YOUNG TALKS FREELY

President of the National League Believes that the Time Has Come to Call a Halt Between Freedman and Amos—The Game Affected by the Stubbornness of Each.

"Amos Rusie's case will be settled one way or the other," said President Young this morning, "when the Board of Directors of the National League meet at Pittsburgh on the 29th of this month. An erroneous statement has appeared to the effect that we would meet at Pittsburgh on the 28th, which falls on Sunday. Under no circumstances would a meeting of the National League be called on order on the Sabbath day to consider Rusie's or anybody else's case."

"A mistake was made at the beginning of the playing season that this matter was not settled then. Rusie could have been at work all this time, and the New York club would have been better off in the pitching department, as well as financially, than it is at present. There has been a great deal of testimony taken in the case, all of which is now in my hands, and will be submitted to the Board of Directors when we meet at Pittsburgh. Those who have jurisdiction over this matter are H. E. Von der Horst, of Baltimore; A. H. Soden, of Boston; James A. Hart, of Chicago; J. Eastwood, of Washington; W. W. Kerr, of Pittsburgh; Dr. T. Hunt Stucky, of Louisville, and myself, as chairman."

According to the League constitution the board of directors shall be the sole tribunal to determine disputes between clubs, also for hearing appeals made by any person who shall have been expelled, suspended or disciplined by his club. It is under the latter clause that the Rusie case is to come up for final adjudication by the board of directors, and it is understood that Manager Freedman and Player Rusie will both be represented by counsel.

They expect to have arbitrations to be borne equally by the parties to the controversy. The matter is to be proceeded with in the following manner: Within thirty days of the date of expulsion, suspension or discipline the complainant shall file with the secretary of the League a written statement of his defense, accompanied by a request that an appeal be allowed him. Notification of this request shall be given to the club, accompanied by a copy of the appeal, and at the next annual meeting of the club, by its duly authorized representative, and the appellant, in person, or by attorney or by written statement, shall appear before the board of directors. It shall be the duty of the board of directors of the League to impartially hear the matter and render their decision, which shall be final and binding on both club and player.

"While not disposed to say in advance what the decision will be in this case," continued President Young, "there is no question that it will be for the interest of the national game in New York to have this controversy settled. President Freedman's club is lamentably weak in the pitching department, and Rusie's return would strengthen the team wonderfully. While it is true that the one-man theory in any organization, it is my opinion that Rusie's services are needed by the New York club and demanded by the patrons of the game in one of the best of the League cities. I do not know what the other members of the board of directors think about this matter, but I heard of a certain, whatever it is done at Pittsburgh will be for the best interest of the New York club, both to owner and player. It is a great pity they did not get together earlier and adjust their differences, for nothing has been gained by either by deferring action until the middle of the present season. While it is true that there has been a great deal of interference in the case by outside parties, and in this manner an almost irreparable injury has been done to the game in consequence, but when we get together we will throw aside all extraneous matters, and get right down to the merits of the case, which will be decided in accordance with the testimony submitted."

From the tenor of President Young's conversation the inference is clear that when the directors of the League meet a week from next Monday they will talk turkey to Manager Freedman in the most approved style of the art. New York's falling-off in the League, and all the magnates are ready to insist that Rusie's punishment shall end, and that he be taken back into the fold where his services are in such demand. Therefore, no one need be surprised if an unanimous vote is recorded in favor of admitting the fine and letting bygones be bygones.

Saturday, June 27—4:30 p. m.—Mascots vs. Potomacs.

Saturday, June 27—4:30 p. m.—Belmonts vs. Zephyrs.

Yesterday afternoon, at Arsenal Park, the Potomacs and Belmonts met and played a fairly good game, the former winning by the score of 24 to 8.

By winning the Potomacs strengthened their hold on second place, and are in a good position to jump into first place at the first fall-out of the Buds and Mascots.

The Cliffburns and Zephyrs will meet this afternoon on the upper diamond, while the Mascots and Belmonts will play on the lower ground, Kinslow and Hilton umpiring the former game and Burke and Bland the latter.

On account of Monday being drill day at the Arsenal, the Eastern Bud-Potomac contest will be played on the Mahone lot, corner of North Capitol and M Streets. Hannaman and Hilton will umpire the contest.

BETWEEN THE BASES.

Burke's base hits are fast tearing the 100 feet.

Boston has but five players with batting averages above .300.

For thirteen years Philadelphia has supported a third-rate team. This is the fourth year.

Jack Boyd was too much for Norfolk, the Portsmouth winning by a score of 2 to 1.

Cooley has reported for work. His presence will restore confidence in the ranks of the Browns.

With a man on third and none out Eyer of the Athletics struck out three Shamokin batters in succession.

Joe Hornung, the State League umpire, has been offered a berth on the Eastern League staff.

Baltimore has farmed out Pitchers Epper and Corbett and Catcher Bowerman to the Scranton club.

