THINGS THEATRICAL.

For the coming week the Columbia Theater announces Kate Claxton, who has not been seen in Washington for some years past. Her performance of "The Two Orphans" is an event in the theatrical circles of such rare occurrence that lovers of the stage at its best should not only hail the news with satisfaction, but testify by their presence their appreciation of such artistic effort.

EXCURSIONS.

Closing Week of River View Season. The closing week of the River View excursion season is now at hand, and the family day trips which will be made today are the last of these for the season. Yesterday over 1,200 children, with their parents, took advantage of the extra family day to go to River View, and a still larger crowd is expected to visit the View today.

Next Sunday Trip to River View. The trip to River View will be the last Sunday of the season at the View, and hundreds of persons will take advantage of the outing to spend one more pleasant day in the cool shade of the trees at this resort. During the intensely hot weather of the past two or three days visitors to River View have found it delightful to go to the View, and the attraction of the resort, on a high cliff, overlooking the river, enabling it to catch every breath of air that stirs. For the entertainment of visitors tomorrow all the various attractions of the resort will be in full view, and the View will furnish delightful music both in the afternoon and morning.

Reduced Rates to Arlington on Electric Trains Tomorrow. Those who plan to spend Sunday morning or afternoon in the country should take advantage of the reduced rates offered by the Washington, Alexandria, and Mount Vernon Railway to Arlington on Sunday, and go for a day's outing to the national cemetery. Arlington is one of the most beautiful places for miles around the city. The well-kept grounds, fine old trees, fragrant flowers, and the grand view of the city give a new interest to the administration of visitors from all parts of this big country. It is always cool at Arlington, even when the days and nights are close and sultry in the city. It is so high that it catches every breath of air that is stirring. Electric trains leave the station at Three-and-a-half Street and Pennsylvania Avenue every forty-five minutes during the day and evening. The fare for the ride to Arlington and return tomorrow has been reduced to 15 cents. Round-trip tickets to Alexandria will be sold tomorrow, good for the one day only, at 25 cents.

Steamer Macalester for Indian Head This Evening. The news that the steamer Charles Macalester on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week might be the last trip of the season served to bring out the "lanner" crowd of the summer. Everyone seems to wish to take a farewell ride on the river, as well as to enjoy a dance in the ballroom at Marshall Hall to the music of Prof. Schroeder's Band. Another large crowd is certain to be on hand this evening to escape a hot night in the city and spend the time on the water in the cool river breeze. The moon will light up the water and the sky on the river home, an additional attraction to those who have ever enjoyed this trip by moonlight. Steamer Macalester leaves as usual at 6:30, stopping at Marshall Hall both ways. Trips will be made to Marshall Hall on Saturday, at 11 a. m., 2:30 and 6:30 p. m. Those who cannot spend the entire day at this beautiful river resort may take the steamer at 6:30 and enjoy the sail on the water in the cool river breeze, and the ride home in the moonlight. The fare for the round trip is only 25 cents.

The Effects of the Cuban Campaign Are Beginning to Tell on the District Men. The effects of the deadly Cuban climate are beginning to show on some of the District troops, malaria fever and chills being very common and attacks of dysentery very frequent. The boys are missing many pounds of flesh, especially Major Emmet Urell, who weighs forty-five pounds less than he did before leaving for Cuba. The District boys tell a good story on the major. His first expression after the flag had been raised over Santiago was: "It's too bad, boys, that we haven't some of Hearst's Magazine Beer with which to celebrate the surrender." If the District regiment had Hearst's Beer to drink there would have been less sickness.

TYPHOID CASES AT CAMP ALGER

Curious and Veilinating War Department Orders. There are three hundred cases of typhoid fever among the sixtieth New York Regiment at Camp Alger in the division hospital, and in addition there are a large number of men sick in the regimental hospital and their quarters at camp. The regiment is scheduled to leave for Buffalo tomorrow, but there is no assurance that it will do so.

A review of the treatment of these men during the week illustrates the method of the War Department. On Saturday last they received orders to be in readiness to move to Camp Meade, at Middletown, Pa. On Monday morning Governor Black succeeded in having the destination of the regiment changed to Buffalo, with the understanding that they would be housed on that day. Later the orders were revoked and they were at headquarters that the regiment leaves Wednesday.

On Wednesday the War Department concluded that the best work connected with the clearing of furloughs would have to be performed here, and that meant an additional delay of several days.

When yesterday the War Department learned of the alarming increase of sickness, an order was issued directing that the regiment turn all material over to the depot quartermaster, and proceed in the afternoon to Middletown, Pa.

