

Children's Day.

Tomorrow will bring forth an opportunity to buy some really high-grade children's suits here for as little as you're asked elsewhere for the trashy sorts.

The result of some clever deals we have recently closed—where almighty cash and needy manufacturers played the principal parts.

It's not very often that a chance like this occurs—because it's not very often that real meritorious merchandise has to be sacrificed.

But we've secured a few hundred suits under price—and tomorrow you shall have the benefit of our close buying.

- $1.50 Ask for lot 104 and you'll see a nicely-made veste suit at $1.50. Made of Scotch cheviot, neatly braided, and easily worth $2. Sizes 2 to 8—for the "little fellows."
- $2.25 Lot 1219 is a beautiful Scotch Cheviot veste suit, with a large blue collar, fancily braided. The sort of suit you would expect to pay $3 for, but will only cost $2.25 tomorrow.
- $2.50 Lot 1221 is a sturdy cheviot, made of finer style and elaborately braided. Nicely made and faultless fitting. A far more worth $3.50 under ordinary circumstances.
- $3.50 Lot 1212 is a true blue (or black) Cheviot Suit, made and trimmed in a superior manner. For boys 7 to 14, a strictly dress suit worth $5.00.
- $3.00 Lot 1222 is that bluish checked cheviot, so fashionable just now. A handsome garment, strong enough for school or swell enough for dress, and well worth $4. Sizes 5 to 16.
- $6.50 Lot 1213 is a special lot consisting of long pants suits for boys 14 to 18. A strong Cheviot of nobby colors—cut in the latest style, and worth $8.00.

PETTY CHIEFS ARROGANT

Insurgent Generals Defy the Authority of Aguinaldo.

EXECUTION OF A LEADER

Spanish Prisoners at Balicuan in a Starving Condition—The Dictator Greatly Worried Over the Situation—His Power on the Wane, Priests Held Incommunicado.

New York, Oct. 7.—Dispatches from Manila via Paris say: Artachio, who was a fellow leader with Aguinaldo in a former revolution, and brought suit against Aguinaldo for half the money which was paid by Spain to make peace, has been shot by order of the insurgent leaders at Malolos. It is doubtful whether Aguinaldo was a consenting party to the execution. The sender of the dispatch says he visited the dictator at Malolos, and is convinced that he is only a figurehead, put forward by a kind of revolutionary trust in which a mestizo named Juan Paterno is the moving spirit.

He desired to visit the Spanish prisoners at Balicuan and was told frankly by Paterno that even Aguinaldo could not give a pass without the consent of the secret committee of the members of which are not in the dictator's cabinet. There are 120 Spanish prisoners at Balicuan. They are literally starving. There are also twenty-four priests, who are held incommunicado, despite the fact that they are noncombatants.

The insurgent party is becoming more disorganized every day. The disease is setting up a little government on its own account, and no one is paying great attention to Aguinaldo's orders.

The dictator looks and evidently feels greatly worried over the conditions prevailing here, as well as with the uncertainty attending upon the result of the meeting in Paris. Paterno openly advocates independence, and has no new cases of smallpox among the American troops since Sunday. The disease is now well under control. Of the twelve cases in the pesthouse eight have died. Private Horace Powers, of the First California, died of smallpox, and Private Edward Braham, of the same regiment, died of typhoid fever on Wednesday.

A SETTLEMENT IN SIGHT.

The Quebec Conference Will Adjourn for a Month on Monday. Monday next has been definitely fixed upon as the date of adjournment of the Joint High Commission. After a vacation of at least a month the commissioners will meet in Washington, and since a form of treaty is now a certainty, it is desired by the American commissioners that it should be signed in their capital.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier still holds out for Ottawa.

The commission sat today for about an hour. The Alaska boundary dispute and fisheries questions were further considered.

It is said that there will be no adjustment of the Alaska boundary dispute unless Canada obtains ample facilities for shipping supplies into the Klondike without experiencing restrictions at the hands of America.

One result of the negotiations will apparently be a compact insuring a perpetual bonding privilege for the railroads traversing both countries. The regulations in this respect will be left to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Thus far fourteen articles have been agreed upon as the basis for a reciprocity treaty. An American commissioner said today that a settlement was in sight. The Americans will also secure free canals.

