

MORGAN'S LARGE NEW YEAR GIFTS

A Check Equal to Annual Salary Given Each Clerk.

$250,000 PRESENTED TO EMPLOYEES

Largest Present on Record Offered by Head of Great Banking House—Exports and Office Boys Remembered.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Employees in the office of J. P. Morgan & Co. were made supremely happy yesterday by the record-breaking act of generosity of Mr. Morgan. Every man in his employ received a New Year gift of exactly 100 per cent of his salary.

Many were the expressions heard of good will and kindly feeling toward Mr. Morgan as a result of his munificence. At Christmas the clerks and employees generally expected that the firm would follow its usual custom and give a bonus at the end of the year, but none expected a distribution so liberal as that made yesterday.

Equal to Annual Salary. From the office boy to the specialist in bonds, and the heads of departments a check was given equal to his entire year's salary. That is to say, the bond expert...

When the estimates of the various Christmas gifts were made shortly before Christmas it was said that J. P. Morgan & Co. would distribute about $100,000 among their employees. This estimate was far too little, it is now admitted, and the amount they gave as a bonus is nearer $250,000.

While neither Mr. Morgan nor any of his partners would discuss the matter yesterday, it was said that the last year has been one of the most profitable in the history of the big banking house. During the exciting times last spring, when the financial world was in a whirl of speculation and immense deals were pending, the clerks had to work hard and late.

Before that time, when the United States Steel Corporation was formed, a vast amount of detail had to be accomplished in the formation of the billion-dollar corporation. Now they say that they have been amply rewarded for all their hard work, and the "old man," as he is affectionately called by his employees, is looked upon as the best of employers.

"ADVENTURES" GIVEN AT LAST. The Dartmouth Boys Had Recovered From Effects of Troubles. "The Adventures of Atwood" was given at the New Willard last night. The leading man was on hand and the entire Dartmouth Dramatic Club have recovered from the effects of the shipwreck in North River and its financial difficulties in reaching Washington.

About one hundred persons saw the presentation. "Atwood" is, of course, a student, and naturally his name is "Jack." Gallant "Jack" rescues the husbandless woman from drowning, and just as in the story books, he immediately proposes marriage, which is naturally the entrance to a long and broad highway of trouble, from which he is extricated only by a convenient old uncle, who fortunately drops around and relieves his nephew from his entanglements.

The William Gillette of this production is Mr. Willard L. Hartshorn, playwright, who also assumes the role of the adventuresome "Atwood." The widow, with her Mrs. Carter hair, her "oh, fudge" voice, and her decollete jewel-bespangled gown, is a wonder in the person of Harry N. Sanders. "Mrs. O'Leary" faints as gracefully as a baby elephant lying down to slumber. "Mrs. O'Leary" is Harold N. Scudder.

"The Adventures" are shown up in three installments, and the total is passed out as a farce. Washington is a one-night stand with these New England Thespians, and last night was the night.

PROGRAMME AT HOLY NAME. Sunday school entertainment Monday night an enjoyable success. The annual Christmas entertainment of the Holy Name Sunday school occupied Monday evening in the Sunday school room. The stage, tastefully decorated by deft fingers, was the scene of a well-rehearsed programme. Among those who participated were Miss Mabel Grifton, John A. Waelen, Miss Katharine McGraw, Miss Annie Buran, Miss Mary Ringel, Miss Ruth Norris, Miss Grace Marvin, Miss Josephine Faulkner, Miss Anna O'Neil, Miss Belle Nelson, Miss Knochey, Miss Dibble Langley.

Upon the conclusion of the final chorus the children were presented with boxes of candy, after which a repeat was recited and several verses were indulged in by the teachers and their friends.

THE SCIENCE OF GAMBLING. Lord Roslyn's System Said to Have Won 100,000 Francs. LONDON, Jan. 1.—The "Central News" Monte Carlo correspondent today states that Lord Roslyn, who it was recently announced expected to form a syndicate of successful men to break the bank at roulette, won 100,000 francs last evening by his system.