The order reached the regiment at 1 p. m. Thursday. The various companies were then ordered to pack their gear, and one detachment had undertaken to march quite a distance from the camp. Mounted orderlies were dispatched to call all the members into camp.

A third set of orders came from Washington later in the afternoon, in which it was stated that the paymaster would visit the regiment, and that the boys should receive their pay before leaving camp.

The expectations then were that the regiment would leave the camp today, but now a departure has been arranged for Sunday.

There is great complaint in camp on account of lack of water. The regimental surgeons declare that every day in camp brings out additional cases of sickness.

A PENSION RULING.

Many Official Documents Will Be Open to the Public. Assistant Secretary of the Interior Webster Davis this morning made an important ruling regarding the examination of certain pension documents.

His action lays before the public in the future all papers relating to claims for pensions or bounty land reports from the War Department, certificates of examining surgeons and reports of special examiners, except documents relating to criminal cases where the ends of justice might be defeated.

Up to the present time the Pension Department has held that all reports of special examiners and kindred papers were to be kept in secret, and the result was that the records of appeals were largely inaccessible to pension claimants who did not know why their claims were rejected.

In issuing appeal cases alone the order will give the Government thousands of dollars annually.

A MISSING BANKER.

Police Looking for George A. Kimmel, of Kansas. Inspector Mattingly has been asked to look out for George A. Kimmel, a banker, who is missing from his home in Arkansas City, Kans.

He is described as thirty years of age, five feet eight inches high, weight 125 pounds, medium complexion, brown hair and mustache. Wore when last seen brown suit and other articles of clothing. Knight Templar's chain, heavy band gold ring, double eagle and small diamond in center, emblem of 32d degree Mason.

Five hundred dollars reward is offered by Charles A. Johnson, banker at Niles, Mich. For information leading to the discovery of his whereabouts and placing him in the hands of his friends. He was last seen in Kansas City, Mo., on Saturday, July 26, 1898, at the Midland Hotel, about 7:15 a. m., where he received a package of money containing $500.

In the Police Court. Hattie Queenan, Annie Young and Alice Forest, three colored women, quarreled in Gordon Avenue, were arrested last night. They pleaded not guilty this morning in the Police Court, but upon the testimony of the policeman they were fined $3 each.

Martha Craig was insane from drink last night and it took three policemen to get her to the Sixth precinct station. She continued her shrieks and ravings, and was finally placed in the dungeon where she nearly tore the clothes from her body in her frenzy. In the Police Court this morning she admitted getting drunk, but denied being disorderly. The court sent her to the workhouse for thirty days in default of a fine of $10.

Larry Hamilton pleaded not guilty to being loud and boisterous. Policeman O'Leary's testimony was contrary to her statement and she was fined $3.

Garfield Eschler and Harry Hill were charged in the Police Court today with disorderly conduct. They pleaded guilty, but Eschler denied having a pistol as charged by Policeman O'Dea. He was fined $50 for carrying a weapon. Hill in default of which he went to jail for three months. A fine of $10 was imposed on each of them for being disorderly.

Mary Addison and Maria Dodson were charged with disorderly conduct. The former went to the workhouse for thirty days and the latter was released on her personal bond.

James Johnson was convicted of being a vagrant and went to the workhouse for one month.

ANACOSTIA NEWS NOTES.

Policeman Byer on a week's vacation. Rev. C. O. Isaac, of the Anacostia Methodist Church, has returned home after a short visit to relatives in Ellicott City, Md.

Rev. E. W. Bliss, the newly-selected pastor of the Anacostia Baptist Church, has secured a residence on Jackson Street, to which he removed yesterday. He will preach his first regular sermon tomorrow morning.

Among the Anacostia boys who were at 8:45 with the District of Columbia Volunteers are Charles Snel, Elliott Hoops and Claude E. Allen, who were with the 10th Regiment of the Sixth Cavalry, and has been at his home on a furlough.

There is some talk of organizing a new citizens' association, to act in steps by the time Congress convenes, to urge appropriations for many needed improvements in the town. A station-house is badly needed, as the present one on Harrison Street is far too antiquated. Its sewage is particularly bad, and the cells are almost unusable. Another improvement desired is the extension of the water mains up Harrison Street. The fire Thursday showed the necessity for this, as the water main cut off for a day to be of service to the engine company.

Labor Day, Congress Heights, Battle of Santiago. The Spanish flag will wave at Congress Heights Labor Day. It will be in a fort known as Morro Castle. The American troops will attempt to take the fort and tear down the flag, but the Spaniards, who have been secured for the battle declare it shall not come down.

CAPT. DUNCAN'S STATEMENT.

