GAY SEASON IS NOW IN FULL SWING

Many Events Are Set for This Week in Official Circles.

Reception at the White House—Several Dinners on the Card—Society Notes and Personals.

A handsome gown never shows to better advantage than when contrasted to the severely simple back and waist of masculine attire. Dame Fashion seems to realize this, and so the correct thing now is to have a number of young men to assist at the tea, which is still society's favorite function.

The social calendar for today shows: General and Mrs. Sternberg, a luncheon. Miss Joseph Chappell Hutchinson and Miss Edithman, a reception at the Arlington, 5 o'clock.

Miss Galy of Baltimore, who has been visiting Miss Tolbridge of L. street, returns to her home today.

The young ladies of the Columbia Heights Club have issued invitations for a reception at the residence of Mrs. Dr. H. T. Gusa, 1404 Binny street, on Friday, January 10.

Mrs. Elizabeth J. Somers of F. street has issued cards for a series of Friday afternoon teas, from 4 to 7, during the month of January.

Mrs. Ruth Stuart and Master Charles Stuart returned from Baltimore Saturday evening.

Miss Somerville and Miss McEchin of Alabama are the guests of Mrs. Bankhead of Maryland avenue northeast.

Mrs. Edgar Allen will receive on Friday, January 10, assisted by her daughters, Mrs. Bernard Lee Grove and Miss Allen; Miss Palmer, of Boston; Miss Trout Bellows, of Devonshire, England; Miss Coffin, of Pittsburg, and Miss Wilder, of New York.

Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Schaffert, of North Capitol and H streets, gave a merry Christmas party for their little grandchildren, Rebecca and Adolph Y. Schaffert and Adolph J. Schaffert, Jr., on Tuesday last. Among those present were Irene Hollander, Bessie Hollander, Viola White, Cecilia Becker, Florence Becker, Margorie Scott, Genevieve Echloff, Susanne Yerby, Belle Koudrup, Garnett Koudrup, Hattie Brady, Agnes Smith, Marguerite Wright, Alma Wright, Amy Richardson, Ethel Brodie, Marie Brodie, Jennie Dierken, Marie Byrnes, Kitty Byrnes, Edith Wright, Eddy Brady, Melville Hollander, Angelo Weller, Joe Dierken, John Bridgett, Arthur O'Leary, Dudley Yerby, Bernard Echloff, Edmund Cammack, Herbert Wright, Frank Byrnes, and Charlie White.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin P. Serrin of Georgetown announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary R. Serrin, to Arthur A. Riener of New York City.

Miss Edith Morning has returned from Ferrist Glen, where she has been spending the holidays.

SOUSA'S BAND HEARD AGAIN

Lafayette Square Opera House Crowded at Last Night's Concert.

Familiar Marches Roused the Audience to Enthusiasm—Leader Presented with Elegant Wreath.

It was Sousa night at the Lafayette Square Opera House. That means that the auditorium was packed and even standing room at a premium.

The program was varied enough to meet everyone's taste. Rubinstein, Wagner, Massini, Sarasate, Gilet, and Kunkel were represented and all found admirers.

After every number there were demands for encores, and with unaccustomed amiability, Sousa responded. He knew, too, just what Washington people wanted to hear from his band, and so he gave them his own swinging marches until the house rang with applause.

The program was varied enough to meet everyone's taste. Rubinstein, Wagner, Massini, Sarasate, Gilet, and Kunkel were represented and all found admirers.

One of the interesting events of the night was the presentation of a wreath to the leader of the band, which was done by a group of young ladies.

Another important case that will be argued this month are the following: Plutocor Omelas vs. Inez Ruiz et al.; presenting the question whether or not those followers of Garza, the unsuccessful Mexican revolutionist, who fled to this country are political exiles or plain criminals, subject to the laws of extradition.

Upon the decision of this case may depend the successful execution of the scheme to consolidate or combine the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads.

