DEBAUCH AND THEN DEATH

Theodore Peters' Promise to Dissipate and Die Was Kept.

His Body Found in Rock Creek Park With a Bullet Hole in the Head.

The body of Theodore Peters, formerly C. P. Havenner's coachman, was found in Rock Creek Park yesterday. Peters is the man who recently said to his companions at T. M. Draney's Portland stable on New York avenue, near Seventh street, that he was going to die on a good time while his money lasted and then die.

On Tuesday Mr. Draney received a letter, signed "T. P.," saying the writer was going to kill himself and he wanted his body cremated. Mr. Draney called the police to go on the look-out for Peters, as he could not be found at the place where he had lived.

Yesterday morning policeman Kapp, while on duty, was walking through Rock Creek Park, near Pierce's mill road, and when about 500 yards from the road in a dense thicket he saw a beagle bound, begin to bark and howl. He knew the dog had scented something, and going into the bushes he found a corpse, stretched out under a tree. He at first thought it was a man asleep, but closer scrutiny showed he was dead.

Behind the body was a New York paper of July 19 and a 38-caliber revolver.

One of the chambers was empty, and the barrel rested in a pool of blood. There was a bullet hole in the man's temple. He had been shot in the head, whom he had known some time.

Policeman Lewis was notified, and the patrol wagon took the remains to the morgue.

Peters was an Old Fellow and a Knight of Pythias. A letter to the secretary of Metropolitan Lodge No. 16, L. O. O. F., dated July 25, 1894, brought that gentleman to the morgue yesterday. Dr. Hummel viewed the remains, and concluded the evidence clear that it was a case of suicide.

No inquest will be held and the remains will be taken charge of by the fraternal orders.

In the letter to the secretary Peters says he is a member of Rock Lodge No. 1, O. O. F., Canada Encampment No. 3; Martha Washington Rebekah Lodge No. 1, and K. of P. Lodge No. 6, all of El Reno, Okla. He says if any benefits are due him after paying for his cremation he wants the money spent upon the living instead of any funeral display.

GREER AGAIN ASSAULTED. Horse Trainer Williams Was Frantically With the Policeman.

Joseph Williams, a race track horse trainer, was locked up in the Eighth precinct police station last night on the charge of disorderly conduct and assaulting Policeman Greer.

Policeman Greer and Murphy were on a bright green car near the house, in which Williams, who seemed to have been drinking, was also a passenger, when the latter had a controversy with the conductor.

The conductor attempted to eject Williams from the car, which was in motion, and in civilian dress, showed their badges, and told the man to get off.

Williams, however, resisted and tore the green car apart, and grabbed Murphy's badge, besides assaulting Greer. He was finally taken from the car, but fought the policeman to the patrol box.

He was taken to the wagon to the station and locked up.

He is still weak from the effects of his struggle with the Minors some time ago and will probably be held in jail, it is thought, until cause is returned to the hospital.

BOSSES GIVING IN. Hundreds of Contractors Yield to the Tailors' Demands.

New York, Aug. 1.—The close of the fourth day of the great strike of the Brotherhood of Tailors was uneventful, save for a few instances which marked the progress of the cause of the strikers.

The settlement committee registered a total of eighty-seven contractors, representing 900 strikers, who had signed the required money.

The pantsmakers' association held a meeting and declared themselves in sympathy with the strikers, and it is expected they will press a difficult contract pantsmakers will declare war and join the Brotherhood of Tailors.

The executive committee was given a hearing to-night at the Washington Hill Hotel by the state board of arbitration, and explained the sweating system.

The contractors were invited to the conference, and decided on the ground that their holding of a special meeting would prevent their being represented.

INSURANCE FRAUDS. Startling Developments in the North Carolina Investigation.

Morhead City, N. C., Aug. 1.—The names of fourteen persons, advanced in years and infirm in body, were offered in evidence by the prosecution in the trial of the Beaufort fraudulent insurance cases to-day.

The prosecution attempted to prove that the money received on the benefit paid at the death of one Wigfall was divided among the relatives of the dead man, that those four persons had insured a man in the last stages of consumption eleven days before death, and that the insurance agent had accepted Wigfall as a good risk. A large number of letters and affidavits were admitted in evidence and several witnesses examined.

ANOTHER HOLMES VICTIM

Harry Walker's Disappearance Credited to the Suspected Man.

HE WAS HIS SECRETARY

Lured By Tempting Offers He Is Said to Have Entered Holmes' Employment in Chicago and Suddenly Dropped Out of Sight—His Life Was Insured.

(By Associated Press.) Greensburg, Ind., Aug. 1.—Facts have developed here which make the supposition very strong that Harry Walker, who mysteriously disappeared from here about two years ago, became another victim of H. B. Holmes.

He first met Holmes at Indianapolis. Holmes was desirous of employing a secretary and offered Walker a large salary to fill the position. Mr. Tison, Walker's employer, thought it was some queer scheme and acting upon his advice Walker abandoned the idea.

About three weeks afterward Holmes came to the city and registered at the Hotel Dearmont as Waddo Bunkhurn, Indianapolis. He inquired for Walker, and they had a long talk together and drove over the city and out into the country a distance. Holmes offered to increase his proposition if Walker would go to Chicago with him, and assured Walker that he would enjoy living there. He also induced Walker to have his life insured for $15,000, and promised to pay all dues in case Walker died.