Positively Declares His Innocence of Grave Desecration. Capt. Duncan, of Topoka, Kan., who is now in jail at Fairfax, Va., charged with the crime of desecrating the grave of a Confederate officer on the battlefield of Bull Run, now claims that he is entirely innocent of the offense.

Tried before a court martial composed of sixteen officers of high rank, including two ex-Confederate soldiers, he was acquitted of the charge of desecrating the grave of a Confederate officer, becoming an officer and a gentleman, the general head under which the crime was perpetrated, but he has been turned over to the authorities by Gen. Graham, an unless he can furnish bail in the sum of $1,100 he will have to await trial on the charge of grave desecration at Fairfax Court House until the first Monday in September.

Confession of the offense in Virginia is from five to ten years at hard labor. In the course of a statement concerning the case, Capt. Duncan says that the court-martial "over sixty witnesses testified and 500 pages of evidence were recorded, and what was the decision? That I took no part in these desecrations; that I was only a member of the court because I did not arrest private who were digging in the grave. My part in the desecrations, as testified to in the court-martial, was myself and borne out by other evidence, was as follows:

"On the morning of August 6, while the Second Division was camped near Bull Run, I went out sketching, as is my custom, when I happened to see a man strolling about the battlefield I came upon a body of men digging in a little hole, about 8 inches deep and 2 feet across.

"I had already seen dozens of men all over the battlefield, and I thought nothing of it. I stayed some ten minutes, watching the digging and talking to another officer who was present. Then I learned that a private who was digging was lying out some 15 feet from where the men were digging.

"I learned what was on it, but as I had no information that all the bodies of soldiers thereabout were being removed to Arlington and Manassas, did not think much of the matter. However, I saw a hospital corps man there, and ordered him back to camp, and I saw only one man there over whom I supposed I had authority. The other men there were not under my command—not even of my regiment. As I am a surgeon, I have no command.

After ordering the men away I left the spot at once and have never seen it since. That is the whole of the matter, and of my guilt. And there is no evidence to prove that I was there again."

Referring to charges that the conduct alleged against him was because of feeling toward the Confederate dead, Capt. Duncan declares that he has had the utmost respect for the men of Stuart, Jackson and Lee, and that the memory of their heroes is a heritage of all. Neither does he think that the men who took part in the affair did it out of sectional feeling, but rather out of recklessness and a desire to get away from the army added to a foolish desire for "relics."

Up to the present time the Pension Department has held that all reports of special examiners and kindred papers were to be kept in secret, and the result was that the records of appeals were largely inaccessible to pension claimants who did not know why their claims were rejected.

In issuing appeal cases alone the order will give the Government thousands of dollars annually.

EXECUTIVE BOARD ACTS.

Said to Have Expelled Lawson From the K. of L. It was learned last night from a most reliable source that A. M. Lawson, master workman of District Assembly No. 66, Knights of Labor, has been expelled from the order by the general executive board at a meeting recently held in New York.

It was stated that Mr. Lawson received the notice of his expulsion on Thursday, and made the announcement at the meeting of the assembly that evening at Plasterers' Hall.

In this instance, as when the general executive board revoked the charter of the assembly some time ago, it is claimed by some of the local members of the order that the board exceeded its authority. It is claimed that charges should have been made against Lawson and that he should have been given an opportunity to defend himself.

The only cause for which a member can be expelled from the order is when he is charged by reputable members of the order to which he belongs. It will be remembered that when Lawson received notice of his expulsion from the charter of District Assembly No. 66, he, with the other officers, applied to the courts for an injunction to restrain the general officers from interfering with the general business of the organization. That matter is still pending before the courts and will come up for a hearing on September 13.

In connection with the report that Mr. Lawson had been expelled it was also said that several other officers and prominent members of the assembly had been served with notice of expulsion.

The notice of expulsion sent to Mr. Lawson contained the statement that he had been expelled from the order by the general executive board did not vote on the question when it was brought up for final action.

CAUTION TO SOLDIERS. On the Way Home They Must Abstain From Delicacies. A telegram in reference to convalescent soldiers traveling to their homes was sent by Adjt. Gen. Corbin last night to the commanding officers of all camps. The telegram reads:

"It having been reported to the War Department that many convalescent soldiers, who have received furloughs and started for their homes, have been taken ill on the way, and to avoid further occurrences of this kind, it is suggested in the strongest possible terms that all soldiers traveling homeward on furloughs will exercise their best judgment in caring for themselves, especially those who have been ill in hospital with fevers. Their appetites are very keen and unless they deny themselves everything except the necessary food of the simplest character, are in great danger of a relapse. This instruction is sent out hoping that it may catch the eye of those men en route, and also for the instruction of surgeons at hospitals. It is ordered that no man shall receive a furlough without the surgeon in charge of the hospital, and that he shall travel alone, and that no furloughed soldier shall leave a hospital without receiving full instructions as to his diet while en route to his home, from his surgeon."