Baby Bonus Effective Today. CHICAGO, Jan. 1.—Each baby born in Cook county beginning today is worth at least 25 cents, according to the State Legislature, which passed a law at the last session giving that sum to the person recording each birth.

Massachusetts Legislature Meets. BOSTON, Jan. 1.—The State Legislature met today for the first session of 1902.

SOCIAL TROUBLES CULMINATE.

League Island Navy Yard Society in an Open Row.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 1.—Social troubles at the League Island Navy Yard reached a climax at the New Year ball last night given by the officers.

The wife of Admiral Sumner, who commands the yard, is out with a personal in the newspapers stating that neither she nor her daughters were responsible for any of the arrangements. She remained away from the ball and insisted that her daughters stay away.

As the two girls are popular among the young officers, efforts were made about midnight to kidnap them and thus secure their attendance.

A question of precedence is at the bottom of the trouble, and about half the ladies at the yard side with the admiral's wife.

More than 5,000 "shooters" took part in the New Year Day celebration which is peculiar to this city. Councils had offered ten prizes, amounting to $5,000, for the best-dressed mummies, and Mayor Ashbridge sat as judge when the grotesque paraders passed the City Hall. Today was the first in nearly ten years that there has been a genuine revival of the "shooters" clubs.

BISHOP POTTER IS SEVERELY DENOUNCED

HIS LIQUOR VIEWS THE CAUSE.

Spokesman for W. C. T. U. Says the Bishop Has Placed Himself With Habitues of the Saloon.

CHICAGO, Jan. 1.—Bishop Potter has stirred to wrath the national officers of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union by his address before the Church Club of New York on Monday evening, when he declared that the teaching of John B. Gough was false and that prohibition had produced a raise of hypocrites.

Mrs. Hoffman's Opinion. Mrs. Clara Hoffman, of Missouri, who is now at Rest Cottage, Evanston, the national headquarters of the temperance organization, acting as spokesman for the officers of the organization, declared that Bishop Potter had placed himself on a level with the saloon habitues.

Takes Rumblers' Part. "Bishop Potter has arrayed himself with the saloon element. When he opposes prohibition he takes the part of the rumster and places himself on a level with the people of the saloon which he champions."

AN ART RECEPTION.

"The Parable of the Lilies" Given a Private View Last Evening. A goodly number of ladies and gentlemen chiefly elegantly and their families, and other professional people of the city, responded to invitations sent out to attend a private view of the very beautiful and strikingly new oil painting, "The Parable of the Lilies," by a noted Scottish artist, writer, and traveler, Ambrose Maclennan, M. A.

The reception was given in a beautifully appointed room at 214 Fourteenth Street, opposite the New Willard Hotel, and a more appreciative company could not well be found. The painting proved to be not only a closer resemblance to the divine person of Jesus than any of the conventional pictures extant.

It is proposed to keep the picture on a private view, and to divide equally the profits of the exhibition with the churches of all denominations in their religious and charitable work in this city.

GLEE CLUB ETUON.

The Members of St. Paul's Catholic Church Entertained Last Night. There was a surprise party gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Hickey, of 1306 V Street northwest, last night, the occasion being an unexpected visit from members of the Glee Club, composed of young men of St. Paul's Catholic Church choir.

The visit was in honor of Mr. Andrew L. Hickey, who is spending the holidays home. Mr. Hickey was formerly a member of the club and the visit last night was in the character of a reunion.

A very enjoyable programme was rendered, each member singing one or more of his favorite songs. At midnight a beautiful supper was served.

These present were Messrs. Joseph A. Dunn, John E. Boyle, John Barry Lynch, John Connell, Harry Hall, M. Francis Lynch, Vincent D. Kelley, Eugene Mc Dermott, James A. Sullivan, and Messrs. Edward Carroll and Daniel Cox, of St. Charles College, Ellicott City, Md.

DEVELOPED A GEYSER.

