CABINET TAKES THE OATH

The presentations were concluded. Mr. Bliss will make his home for the present at the Arlington, where he has been since his arrival in the city on last Monday.

MR. GARY'S FIRST DAY.

The New Postmaster General Presented to His Clerks.

Postmaster General Wilson today surrendered the office of Postmaster General, over which he has presided for the past two years, to Hon. James J. Gary, of Maryland.

The new chief reached his office at 12:30, and was afterward presented to those in charge of the various departments under the direct supervision of the Postmaster General.

As is the usual custom, the employees of the department were introduced according to the order of their rank.

The assistant Postmaster General was presented first and those holding subordinate positions after that.

All of the employees of the various divisions formed into line and were formally presented to the new Postmaster General and afterward said good-bye to the retiring chief.

Among those who were present were Postmaster General Frank H. Jones, and Chief Clerk William H. Lamar, Second Assistant Postmaster General Charles Neilson and Chief Clerk George H. Stone, Third Assistant Postmaster General Kerr Craze and Chief Clerk Davis, and Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Maxwell, Chief Clerk Frank H. Thomas and Clerks Charles Edward L. Reckard and Clarence E. Dawson were also introduced to Mr. Gary.

Among others who called to pay their respects to the outgoing and incoming chief officers, were Representative Cannon, of Illinois, and Gov. McCrorey, of Kentucky.

Mr. Gary expects to go over to his home in Baltimore this afternoon, where he will spend Sunday. He will return to the city on Monday, and will be domiciled in an official residence, which he has at the Hotel Normandie.

SECRETARY WILSON'S WORK.

He Begins to Dictate Letters as Soon as Possible.

The Agricultural Department and the Farmers' interests passed into the keeping of Secretary Wilson without special incident.

After being sworn in, he drove to the department, where ex-Secretary Morton was waiting, and after a talk of several minutes, Mr. Morton walked out.

The new Secretary got right down to business, and when The Times reporter called he was directing letters. A brief interview was all that Mr. Wilson resumed the interrupted routine.

Mr. Wilson called upon Mr. Morton on each of two days prior to the inauguration, and was given an insight into the business and an introduction to the Department chief.

His announced the employees are to tender the ex-Secretary a banquet at the Ebbitt House next Wednesday evening.

Mr. McKenna Deferred the Change.

A call at the Department of Justice disclosed the fact that Attorney General McKenna will not take charge of the office until Monday, and will be absent on a private matter, which commands his attention, and prefers to defer the ceremony until then.

EX-QUEEN LIL SENDS A NOTE

She Requests of "His Excellency" the Favor of an Audience.

The Message is Delivered at the White House by Private Secretary Julius Palmer.

Mr. Julius Palmer, ex-Queen Lilibokalan's private secretary, accompanied by her aide, Mr. Helzelle, rode to the White House this morning an autograph note from her recent majesty, addressed to "His Excellency, the President."

On account of the crowd, the emissaries did not attempt to enter the mansion, but confided the note, with their cards, to one of the policemen on guard at the entrance for delivery. Mr. Palmer diplomatically declined to confess any knowledge of the contents of the note, but it was learned that the ex-queen is desirous of having an audience with the President at the earliest possible opportunity.

A PATIENCE IN EQUITY.

Mr. Hutchins' Suit Concerning the Sale of the Times.

Mr. William Hutchins, who lately bought what was represented as a controlling interest in the stock of The Times Company, filed a petition in equity today against Charles G. Conn, lately president and principal stockholder of The Times Company, from whom Mr. Hutchins purchased, asking that the sale of the stock thus purchased be rescinded.

Messrs. Jackson, B. Ballston and Frederick L. Siddons, in the capacity of trustees, have been joined with the defendant. The grounds on which the action is brought are many. Mr. Hutchins claiming that the representations made to him were not in accordance with the facts, and that if he is not furnished the relief prayed for, he will have the interest in The Times Company, for which he bargained and paid for.

How Not to "Catch Cold."

Many a delicate man and woman were for hours in the open air yesterday viewing the parade. We have a remedy—Robinson's Camphor Pills—that will immediately act on the system as to prevent any liability to catching cold. 25c. is the price, and the efficacy is guaranteed.

HUNDREDS AT THE MANSION

The President All Morning in a Crush of Visitors.

WAS CORDIAL TO EVERY ONE

His Remarkable Facility for Dispatching Visitors and Excellent Memory of Names and Faces—Congratulatory Telegrams Pouring in From All Parts of the World.

