NOW FOR AFTERNOON TEAS

Cards Are Out for a Number of These Pleasant Functions.

Marriage of Mrs. Agnes Barnett and Dr. Ira Dennison—Society Notes and Personals.

Washington society delights in afternoon teas, its pretty girls are prettier by the hundred fold as they appear in their bright dresses over the tea cups, and they serve the steaming beverage with a grace and charm evinced by their sisters in other cities.

In the homes of the Capitol 5 o'clock teas are not dull, formal functions such as the Londoners of shaded papers, their wit brightens over the tea cups, and they serve the steaming beverage with a grace and charm evinced by their sisters in other cities.

Mrs. Stilton Hutchins has issued invitations for a tea Sunday afternoon from 5 to 7. Twenty friends have been bidden to this delightful informal gathering.

Mrs. Sternberg, wife of Gen. Sternberg, will give a tea tomorrow evening from 4 to 7.

Miss May McConey will give a tea at her apartments at the Shoreham in compliance with the Misses Dodge December 17.

Cards are out from Mrs. A. C. Barney, for a 5 o'clock tea Friday, December 6, at 7. Twenty friends have been bidden to this delightful informal gathering.

Mrs. Howland will give a tea at Chevy Chase November 25.

Lieut. and Mrs. Cruse entertained at supper last evening a number of the officers and girls who took part in a hop at Fort Myer.

Mrs. Agnes Maria Barnett and Dr. Ira Dennison were married last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Gildrest Martin, No. 1322 L street northwest. The drawing-room was handsomely decorated with white chrysanthemums and ferns, and in the bay window a lower of palms formed a picturesque background for the bridal party.

The bride entered leaning on the arm of her father, and gowned handsomely in pearl colored silk trimmed with chiffon and laced at the throat with a diamond brooch.

Her bouquet was a cluster of long stemmed white chrysanthemums. Miss Lillian Harris, dressed in white silk and carrying white chrysanthemums, preceded her. The groom entered with the mother of the bride. Among those who witnessed the ceremony were Mrs. William W. Cook and Miss Onsted of New York, Mrs. Hiram Denison and Mr. Charles Denison of Seattle, Mrs. Anna Byrne and Mr. Charles A. Freeman of Brooklyn, Dr. and Mrs. Gregg Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Findley Harris, Miss Van Sinderen, ninety young ladies, and the bride's friends, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. George Neillinger of Brooklyn, Lieut. S. P. Edmonds, U. S. S. revenue cutter service.

Mrs. Martin, mother of the bride, received the guests, who called later. She wore a gown of black silk ornamented with round point lace, diamonds and carried a bouquet of roses. Over a hundred friends extended their congratulations to the couple.

Mrs. Dennison is well known all over the United States, having for some years been registrar general of the Daughters of the Revolution. Dr. Dennison is one of the most eminent medical practitioners of this city, having been for some years resident physician of the Homeopathic Hospital. The presents were handsome and numerous.

Miss M. Madison Davis left yesterday for San Jose, Cal., where she will remain until spring, when, with her brother, Mr. Paul E. Davis, she will sail for a year's trip to the old world, by way of Japan.

Miss Irene Miller gave a yellow tea last evening in compliment to her guest, Miss Estelle Evans, of Milwaukee. The decorations of the parlors were yellow chrysanthemums, and the table lamps burned under shades, with a yellow silk center piece embroidered with balloon thread.

The hostess received her guests in yellow silk, while her assistants, Miss Evans, Miss Loretta Watkins, were with their gowns of white organdy, yellow satin shoulder bows and sashes, with diamond brooches for fastenings. Among the guests present were Miss Lottie Tyler of Baltimore, Miss Josephine Cutler, Miss Alice Benkert, Miss Nellie Williams, Miss Florence Baker, Miss Pauline Lavin, Miss Nettie Pierce, Miss Louise Henderson, Miss Orr White, Mr. Joseph Fleming, Mr. James F. Harris, Mr. Logan Willis, Mr. Arthur Porter, Mr. E. J. Williams, Mr. Frank Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. McDonald, and Mr. Lawrence Hall.

Miss Katharine Fisher, of No. 1340 Vermont street, has as her guest Miss Clara Kirkland of Baltimore.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. M. Curry gave a dinner last evening. Guests invited were The Spanish Minister and Mrs. De Lome, the Mexican Minister and Mrs. Romero, Mrs. and Mrs. Pellet, Secretary and Mrs. Childs, Secretary and Mrs. Howard, Mrs. and Mrs. Sargent, Mr. Calderon Carliste, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nelson Page, and Mr. Kasson.

Miss Bertha L. Taylor and Mr. Charles H. Neely were married on Wednesday evening at the parsonage of Rev. Dr. S. H. Green, of Calvary Baptist Church. They were attended by Mr. Robert W. Neely, brother of the groom, and Miss Belle Taylor, sister of the bride.

The bride was attired in a stylish dress of dark blue cloth, hat to match, and carried La France roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Neely will be at home to their friends, 2009 Portner place, after November 25.