Wisconsin Farmer, Digging for Water, Gets More Than He Wanted. MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 1.—While drilling for water on his farm in the town of Franklin, Milwaukee County, L. Busch, a farmer, struck, at a depth of 267 feet, a perpetual geyser on the order of "Old Faithful" in Yellowstone Park.

Since the strike the fountain has spouted a steady six-inch stream thirty feet into the air, and shows no signs of decreasing.

For a long time the neighboring farmers have complained of a lack of water, and last summer the drought was severe in the township.

Now, however, they are confronted with a new problem, and they do not know whether it is a blessing or not, for the water has overflowed the land for a mile in several directions.

New Hampshire Avenue Extension. Conway B. Hunt, the Computing Engineer, has forwarded to the District Commissioners a statement to the effect that it is the intention of the Surface Division to advertise for proposals for the sale and removal of structures now within the limits of New Hampshire Avenue as recently condemned. Mr. Hunt recommends that this fact be stated to Richard Weems, of Oakland, Md., who asks to be permitted to buy the land in the rear of lot owned by her in the line of the highway named.

ANXIOUS FOR SEWELL'S SEAT

Seven Senatorial Aspirants in New Jersey.

A PILGRIMAGE TO SENATOR KEAN'S

Political Leaders in Annual Social Conclave There Likely to Fix Up a Slate—Candidates Shy of Appointment.

CAMDEN, N. J., Jan. 1.—Despite the lack of public avowals on the question of a successor to the late United States Senator Sewell, last night found this list of candidates in the field:

Ex-Sheriff David Baird, of Camden. Clerk in Chancery E. C. Stokes, of Cumberland county.

Congressman John J. Gardner, of Atlantic county.

Ex-United States Attorney General John W. Griggs, of Passaic county.

Colonel William Barbour, of Passaic county.

County Clerk Barker Gummere, of Mercer county.

John F. Dryden, of Essex county.

In every case the boom was launched by the friends of the candidates, but it is understood that there is no man among the seven mentioned who is not willing to go to the Senate.

Griggs Hoping for Luck.

Ex-Attorney General Griggs is conducting his campaign in a very quiet way, apparently hoping to slip in as a compromise. He will have a view of his own delegation with Colonel Barbour, who is very ambitious to be the Senator.

Senator Thomas N. McCarter of Essex is managing the campaign of John F. Dryden, and it was with a view of furthering the Dryden boom that Essex so willingly gave up its claim to the State Treasurer'ship. But the chances of Mr. Dryden are not considered very rosy.

A SLATE-MAKING JAMM.

A great number of Republican leaders made their annual New Year pilgrimage today to Senator John Kean's home in Elizabeth and there will undoubtedly be some very lively slate making before nightfall.

Ad Interim Appointment.

An interesting feature of the events of yesterday was the stand taken by Senator Stokes against any ad interim appointment, so far as he is personally concerned. Stokes said he would accept an ad interim appointment would be in case a majority of the legislators expressed a preference for him.

Governor Voorhees is willing to name Stokes ad interim and Representative Foster, together with other North Jersey leaders, have been vigorously urging the Cumberland man to accept, but he has just as persistently declined.

MRS. LONG'S RECEPTION.

Navy Contractors' Representatives Centered at the Portland. Mrs. Long is receiving in palm-embowered parlors of the Portland.

The receiving party includes Mrs. Hackett, Mrs. Darling, wife of the Assistant Secretary; Miss Long, Mrs. Glover, Miss Terry, Miss Van Rypen, Miss Lambertson, Miss Stollwagen, Miss Benham, Miss Virginia Evans, Miss Southland, Miss Isabel Johnson, Miss Hemphill, Miss Wallace, Miss Tanant, and Miss Katherine Bradford.

THE NEW CABINET HOSTESS.

Mrs. Knox Assisted by Mrs. Charles Emory Smith in Receiving. At the residence of the Attorney General, Mrs. Knox is appearing for the first time as a Cabinet hostess, and is assisted by Mrs. Charles Emory Smith, wife of Postmaster General Smith; Mrs. Elkins, Mrs. Richards, Mrs. Dalzell, Mrs. Beck, Mrs. Bingham, Mrs. Hoyt, Mrs. McCauley, Mrs. Blair, Miss Macon Wetmore, Miss Forsaker, Miss Clagett, Miss Loring, and Miss Helen Johnson.