For years Dr. Walker has conducted in this city the largest practice ever known in medical history. The people know and respect him for his fine and genuine strength of light and intimacy and permanency. Medical pretenses of every variety have come in and gone in and in the night, unable to endure the ordinary sun of acquaintance, and finally, and with intimacy the name of Dr. Walker grows stronger.

No Experiments or Failures.

He cures all diseases of the nervous system, including the organic weakness, feebleness of the nervous, diseases of the eye, ear, nose, throat, and all other diseases, bladder troubles, and all private diseases, catarrh, asthma, indigestion, constipation and heart disease. Dr. Walker a only charge for treatment and all medicines is

$5.00 A MONTH.

Dr. Walker sees each patient who calls at his well-known sanitarium, 1411 Pennsylvania Avenue, adjoining Willard's Hotel, from 10 to 12 o'clock, daily, 10 to 12 o'clock, Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday nights, 6 to 8.

return to Ohio by special train, leaving here late this afternoon. The President's mother and his sister will remain perhaps two weeks longer, as will also Mrs. Barber, sister of Mrs. McKinley.

W. T. Durbin, of Indiana, member of the national executive committee, and D. G. Alexander, new Congressman from Buffalo, were visitors to the President's room for some time.

J. H. Brigham, of Ohio, who expects to be Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, was also one of the callers, but waited for some hours before he saw the President.

It is by no means certain that Bellamy Storer, of Cincinnati, is to be Assistant Secretary of State. He was the subject of a talk between the President and Secretary of State Sherman last night, which it was predicted, might result in his appointment to that place, but instead sent him as minister to some of the smaller countries, perhaps Switzerland, Denmark, Norway and Sweden or Portugal. The consul general at Cairo has diplomatic powers, and Mr. Storer's name is also mentioned in connection with this place.

The remainder of the day will be spent in receiving delegations. The President, up to the present time, has given no thoughts to appointments, nor will he before Monday or Tuesday.

The proclamation calling an extra session of Congress may not be sent out before tomorrow evening or Monday.

Chief Justice Fuller administered the oath to Messrs. Sherman, Bliss, Wilson and Gary, a delegation of twenty, and the oath to Mr. Long, and Justice Brown to Mr. Alger. This was done because the justices come from the same States as the Secretaries, and the State complement was thus completed.

The President's relatives expect to leave this evening.

The Party Will Start at 7:10, Occupying the Train on Which They Came.

The special train which brought the Presidential party from Canton will return there this evening at 7:10 o'clock, and the majority of the President's relatives and friends will go back to Ohio on it. The President's mother and sister and Mrs. Barber will remain as guests of the White House for two weeks or more, and Mr. and Mrs. Abner McKinley will occupy their apartments at the Ebbitt for a short time longer.

Miss Mary Barber, Miss Grace McKinley and Miss Mary McWilliams will leave in the morning for Smith's College, Northampton county, Mass., to assume their studies in the close of the school term.

The young people spent a delightful time at the Executive Mansion last night, excursions throughout the beautiful rooms and conservatories forming one of the features of the evening's fun.

Those of the younger set who were present were Mrs. W. McWilliams, and Mr. and Mrs. Mabel McKinley, Miss Grace McKinley, and James McKinley. Among the elders were Mr. and Mrs. George E. Morse, of San Francisco; Miss Sarah Dunham, of Cleveland; James Barton, Samuel Saxton, Mr. and Mrs. W. McWilliams, and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Russell, of Massillon, Ohio.

As the propriety of calling the President's mother "Mother McKinley" has been questioned, Mr. Barber, the brother-in-law of Mrs. McKinley, was asked this morning by what term she should be spoken of in writing or in conversation.

He answered that he would use the term "Mother," as he has heard her called by her friends, and that he would use the term "Mother McKinley" in writing.

CLEVER STAGE DECEPTIONS

The Danmoch company carries a stage manager who is also an artist of note. His name is Gerhardt Stehmann. Herr Stehmann was formerly a St. Louis newspaper reporter. He has an assistant, George Enger, who, with Thomas Rough, the company's stage carpenter, are setting the stage in the auditorium.

Work looks little short of marvellous, but the illusion is dispelled when one goes upon the stage and takes a kick at a bowlder which, from the audience view, looks like it weighed tons.

