Fall Furniture Trade Starts Here With Magical Energy.

The amount of value we're giving in Fall Furniture offerings is strikingly indicative of our supremacy. The early activity in selling is the verdict of approval passed upon our stocks. Our progressiveness was never more characterized than in this season's purchases. Many days previous, while our own building was heavily laden with stocks, we placed our fall orders. In this way we were warranted better-made furniture, at a big price concession (because it supplied labor that would have been idle). The unexpected happened. Prices in the meantime advanced to frightful proportions, catching the unfortunate merchant in a position to pay higher prices. So it is that we're able to give better values for less money. No other firm in this city can truthfully maintain a claim to sell equally as cheap. Personal comparisons are the truest tests.

Jockey Odum's False Alarms.

Travelers at the Pennsylvania Railroad station last night had considerable amusement at the expense of Jockey Odum, the successful little rider, who spent yesterday with his parents in this city. Odum, with his father and mother, were waiting for a train when Odum declared he had been robbed of his purse containing $20. The police were notified, and began a search of the station for suspicious characters, but before any arrests were made Odum found his purse intact in his valise.

Driver Hurt in a Runaway.

An ice wagon belonging to William Bishop, of 648 Pennsylvania Avenue southeast, collided with car 102 on the City and Suburban Railroad at the corner of Eleventh and O Streets northwest, at 10:15 this morning, causing the horse attached to the wagon to run away. The driver, Charles Row, seventeen years old, was thrown from his seat on the wagon and the wheels passed over his right foot. He was removed to the hospital, where it was found that his injuries were slight. The horse ran to his stable.

A Victim of Strong Drink.

August Miller, the proprietor of one of the most prosperous barber shops in this city, was arraigned in the Police Court this morning as a vagrant. The law defines a vagrant as a "person without visible means of support; an idle, disorderly person; a person of evil-life and fame; found repeatedly drunk in and about the streets, avenues, alleys, roads, and highways of the District of Columbia." From the evidence of the policeman and a number of respectable citizens, it was positively proven that Miller was not without visible means of support, as he was engaged in business in Anacostia, and consequently Miller was neither idle nor disorderly. He has been found repeatedly drunk in and about the streets, and was begging money from pedestrians when arrested. Miller was in a pitiable condition when brought into court this morning, and bore evidences of a protracted spree. Judge Kimball has known the man from boyhood, and he was very much surprised to see him in this condition. When asked if he had anything to say, Miller requested the judge to send him to the workhouse. He said he was not satisfied with what he could get out of the liquor habit if sent home. The judge delivered the man to the workhouse, and sent him down for fifteen days.

A Husband Sues for Divorce.

Richard A. Frisby today filed a petition for divorce from his wife, Katie Frisby, whom he alleges has deserted him and refused to return. The parties were married in this city in 1892, and lived together until 1897, when the complainant declares, without just cause, the defendant deserted him and his home.

Another Telephone Suit.

The firm of Lippin & Davis, doing business at the southeast corner of Seventh and F Streets, northwest, today through their attorney, George Burgess, filed a petition for injunction against the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, asking that the defendant be enjoined from removing the telephone instruments and appliances from their place of business. The suit is brought for the purpose of compelling the defendant to comply with the act of Congress of June 20, 1898, fixing the rate to be paid for telephone service in the District.

Arrested for Assault.

Policeman Reedy, of the Second precinct, yesterday arrested and locked up John Gray, colored, whose home is at 1629 Cooksey's Alley northwest, on a charge of assault, committed on John Smith, also colored, whose age is given as fifty years. The assault occurred Saturday night at the corner of Ninth and F Streets northwest. The men were engaged in an altercation, when Gray struck Smith on the head, inflicting a severe scalp wound. The injury was dressed at the Homeopathic Hospital, and a general lookout posted for Smith. The man succeeded in evading arrest until 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He will be arraigned in the Police Court this morning.

Wheeling Around the Globe.

Harry Jackson, Alexander Spiro, and Victor Pagan, of New York, who left that city last Wednesday for a bicycle tour around the globe, arriving in Philadelphia September 7, at 1:45 P. M., and Baltimore September 10, reached this city yesterday at 8:30 o'clock. They will leave here next Wednesday for Cincinnati, and go from there to Chicago. After reaching Chicago they will decide upon the route to be pursued. These young men depend entirely upon the public for their living, as they left New York without money. They expect to work their way across the ocean, unless they secure enough money for a more comfortable trip. They expect to complete their tour in two years.

Crushed by a Freight Car. Andrew Robinson, colored, fifteen years old, was brought into Emergency Hospital this morning with his right foot almost severed, the toes and ankle being crushed and mangled into shreds. The boy lives in Prince George county, Md., and with a number of companions was playing on the tracks of the Chesapeake Beach Railroad. The boys were amusing themselves jumping on and off freight cars which were being shifted about on the sidings near Benning. Robinson was on one of these cars, and in attempting to jump off lost his footing and was precipitated to the ground. His right foot was caught on the rails, however, and the forward wheels of the car in the rear of the one from which he had jumped passed over his ankle. An ambulance was summoned and the boy was removed to the hospital as quickly as possible. An examination by the surgeons showed that the injuries were of such a nature that amputation will be necessary, and the operation will probably be performed this afternoon.
