

Lansburgh & Bro.

Wise People

go "nosing" around now, for bargains are prevalent everywhere. Each of our 46 departments are just "itching" for purchasers, for there is something in each department willing to be left out now. For all stocks are now beginning to get in their advance Fall Stuffs.

Men's $1 and $1.25 Negligee Shirts, 79c.

All sizes, with two collars and a pair of cuffs, gusseted pattern, good fitting shirts, "collar" or "flat" bosom.

Woodbury's Facial Soap... 19c

Others charge you for it. It is really one of the best skin soaps we know of, and is particularly good for the scalp.

$1.50 R. & G. Black Corsets... 59c

Stays in stock now 19, 21, 23 and 25. Each pair guaranteed.

$1.00 Annise Corset... 75c

Stays in stock now 19, 21, 23 and 25. Each pair guaranteed.

This Corset is made for us. We know what's in it. We feel so sure of it that we guarantee the fit and wear. Made of Alexander cloth, satteen stripe, two side steels, extra long waist, high corded bust, bonnd with the best French bone. All sizes in stock.

Lansburgh & Bro. 429, 422, 424, 426 7th St.

DON'T YOU NEED A HALL RACK?

Our special sale this week is in Hall Racks, handsome Rattan Rockers, and Ice Chests. Any of these articles can be bought until 6 o'clock next Saturday night

BELOW COST AND ON CREDIT!

Soft Oak Hat Rack—4 feet 8 inches high—$1.50

Heavy white Ladies' Rattan Rocker—very artistic and beautiful in design—$1.75

All Refrigerators and Ice Chests below cost. See the ones we offer.

Pay when you please—weekly or monthly—no notes—no interest.

GROGAN'S Mammoth Credit House

619-821-823 7th St. N. W. Between H and I Sts.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION.

BUTCHERS' ASSEMBLY, NO. 6,341, K. OF L., invites all members of the craft in the District to attend a meeting of the body to be held, 3 o'clock this (Sunday) afternoon, at Flaxman's Hall, corner Fourth and a-half streets and Pennsylvania avenue. Besides the initiation of new members, the assembly will devise means of informing all members and friends of organized labor unions that Nicholas Auld has been placed on the "unfair list" and that said Nicholas Auld declines that any man working for him who joins the union will be immediately discharged. He also tells his customers that by placing him on the "unfair list" the assembly is giving him gratis the biggest advertisement he could possibly obtain.

UNDERTAKERS.

WILLIAM LEE, UNDERTAKER, 172 Pennsylvania ave. Phone 1285.

MARRIED. POSTER-PARKER—On August 19, 1895, by Rev. E. D. Bailey, W. Wallace Foster to Jennie C. Parker, both of Washington.

FAIR DABLERS IN STOCKS

Washington Society Women Who Daily Watch the Market.

Mrs. Lamont is Becoming Expert on the Bicycle—How the New Titch Float into the Swim.

The warm weather has not altogether depleted Washington of its society quota. There is still a corporal's guard remaining in the city, whiling away the summer as best it may. Truth to tell, there are several corporal's guards scattered about here and there throughout the city. This being the case, whether actuated by the fellowship of misery or otherwise, some half a dozen or more of these women have entered upon a new field of industry. The object of this is, of course, to materially swell their amount of spending money without in any way materially increasing their labors.

The plan operated is for them to meet morning in a certain broker's establishment on one of the leading business streets of the city, and, after conferring all the available funds to be secured, to dabble in stocks. Generally it happens that the best part of the day is spent by this contingent of amateur brokers bulling and bearing the market down in the office, so that it has come to look more like a reception room than an ordinary place in which business of importance is transacted.

Excitement reaches fever-heat when the fluctuations of any of the popular stocks are being watched on the bulletin board for the sums invested are by no means the smallest amounts. There is considerably more to this stock dabling than at first appears on the surface, inasmuch as the money so invested has been made by the women interested, through the medium of card playing. Not long since one of these women cleared $250 on the purchase of ten-dollar's worth of a certain stock.

As a usual thing, however, the losses are in excess of the gains, but this fact does not deter the women from their continuance of the same for dabling in stocks.

The matter has created considerable talk about town, and is openly discussed in the various clubs in the West End.

Mrs. Daniel Lamont will doubtless be added to the list of cyclists when the fashionable world returns to Washington for the autumn.

