

GENERAL YULE RETIRING

His British Forces Falling Back From Dundee.

The Movement Said to Be for the Purpose of Effecting a Junction With White's Troops...

THE POWERS MAY PROTEST.

A Report That a Joint Note Will Be Issued.

The officials of the State Department are very reticent concerning the reported movement on foot among the leading European nations to address a joint note to Great Britain...

Germany, France, Russia, Italy, Austria, Belgium, and Holland, it is said, are considering the future policy of Great Britain in South Africa...

General Yule has fallen back in order to effect a junction with General White. He halted last night sixteen miles south of Dundee...

Mr. Wyndham read a telegram from General Sir Fred Forester-Walker, the present commander of the British forces in South Africa...

The House voted 237 to 25 to raise $5,000,000 by the issuance of treasury bills. It also authorized the payment of $10,000,000 from the consolidated fund.

General Yule reports that his wounded are being treated the same as the British soldiers. General Yule says he has no doubt the Boers will treat the wounded British prisoners equally as well.

Many are of the opinion that the war office is in possession of detailed information concerning the second battle of Clinch. It is believed that when the news from the English troops achieve a decisive victory...

The United States is obviously friendly toward Great Britain in every respect. It is said, England will at least have the moral support of this country.

THE VIEWS OF MR. TOWER.

He Says American Relations With Russia Are Amicable.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—(Charlemagne Tower, the American Ambassador to Russia, will return to St. Petersburg on October 28. He says he has been taking a short holiday on the Continent.)

Mr. Tower says the relations between the United States and Russia are of the most amicable nature. There is no doubt of the importance of the pending questions, especially in regard to the coming arbitration of the Behring Sea matter...

JOSEPH GARABAD'S CASE.

Secretary Has Probing Charges of His Ill-treatment.

Secretary of State Hay today ordered that an investigation be made into the case of the Salvation Army Turk, Joseph Garabadi, who was arrested while on a visit to Constantinople...

According to the information received Garabadi was imprisoned upon his landing in Turkey, despite the fact that he had a United States passport and the other necessary papers to show his American citizenship.

The investigation which has been ordered by the State Department is being partially to determine as to whether or not the consul in question has been remiss in his duty.

Should it be developed that he has been, disciplinary measures will be taken at once, and if the facts in the case warrant it he will be relieved from duty.

The Turk has long been a Salvation Army extorter in this country, and has boasted that he has arrested something like forty times for street speaking in various American cities.

Found Dead in His Room.

NEW BRUNSWICK, Oct. 24.—Thomas T. White died suddenly at his home Sunday evening from thrombosis of the heart. In the afternoon he went to his room to bed. In the evening members of the family went to his room, and as he was apparently sleeping they did not disturb him. At 11 o'clock they found him dead. He was fifty-four years old and a member of Robert Rogers Post, No. 67, G. A. R. He fought in the Eleventh New Jersey Volunteers. He leaves a widow and several children.

Horses Perish in the Flames.

RED BANK, N. J., Oct. 24.—Gleason & Daly's brood mare stable, near Holmdel, was burned last night. Twenty-two horses and six fillies perished in the flames. There is no fire department in the neighborhood, and it was impossible to save the building. A number of men from the station were rescued from the burning building. The origin of the fire is not known.

A Railing on Pension Postage.

In response to an enquiry from the Secretary of the Interior, today Acting Postmaster General Heath wrote a letter to that official to the effect that there is no authority to deliver postpaid matter addressed to pension agents of the United States Government, collecting the additional postage due thereon.

WARNED THE INSURGENTS

Notices Sent to the Newspapers Published in Manila.

A Press Censorship That Prohibits the Publication of Proposed Army Maneuvers—No Embargo on Printing News of Battles or Movements That Have Been Completed.

MANILA, Oct. 24.—A local press censorship has just been established by General Otis. In order, it is said, to prevent the newspapers here from warning the enemy in advance of the movements of American troops and the disposition of ammunition and supplies.

General orders have been issued expressly prohibiting the printing in the public press of any article or item of news reporting direct or indirectly the arrival or departure or the transfer or other movement of troops. It permits, however, the publication of reports of battles or any movements that have been completed.

