKEY IS NOT TRUSTED

The President today transmitted to Congress a communication from Secretary Olney in response to the resolution of the Senate.

Secretary Olney states that the number of citizens of the United States resident in the Turkish empire is not accurately known, but there are 172 American missionaries and dependents scattered over Asia Minor.

There are also a number of American citizens engaged in business in the Turkish dominions and others originally Turkish subjects, but now naturalized citizens of the United States. The Turkish government element is to be found remote from our few consular establishments.

He bears testimony to the energy and promptness displayed by our minister, Mr. Terrell, in taking measures for their protection, which had received the moral support of naval vessels of the United States. He adds that while the physical safety of the United States citizens seemed to be assured, their property had been destroyed at Harpoon and Marsh, in the former case to the extent of $100,000.

THE CASE OF GEORGE WEBBER.

The case of George Webber, a naturalized citizen of the United States, born in Bavaria, is referred to as deserving attention. He, an old man of seventy, was captured in the Straits of Konia and transported to the distance of 1,000 miles on a rough cart to Broussa, and thrown into prison, where he died during the night, without medical attendance from the result of his rough treatment.

THE AUTHOR OF THE PLAN.

He conceived the idea of it, drew the plans on which the present cut was made, and is at present chief engineer of the Nicaragua Canal project. It was in virtue of this latter position that the President appointed him to the position of chief of the canal project.

THE AUTHOR OF THE PLAN.

He conceived the idea of it, drew the plans on which the present cut was made, and is at present chief engineer of the Nicaragua Canal project. It was in virtue of this latter position that the President appointed him to the position of chief of the canal project.

THE AUTHOR OF THE PLAN.

He conceived the idea of it, drew the plans on which the present cut was made, and is at present chief engineer of the Nicaragua Canal project. It was in virtue of this latter position that the President appointed him to the position of chief of the canal project.

CONGRESS HAS IT

Armenian Correspondence Sent By the President.

The President today transmitted to Congress a communication from Secretary Olney in response to the resolution of the Senate.

SHORT MESSAGE WITH IT

President Cleveland's Letter Contains no Recommendation.

Secretary Olney states that the cessation of massacres and hostilities against Christians is more apparent than real—He sees little in present situation to cause abatement of anxiety unless United Action of the Great Powers Can Be Taken—Minister Terrell's Acts Commended and Supported by the Administration—Measures for the Protection of the Missionaries.

TURKEY IS NOT TRUSTED

The President today transmitted to Congress a communication from Secretary Olney in response to the resolution of the Senate.

Secretary Olney states that the number of citizens of the United States resident in the Turkish empire is not accurately known, but there are 172 American missionaries and dependents scattered over Asia Minor.

There are also a number of American citizens engaged in business in the Turkish dominions and others originally Turkish subjects, but now naturalized citizens of the United States. The Turkish government element is to be found remote from our few consular establishments.

He bears testimony to the energy and promptness displayed by our minister, Mr. Terrell, in taking measures for their protection, which had received the moral support of naval vessels of the United States. He adds that while the physical safety of the United States citizens seemed to be assured, their property had been destroyed at Harpoon and Marsh, in the former case to the extent of $100,000.

THE CASE OF GEORGE WEBBER.

The case of George Webber, a naturalized citizen of the United States, born in Bavaria, is referred to as deserving attention. He, an old man of seventy, was captured in the Straits of Konia and transported to the distance of 1,000 miles on a rough cart to Broussa, and thrown into prison, where he died during the night, without medical attendance from the result of his rough treatment.

THE AUTHOR OF THE PLAN.

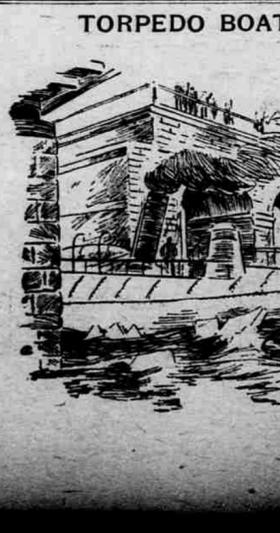

He conceived the idea of it, drew the plans on which the present cut was made, and is at present chief engineer of the Nicaragua Canal project. It was in virtue of this latter position that the President appointed him to the position of chief of the canal project.

THE AUTHOR OF THE PLAN.

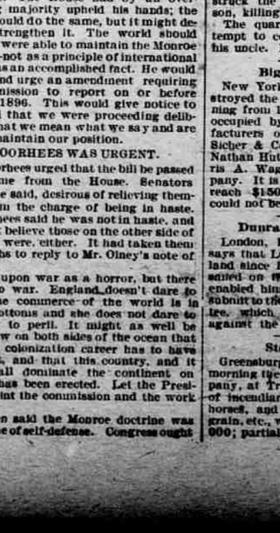

He conceived the idea of it, drew the plans on which the present cut was made, and is at present chief engineer of the Nicaragua Canal project. It was in virtue of this latter position that the President appointed him to the position of chief of the canal project.

THE AUTHOR OF THE PLAN.

He conceived the idea of it, drew the plans on which the present cut was made, and is at present chief engineer of the Nicaragua Canal project. It was in virtue of this latter position that the President appointed him to the position of chief of the canal project.

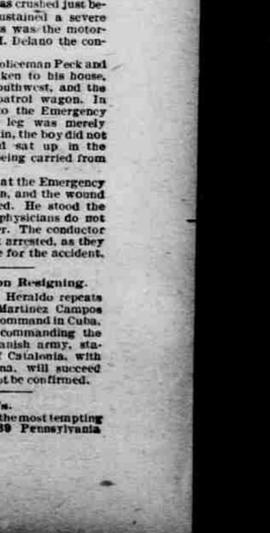

TORPEDO BOAT CUSHING.

RESOLUTIONS.

CONGRESS HAS IT.

TURKEY IS NOT TRUSTED.