Long vs. Lochren. This is the noted case of a judge of the Michigan supreme court against Pension Commissioner Lochren, in which he seeks to prevent the commissioner from interfering with his pension. Long has been unsuccessful in the courts of the District of Columbia.

WASHINGTONIANS VICTORIOUS. They Win the American Whist League Trophy Hands Down.

Messrs. Low, Barrick, Carr and Fog were the four whist players representing the Capital Bicycle Club of this city in Saturday's match against the Albany, N. Y., team there for the American Whist League trophy, and the club here is advised that they won it, 24 hands duplicate, in two sets each up and down by seven tricks.

Left Collateral for an Assault. Frank Hoover, colored, deposited $5 collateral at No. 8 station Saturday, for assaulting Robert Carter. The arrest was made by Policeman Harrover.

THEY WILL WED THIS WEEK

Vanderbilt-Belmont Marriage May Occur on Wednesday.

They Will Go to Europe and Probably Return to America in the Early Spring.

New York, Jan. 5.—Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt and Mr. Oliver H. Belmont are to be married on Wednesday, January 6. This, at least, is the date indicated by their acquaintances to have been selected for the nuptials.

There was a deal of chatter on the subject at two large and fashionable receptions yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Belmont is, according to the gossip, a very devoted lover.

During the two days which have elapsed since the public announcement of the engagement, Mrs. Vanderbilt has received many congratulatory epistles from her feminine friends. She has been kept quite busy answering them.

DEATH OF THE COLD SNAP

Warmer and Pleasant Weather Is Promised for Today.

There is No Rain or Snow in Sight and the Wave Will Pass Off Quietly.

Fair weather, slowly rising temperature, variable winds, becoming southerly are the indications for today, announced by the Weather Bureau. This is possibly the most agreeable piece of local news that will be published today on the always fertile subject of the weather.

The agency may be said to order and today people may be expected to warm out of doors like bees in the first sunshine of spring. There was not much of the buzz and hum of humanity yesterday. The cold had made such a successful siege that the social world was altogether indoors.

Zero or thereabouts is a great domesticator. There were more family reunions for the past few days than there have been within the last year. There were few vacant chairs around the festive board or the grate, especially the latter. All day yesterday Washington reminded one of a village from which the inhabitants had gone out to the cemetery to attend the funeral of the oldest inhabitant. The cold was let severely alone with itself and its discomforts.

The Weather Bureau came as near an absolutely correct prophecy about this wave as any one of the exact sciences. All of Prof. Morrill's predictions were fulfilled, even to the time of the lowest temperature, which he said would be Sunday morning, and it took place after the midnight of Saturday.

The mercury then stood at eight degrees below zero. The temperature then began to rise very slowly, and at midday yesterday it had crawled up to eighteen above zero. It then fell again to twelve above, zero at midnight last night, and will now slowly rise in accordance with the prediction of fair weather and slowly rising temperature.

According to the information from the bureau there will be no sudden reaction of any kind. There have been clouds, a little rain and a little snow in the northwest, where the temperature rose twenty degrees within the past thirty-six hours. No rain or snow is expected here.

The center of the wave is now in northern New England, and intense cold is stationary in the Middle States and in the Ohio Valley. The District of Columbia has come in for the favorable change which has taken place all the way from Texas to the northern boundary of Maryland. It is likely that by midday the ice will begin to thaw in the ponds along the Potomac and this will be followed by a break up of the masses of ice in the river itself.

One of the absolutely reliable indications of good weather to come was the fact that last night there were no applications for the housing of the tramps at the police precincts.

W. C. T. U. to Convene in "Frisco." San Francisco, Jan. 5.—A recent letter from Miss Frances E. Willard announces that the next annual convention of the national organization will be held in California early in the autumn and in all probability in this city.

WEEK OF PRAYER.

Will Be Observed by All Presbyterian Churches.

The week of prayer which is observed annually by nearly all Protestant churches, begins tonight and will continue until the 12th. Formerly it was the custom for the churches of nearly all the denominations represented to unite in special services, but this year only the Presbyterians will hold union meetings.