Miss Cannon, daughter of Representative Cannon, will return from Europe soon, and will spend the season at the Normandie.

Mr. G. W. Curtis, the millionaire Congressman from Ohio, will arrive in the city today, and with his family, will spend the winter at the Normandie.

Hill, Miss Mollie Shedy, Mrs. Tyler, Miss Besse Tyler, Col. and Mrs. Dewees, Mr. Will Chesley, and many others.

New York, Nov. 21.—One of the most fashionable weddings of the season was celebrated yesterday noon when Miss Elea Stillman, daughter of Dr. James Stillman, was married to Mr. William G. Rockefeller. The ceremony was performed at St. Bartholomew's Church at 3:30 o'clock by Bishop Potter, assisted by the rector, Rev. Dr. David H. Greer.

The church was decorated by Thorn-

Reopening. We wish to acquaint our many friends that we have reopened our store under new management, and that we are prepared to give more entire satisfaction than ever. We have kept only the choicest part of our former stock and have added to it many new designs. Wall papers, frescos and window shades in perfection. The Horace J. LONG Company, 524 13th St. bet. E and F.

ley with white chrysanthemums and palms. The music was very fine and was rendered by the full choir of the church, supplemented with organ and harp.

The ushers—Mr. J. A. Stillman, Mr. Walter Bliss, Mr. Richard Van Wyck, Mr. John Rockefeller, Mr. Oliver L. Jennings, Dr. D. H. McAlpin, Mr. Everett Macy and Mr. Lambert Brackett—preceded the bride and groom, which were made up of six bridesmaids, the bride and her father. The bridesmaids were Miss Emma Rockefeller, Miss Annie Morgan, Miss Carrie Morgan, Miss Barrett, Miss Knowlton and Miss Isabel Stillman.

They wore skirts of heavy white silk, figured with pink flowers in pompadour effect. These will have pink velvet girdles and collars. The bridesmaids wore large picture hats of black velvet and carried bouquets of pink carnations.

The bride's gown was white satin. She carried a white prayer book, instead of the customary bouquet. Mr. Rockefeller and his best man, Mr. Percy Rockefeller, met her at the altar.

Senior and Miss Covarrubias will give an entertainment at the National Hotel, which they have occupied for a number of years, and take possession of one of the houses which Mr. Graham Bell is building, between Connecticut avenue and N street.

The Morton Cadets will give a reception and dance this evening at the National Hotel. These will have pink velvet girdles and collars. The bridesmaids wore large picture hats of black velvet and carried bouquets of pink carnations.

The cadets who have the entertainment in charge are: Capt. Edgar A. Shilling, J. P. Thayer, A. B. Gleason, F. R. Grayson, Milton O'Connell, George Plunge, D. Harry Moran, Ed E. Math, H. B. Blason, E. G. Trullis, Charles Yeaman, T. Handy, J. P. Nichols, S. A. Winson, George J. Harris, C. H. Lyman, W. M. Wagner and E. M. Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison B. Tanna, of Mobile, Ala., are the guests of Mrs. Kate E. Lord, of M street northwest.

The friends of Miss Eugenia Wilson of L street will be pleased to learn that she is convalescing from her recent illness so far as to receive her immediate friends.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Landers of Seventh street southwest have returned from a two months' visit to Augusta, Me.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Bangs of No. 1855 Ninth street northwest will celebrate their golden wedding Saturday evening, from 7 to 10 o'clock.

Miss Daisy Ellis, of New Jersey avenue, accompanied by her cousin, Miss Marnie Stoddard, of Philadelphia, left yesterday morning for Philadelphia to attend the wedding of a mutual friend.

Mr. Eugene Cockran of Washington was best man Tuesday evening at the wedding of Miss Doty to Dr. Frank Pelkan Long, which occurred at New York.

TO A SUCCESSFUL CLOSE. Church of Our Father Fair Brought to an End. The bazaar held in the auditorium of the Church of Our Father for the replenishing of the current funds of the church, came to a successful conclusion last night. The lyrics and hymns of Mother Good, which were given as a closing feature of the fair, were prettily rendered by the children of the church, and received continuous commendation from a large audience.

Mother Good and her quiet family were illustrated in a series of living pictures. The fair was conducted by Miss Marnie Stoddard, represented by Miss Jessie Campbell; Little Jack Horner, Master Jimmie Rogers; Little Mau and Little Mad, Miss Margaret Keefe and Master Hattie Trer; Miss Dot Brooks, and Little Boy Blue, artistically depicted in a group of new boys, Master Percy Campbell.

The five 10 grandnephews, Misses Mary Rogers, Helen Williams, Louise Alexander, and Helen Birchard, led by four-year-old Dame Margaret Jenkins, a tiny slip of a fairy from Baltimore, were a phenomenal success from their first bow and were recalled again and again. Intercourse continued the evening were recitations by Master Willie Cowan, whistling solo, Mrs. Clifton Howard; piano solo, Mrs. Barkhart; and vocal duet, Mrs. M. E. Landers, G. W. Brooks, accompanied by Miss Webb.