For some months past Mrs. Lamont has been giving considerable thought to the subject of learning to ride the bicycle, and as the Secretary of War intended within idea of the advantages to health accruing from this exercise, it is likely that upon her return to Washington in the autumn, Mrs. Lamont will be able to show a most perfect record in this respect.

Quite early in the spring, when the Misses Brier were learning to ride the wheel, they were anxious that Mrs. Lamont should join them and go out for practice up and down Sixteenth street.

This was not done, however, but what Mrs. Lamont did was to take a few lessons from them in the security of her own back yard. There, safe from the prying eyes of the public, Mrs. Lamont was initiated into the mysteries of the initial process of learning to ride the wheel.

The idea that the average society girl leads a vain, idle, purposeless life is as far from the truth as it is possible to imagine. She is, in fact, a creature with a life so full of purpose that her unfortunates' sister would faint by the way were she called upon to go through the curriculum that the society girl accomplishes without a murmur.

True, it is all done in the name of pleasure, but it is work all the same, and hard, persistent work at that. This work is accomplished by the way were she called upon to keep up with the fads of the day, as she must not only keep in touch with the times, but she must be proficient in each and every one of the out-of-door sports now engaging the popular fancy.

The young woman who rides away the summer, killing time in the hammock, is decidedly a back number. Her ideas of the eternal fitness of things are a long way off from being up to date.

The society girl has gone away beyond the hammock stage of spending the summer. She has outgrown it long ago and struck out on the field of sports that a few years ago were almost entirely monopolized by the college contingent.

In order to be in the swim the society girl must be a proficient tennis and golf player, with a general smattering of knowledge of croquet, playing thrown in. She must entirely eliminate from her composition the old-time fear of firearms and be a good shot with the pistol and rifle. She must be thoroughly at home in the arduous field and must take a hand at bowling, with any of the college-bred men with whom she may be thrown. The selection of billiards and pool playing must be to her an open letter.

to select a suitable house in which to make their future home. They will not go to Philadelphia to reside until some time in October.

Gen. Fallerton, accompanied by his little daughter, will be spending the season at the Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs.

Miss Herbert, daughter of the Secretary of the Navy, has recently completed a visit to the United States Minister to Russia and Mrs. Chiffon Brooksidge, at their summer place, at Totoply, in Finland. Miss Herbert has now left St. Petersburg for Moscow, traveling with Mr. and Mrs. Townsend-Davis, of Buffalo.

Miss Margaret Eiles, who went abroad in the early summer, is now at Naheim, in Germany, where she has been greatly benefited by her stay at that place. Miss Eiles will return to her residence in this city in the late autumn.

Dr. Harris, United States Commissioner of Education, accompanied by his wife, is at present in Paris, having recently arrived there from a visit to Rome.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Croffutt are now in Paris.

Miss Mary Allen and the Misses Kate and Mary Washie left yesterday for a ten days' trip to Boston.

A pretty private wedding was celebrated yesterday at the residence of Mrs. Harris Ferris, No. 410 Rhode Island avenue northwest, when Miss Lola Porla and Dr. Walter S. Ferris were married. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Russell Verheyke, of Gurley Memorial Church.

The parlors were prettily decorated, palms and potted flowers being the feature of the design. The bride wore a handsome traveling gown of Gobelin blue cloth, with hat to match, and carried a white prayer-book. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served and later the couple left for an extended tour through the North.

Among those present were Mrs. Harriet Ferris, mother of the groom; Miss Annie Ferris, his sister; Miss E. H. Gelston, Arandel, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Calvert, Mr. and Mrs. Gelston, of New York; Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Frazzoni, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Garretson, Mr. Benjamin D. Stalling, Mr. H. Daley and Miss Daley, Mrs. P. McClesney, Mr. and Mrs. Mayer, Mr. Ross Andrews, Miss Heizer, Mrs. Norris and Miss Edna Norris, Mrs. Eleanor Finley, Mrs. R. E. Moore, and daughter, Edward Matthey, Miss Hattie Rice, Miss Annie Beck, Mr. Charles Ziesentz, Mrs. and Miss Helmeik, Mr. Allen Dodge, Mr. Job Stern and others.

The presents were numerous and handsome.

Mr. George E. Harris and Miss Clara D. Clark will leave this morning for Boston by sea, to remain about ten days.