ROUGH RIDERS TO DISBAND. Prefer to Be Dealt the "Two Months' Furlough." It has been ordered by the War Department that the First Volunteer Cavalry, familiarly known as Roosevelt's Rough Riders, be mustered out of the service of the Government at once at Montauk Point where the regiment is now in camp. The men will not be allowed the two months' furlough granted the other volunteers who saw service outside of this country, because the department was informed by its commander that they preferred to be mustered out at once, which will, of course, prevent them from receiving the two months' leave with pay.

Each Rough Rider, however, will receive a special furlough to carry him to his home. The immediate mustering out of the organization may interfere with the proposed Rough Riders' parade, fully uniformed and equipped, on Broadway, New York.

The two other regiments of Rough Riders, Col. Torrey's at Jacksonville, and Col. Grigsby's will be mustered out in a few days.

Getting "Yellow Jack" in Hand. Surgeon General Wyman, of the Marine Hospital Service, has succeeded in controlling the yellow fever wherever it has appeared in the South this summer, and in every case the infection this year could be traced to the infection of 1897. But the latest development of ten cases at Orwood, Miss., nonpluses all the medical authorities, for the town did not have a visitation last year, and there is no trace of infection from previous years, which suffered from fever a year ago. But the Marine Hospital Service is engaged in a vigorous search for the origin of the germ, and the situation may yet be cleared up.

Mustering Out of Southern Soldiers. Adjt. Gen. Corbin has informed callers from the Southern States in the past few days that the decision of the War Department as to the mustering out of volunteer regiments would be determined by the recommendation of the several governors. Gov. McLaughlin, of Mississippi, asked for the mustering out of the First and Second Regiments of his State, and the retention of the Third, and orders to that effect were issued. In Louisiana, where only two regiments were enlisted, the adjutant general is awaiting the pleasure of Gov. Foster in the matter. The Louisiana executive is expected in Washington within a few days, when it is possible that the First Regiment will be retained and the Second sent to Cuba.

ARE YOU ONLY ONE-HALF A MAN?

CALTHOS SENT FREE TO MEN BY SEALED MAIL. No C. O. D. or Deposit Scheme.

Are your days and nights made wretched by the secret consciousness that you are lacking in those attributes of virility which fit a man to hold up his head among his kind and say proudly within himself "I am a man?"

The steadily unexpected advance of nervous debility creeps upon a man and gradually lessens his powers before he is aware of it. When he suddenly awakens to the fact that his manhood is going from him he becomes panic-stricken, and in vain attempts to many disreputable schemes. But all attempts at recovery are vain without the help of a genuine scientific treatment.

"I do not believe," says Prof. Pierre Favaron, in a lecture on Nerve Filaments, delivered at Paris, France, "that a single human being has ever ABSOLUTELY and PERMANENTLY cured of the evil effects of Spermatorrhea, or Varicocele, or restored from Impotency, until the discovery and use of Professor Laborde's formula of Calthos. I unhesitatingly say to students present that his preparation of Calthos has absolutely cured every case that has been under treatment by the professors of our university, and I believe EVERY CASE IS A PERMANENT ONE."

The formula of Calthos by Professor Laborde, saw another distinguished French physician, Jules Beauregard, M. D., recognized as one of the ablest practitioners of Europe in the treatment of nervous diseases, cure absolute specific for Spermatorrhea, Varicocele, and Impotency, and I do not believe there is a single case that it will not permanently cure.

This extraordinary vital restorative is the only known remedy composed upon scientific principles for the absolute cure of nervous weakness and impaired manhood. It is the only treatment which will cure the EFFETUS, no matter what the cause may be. It is the only remedy that will cure at any and every stage of the trouble, except after it has progressed into epilepsy, consumption, or insanity. Calthos has for many years been used in the French and German armies, and its marvelous success abroad has led to its introduction in the United States. The Von Muhl Company, of Cincinnati, Ohio, possess the sole American rights. In order to make the unparalleled merit of the great discovery known to everyone in need of it, this company has decided to send, on request, a full five days' treatment of CALTHOS ABSOLUTELY FREE.

We are willing to give you this trial treatment without cost to you, because we are sure it will convince you that YOU CAN BE CURED. We never make public the names of those who have been cured by Calthos, but our responsibility and business standing can be vouched for by any national bank or express agent, or by any official in Cincinnati.