The object of the order is to stop the local custom of anticipating everything concerning army operations. Heretofore the papers here were allowed to print everything, while the cable dispatches to the American newspapers were sometimes detained.

DRIVEN OUT OF NEGROS.

General Otis Reports the Rout of the Panay Insurgents.

In a telegram to the War Department this morning General Otis tells of three more fights with bands of Filipino insurgents. The Panay rebels have been driven out of Negros and two bands have been routed by American and native soldiers.

ORDERED TO MANILA.

The Forty-eighth Volunteers to Leave Fort Thomas.

Orders for the movement of the Forty-eighth Volunteers from Fort Thomas to San Francisco were telegraphed this morning by the War Department to the commanding general of the Department of the Lakes today. The telegram says:

"Secretary of War directs that the Forty-eighth Regiment Infantry, United States Volunteers, be relieved duty at Fort Thomas, Ky., and on the 7th day of November proceed, fully armed and equipped, with two hundred rounds of ammunition per man and proper tentage, by rail to San Francisco, Cal., preparatory for embarkation at that point for the Philippine Islands."

Superintendent Lewis then wrote another letter to the chairman of the Board of Visitors to the effect that the act of Congress, cited before, did refer to the Freedman's Hospital, but that the act of Mr. Lewis based his conclusion was the following paragraph:

"That hereafter the several institutions included under the head of asylums, reformatories, industrial schools, and charities named in this act, and succeeding appropriation acts for the support of the District of Columbia, shall report to the District of Columbia, and in each year before the 1st day of October of each year a full and detailed account of the receipts and expenditures and all other operations."

LAWLESSNESS IN CHICAGO.

Three Men and One Woman Attacked by Highwaymen.

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Miss Ida Vernon, an actress, was knocked down at 7 o'clock last evening and her pocketbook taken from her in Eldredge Place. Miss Vernon was on her way to the theatre. A man snatched her satchel, but she held it. Then he knocked her down, took the satchel, and disappeared in an alley running off Eldredge Place. The satchel contained little of value.

Highway robbers tried to force Dennis Aclern to surrender a valuable horse and buggy which he was driving on West Fourth Street last night. Aclern is a well-to-do man and fought the highwaymen until a policeman appeared. The robbers ran, and though pursued, made their escape.

IN THE SUPREME COURT.

Testimony Heard in Six Important Railroad Suits.

The United States Supreme Court today heard argument in six cases. The first was that of the United States, appellant, against John H. Benson, contended from yesterday. Immediately after the case was disposed of the long-litigated suit of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, plaintiff in error, against Maria Amacker, et al., was called, and argument heard. The suit was brought to recover damages due for the alleged seizure of lands by the company.

The third argument embraced the following consolidated cases: Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad Company, petitioner, against C. H. Bosworth, receiver, et al. The Hunting Elevator Company, et al., against C. H. Bosworth, receiver, et al. and C. H. Bosworth, receiver, et al., against the Carr, Ryder & Engler Company.

All of these suits at law were the result of a loss by fire in 1894, of a large number of freight cars and their contents. The fire took place at East St. Louis. The owners of the cars and their contents held Bosworth, as receiver, responsible for the loss of the goods. He disclaims responsibility, alleging as a reason that the cars had been delivered to him as receiver to the next carrier company, the Terminal Railroad Company, and that this company and not himself as receiver, was responsible.

Guarded by a Rooster.

LANGHORNE, Pa., Oct. 24.—In his cozy little home near Midway, where he dwelt alone for nearly a half century, "Daddy" Baker, an octogenarian, is dead. The strange old man's only companions were a hen and his pet rooster, which he surrounded himself. His favorite was a Shanghai rooster, which kept watch over his domicile and allowed no one to enter the yard without showing a fight. A few years ago he owned a parrot, which he died at an advanced age, had not a feather on its body.

Burning of a Roller Mill.

BERKELEY SPRINGS, Va., Oct. 24.—Fire originating in the engine room yesterday afternoon destroyed the large roller mill of the Noland & Kidwell Milling Company, at Great Cacapon, Morgan county, W. Va., along the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. Beside the mill, valued at $2,000, a large quantity of wheat was consumed. The Western Union wires were all burned down.