Mr. Henry C. Bell, second deputy Commissioner of Pensions, left yesterday to spend a month at his old home in Illinois.

Mr. General George E. Pickett and his wife, Mrs. Pickett, left today for the Natural Bridge, Va., to spend several weeks with relatives. Since the death of her father, Major J. W. Corbelle, Mrs. Pickett's health has been seriously impaired.

Miss Sallie F. Chandler, of the Pension Office, and her sister, Miss Sue, accompanied by Miss Victoria Roones, are enjoying a trip through Northern New York and Canada. They will not return until late in September.

Capt. Charles A. McKewitt, chief clerk of the Pension Office, with his wife, left yesterday for Asbury Park. They will also visit other resorts before returning, about the latter part of September.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. McIntyre are at Cape May. They will join their daughters at Narragansett Pier the latter part of the week.

Mrs. Margaret F. Ryan will leave today for Watertown, N. Y., to spend several weeks.

Senator Charles H. Gibson is in town for a few days.

Mr. Charles E. Vickery, of the Treasury Department, left yesterday to visit his home at Kingwood, W. Va.

Mr. E. G. Crabbe, chief of the Southern division, Pension Office, returned yesterday from an extended trip through Michigan.

Messrs. W. B. Pettus, George Bassett, W. H. Myers, W. R. Klopfer, A. H. Van Dusen, J. O. Roberts, John Morrison, R. L. De Puy, William Hatton, John Blacker, and George H. Galt, all of the Pension Office, will leave today for Boston.

Mr. L. E. Brandreth left yesterday to spend a few weeks among relatives in Ohio.

Miss Jennie V. Hayden left yesterday for northern New York, to remain several weeks.

Mr. George Butterfield will leave with the Columbia Commandery to-day for Boston, where he will remain one week. From there he will go to Manhattan to spend several days, after which he will go to East Yassabito, Me., returning to Washington about the middle of September.

Miss Nellie McCallie, of I street north-west, left yesterday for a month's outing at Atlantic City.

Mr. Henry T. Hulton will leave today for Boston and the resorts of the Massachusetts coast.

Mr. F. E. Camp, the organist of the Ascension Church, has been taking a rest at Atlantic City.

Mrs. Harriett O. Zantinger left yesterday for a month's outing.

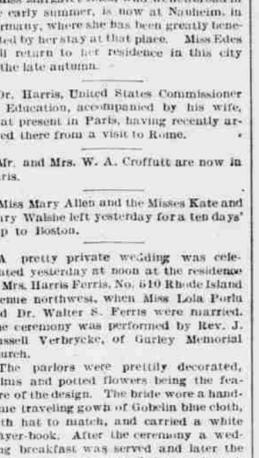

Miss Mary V. Hayward will visit Boston during the coming week.

Major W. P. Cooper, chief of the Miscellaneous Division of the Interior Department, returned yesterday from a month's outing through the West, including the Yellowstone Park. The major talks enthusiastically of the trip, regretting only that his duties here prevented a longer stay.

At the Bon Marche.

ONE DOLLAR WRAPPERS HERE

51c.

For once the Wrappers take a tumble in price—a big tumble—big, indeed—not usual with staple goods like these—but the opportunity is yours. Here they are: Indigo and mourning colors—large, full sleeves—excellent makes and styles—honest values, at one dollar—and yet you get them at 51c.

The Bon Marche

314 and 316 7th St. N. W.

Hayard, who met her upon her arrival in Europe. Mrs. Hayard will return in the late autumn, and after spending the winter in Washington, will start next spring upon a tour of the world. The latter trip will occupy three years.

Cards are out for the marriage of Miss Nettie Barrett to Mr. Toby Bush. The wedding will take place September 1.

Mr. E. A. Lovy will return from Atlantic City on the 25th of August.

FADS—LOCAL AND GENERAL

One of the most perplexing questions in the revised calendar of society this summer is "State the name of your fall."

Don't trust to your money value to save you, for fashion has soured her tomsin, and the woman who goes to a popular resort without her holiday might just as well go without her trunk, one important nation who found herself fatigued off the coast of New Jersey boldly inaugurated a society for the prevention of cruelty to sea serpents.

It was an appallingly silly idea, but so clever has she manipulated it that already an eminent jurist has won the first prize for idleness from a contending statesman, and the club has become—like its dubious prototype—the biggest thing in the swim.

