WASHINGTON, WEDNESDAY, MAY 5.

For a while, now, our Army will be in the distant condition of Miss away.

Ambassador Hay is being treated to and from Windsor, and so on, in royal coaches.

Postmaster General Gary opens the international postal convention today, and thus gives it the postage stamp of his distinguished approval.

The conflict and warlike position taken by the new Greek premier at this distance seems like an aggravated case of kail 'round the flag, boys.

Immediate consideration of the sundry civil bill being of more importance than the starving Americans in Cuba, Senator Morgan's Cuban resolution again was blocked yesterday. Spain is well served in the Senate.

Our opinion of the day before yesterday, that King George's illness was precautionary rather than curial, appears to be confirmed by later news.

The story of the terrible fire in Paris, by which two hundred lives were lost, will thrill the world with horror.

When Republican newspapers state that many Republican Senators privately wish the tariff bill may not pass, for fear, etc., it is measurably safe to bet that there is a screw on or a hen loose, or something Democratic-sounding, not late at that sort of bait this late in the season.

Notwithstanding earnest and even bombarding efforts of the Republican tariff tinkers to sugar the tariff bill so that it would be swallowed without a protest, there are Western Senators who seem to be as being nearly without wool, and with no lade to speak of.

According to a leading New York paper it is feared at the State Department that Spain might resent the sending of food to starving American citizens on the island of Cuba.

Senator Morgan made a center shot, when, in the Senate yesterday, he explained that the fierce fight by the Spanish influence in the chamber to delay action on the belligerency resolution, is for the purpose of assisting Spain to raise a loan in Europe.

The margarine of the sugar trust must begin to believe in the ingratitude of republics, or at least of Republicans.

Professional bondsmen have been approached and offered good round sums, but they, too, have declined to take any chances.

Ex-Hawaiian Queen Present and Sang Several Native Selections. Archbishop Martinelli, the apostolic legate, was honored with a reception yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock by the sisters and students of the Academy of the Holy Cross.

The assembly hall was well filled with relatives of the pupils and other friends of the institution. When his excellency, wearing a magnificent robe and a wreath of crimson silk, with jeweled cross and ring, entered with Mrs. Starett, and taking the places assigned them, among a group of prelates from the various churches and the Catholic University, listened to a delightful feature program, which had been arranged especially for the occasion.

At the conclusion of a march by the Misses McGrath, with which the exercises opened, Miss Helen Toumey welcomed the legate in a pretty address, a dainty copy of which was presented to him with a handsome bouquet.

QUITE A ROW IN CAUCUS.

Senators Displeased With Their Committee Assignments. The Senate Republicans cannot see their way out of the more harmonious arrangement. There was considerable expressed dissatisfaction, and much more that was not so outspoken.

The assignment of Senators shows what a good thing it is to be a member of the committee on committees, and the natural deduction from some of the speeches made is that there was too much favoritism toward the men who made the committees.

The assignment was made by the committee that some concessions had to be made to men who had served in the Senate before, and on this account extraordinary good places were given to Senator Spooner and Newell.

By the same logic, the committee of New York should have been similarly provided for but he is left off the important committees altogether.

Mr. Platt made a short, but dignified speech. He said that the great state of New York was entitled to better treatment. She was entitled to representation on some of the important committees.

Mr. Clark, of Wyoming, who was billed for the important committee on Foreign Relations, registered a kick because he was not placed on Public Lands. Mr. Wilson, who was assigned there, offered to give it to him, but Mr. Clark declined the offer.