HALFBACK REITER TO SPEAK.

The Old Princeton Footballist at Y. M. C. A. Meeting. H. R. Reiter, the "Boss" Reiter for four years halback on the Princeton football team, will speak to boys in the Young Men's Christian Association gymnasium Sunday afternoon at 7 o'clock. His subject will be "Punts and Passes from the Gridiron." He will make a general survey of all the great football games during the past season, making spiritual applications at the most opportune times.

This will be the first of a series of mass meetings for boys held under the auspices of the boys' department of the Young Men's Christian Association. The series will continue each Sunday afternoon until April, and will be entirely in charge of the boys, except the speaking, which will be done by men hereafter to be designated and business men will speak.

E. O. Sellers, the well-known evangelistic singer, will have charge of the music. All boys over twelve years of age will be admitted to the meetings.

TRIAL FOR FIREMEN.

Change Instituted Requiring Hearings Before Chief Engineer. Acting upon the recommendation of Robert W. Dutton, the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, the District Commissioners have issued an order changing the method of trial proceedings for firemen against whom charges are preferred by citizens or by their superior officers.

Hitherto trials of this class of offenders have been conducted before James L. Pugh, Assistant Attorney for the District. The new order provides that offenders against the regulations of the Fire Department shall be tried either by the Chief Engineer or by a board composed of three officers of the department.

The system now provided is similar to that in operation in the Police Department, which has worked with good results for several years.

MR. QUAY'S HEALTH BETTER.

Sojourn in Florida Does Pennsylvania Senator Much Good. PALM BEACH, Fla., Jan. 1.—Word from St. Lucie, United States Senator M. S. Quay's winter home, states that the Republican leader has greatly improved in health since his arrival here.

Billy Bowlegs and other Seminoles are very anxious about their "white chiefs" health.

Since Quay sent a sick Seminoles to the St. Augustine Hospital and paid his expenses there, all the Seminoles speak warmly of Quay.

WELCOMED BY NATION'S CHIEF.

the brilliant clothing displayed by the foreigners. With them were the judges of the United States Court of Claims, the judges of the Court of Appeals, the judges of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, former officers of the Cabinet, and former envoys of the United States. Senators and Representatives, another black-coated contingent and not very large, bowed their way along, preceding the Commissioners and judicial officers of the District of Columbia.

Miles and Devey Greeted.

Then there was a clattering of swords, and the army contingent here in sight, with Lieutenant General Miles and Adjutant General Corbin leading. General Miles was as dignified as usual as he shook hands with the President. After the army came the navy and the Marine Corps, a succession of admirals, commanders, lieutenants, and representatives of all the other grades.

Just as the uniforms of the rest of the army's representatives were eclipsed by the brilliant trappings of General Miles, so the dress of the naval officers looked modest and retiring beside the gorgeous uniforms of the Marine Corps. There was not much gold lace about the uniforms of the Marine staff, but the coats were brofazed with yards and yards of heavy braiding and the chapeaux which these officers held in their hands were fine enough for field marshals.

Admiral Devey, alert and handsome, headed the navy's line. After his contingent came the officers of the District of Columbia Militia, some of whom had met the President at a banquet.

In rapid succession who were given fifteen minutes to pass down the line. According to the official programme they came in this order:

Other Officials Pay Respects.

The Regents and Secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, the Commissioner of Fisheries, the Civil Service Commissioner, the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Commissioner of Labor, Assistant Secretaries of departments, Assistant Postmasters General, the Treasurer of the United States, the Commissioner of Pensions, Commissioner of Patents, Comptroller of the Currency, the heads of bureaus in the several departments, and the President of the Columbian Institute for the Deaf and Dumb.

