It was a lively gale that blew last night, and many unfortunates rode into police court this morning.

Mr. Gilson of Fairfax county, said he came here about three months ago and asked us to find his daughter Maggie. He went back home. We looked around, and a short time ago found her living in a house of ill-fame under the name of Nellie Green.

HABBAS CORPUS GRANTED

Writ Obtained in the Case Against Engineer Stephens.

The B. & O. Company Proposes to Make a Test Case in the Higher Court.

Attorney George E. Hamilton of counsel for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company applied for and obtained a writ of habeas corpus this morning in Justice Cole's court, in the case of Isaiah Stephens, a railway engineer, who was tried in police court yesterday and convicted of a violation of the city ordinances.

The charge was that the engineer ran a train over the crossing at Fourth and J streets northeast without the presence of a watchman, and without the signal, as required by law. The case is identical with that of Engineer W. T. Smith, as to the facts alleged, in whose case proceedings under a similar writ are pending in the same court.

The petition alleges that the act of the assembly under which the arrest was made is unconstitutional, that the provisions are inconsistent with more recent legislation and with police regulations made by the Commissioners, and therefore impossible of enforcement, and that conviction and imprisonment in the case were based upon a law which has no longer any binding force or effect.

The writ was issued, returnable forthwith, and Stephens was recognized to appear in court on Saturday next.

CARLISLE SCORED.

Stanford University Man Gives His Opinion of the Endless Chain.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 31.—Prof. E. A. Ross of Leland Stanford University, who is attending the meeting of the American Economic Association, discussed Secretary Carlisle's "endless chain" yesterday, and in the course of his talk said:

"The endless chain argument is a deceptive fallacy by which it is sought to stampede the people still further away from the control of their finances.

"To the capitalist, more and more eager for the profitable employment of capital, the greenbacks seem to occupy a place in our currency, which, if surrendered to bank notes, would mean fat profits for the capitalist of a new form of banking corporations.

"The money now raised against greenbacks comes from the same source as the demand a short time ago for State bank notes, or for the adoption of the Baltimore plan.

"A sincere Secretary would admit the real destination of the borrowed gold, and would grant that a financial system with a hole knocked in it by the income tax decision need not blush to confess failure.

"But instead of owning up that our revenue is insufficient and that we are meeting our expenses partly with borrowed money, Secretary Carlisle is arguing his high station by making the situation of the credit greenbacks in the mind of the people."

CAMPBELL'S LUCK.

His Eighth Interest in a Mine May Make Him Rich.

Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 31.—It is reported that ex-Gov. Campbell, as the result of a fortunate mining speculation in California, will shortly come into possession of great riches.

The deposit is said to have been discovered by Capt. Frank Barrett, formerly of Lancaster, Ohio, and now located in the San Joaquin Valley, California, who returned to Ohio and organized a mining company with quite large capital and other Ohio friends as shareholders.

Gov. Campbell took one-eighth of the stock. The preliminary work on the mine has just been completed, and Capt. Barrett came yesterday to report to the directors. It already promises to make fortunes for all the stockholders.

When questioned as to the report last night Gov. Campbell was greatly surprised to know that the news had leaked out. He was not inclined to talk much about it.

TROUBLE IN ALASKA.