A series of prayer meetings will be held in the New York Avenue Church each day of the week except Saturday. Following is a list of the pastors and themes assigned to them:

Monday evening, Rev. William C. Alexander, D. D., pastor West Street Church, "Hamill and Thanksgiving"; Tuesday, Rev. George N. Liscock, D. D., pastor of the Metropolitan Church, "The Church Extended"; Wednesday, Rev. R. P. Bittinger, D. D., of Westminster Church, "Nations and their Rulers"; Thursday, Rev. Joseph T. Kelly, pastor of the Fourth Church, "Foreign Missions"; and Friday evening, Rev. Tunis S. Hamlin, D. D.

This week of prayer originated in a mission in India, in 1857, which invited all Christian churches in the world to observe the first week in January as a feast of prayer for the evangelization of the world.

BLAZE IN THE COUNTY.

Nina Vera Hughes' Metaphysical Home Destroyed by Fire.

The house and barn of William Hughes, at Field Eagle Hill, near Oxon Hill, Md., were destroyed by fire last night, causing a loss of $4,000, partly covered by an insurance of $1,800.

The exact origin of the fire is not known, but it is supposed to have started from an overheated stove in the second story. The structure was of frame and the flames gained rapid headway. Efforts were made by the occupants and neighbors to save the property.

The fire was discovered at 7:15 o'clock and at 8 o'clock the barn caught. The place was built about three years ago as a metaphysical institute under the auspices of Nina Vera Hughes, the metaphysician. The blaze was clearly seen from Washington.

ANOTHER RITTER FAILURE.

Brigantine Transit Company Goes Into Hands of a Receiver.

Philadelphia, Jan. 5.—The assignment of the Solicitors' Loan and Trust Company, of which J. Rush Ritter is real estate officer, was followed yesterday by the appointment of a receiver for the Brigantine Transit Company, of which Ritter is president. Judge Thompson, of Atlantic City, was named as receiver.

The company owns six one-half mile and one mile of trolley railway, a power plant, and pavilions and wharves at Brigantine Beach, a wharf at Atlantic City, which is said to have cost $50,000, and three small steamboats.

The capital stock is $250,000 and there are outstanding $250,000 of 6 per cent bonds. The company has not defaulted upon the bonds, but an officer of the company said that there were so many new debts cropping up that it was deemed best to appoint a receiver so as to protect all interests.

ALEXANDRIA HAPPENINGS.

The river in front of this city on Saturday night was kept open by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad transfer tug Brewerton, but below the city the ice was solid from shore to shore. The Norfolk boat broke the ice as it came up. The ferryboats were able to run yesterday until the 4:30 o'clock trip when the ice gave way near Giesboro and the steamer Belle Haven had to be withdrawn from the route. The ice last night was making fast, and all the indications point to a three-inch freeze.

The St. Joseph's Aid Society, the ladies' charitable organization of St. Mary's Catholic Church, has been very busy during the past few days filling the demands made on them for aid, and on Thursday evening next the ladies will be in St. Mary's Hall, on South Royal street, near Wolfe street, to receive donations of clothing, money, etc., to aid them in their good work.

John Crane and John Crosby were arrested by the police in this city on Saturday night last trying to work the old gold spectacle swindle. Mayor Thompson imposed a fine of $5 each for doing business without a license and in default they will be sent to the chain gang.

The marriage of Miss Maria Kalecki, daughter of Herman Kalecki, to Mr. Goldstein in the Virginia House parlour took place yesterday evening at 6 o'clock. The wedding was attended by a large number of the friends of the contracting parties. Mr. and Mrs. Goldstein will make Alexandria their home.

R. E. Lee Camp of Confederate Veterans will at their meeting tonight appoint the committee to arrange for beautifying the space about the monument at the corner of Prince and Washington streets.

The committee of the Business Men's League having charge of the fitting up of the rooms of the league will begin the work today.

Today being the feast of the Epiphany services will be held in St. Mary's Catholic Church at 6 and 8:30 a. m.
