

THERE'LL be no deviation from our usual HIGH standard of quality in the stock of wearables we are preparing for Spring wear, but the reverse—a bettering where there's a chance for improvement, a choicer selection of styles and fabrics, newer designs and best workmanship will all tend to make this, as in the past, the ideal shopping place for Men's and Boys' Wearables of every description.

In the meantime, if there is anything needed in Winter-weight Clothes, Furnishings, Hats, or Shoes, you can buy them at mere shreds of their original prices.

ROBINSON, CHERY & CO., 12th and F Sts. Clothing, Furnishings, Hats, Shoes.

WEDNESDAY The Last Day! ONLY 2 DAYS LONGER!

Our half-price sale of Suits and Overcoats will end at 7 o'clock next Wednesday night. This is our last sale of the season, and embraces all our reserve stock.

50c ON THE $1.00

is sufficient inducement for shrewd people to buy—even with the expectation of laying the suit or overcoat aside for next Winter's wear.

COOKS ARE GIVING TROUBLE

The Menu Artists Have Furnished Material for the Mills of Justice Every Day—A Fair Divorcee's Story of Shame—A Tough Fellow Comes to Grief and Goes to the Workhouse.

It was Kendig, of the scalloped locks and bow-spring trousers, who did the honors in Judge Kimball's court this morning. He "objected" in place of his confederate Cole, who was absent from a cold.

There has been an epidemic of devility lately among individuals who construct graves and devise entombs. In the last week a day has not passed without a cook being arraigned on some charge, generally the result of drunkenness.

He was a very foolish looking and pensive looking man, the court questioned him. He scratched his cone-shaped head, and kept up a constant winking and blinking at his honor, until he was shaken up by the alert Kendig.

THE APPEARANCE OF A SON AGAINST HIS FATHER is always a pathetic feature in the police court. Charles Thomas, a well-dressed, florid complexioned young man, was the prosecuting witness against his father, George Thomas, charged with being profane, drunk and disorderly.