Veterans of the war with Mexico, a slim, pathetic little group, some of them carrying tattered battleflags, led the way for delegations from the military order of the Republic, the Grand Army of the Republic, the Union Veterans Legion, the Spanish-American war, and a number of hale and hearty-looking members of the Oldest Inhabitants' Association of the District of Columbia.

Reception of the Public.

This ended the reception of officials and organizations and the doors were then thrown open to the general public. The citizens who had been standing in line for hours extended for two blocks west of the White House, as the weather was fine and all seemed filled with the cheer of the season, it was, as a whole, a very good-natured crowd. Promptly at 12:35 the President began shaking hands with the citizens.

Care for President's Safety.

Chief Wilkie, of the Secret Service, had taken the most elaborate precautions for the President's safety. Plainclothes detectives were stationed about the crowd and many were stationed about the rooms on the lower floor of the White House. Each person not known to the detectives was closely watched as he approached the President.

AT SECRETARY ROOT'S HOME.

Army Officers Predominate in a Large Attendance. The Secretary of War and Mrs. Root are welcoming a seemingly endless flow of callers, among whom are many regular army officers and others who served in the volunteer service.

Mrs. Root is assisted by Mrs. Corbin, Mrs. Bates, Mrs. Gillespie, Mrs. Clarence Edwards, Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Sheridan, Mrs. Edward H. Wailes, of New York; Mrs. Cowles, Mrs. McClellan, Mrs. Postlethwaite, Miss Alice Roosevelt, Miss Andrew Pauncefote, Miss McMillan, Miss Wetmore, Miss Helen Roosevelt, Miss MacVeagh, Miss Helen Roosevelt, Miss Christine Roosevelt, of New York; Miss Alice Ward, Miss Glover, Miss Ash-ton, Miss Daisy Wilson, and Miss Helen Cutting, of New York.

RECEIVED BY MRS. HITCHCOCK.

Many Guests at One of Capital's Most Hospitable Households. The Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Hitchcock have become exceedingly popular during their official residence at the Capital and are receiving many callers.

Mrs. Hitchcock's gown is of lilac with bodice touches of sage. In addition to the attractive young daughters of the house, the receiving party includes Mrs. Wetmore, Mrs. Newlands, Mrs. Bartholdt, Mrs. Van Devanter, Mrs. Henry Clay Evans, Mrs. H. H. D. Pierce, Mrs. Shipley, of St. Louis; Mrs. De Measser, Mrs. Joy, Mrs. Selfridge, Miss Kean, Miss Lovinger, Mrs. Ryan, Mrs. James S. Woodworth, Miss Jane Riggs, Miss McLaughlin, Miss Lay, Misses Warder, Miss Alice Wilson, Mrs. Fairfax Harrison, Miss Nott, Miss Woodworth, Miss Le Bourgoin, Miss de Smirnetz, and Miss Catilla, of New York.

MISS WILSON'S LARGE PARTY.

Many Matrons and Maids at Secretary of Agriculture's Home. At the reception by the Secretary of Agriculture official dignity is lightened by a pretty touch of vivacity imparted by his daughter, who, apart from her own popularity as a Cabinet hostess, always gathers about her on New Year Day a number of handsome maids and attractive matrons. Miss Wilson wore the attractive Paris gown she wore at the White House, a cream crepe de chine trimmed with bands of sable.

At the reception the Secretary's hostess of the day was Mrs. Perez, Mrs. Pezet, Mrs. John W. Foster, Mrs. Fairbanks, Mrs. Dolliver, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Hainsworth, Mrs. Steele, Mrs. Coughlin, Mrs. Sillcup Hutchins, Mrs. Heath, Mrs. Dolliver, Miss Deering, Mrs. Mattingly, Miss Sowers, Miss Grossman, Miss Helen Bell, and Miss Grace Bell.

Rheumatism Cured in a Day.

"Rheumatism" is the name of a disease which radically cures in 24 hours. The system is removable and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits, and the second cures. Sold by all druggists, Pennsylvania Avenue and 14th Street.

NEW YEAR IN OTHER CITIES.

Day Has a Double Significance in the Metropolis.

THE CITY GOVERNMENT CHANGES.

