

SIGHT OF FOOD CAUSES STARVING MAN TO FAINT

Applicant at Gould Home Succumbs at Table.

NOTHING TO EAT FOR DAYS

Staggered to Sidewalk, Where He Fell in a Swoon and Had to Be Carried to Hospital.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—With turkey and other things good to eat spread before him on a table in the home of Edwin Gould, a starving man weak from lack of food collapsed in Fifth Avenue last night, and had to be taken to the hospital.

Miller, who is a salesman, has been out of work for some time. Three days ago, having no money, he left his lodging place. Since then, he alleges, he has not had a mouthful of food.

Day after day Miller sought work without success. Pride kept him from begging until last night. Driven to desperation at last, he forced his courage to the point, and about 5:30 o'clock he rang the doorbell of the basement door leading into the house of Edwin Gould, at 729 Fifth Avenue.

"For God's sake, give me food! I am starving!" said Miller, as the door was opened by the Gould butler.

The starving man was invited in. The table in the basement was spread with turkey and other things good to eat. So weak was the man as a result of his long fast that his stomach sickened at the sight of the plentiful supply of food placed before him, and he arose from his seat and staggered into the street, where he fell to the sidewalk in a swoon.

Dr. F. K. Hollister, of 521 Madison Avenue, one of the visiting physicians of the Flower Hospital, who happened to be passing at the time, was one of the first to reach Miller's side, and after making an examination of the man he said that his collapse was due to starvation. An ambulance from Flower Hospital was summoned, and Dr. Quick, who responded, took Miller to Bellevue Hospital.

At Bellevue Miller said that he was on his way to the home of Adolph Lewishohn, at 9 West Fifty-seventh Street, in order to solicit aid from him. Dr. Shearer, who examined him at the hospital, said that the man, in addition to being in a starving condition, was suffering from tuberculosis. Miller, when he recovered, refused to remain at the hospital.

BOY BREAKS JAIL TO GET A TURKEY DINNER

Camden Lad Enjoys Thanksgiving at Home.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28.—In order to get a turkey dinner Walter L. Ernest, thirteen years old, broke out of the Camden county jail yesterday.

The lad entered a loud protest when told that turkey was not served on Thanksgiving Day to the prisoners, of which he was one. He said he would go home. The turnkeys paid little attention to this threat.

With wits sharpened by the thoughts of the turkey he was not getting, the boy planned to escape. With a piece of wire he tried to pick the lock of his door. Failing in this, he worked on the lock of the screen at the window.

He succeeded in opening this and, tearing a canvas cot into strips, he soon improvised a rope, with which he lowered himself to the jail yard. Only an iron railing, nearly twice as high as himself, now separated the escaping prisoner from freedom and turkey.

He quickly climbed this barrier without being discovered and hastened to his home in South Camden.

A half-hour later one of the turnkeys passing the cell from which Ernest escaped noticed that he was not in it. A second investigation was all that was necessary to show that the lad had made good his threat to leave.

That the boy would go home for dinner no one doubted, and constables were detailed to go after him. Ernest had surmised that this would be done, and waited until he saw the constables call at his house and leave.

Then he walked into the house by the back way. His family insisted that he should return to the jail immediately. He insisted upon his share of the dinner, promising to go back to jail later. He got a liberal supply of turkey, and after dinner he returned to the jail, accompanied by his brother. He told the turnkey he wanted to see a game of baseball on Saturday, and they had better let him out. He will be taken to the reformatory school today.

HURT BY EXPLODING GUN.

While out gunning yesterday near Seabrook, Md., Frank Heister, a machinist employed at Somerville's machine works and residing at 624 Maryland Avenue southwest, was seriously injured by the barrel of his gun exploding and a piece of the flying metal striking him over the right eye, cutting a deep wound. He was taken home by friends and medical aid was summoned at once.

COLUMBIA GOLF TOURNEY.

The tourney arranged by the Columbia Golf Club drew a large number of people to the grounds yesterday. As a rule the scores turned in were good, though the grounds were not in first-class condition. It is the purpose of the club to hold weekly matches, open to members, as long as the weather will permit. Col. H. R. McCain won the first prize in the bogie handicap, with a score of 2 up on bogie, and George Weaver won the second in this event, even up. In the medal handicap, Dr. Will T. Harban won first prize, with a net score of 75 on an allowance of sixteen strokes, and J. T. Hough took second prize, with a net score of 77, with a handicap of sixteen.

GUEST OF MASONS.

The Rev. Dr. J. E. Brown, of Fredericksburg, Va., was the guest of colored Masons at a banquet given last night at "Post-ers," in Twentieth Street. Members of the order from Alexandria were present. The guest of honor was presented with a gold pin.

