THE ARMY MEDICAL REPORT

Annual Statement of Surgeon General George M. Sternberg.

Important and Interesting Details of Hospital Work Among the Troops. Treatment of Special and Epidemic Diseases—Killed and Wounded.

George M. Sternberg, Surgeon General of the United States Army, has rendered his annual report to the Secretary of War, which was today made public by the Adjutant General, Surgeon General Sternberg makes a statement showing the total expenditures of the department for the year ended June 30, 1901.

"Under the laws relating to artificial limbs there were furnished during the year ended June 30, 1901, 37 artificial legs, 2 arms and 2 feet, while commutation certificates were issued and paid in the case of 151 amputated legs, 113 amputated arms, 9 amputated feet, and 2,844 cases in which the loss of the use of a limb was regarded as proved by the evidence on file.

"The act of Congress approved June 6, 1900, appropriated $19,000 for the support and medical treatment of destitute patients in the city of Washington, D. C., under a contract to be made with Providence Hospital.

"The total number of specimens in the Army Medical Museum on June 30, 1901, was 24,588; 812 specimens were discarded or transferred and 381 added during the year.

"All the medical officers of the volunteers, staff and regimental, appointed under previous acts of Congress were mustered out of service June 2, 1901. Under the act approved February 2, 1901, there were appointed for service in the Division of the Philippines 20 surgeons with the rank of major and 150 assistant surgeons with the rank of captain.

"The health of the army must be regarded as having been unusually good during the calendar year 1901; but to give a proper valuation to this statement the statistics of our army from the time of the civil war must be taken into consideration. For many years after that war the admissions to sick report, discharges for disability and deaths were in a measure similar to those reported during the past year, but then they were the result of a high percentage of the troops in the United States while now they result from what practically has been war service in the Philippines.

"The health of the army must be regarded as having been unusually good during the calendar year 1901; but to give a proper valuation to this statement the statistics of our army from the time of the civil war must be taken into consideration. "In the Philippines Islands, with a mean strength of 66,882, the admission rate was 262.16, as compared with 236.52 in the previous year, this increase being mainly due to the increase in the admission rate for which rose from 189.21 to 251.75. The regulars, on the other hand, showed a decrease in the admission rate from 237.72 to 237.72. Two-thirds of the admissions were due to diseases which fell from 254,410 to 237,720. Two-thirds of the admissions were due to diseases which fell from 254,410 to 237,720.

"The following shows this gradual improvement: Mean annual admission rate of the decade ending with 1889, 56.68 per thousand of strength. Admission rate for 1889, 51.1; for 1890, 50.7; for 1891, 50.2; for 1892, 49.7; for 1893, 49.2; for 1894, 48.7; for 1895, 48.2; for 1896, 47.7; for 1897, 47.2; for 1898, 46.7; for 1899, 46.2; for 1900, 45.7; for 1901, 45.2.

"During the calendar year 1901, 577 men were killed by gunshot, 206 in action, and 21 by accident; 30 of the deaths were suicidal and 21 homicidal. Besides the 577 killed by gunshot, 1,137 were received in the hospital for treatment; 282 were incurred in action, 316 not in action, but in line of duty, 57 not in line of duty, while 119 were suicidal and 21 homicidal.

"Ninety-two of the 1,137 cases proved fatal; 79 of which were battle wounds; 12 received in line of duty, 1 not in line of duty; 4 were suicidal, and 2 homicidal. Of the total number of deaths, 100 were from gunshot wounds, 303 from other causes, and the wounded 257. One man was killed for every 21 men wounded. This is a much better record than that of the year 1899, when the death rate was 1.58 and the wounded 257 for every 21 men wounded.

"Scientific Investigations Made. In my last annual report I referred to the appointment of a board of general investigating scientific investigations with reference to the acute infectious diseases prevailing on the island of Cuba. This board, consisting of Major Walter Reed, Surgeon General, and Major James Carroll, Assistant Surgeon, and Jesse W. Lazenby, U. S. A., arrived at the Spanish Colonies, Havana, Cuba, on June 25, 1901.

"Further experiments of a most interesting character demonstrated that yellow fever is transmitted by the bite of a mosquito that has previously fed on the blood of some sick with this disease. The mosquito which is the cause of the disease is the yellow fever mosquito, Culex tarsalis, which is found in the adjacent town of Guantamo, Cuba, during the latter part of the month of May, was still present so that an opportunity was afforded for bacteriological and pathological studies of this disease. The results obtained were especially valuable, showing that the bacillus tetraenocephalus is the cause of the disease, and that the mosquito serves as an intermediate host for the parasite.

"The health of the army must be regarded as having been unusually good during the calendar year 1901; but to give a proper valuation to this statement the statistics of our army from the time of the civil war must be taken into consideration. For many years after that war the admissions to sick report, discharges for disability and deaths were in a measure similar to those reported during the past year, but then they were the result of a high percentage of the troops in the United States while now they result from what practically has been war service in the Philippines.

MRS. DEVINE'S CONCERT.

An Enjoyable Musical at the Congressional Library.

One of the most enjoyable concerts yet given in the music parlor at the Congressional Library was given last night by Mrs. M. Devine, of this city, who entertained a large party of friends.

Mrs. Devine rendered a number of vocal and instrumental selections in a delightful manner and responded to several encores. Among those who participated in the musical programme were Miss Cora Howes, in vocal and instrumental selections, and Mrs. Edwin Thornton, of Washington, in vocal solos.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Devine, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Thornton, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Firth, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. C. Cunningham, Mrs. Thomas Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cunningham, Miss Cora M. Howes, and Miss Mabel Johnson.

THOUGHT TO BE INSANE.

An Old Man Arrested on Complaint of His Wife.

Thomas H. Fenton was locked up at the Fifth precinct stationhouse at an early hour this morning on complaint of his wife, Annie Fenton. Fenton is believed to be insane. He is seventy years old and has been employed as a machinist at the navy yard. On Friday, September 13, he was admitted to Providence Hospital after having been on a protracted delirium for several days.

Physicians decided that they could do nothing further for him and he was returned to his home.

Last night he claimed, he became so violent that it became necessary to call in Policeman Joseph F. Bureaugard, who took the man to the police station. A question of his sanity will be examined into this afternoon by Dr. Marbury and Vale.

A Preacher Under Arrest.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 11.—Rev. W. D. Sharp, of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, was brought here yesterday from Greenbrier county by Deputy United States Marshal Cunningham and placed in jail on the charge of using the United States mails for fraudulent purposes.

Rev. Mr. Sharp, whose home is at Alvir, West Virginia, has been taken here before United States Commissioner Robinson at Lewisburg. It is alleged that he forged checks in the name of several prominent residents of that section and used the mails to hide his identity by having the checks cashed at the Marlinton Bank and the money sent to fictitious addresses in Greenbrier county. He has a wife and family.

Lost a Part of a Thumb.

George Ayers, the foreman of the mending department at William H. Dyar's mill, corner of Thirteenth and C Streets northwest, had one of his right thumb cut off this morning, about 11 o'clock. Mr. Ayers was at work on the loom machine, when his thumb was caught in the belt and the injury inflicted. The wound was dressed at the Emergency Hospital. Ayers is fifty years old, and lives at 1223 Nineteenth Street.