At Noon Mayor Van Wyck Turned His Office Over to Mayor Seth Low, and Latter Swore in His Cabinet.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—New Yorkers celebrate jointly today the advent of the New Year and of the new municipal administration.

At 12 o'clock noon Mayor Van Wyck turned over his office to Seth Low, and Tammany is out of power. The new Mayor held a brief reception and then administered the oaths of office to the men selected to be the heads of the various municipal departments.

A Clear, Cold Day.

The day is clear and a cutting breeze is blowing from the northwest. The streets are deserted.

Thousands of onlookers rubbed their eyes this morning and wondered how the change of administration would affect them, while others, who were not protected by civil service laws, were preparing to go to work again.

New York is especially interested in the Police Department, and will view with interest the happenings in that department. Colonel Partridge, the new Commissioner of Police, and Major Thurston, the Deputy Commissioner, are both military men, and the "cops" expect that from now on they will have to walk a chalk line.

Sunday Closing a Problem.

Just what the new administration is to do in regard to Sunday closing is of deep interest. The State Legislature will probably refuse to grant New York an open Sunday, and that will be a problem for the municipal authorities to handle.

The new District Attorney, William T. Jerome, is also the cynosure of all eyes. He is believed to have up his sleeve many sensational stories. Jerome pledged himself before the courts, he they high or low.

Devery Has Served Notice.

William S. Devery, the Tammany deputy commissioner of police, and an interesting figure, has shown his teeth and declares that he will not be removed. He says he will not invalidate his claim that he is a member of the uniformed force by resigning. Devery was chief of police before that office was abolished.

SERVICES IN CHICAGO.

High Mass Celebrated at Midnight in Many of the Churches. CHICAGO, Jan. 1.—Chicago bade farewell to the first year of the twentieth century last night, and welcomed 1902 with hymns and prayers, music and festivity.

The ringing of bells, the blowing of horns, and the tooting of whistles at midnight told the worshippers in church and the revelers in hallrooms that another year had been ushered in. In all the Roman Catholic monasteries, convents, and churches watch-night services were held. High mass was celebrated at midnight and special services will be conducted today.

Of the Protestant churches, those of the Methodist denomination alone held watch-night services. The others confined themselves to New Year Day services and receptions.

CHANG'S MEMORY CLEARED.

Former Honors Restored to Behead-ed Chinese Official. PEKING, Jan. 1.—In response to the memorial of Prince Ching an edict has been issued rehabilitating the memory of Chang Yin Huan, formerly Minister to the United States, and restoring his former honors to him.

Chang Yin Huan was beheaded last year while on route to Turkestan.

LAST YEAR'S CHARITIES.

More Money Given Away Than Ever Before in Same Time.

CHICAGO, Dec. Jan. 1.—In its annual review of business conditions and other matters a local paper today prints a complete list of contributions by philanthropists by will and direct gift during the year 1901.

The year was a record breaker. The total reaches $123,888,732. The world has never before known such generosity as this in a single year. Of the total amount stated there has been given to educational institutions the princely sum of $68,856,961, to charities $22,217,470, to churches $1,298,450, to museums and art galleries $11,133,112, and to libraries $15,390,122.

AT THE CHINESE LEGATION.

Wu Ting-Fang Keeps Open House for New Year Callers. Although the festivities incident to New Year Day signifies nothing to Wu Ting-fang, the Chinese Minister, and his race, yet as a member of the Diplomatic Corps, as Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary from the Empire in the Far East, he is keeping open house today. All who call at the Chinese Legation are being received in an informal manner.

The Chinese New Year does not occur until a month later, according to the ancient calendar. Minister Wu always gives his friends a cup of good tea, and the product brewed at the legation is of the finest crop and blending.

Mr. Wu has a legion of loyal friends at the National Capital, and the legation is the Mecca for many today.

Saleted New Year With Pistol Shot.

James H. Grant, colored, welcomed the new year by standing in his yard and firing off a pistol about 1 o'clock this morning, and today in the Police Court he was fined $5 for violating a police regulation.
