Claims the Washington Club Owe His Ten Days' Salary

INSISTS HE WILL ATTACK THE RECEIPTS OF THE PITTSBURG GAME IF HE ISN'T PAID

(Special to the Times.) Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 7.—"Jack" Glasscock, who was on the Senators' payroll for a few days this season, came up from Wheeling to-day to have a talk with Manager Gus Schmeiz.

He claims Washington owe him ten days' pay, and he made a demand for the same. Manager Schmeiz informed him that President Young had ordered that Washington should not owe the money, to which Jack replied:

"That was a matter with which President Young had no connection, and his ruling does not amount to the paper it was written on. When I left the Washington club it was with the understanding that if my team did not show an improvement at the end of ten days, I was to receive my unconditional release, and as it did not improve within the specified time, I was free, but I claim that the club still owes me salary for ten days, and I am going to get it, if it is in the wood."

Manager Schmeiz endeavored to show Glasscock where he was wrong, saying: "You agreed to play off for ten days at your own expense, and the proposition was made by you, therefore the Washington club maintains that you have no right to pay for the ten days. We wanted you to return to the Washington club just as soon as your arm got better, but you did not do so. We would like to have you with us now, and if you but say the word we will play you this afternoon."

Glasscock would not agree to this and told his friends that if Schmeiz did not settle his claim he would attack the club's share of the receipts of the two games.

Manager Schmeiz says the Washington club claims Billy Niles and intends to fight the Pittsburgh club for that player's services.

CLARE'S CLEVER RIDING

Lands the Colt Under the Wire Short Head to the Good—Murphy Rides Three More Winners—Favorites Receive a Dump—False Price Against Watch Charm.

The racing scene shifted yesterday from St. Asaph to the Island. The three days' continuous racing at the Virginia Jockey Club track had given the talent a chance to get a better line on the ponies, as many of them started twice and even three times during the three days.

With a change to the Island they had a different lot of horses to figure on and were, therefore, not quite so successful as they were at St. Asaph.

The fact that they let Watch Charm go to the post at 4 to 1 was ample proof that something was wrong. His defeat at a mile last week when he ran last the old Socks, Mirage, and Bira caused his stock to go down with a bang, but certainly did not make him figure a 4 to 1 shot yesterday.

ONE LONG FAVORITE The favorites were beaten over one after another at a rate that simply sent the handicappers wild. The only one they managed to put over the plate during the entire day was Sonora and she was at the prohibitive odds of 1 to 5.

For the first time this season the youngsters were asked to go a distance. The first race on the card called for a six and a quarter race for two-year-olds and seven of them faced the starter.

Murphy's good luck continues to stick by him and he rode three winners yesterday. He started with Watch Charm at 1 to 10, and won a grand finish and only lasted long enough to win for a lead. "Honest" John had not won a race in a dog's age and it is to be hoped O'Hearn's win will help to change the tide.

Jockey Clark broke his streak of bad luck by winning the third race with O'Hearn. He rode a grand finish and only lasted long enough to win for a lead. "Honest" John had not won a race in a dog's age and it is to be hoped O'Hearn's win will help to change the tide.

DIED A WAY TO NOTHING. In the opening race Wat was the first one to show and led to the far turn, where he quit and finished outside of the money. Watful was an easy winner from West, with Monte Fido, Toss, and Pickaway went on and got the coin.

The fifth race was merely a pipe opener for Sonora. She was quoted at 1 to 5 and most of the books did business with her. Murphy's second win was second, two longshots, and a third place.

Both Flamingo and Frodoese Lass were played to beat Watch Charm, but "Old Man Stansbury" fooled them and brought his broad winner home a good winner.

Results at St. Asaph. Weather clear. Track heavy.

AFTER BAD DEBT WAGON

Manager Informed That Its Use Constitutes Criminal Libel.

Felt Inclined to Make a Test Case, but He Finally Thought Better of It.

The bad debt collecting agency, with headquarters in Room 4, No. 619 F street northwest, has just been made the subject of a searching investigation by Detective Maurice Quinn, acting under orders from his chief, Inspector L. H. Hollinger.

The manager of the concern is H. L. Stone, who succeeded Elias, the projector of the agency.

The matter was brought to the attention of police headquarters at the time the bad debt wagon first made its appearance on the streets of this city. The vehicle, with the words "this wagon only stops to collect bad debts," painted in big letters on its sides, was paraded over the principal thoroughfares. In the meantime notices had been sent to delinquent debtors notifying and threatening that if they did not come forward and liquidate their indebtedness the wagon, with its gree-away signs, would be sent to stand in front of their doors.

It was through one of these delinquents that the matter was brought to the attention of the police department and Detective Quinn instructed to investigate it. He called upon the District attorney with some of the bad debt literature and was informed that the members of the collecting agency could be prosecuted for criminal libel upon complaint of any person in front of whose house the bad debt character might stop, or who had received any of the intimidating "pay up" notices.

Detective Quinn had decided to make a test case, with one of the delinquents as complainant, but it happened that the manager of the concern backed out. In the meantime the bad debt horse died and the wagon is now laid up in the stable for repairs. Collections are still being made on a bicycle which is not provided with a "bad bill" banner.

Indiana to Dock at Port Royal. Secretary Herbert is determined, if possible, to have the new battleship Indiana, which has not yet been turned over to the government, docked in the United States instead of at Halifax, Nova Scotia, as proposed by the contractors, the Cramp Shipbuilding Company, of Philadelphia, and with the object in view he yesterday telegraphed Mr. Charles Cramp that the new naval dry dock at Port Royal, S. C., was in condition to receive the Indiana. He suggested that Mr. Cramp inspect the dock and send the Indiana to Port Royal if he found everything satisfactory there.

Charge of Housebreaking Entered Up Against Him. A charge of housebreaking in the night has been entered against John C. Rankin, the plasterer, who was locked up on suspicion Friday night in No. 1200. Rankin was found in the house of Sully Bush, on Thirteenth street, and stated that he had been employed to watch the premises.

Yesterday the Bush woman was found at No. 451 Missouri avenue, where she had fled, leaving her furniture in the Thirteenth street structure, because she had been informed that the police were going to raid her resort. She denied that Rankin had been employed by her as a watchman, hence the serious charge of housebreaking.

It is not believed this case can be made out against the plasterer, as he is said to be a harmless sort of fellow, and Prosecuting Attorney Mulholland may credit that an information be taken out charging Rankin with being a suspicious character under the vagrancy act.

The Story of a One-Hundred-Dollar Wheel for $50. The consensus of opinion regarding bicycles is that $100 is too much to pay for a wheel, no matter who the manufacturer or what his reputation. A few firms have assumed to themselves the title of standard manufacturers. This standard presumably means excellence of work and material. Now aside from those very few so-called standard makers, there are hundreds of others that make equally as good wheels—if not better, maintaining in every feature what alone entitles a "standard" viz: lightness, combining strength with speed, and a fine, smooth, true, wheels. A visit to Mr. John P. Murphy, No. 602 F street northwest, and an industrial examination of the bicycles he is offering will convince anyone that there is no longer any necessity of paying $100 for a wheel, as he can give you one equally as good for $50.