THE CABINET MEETING.

Statements Made by Secretary Gage and Root.

The Cabinet met today, with Secretary Hay, Secretary Gage, Secretary Root, Secretary Wilson, and Secretary Hitchcock present. The session lasted for an hour and three-quarters, most of the time being consumed with statements from Secretary Gage on the condition of the Treasury and Secretary Root on the condition of the army.

Col. Charles Denby, of the Philippine Commission, called while the Cabinet was in session, and the President excused himself and spent some time talking with Colonel Denby. The Commission will probably be held in session Thursday, as Admiral Dewey and Colonel Denby are already in Washington and Prof. Worcester is expected to arrive tonight and Prof. Schurman tomorrow.

In his talk to the Cabinet Secretary Gage announced that there was an unusually large surplus now on hand in the Treasury, and that the surplus would continue to increase, but that there were many expenditures on the part of the War Department which would require reduction. The sending of the several new regiments to the Philippines is costing the Government thousands of dollars and other expenditures of the War Department amount to large sums.

The question of consular trade in the Philippines was also discussed, and it was decided to register all vessels that call at the ports of the Philippines, and these vessels shall bring under Spanish registration and be hampered in their trading. Though the vessels will be registered in America, they will still be subject to such military restrictions as General Otis or Rear Admiral Watson deem expedient.

A HOSPITAL CONTROVERSY.

Two Officials Involved Over an Annual Report.

The superintendent of charities of the District, Herbert W. Lewis, and George E. Evans, chairman of the Board of Visitors, of Freedman's Hospital, have been having a controversy as to the propriety of Mr. Evans submitting a report to the Commissioners of the conduct of affairs at that institution for the last year, and considerable correspondence has passed between them, some of which is of quite a breezy nature.

Mr. Lewis wrote to Mr. Evans on October 18, stating that he had abandoned the government without having notified the cabinet or government council, as required by the constitution of the republic; that his whereabouts was unknown; and that directly upon the flight of the President his cabinet had resigned. A new cabinet had been named.

The most dramatic feature of the demonstration was the formal liberation of General Hernandez, who was incarcerated in the prison of the Republic. The Republic of the Philippines was proclaimed, and out of the blood of martyred patriots grew the party which had come to be known as "The Liberal Restorers of Institutions."

The Secretary of State received today from Minister Loomis at Caracas a cablegram saying that the government of Venezuela has been turned over to Castro by the acting President of the republic. "Castro seems very popular," says the despatch.

THE VIKING NOT TO SAIL.

The Converted Yacht Found Unsuitable for the Duty Assigned Her.

After fitting out with a modern battery, placing ammunition and stores on board, and otherwise preparing her for sea, the gunboat Viking has been found to be unfit for the work to which she was assigned, and has been placed out of commission. All the work done on this fast converted yacht has gone for naught and she will probably be sold.

It was intended to send her to Central America to look out for the interests of American citizens, relieving the Vixen of that duty. She was made over into a very good gunboat with 200-pound guns, and placed in commission when the work of conversion was finished. When the authorities at the Norfolk navy yard came to provision her for the voyage it was found that she was not strong enough to carry her guns and crew and to exit on for even a comparatively brief period. As much of the work of the Viking would be in guarding American interests at ports where internal disturbances made the purchase of food impossible, the department was compelled to abandon its intention to assign the gunboat to Central American waters.

GENERAL ALEXANDER RETURNS.

The Boundary Dispute Between Nicaragua and Costa Rica.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Gen. A. P. Alexander, who was appointed by President Cleveland during the latter part of his administration as arbitrator in the boundary dispute between Costa Rica and Nicaragua, arrived from Greytown, Nicaragua, yesterday on the steamship Atlas. General Alexander went to the Hotel Marlborough, where he will remain until this afternoon. On account of a telegram which he received last evening from his wife, who is ill, he is expected to leave for his home at Atlanta, Ga.