Last night the American commissioners entertained a hundred ladies and gentlemen, including Lord and Lady Aberdeen and leading citizens, in return for the courtesies extended them here.

GEN. KITCHENER AT CAIRO.

He Denies He Was Fired On by the French in Mistake.

Cairo, Oct. 7.—Gen. Kitchener, the commander of the Anglo-Egyptian expedition in the Sudan, arrived here yesterday, having journeyed from Omdurman in record time—seventy-four hours. The streets were lined with troops and a great reception from the populace. Officers accompanying Gen. Kitchener say that Major Marchand, the French officer at Fashoda, had been shot in moderation and courtesy. Gen. Kitchener denies the story that the French at Fashoda fired on the British, mistaking the latter for Derwisches.

LABORERS FOR THE LORD.

The Convention of the Christian Missionary Society. Last night at the close of the second day's session of the twenty-first annual convention of the Christian Missionary Society of Maryland, Delaware and the District of Columbia, a meeting was held by the Women's Christian Board of Missions at the Ninth Street Christian Church.

The meeting was opened by Miss Lena Summy, of Washington, who read the devotional exercises. Miss Ainslie, of Baltimore, introduced the Rev. C. T. Sweeney, who delivered a strong address on the "Power of God Unto Salvation." The convention will be brought to a close this evening. There was a Sunday school session this morning and addresses by local delegates.

THE ENGLISH MISSION.

No Action Likely Until the President's Return From Omaha. It was announced at the White House today that the President will not make known his selection of an ambassador to England to succeed Secretary Hay until he returns from his Omaha trip. Mr. White, the first secretary of the embassy at London, is giving the Administration great satisfaction in the discharge of the duties of the office in the absence of an ambassador, and for this reason, it is said, the President is in no hurry to appoint Col. Hay's successor.

The belief still prevails that Senator McMillan of Michigan will be appointed to the post.

The Last of the $7.50 Suits and Top Coats

And they'll go before closing time tomorrow night! Good chance for you. The time's just ripe for such a bargain as either of these. Cold weather leaders both.

The Suits are the peers of any that you can buy at $10. They're made up in all the good, well-wearing cloths.

The Top Coats are English coverts, in tans, browns and grays. Swagger in cut and finish—$12 is nearer the price than what we're selling 'em at.

THE CASE AGAINST QUAY

His Friends Think it Will Result in His Favor.

OTHERS EXPECT HIS DEFEAT

An Impression That the Class of Republicans Sent to the Legislature in Pennsylvania Will Not Be Influenced by Charges of Speculating With State Funds.

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—The probable effect politically of the hearing in the case of Senator Quay and his fellow-defendants in the People's Bank scandal engenders a great deal of popular attention. The opinions expressed are in many cases the result of the personal sympathy or political trend of the speaker. One class of men would say that Quay's enemies have not "proved anything serious against the 'old man,'" while others contend that the case against the senator was as clear as crystal. Perhaps the consensus of disinterested opinion was that the testimony submitted before Magistrate Jermon might seriously affect the senator's political prospects.

Municipal Leaguers are encouraged to believe that the charges against Quay will react in favor of their ticket in this city, while the followers of the Prohibition nominee for governor are sure it will increase the Swallow vote. Democrats who expressed themselves did not appear to think it would help Jenks very much. Some persons believe that Quay's election is now out of the question. Others say that the affair will cut no figure in the senatorial fight. The kind of men who are sent to the legislature, as a rule, some persons argue, would not let a charge of speculating in stocks with them put out on top. "Just watch the 'old man.'"

The "plum tree" telegram was more spoken of than any other single feature of the testimony, and much speculation was indulged in as to what was meant by Senator Quay in the sentence "I will shake the plum tree." Quay's opponents said it meant that he would shake more money out of the State treasury, but his friends thought that he intended to share profits with Hopkins, the cashier, when he sold the securities whose purchase he ordered in the telegram in question.

There is also considerable talk about Mr. Quay's assertion in the statement he issued Wednesday night, that he had not had an account with the People's Bank, but was not and never had been in any way interested in the Guarantors Company.

A leading broker, who was asked what view was taken of the matter on the Stock Exchange, replied: "Well, it has settled the fact that Quay is a heavy speculator, but this did not surprise us so much as did the testimony, showing how generous he was in putting up collateral."