If one looks closely, one will catch the eye either in a gunny sack or a piece of canvas. Stage rocks, like the real thing, are classified. They are of two principal kinds—stuffed and set. The former are made of gunny or canvas sacks, painted a leaden blue and stuffed with excelsior. These were the rocks which lay at the root of the big tree in the first act last night. Just behind them the geological formation suddenly changes, the bowlders taking the "set" form. This is effected by doublings made on canvas stretched on light wooden frames with profile edges roughly out-lined.

The first striking stage effect in Lohengrin is the smooth padding of the swan, harnessed to a delicately carved boat, across an imaginary sea. The swan and the boat are both clever stage contrivances. The swan is a framework of wire, stuffed with the same material of which rocks are made. The frame is covered with canvas, to which white feathers are sewed. The whole is set on a wooden frame, which, by a clever mechanical arrangement, can be lowered and shoved back so that the bird can be shoved away under the boat.

They used to use a trap-door in getting rid of the swan, but some ingenious stage carpenter thought out the present plan, which has proven more convenient. The delicately carved prows and stern of the boat are made of paper mache, pressed in plaster inside. The body of the boat is canvas stretched over a wooden frame, and two lumpy stage hands do the work of propelling for which the excelsior-stuffed swan gets undeserved credit.

MISSOURI LEGISLATORS DECLARE HE HAS CONVICATED A GOVERNMENT LAUNCH.

They Pass Resolution Asking President McKinley to Restore the Lighthouse Tender.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 6.—The following preamble and resolution was introduced by Representative Martin, of Eastern county, in the house of representatives just before adjournment last night, and after a short debate, adopted:

Whereas, the press dispatches inform us that Grover Cleveland, a private citizen of the United States, is now aboard a government boat with a party of friends, including his passion for duck shooting at public expense; and

Whereas, the cost of running the government boat, which Mr. Grover Cleveland appears to have confiscated for his own use, is heavy, and the tax-payers are already staggering under the burden of debt which Grover Cleveland, when a public official, greatly increased; Therefore, be it

Resolved by the house of representatives of the thirty-third general assembly of Missouri, that the President of the United States is hereby respectfully memorialized to have an inquiry made into the reported confiscation of a government boat by the said Grover Cleveland, and if the inquiry developed that the report is true, the President is respectfully asked to take immediate steps to recover the said government boat and return it to its proper station.

C. T. BRIDE FOR COMMISSIONER.

Leading Democrats Will Urge the President to Appoint Him.

Some leading Democrats of the District are making arrangements to press on President McKinley the claims of C. T. Bride for District Commissioner. They say that the nomination of A. A. J. Adams, of the Democratic party, will be a denial of the representation to the Democratic party. It makes the Commissioners sadly republican.

"The custom has grown up," said one of the best-known Democrats of Washington this morning, "of recognizing both parties on the board of District Commissioners. We shall urge that the real democracy be given the place, and shall urge on Major McKinley the appointment of Mr. Bride's intimate personal friend."

"Mr. Bride is a well-known business man, and would make an excellent Commissioner. The fact that he is a resident of East Washington will also be urged in his favor. This section of the city, with a population of eighty thousand, has never had a Commissioner, and it is high time one was named from that important part of the city."

MADGE FISHER SENTENCED.

To Remain in the Reform School Until She is Twenty-one.

Madge Fisher, apparently as unconcerned as ever, was again a prominent figure in the police court dock this morning, and was sentenced to remain in the Reform School until her twenty-first year.

The second trial to the disposal of the case by Judge Miller was made intensely pathetic by the pleadings of the girl's mother, who charged her with being incorrigible and the callous, unfeeling conduct of Madge.

MURDERER BUTLER'S EXTRADITION.

The application for extradition and the papers in the case of Frank Butler, accused of many murders in Australia, were received at the Department of State today. A warrant for his surrender will probably be issued. Butler is held by the authorities of California.

Cassidy Sent to Jail.

James Cassidy, the young counterfeiter, who was arrested by Patrolmen Ais and Muller in South Washington last night, was taken before Judge Mills, United States Commissioner today, and committed to jail in default of bail in the sum of $5,000.

SPECULATION RATHER WEAK.

Internationals the Chief Sufferers in the Decline.

New York, March 6.—Speculation at the stock exchange during the first hour was quiet and the course of prices rather irregular. The irregularity was in sympathy with lower quotations from London.

The second trial to the disposal of the case by Judge Miller was made intensely pathetic by the pleadings of the girl's mother, who charged her with being incorrigible and the callous, unfeeling conduct of Madge.