"This boundary line," said the general this morning, "has been in dispute for over forty years. There was a treaty about it in 1850, but as the two countries could never quite agree as to what the terms of the treaty meant they decided a few years ago to make a general survey of the whole territory in dispute and fix a boundary line. President Cleveland appointed me an arbitrator, and I've been down there now almost three years. There were two reports from Costa Rica and two from Nicaragua. The whole boundary line is about 200 miles long. I shall not go back unless called, but there are only about fifty more miles to survey, and I expect the whole line will be clearly established within two or three months."

A Wife Charges Desertion.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 24.—The suit for divorce of Gertrude Bouteau against her husband, Howell S. Bouteau, of New York city, was called yesterday. Her story was that while studying art in Philadelphia, three years ago, she met Bouteau, who was then a student at the University of Pennsylvania. They fell in love and went to Camden and were married. The young woman returned to her home in this city and received one affectionate letter from her husband. Subsequently she received a letter from him in which he said he did not wish to see her again. She charged desertion. No decision was rendered.

A Child Killed by a Team.

WALKERSVILLE, Md., Oct. 24.—The nine-year-old daughter of Jacob Carlin, colored, was run over in Walkersville, Frederick county, Saturday afternoon by a four-horse team and died from the effects of her injuries several hours later. She and another girl were driving cows down a county road and seeing the team approaching ran up on an embankment to get out of the way. When the team was about passing she attempted to go down the hill and run across the road. She fell and was run over, falling beneath the hind wheels, and ran over her two legs below the hips, badly mangled them.

CASTRO WILLILY CHEERED

Caracas Warm Welcome to the Venezuelan Revolutionist.

General Hernandez, Who Was Held as a Prisoner in the Government House During the Administration of Former President Andrade, Released—Addresses to the People.

CARACAS, Venezuela, Oct. 24.—General Castro, who entered the capital of Venezuela on Sunday evening, delivered an address last evening to the citizens and the soldiery which aroused intense enthusiasm. It was one of the greatest demonstrations which has occurred within the history of the republic. The plaza was crowded with citizens, thousands of women mingling in the cheering and shouting throng. All the Government buildings were illuminated, as were many of the business houses and private dwellings. There was no house, no matter how humble, above which the flag of the republic did not fly. There was scarcely a window in the city from which the national flag was not seen.

General Castro reviewed the exploits of his army in vanquishing the partisans of Andrade. He told of each victory that he had won, and as each sentence fell from his lips, the multitude cheered frantically. A phrensy of enthusiasm swept through the crowds that jammed the plaza in front of the national palace, and the triumph which had been erected for the occasion in front of the government palace. General Castro said that when he began operations against the Andrade regime, he collected around him on the Colombian frontiers sixty patriots. Victory after victory crowned his arms, and the people of state after state enrolled themselves beneath his standard. Out of the smoke of battle arose the hopes of the friends of the Republic, and out of the blood of martyred patriots grew the party which had come to be known as "The Liberal Restorers of Institutions."

General Castro emphasized the points which he had abandoned the government without having notified the cabinet or government council, as required by the constitution of the republic; that his whereabouts was unknown; and that directly upon the flight of the President his cabinet had resigned. A new cabinet had been named.

MR. BRYAN IN NEBRASKA.

Large Crowds Listen to His Campaign Speeches.

STROMSBURG, Neb., Oct. 24.—Amid the roar of seven bands and the acclaim of many thousand people from the surrounding country, Col. W. J. Bryan at 10 o'clock this morning made the initial campaign of his closing tour for the present campaign in Nebraska. Two hours later he was addressing a multitude at Osceola and early in the afternoon he spoke at 1,900 people at the small town of Shelbyville, while en route to Rising City, where he will speak at 3 o'clock. Then he will go to David City for a 5 o'clock speech, and close the day's work at Schuyler, at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Bryan is provoking a great deal of enthusiasm in this section of the State. His partisans claim that the crowds are larger and more enthusiastic than four years ago, but the Republican managers, who are keeping close tabs on his movements, declare that a considerable percentage of those making up the crowds are Republicans who come out of curiosity. The fusion forces in Nebraska, feeling certain that Bryan would roll up increased Democratic gains.

BATTLE ON THE TEXAN BORDER.

A Fatal Shooting Affray Between Americans and Mexicans.

EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 24.—Just as the baseball excursionists from Bisbee, Ariz., about 50 in number, were about to leave Naco, Mexico, on a train yesterday, a fight started between the Mexican guards and some American cowboys. One Mexican guard was killed and several Americans were wounded. One man named Ryan was killed and a miner from Bisbee was shot through the leg.

The fight was the result of a drunken row on the Mexican side of the border between the American guards and the American cowboys. One Mexican guard was killed and several Americans were wounded. One man named Ryan was killed and a miner from Bisbee was shot through the leg.

The latest advice from Bisbee describes the situation at Naco as critical. It has been learned that James Ryan, who was killed by Mexicans on Sunday, was a British subject and steps are being taken by the British subjects at Naco to have the affair investigated by their government.

Joe Rhodes, an American cowboy, was arrested and placed in jail on the Mexican side. Excitement is high here and there is talk of running an armel posse into Mexico.

GENERAL MILES AT OMAHA.

He is Received by a Civil and Military Procession.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 24.—General Miles, accompanied by Mrs. Miles, Miss Call Bates, Miss Manning Hoyt, Frank B. Hall of New York, Volney Davis of Chicago, and Capt. F. Michler of Washington, arrived in Omaha this morning. They were welcomed by a fine military and civic display consisting of a column of regulars, the Thurston Rifles, Col. W. F. Coyle, and the officers of the Department of Missouri. President George Miller was at the head of the exposition force and the citizens committees which greeted the party. They were conducted to the Exposition grounds where a special program had been arranged for the occasion.

THE FEVER IN FLORIDA.

Twenty-two New Cases at Key West and Eleven at Miami.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 24.—Key West reported twenty-two new cases of yellow fever and two deaths last night. Miami reports eleven new cases for yesterday. The disease is very mild. Dr. Porter is anxious to get off all persons likely to take the disease, and has given them until Wednesday afternoon to decide about sending a trainload to the North Carolina or Georgia mountains. As Jacksonville is in such a healthy condition no anxiety is felt here.

GENERAL LEE COMING HOME.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 24.—A telegram received from Gen. Fitzhugh Lee states that he left Cuba for Richmond yesterday. He will probably arrive here tomorrow. General Lee will take part in the ceremonies attending the launching of the Government torpedo boat Shubrick on October 31. General Lee is expected to spend several weeks in Virginia. He has been expecting for a month or more to visit here on a furlough.

A Crank at the White House.

AUGUST ROGGE, a German, thirty-eight years old, was arrested at the White House shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon and locked up at No. 1 station pending an examination. Rogge called at the President's Mansion and demanded to see Mr. McKinley on what he claimed to be an important business. He was refused an audience, and at once became demonstrative. His loud exclamations and queer actions soon roused Sergeant Williams, who at once took the man into custody. It is thought that Rogge is suffering from a mild attack of dementia.

DEWEY VISITS HIS HOME

The Residence to Be Ready for Him Tomorrow Evening.

The Admiral Well Pleased With the Appearance of the Structure—A Description of the Rooms and Furnishings—Everything of a Substantial and Attractive Character.

The home of Admiral Dewey, 1747 Rhode Island Avenue, will be ready for occupation by tomorrow evening. The owner, James E. Fitch, is engaged with a force of men finishing the special arrangements and putting in coal for the winter.

Admiral Dewey went through the house with Mr. Fitch this morning, and expressed his satisfaction with the appearance of everything and his delight at the prospect of early occupancy. Nearly everything at present in the house will remain.

Assistant Secretary Vanderlip of the Treasury Department expects to receive the abstract of title for the property this afternoon, and if pronounced all right by the Solicitor of the Treasury, the money will be paid tomorrow and the papers delivered to the Admiral.

It is not improbable that Admiral Dewey will move into his new home as soon as it is ready for him, although, as stated by Private Secretary Crawford, he may remain at the Everett until the end of the month. It is expected that the Admiral's son will pay him a visit as soon as he becomes settled in his new home.

The pictures in the new cabinet that once belonged to a King of Denmark, and a few other things will remain the property of Mr. Fitch. The house will not be dismantled, however, and these objects until such time as Admiral Dewey may suggest.