HAVANA STRIKE RIOTS SUBJECT OF CONFERENCE

Senor Quesada Has Talk With the President—Isle of Pines Discussed.

Senor Quesada, the Cuban minister, had a conference with the President this morning on the Havana strike riots and the status of the Isle of Pines. The President is keeping a close watch on the developments there, it is understood, and was glad to hear from the minister the favorable advice the latter had received officially.

It is not denied by the minister that politics is at the bottom of the whole matter, but he minimizes its importance.

LABOR TROUBLES CAUSE A CABLE CENSORSHIP

Martial Law Declared in the Argentine Republic.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The Central Cable Office of the Western Union Telegraph Company has issued the following notice: "The provinces of Buenos Ayres and Santa Fe in the Argentine Republic are under martial law on account of labor strikes. Messages containing reference to the strikes will not be accepted, forwarded, or delivered in the provinces mentioned. This includes the cities of Buenos Ayres and Rosario."

STRIKE OF STEAMSHIP STOKERS GROWS ALARMING

Marseilles Merchants Fear Serious Consequence—Shipowners Remain Firm in Resolve.

MARSEILLES, Nov. 28.—The strike of the stokers on steamships is extending rapidly and threatens to cause a complete stagnation of traffic. Many vessels have been unable to sail.

One of the leading shipowners here expressed the opinion today that if the strike continues much longer it will be a death blow to the port. The men employed on the ships arriving here obey the orders of the labor union as one man. As soon as the ship arrives and the crew are informed of the situation they immediately leave the vessel and join the strikers. The ship owners are determined not to yield to the demands of the strikers.

COLDER TONIGHT BUT WARMER TOMORROW

Promises of Bright Skies and Rising Temperature.

The Weather Bureau announced today that it will be colder tonight than it was last night, but that with the dawn of tomorrow the temperature will again begin to rise, and more moderate weather may be expected. The snow storm that has extended as far south as northern Tennessee will not reach here, and clear skies will prevail.

Last night the thermometer reached 36 degrees above zero, according to the instruments at the Weather Bureau, while tonight it is expected that it will go below the freezing point, probably reaching 30 degrees above zero. The freezing weather will be of short duration, however, as a warmer blast is approaching that will give relief with the morning.

RISKED HIS LIFE TO SAVE DROWNING MEN

Connecticut Boatman Performs Heroic Act.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—During the height of the northeast gale A. Lincoln Ford, a boatman at Sound Beach, Conn., in a small boat, risked his life and rescued William and John Geary. They are brothers and formed the crew of the Export Lumber Company's barge No. 3, which, loaded with 400,000 feet of yellow pine, had broken away from the tug N. B. Starbuck on the way from Greenpoint to New Haven.

To save the tug and the remaining barge the captain of the Starbuck put into Norfolk Thursday night for shelter. William Geary succeeded in putting over the barge's two anchors, as John was ill. When in the morning the barge was seen from Shippan and Cummings Point seas were breaking over it and the men were signaling for help.

Soon the barge went adrift and, careening, the deckload of lumber went overboard. Thomas Bland launched a boat at Nirvana to make a rescue, but his craft was smashed on the rocks.

Just missing a ledge near Stamford light, the helpless barge and its occupants were driven toward the shore near J. Kennedy Tod's summer residence, at Sound Beach. In shoal water it began to go to pieces, and it was then that Ford launched his boat and with difficulty reached the barge. On the return trip the boat upset and the three succeeded in righting it with great difficulty. All were in an exhausted condition when landed.

Ford was formerly in the navy and has a medal for life saving. The Gearys live in Brooklyn.

LICENSED TO MARRY.

A marriage license was issued today to William Curtis and Lavinia Bell, both of this city.

SAKS & COMPANY Leaders Since 1867. SAKS & COMPANY

SAKS-CLOTHING—There's None to Compare With It.

The highest perfection that has been reached in Clothes-making rewards our efforts. The greatest business that centers in one store is proof of it. No one point excels—it is a total excellence of excellences. We've built this reputation of ours upon satisfaction-giving; and that's how we are maintaining it. Not merely good-as-any; BUT BETTER THAN ALL.

The Overcoat will be the greatest need tomorrow. If you've undecided you'll find every proper style, in every proper fabric here to suggest and to select from. We couldn't serve properly with one less than we have; and yet we've five times the variety you'll find anywhere else. Isn't there an argument in that fact?

The two busiest sections will be the Overcoats at $12.50 and $15

They'll be busiest because they are the most popular prices—but specially because the values are stronger than elsewhere at $15 and $18, or even $20 elsewhere. They are within the "Fit Reform" limits; they are complete in assortment of styles—both Paddocks and Oversacks; they are handsomely and artistically tailored; they are sensibly and serviceably made. They'll give the satisfaction you expect—and more, too.