There were eighteen strike outs and sixteen bases on balls in the Athletic-Shamokin game at Philadelphia.

Jack Taylor claims Al Maul's wall paper net made more noise during Wednesday's game than the ball.

Pop Anson is willing to bet 5 to 1 that he doesn't quit the game before he wins the pennant. No one will take the money.

If Donnelly keeps up his batting streak and his marvellous fielding there is no doubt he will remain in the game after McGraw returns.

Baseball players are commonly believed to be more sensitive than any other class of people. They're not. Sporting writers who do the most "knocking" squeal loudest when a fellow-scribe gives them a rap.

This, from Cleveland, is nauseating: "Burke struck out the last time he was up Tuesday, and it looked as though he did it on purpose." No ball player except Bill Taylor was ever known to strike out on purpose. Bill was too lazy to run.

Ball players take on flesh very rapidly when they retire from the business. Ralph Johnson, Mort Scanlon and Sam Barkley are all up in the 200-pound class, at present, and look strange indeed beside their pictures taken in uniform a few years ago.

In the fourth inning of the Kansas City-St. Paul game at Kansas City on Monday St. Paul had the bases filled, with none out, when Daniels of the Kansas City team performed the remarkable feat of striking out Shugart, Stratton and Spies on eleven pitched balls, eight of which were struck, only one strike being called.

Pat Tobeau is a jockey and Hyde, on the field, he is a howling, contumacious ruffian. In his street clothes he is an admirable gentleman. Tom Tucker, the ferocious and loud-mouthed animal who plays first for Boston, is, off the field, a quiet, pleasant and thoroughly gentlemanly citizen.

Warner Anderson has so far won all the games he has pitched for Minneapolis. This twirler has been in the business for many years, and is one of the few men to ever regain the use of a dead arm. Rhines is the most prominent example of a cured dead-arm pitcher who ever played ball.

Thoroughbreds Will Meet This Afternoon in the National Derby.

Dwyer's Two Bids Will Go Against McClelland's Single Entry, Prince Lief—Great Jockeys Will Ride.

St. Louis, June 20.—The greatest event on the American turf, the unrivaled National Derby, worth $20,000, will be run this afternoon at the fair grounds. It is an event that has been looked forward to and has been the subject of discussion for three years, from the time the colts which are to contest for this princely stake were foaled. The following rivals for the coveted prize will go to the post:

Ben Brush, Mike Dwyer, Sums, 127.
Don Carlo, Barney Scribner, Taber, 119.
Ramiro, Lucky Baldwin, C. Ballard, 122.
Argentine, Lucky Baldwin, T. Sloan, 117.
Captive, Pat Dunn, Martin, 122.
Loki, Dr. E. F. McLean, C. Reiff, 122.
Don Carlo, Barney Scribner, Taber, 119.
Ramiro, Lucky Baldwin, C. Ballard, 122.
Argentine, Lucky Baldwin, T. Sloan, 117.

This array of kings of the turf will no doubt furnish one of the most brilliantly contested races ever recorded. Mike Dwyer, the king of the plungers; Byron McClelland, the Clay brothers, and a big delegation of Kentucky horse-owners arrived yesterday, and were the guests of Secretary Aull. They came as the advance guard of a big party of Kentuckians, who will be here to enjoy the event.

Mr. Dwyer feels confident either Ben Brush or Ben Eder will capture the prize, and McClelland is equally confident Prince Lief will land in front. The race is the genuine English derby distance, one and a half miles, similar to the Epsom course, named after Lord Derby. It is in reality the only national derby of 1896, and it will be the inaugural dash of Ben Brush and Prince Lief in a genuine derby event.

The track is in excellent condition, and the weather gives indications of being all that could be desired for fast racing. It is calculated that at least 15,000 persons will witness the race.

Bill Sullivan, the handicapper, said this morning: "I can see nothing but Ben Brush and Prince Lief in the race. I think Dr. Carlo is the best of the outsiders, but on paper, considering the weights and distance, Prince Lief should win, with Ben Brush second."

Loki had not arrived at the fair grounds this morning, although it is known that he was shipped from Oakley yesterday. It is thought his owner is taking him to the track by easy stages.

CYCLING PRIZES TOO SMALL

Crack Riders Are Beginning to Kick About It.

GOOD STORY ON M'CURDY

Nine Out of Ten Winners Do Not Know They Have Finished First. Wants Halfdelf Transferred to Professional Rank—Bald in Philadelphia—Interesting Gossip.

Racers of dissatisfaction among the "crackjacks" at the smallness of the prizes "hung up" by promoters of circuit meets are beginning to be heard. Last year there was unquestionably cause for complaint on account of prizes being grossly overvalued, but in very few instances was the overvaluation so gross as the winners could not secure at least 50 per cent of the announced value. This, in the case of a $150 diamond, say the "kickers," was very