A Washington woman who writes novels for amusement, and earns her fashionable reputation by the sweat of her brow, said to me:

"Yes, I've joined an anthropological society, and as I always like to bring my undertakings to a satisfactory climax, I expect to have prehistoric man before me through it. I am not constitutionally scientific. I read Hugh Miller without wanting to rack the world open with a hammer, and Darwin's monkey never impressed me like his red flannel brother who capers around the organ by a string."

It is a wise edict that bids us forget the drudgery of life in the enticing wiles of a fall. Photography is perhaps the most delightful in the list. A young girl of this city, whose special fond is raising violets under glass on her back window ledges, sold enough blossoms in early spring to buy herself a camera, and then disposed of a sufficient number of views to give the neighbor's sick child a two weeks' outing down the bay.

If you do not share your friend's bliss in the cramming of flowers in pots or batching carnations in cases, you can always buy a sham or join a glee club, or if your soul yearns for canceled stamps, autographs, tobacco tags, collect like a maniac, until the frenzy leaves you, and then throw the rubbish away. If it has helped along your brain fumes you can afford to laugh at your whim.

Worth's son has evolved an astonishing outfit for business women to wear. The design was apparently born and bred at the Chicago "Midway," for it begins with a few, followed down by a Greek jacket, a Syrian skirt—with a glimpse of our own gaily bloomers—Hungarian leggings and composite boots, with English heels and laces, but toes distinctly French. This creation is safe enough on paper, but the day it escapes from the fashion-plate into the trades and professions somebody will have to read the riot act to keep the mob at bay.

As the business woman is largely an American growth she may be counted on to mount a platform some day and argue Fashion's right to uniform her status, simply because nature has made her a live being instead of a drone. She is not a specimen to be labeled, not a sheep, to be tagged; nor any sort of creature in need of a band. As clothes go, to-day, sensible women can dress themselves suitably for any condition of life and it strikes me that they do it.

I consider it my duty to disapprove of sparrows. You cannot tell me anything mean about sparrows that I don't know already, but when I hear people complaining that he has driven off every species of our native bird I can't help wondering what is wrong with the robins and wrens in the Smithsonian Grounds—and, pray, what's the matter with our crows? The old ruckery at Arlington is so ancient that it was founded—according to the rubrics of the oldest inhabitants—by the original crow that never came back to North because he preferred the Heights' instead.

The magnificent old grove at Arlington is so black with feathers and so loud with caws that an honest Englishman—who himself can show a big thing in rookeries at his Devonshire home—graciously admitted that he had been nothing to equal ours in all four corners of the globe.

You can set your watch by the Arlington crows. There is an alarm clock regularity about his morning caw as he flies

At the Bon Marche.

ONE DOLLAR WRAPPERS HERE

51c.

For once the Wrappers take a tumble in price—a big tumble—big, indeed—not usual with staple goods like these—but the opportunity is yours. Here they are: Indigo and mourning colors—large, full sleeves—excellent makes and styles—honest values, at one dollar—and yet you get them at 51c.

The Bon Marche

314 and 316 7th St. N. W.

Hayard, who met her upon her arrival in Europe. Mrs. Hayard will return in the late autumn, and after spending the winter in Washington, will start next spring upon a tour of the world. The latter trip will occupy three years.

Cards are out for the marriage of Miss Nettie Barrett to Mr. Toby Bush. The wedding will take place September 1.

Mr. E. A. Lovy will return from Atlantic City on the 25th of August.

FADS—LOCAL AND GENERAL

One of the most perplexing questions in the revised calendar of society this summer is "State the name of your fall."

Don't trust to your money value to save you, for fashion has soured her tomsin, and the woman who goes to a popular resort without her holiday might just as well go without her trunk, one important nation who found herself fatigued off the coast of New Jersey boldly inaugurated a society for the prevention of cruelty to sea serpents.

It was an appallingly silly idea, but so clever has she manipulated it that already an eminent jurist has won the first prize for idleness from a contending statesman, and the club has become—like its dubious prototype—the biggest thing in the swim.

