Architecture in the Garden

A NEW AND PROFITABLE PROFESSION FOR WOMEN.

Besides, Every Householder Should Know How to Plan and Beautify.

Among the many fields of industry occupied each year by women that lovely flower-bordered field, the garden, seems to have been strangely neglected.

Perhaps she has been frightened out of this sphere of labor by the spade, but it is not so deadly a weapon as she might imagine.

Working with head, not hands. Leaving such questions aside, however, the work of a woman in the garden need not be a great muscular strain at all.

How to learn. Equally a woman having the world with the head as well as the hands, a substitute for herself has only two hands, a plentiful ignorance of most things, and an earnest desire to labor.

Special attention given to rheumatism, indigestion, and all chronic diseases; also diseases of children; consultation free. Dr. GRACY, 1407 New York Ave.

ONE WOMAN'S WIT. Under the direction of a professional landscape artist an unfortunate gentleman spent many hundreds of dollars in a fruitless endeavor to fill up a marshy spot in his grounds.