Walker left shortly afterward and went to Batesville, where he engaged in the jewelry business. He had not been there long, however, when he mysteriously disappeared. In about ten days the proprietor of the hotel at which he boarded received the following letter:

Chicago, Nov. 7, 1893. Mr. Rolphs—I am secretary for Holmes, who was down to see me the other day. He will pay me $1,000 a month, more than I could make in Batesville of Greensburg either. I will be down in a few days and settle. Yours, as ever, HARRY WALKER.

DIED FROM EXHAUSTION. End of Theodore Briscoe's Providence Hospital.

Theodore Briscoe, once well-known in business circles here and still wealthy, died at Providence Hospital last night.

Mr. Briscoe had no immediate family and left of late greatly neglected himself. He went last Monday to No. 108 B Street northwest, where he engaged a cheap room with John Waple, a coal dealer, whom he had known for several years.

He came and went for several days, and appeared to be getting weaker every day. Mr. Waple argued that he should take better care of himself and told him to go by himself some good clothing and a valise, and he did so on Tuesday.

Mr. Waple also on Tuesday urged him to go to the hospital, but he refused. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Waple took the matter in his own hands and sent his lodger to the care of the sisters. He also notified Dr. W. C. P. Hazen, who has long been Mr. Briscoe's physician.

At the hospital everything possible was done to revive him, but without avail. The vital forces were too far exhausted to rally.

His fortune is estimated at $30,000. He was furnished upon the stone work in building the gun works at the navy yard.

TO REDEEM OLD EDGEDWOOD

Kate Chase Tells of the Plan to Save the Estate.

She Is Now Homeless, But Hopes Funds Will Be Raised to Clear the Incumbrance.

(By Associated Press.) New York, Aug. 1.—Mrs. Kate Chase has arrived in this city from Washington and is stopping at a hotel here. In conversation to-day Mrs. Chase said:

"So many somewhat contradictory stories have appeared of late throughout the country in regard to my undertakings to redeem Edgewood, the home of the late Chief Justice Chase, that it is well, perhaps, for me to state that the amount has not yet arrived for me to give a full and complete history embracing the real facts that have to my financial embarrassment. Perhaps I am not the only individual whose resources have been impaired during the last three years.

It is the tenor of these articles, for which she does not fail to be misreading. The cooperation of a number of prominent men and men of large wealth to save Edgewood, a valuable, historic landmark, as testimony of their appreciation of the valuable public services of Secretary Chase, and to relieve the aged pecuniary needs of his daughter, has been liberal. As to the part Ohio people have taken in the matter, I may say that a great number have expressed approval, but I have not heard what has been accomplished in that State, though many Ohioans in New York are participating.

"Regarding the publications mentioned I have noticed names of men as participating in the plan, and my own knowledge, have not been approached. These publications are calculated to give the impression that my work is completed. But the fact is that, after the plan is carried out, I have not sufficient and I make this statement that those who may care to interest themselves may know that the need has not passed."

RODE TOO FINE A BIKE. Dennis Harris Arrested on Suspicion and Carrying Concealed Weapons.

Policeman John Barry, Jr., picked up Dennis Harris, colored, nineteen years old, on Pennsylvania street near Thirtieth street, last night, with a bicycle of which he told several stories.

Mr. Barry was standing near Thirtieth when the negro rode in an uncertain way directly toward him without seeing that he was near a policeman, and got off the wheel in an attempt to work with the lamp to light it.

Mr. Barry noticed the fellow was very ragged and was riding a fine new wheel. He told him about fifty years old and of a not very robust constitution. He has been for a number of years past at the Smithsonian Institution, during which time he has resided with his family in the suburbs. He was well known and much esteemed by a large circle of official and social friends in the city.

"AVENGER" JONES IN TROUBLE. Recklessly Ran Down and Assaulted Policeman on D Street.

The second police precinct station had looked up in its cells last night "Bill" Jones, who gained notoriety during the trial of Charles Guiteau by trying to kill the murderer by firing a pistol bullet through the man which contained Guiteau on its way to the jail.

Jones, who is a gardener, was arrested yesterday by policeman McDonald while recklessly driving a carriage down Seventh street, and nearly running over Harry Johnson, an old colored man, and then, it is claimed, assaulting the old man with his whip.

Being charged with reckless driving and assault were preferred against him at the station, and late last night Jones' brother left $40 collateral for his appearance in the police court this morning.

W. H. HOEKE, 801 Market Space. ED. WHITE'S QUEER STORY.

Assaulted on the Road, But Didn't Know by Whom. The case of Edward White, a young man charged in the police court yesterday with disorderly conduct, developed a remarkable and mysterious story.

White, it is said, called at the house of a colored man named Atkins on the Bowen road about 3 o'clock Sunday morning and called to see occupants to let him in or he would burn the house. Atkins, considerably frightened, opened the door for him and saw that he had two wounds in the back of his head, and was evidently not in his right mind.

White was driven to the Annetonia police station and from there sent to his home. White said he had been assaulted but by whom he could not tell. While driving along the Bowen road he overtook a colored man who asked for a ride. White allowed the man to get in, and said he then heard what sounded like pistol shots and remembered nothing more. White had a baby in the wagon with him when the man got in.

The horse and wagon were afterwards found on the road, and the child was almost under the animal's feet.

Dr. Kilgore, who attended White, at his home, said that he was suffering from concussion of the brain, but there was no evidence of laceration on him.

Judge Scott dismissed the case.