A Washington woman who writes novels for amusement, and earns her fashionable reputation by the sweat of her brow, said to me:

"Yes, I've joined an anthropological society, and as I always like to bring my undertakings to a satisfactory climax, I expect to have prehistoric man before me through it. I am not constitutionally scientific. I read Hugh Miller without wanting to rack the world open with a hammer, and Darwin's monkey never impressed me like his red flannel brother who capers around the organ by a string."

It is a wise edict that bids us forget the drudgery of life in the enticing wiles of a fall. Photography is perhaps the most delightful in the list. A young girl of this city, whose special fond is raising violets under glass on her back window ledges, sold enough blossoms in early spring to buy herself a camera, and then disposed of a sufficient number of views to give the neighbor's sick child a two weeks' outing down the bay.

If you do not share your friend's bliss in the cramming of flowers in pots or batching carnations in cases, you can always buy a sham or join a glee club, or if your soul yearns for canceled stamps, autographs, tobacco tags, collect like a maniac, until the frenzy leaves you, and then throw the rubbish away. If it has helped along your brain fumes you can afford to laugh at your whim.

Worth's son has evolved an astonishing outfit for business women to wear. The design was apparently born and bred at the Chicago "Midway," for it begins with a few, followed down by a Greek jacket, a Syrian skirt—with a glimpse of our own gaily bloomers—Hungarian leggings and composite boots, with English heels and laces, but toes distinctly French. This creation is safe enough on paper, but the day it escapes from the fashion-plate into the trades and professions somebody will have to read the riot act to keep the mob at bay.

As the business woman is largely an American growth she may be counted on to mount a platform some day and argue Fashion's right to uniform her status, simply because nature has made her a live being instead of a drone. She is not a specimen to be labeled, not a sheep, to be tagged; nor any sort of creature in need of a band. As clothes go, to-day, sensible women can dress themselves suitably for any condition of life and it strikes me that they do it.

I consider it my duty to disapprove of sparrows. You cannot tell me anything mean about sparrows that I don't know already, but when I hear people complaining that he has driven off every species of our native bird I can't help wondering what is wrong with the robins and wrens in the Smithsonian Grounds—and, pray, what's the matter with our crows? The old ruckery at Arlington is so ancient that it was founded—according to the rubrics of the oldest inhabitants—by the original crow that never came back to North because he preferred the Heights' instead.

The magnificent old grove at Arlington is so black with feathers and so loud with caws that an honest Englishman—who himself can show a big thing in rookeries at his Devonshire home—graciously admitted that he had been nothing to equal ours in all four corners of the globe.

You can set your watch by the Arlington crows. There is an alarm clock regularity about his morning caw as he flies

Half Cost! FOR SHOES!

The half-cost prices still continue. On Monday at 8 o'clock we shall open our store and continue this wonderful sale. We've done an enormous business during the past three days, but the best is reserved for the last. You'll come early if you are wise.

- Here are prices. At 15 cents, a Big Bargain! 15c. Lot of Shoes and Slippers. Not one pair worth less than 15 cents. At 25 cents, Extraordinary Value! 25c. Lot of Shoes and Slippers. Worth from 75 cents to $1.50. At 50 cents, Unheard of Price! 50c. 35 Ladies' Slippers and Oxfords. Worth $1.25. At 75 cents, Supreme Quality! 75c. 100 Ladies' Button Shoes. Worth $2.00. At $1.00, Worth Double! $1.00. 50 Pairs Men's Laced and Congress Gaiters. Worth from $1.75 to $2.00 per pair. At $1.25, Marvelously Cheap! $1.25. 36 Pair Men's Calf Boots. Worth $2.50. At $2.00, Greatest of All! $2.00. 6 Pairs Men's Patent Leather Shoes. Worth $2.00. At $1.00, Men's Shoe Blacking. 1 lb. Men's, Ladies' and Children's Russet Shoes and Slippers at one-half cost.

New Era Shoe House, 808 7th St., bet. H and I.

DIED.

LONG—Departed this life, on Saturday August 24, at 12:15 p. m., at her late residence, No. 1114 Bladensburg road, Mary Long, beloved wife of Fred Long, in the thirty-fourth year of her age; a native of County Kerry, Ireland; after a long and painful illness, which she bore with Christian fortitude.

Notice of funeral hereafter.

MISREY—On Friday, August 23, at 2:45 p. m., Mrs. Elizabeth A. Disney, wife of the late Gen. W. Disney, aged sixty-nine years and twenty days.

Funeral services from the late residence, 532 Ninth street southeast, at 9:30 a. m. to-morrow, Sunday, Aug. 25. Remains to be taken to Eldridge landing, Mrs. D. C. relatives and friends respectfully invited to attend.

PAYNE—Mrs. Anna Payne departed this life Friday, August 23, 1895, at 7:15 p. m. after a long and painful illness. Born in King George county, Virginia.

Funeral services from her late residence, No. 922 First street southeast, Monday, August 25, at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends are invited to attend.

EDUCATIONAL.

1894. 1895. EDUCATION FOR REAL LIFE FOR SONS AND DAUGHTERS. The Spencerian Business College, National Bank of the Republic Building, cor. 7th and D sts. Day and night.

SPENCERIAN

In the National Capital and throughout the country, is a household word, associated with thorough business training and a prosperous career.

The thirty-first scholastic year of this popular institution begins Monday, September 2, 1895. Five departments, viz: Practical Business, including complete bookkeeping, shorthand and typewriting, including English; Spencerian Rapid Writing, Mechanical and Agricultural Drawing. Full corps of thoroughly trained teachers. Location central.

Spectacles, brilliantly lighted, handsome halls and classrooms. Service of graduates always in demand. Terms moderate, but no competition with cheap schools. The leading business men of Washington were trained in this college, and send their sons and daughters, and candidates for employment here for training.

This college received from the World's Columbian commission, a diploma for "Excellence of Student Work" in all of the above departments.

Office open every business day and night, on and after Monday, August 12. Write for circulars and prospectus to nearest agent.

CONZAGA COLLEGE

Classical and Business courses of studies always in demand. Terms moderate. School will re-open Tuesday, September 3. Three free scholarships open to all competitors will be granted for on August 29, 30, and 31. For particulars address Rev. CONZAGA GILLESPIE, S. J., President and Treasurer. 2222 Iowa

DIED.

LONG—Departed this life, on Saturday August 24, at 12:15 p. m., at her late residence, No. 1114 Bladensburg road, Mary Long, beloved wife of Fred Long, in the thirty-fourth year of her age; a native of County Kerry, Ireland; after a long and painful illness, which she bore with Christian fortitude.

Notice of funeral hereafter.

MISREY—On Friday, August 23, at 2:45 p. m., Mrs. Elizabeth A. Disney, wife of the late Gen. W. Disney, aged sixty-nine years and twenty days.

Funeral services from the late residence, 532 Ninth street southeast, at 9:30 a. m. to-morrow, Sunday, Aug. 25. Remains to be taken to Eldridge landing, Mrs. D. C. relatives and friends respectfully invited to attend.

PAYNE—Mrs. Anna Payne departed this life Friday, August 23, 1895, at 7:15 p. m. after a long and painful illness. Born in King George county, Virginia.

Funeral services from her late residence, No. 922 First street southeast, Monday, August 25, at 10 a. m. Relatives and friends are invited to attend.

EDUCATIONAL.

1894. 1895. EDUCATION FOR REAL LIFE FOR SONS AND DAUGHTERS. The Spencerian Business College, National Bank of the Republic Building, cor. 7th and D sts. Day and night.

SPENCERIAN

In the National Capital and throughout the country, is a household word, associated with thorough business training and a prosperous career.

The thirty-first scholastic year of this popular institution begins Monday, September 2, 1895. Five departments, viz: Practical Business, including complete bookkeeping, shorthand and typewriting, including English; Spencerian Rapid Writing, Mechanical and Agricultural Drawing. Full corps of thoroughly trained teachers. Location central.

Spectacles, brilliantly lighted, handsome halls and classrooms. Service of graduates always in demand. Terms moderate, but no competition with cheap schools. The leading business men of Washington were trained in this college, and send their sons and daughters, and candidates for employment here for training.

This college received from the World's Columbian commission, a diploma for "Excellence of Student Work" in all of the above departments.

Office open every business day and night, on and after Monday, August 12. Write for circulars and prospectus to nearest agent.

CONZAGA COLLEGE

Classical and Business courses of studies always in demand. Terms moderate. School will re-open Tuesday, September 3. Three free scholarships open to all competitors will be granted for on August 29, 30, and 31. For particulars address Rev. CONZAGA GILLESPIE, S. J., President and Treasurer. 2222 Iowa