

FORTY-NINTH CONGRESS.

GOLD AND SILVER DISCUSSED IN THE HOUSE.

Bills Favorably Reported From the Committees—Appropriations for Public Buildings.

WASHINGTON, February 9.—House.—The Speaker laid before the House the response of the Secretary of the Treasury to the Bland resolution. Referred. The Secretary says: "I have received the inquiry addressed to the Secretary of the Treasury by the House of Representatives in this resolution, respecting the silver balance and circulation, and beg leave to reply in reply that I will, with all due diligence, make full answer to the same. I am for the moment delayed by the and by a special endeavor to promote current reforms in the levy and collection of duties on imported commodities by affording some information thereon in season for the advantage of the subcommittee of the Finance Committee of the Senate, which has requested the same, and which, I am sorry to say, is about to undertake an early examination of the difficulties set forth in my annual report in respect to the collections of revenue at the custom-house at New York."

The Speaker also laid before the House the reply of the Secretary of the Treasury to the resolution asking for a statement of the amount applied to the sinking fund during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1885. Referred. The Secretary gives the following figures: Bonds—principal, $45,588,160; interest, $271,067.38. Fractional currency redeemed, $15,885.43. Total, $61,554,612.81.

A number of committee reports were submitted, among them the following: By Mr. Mills (Tex.), from the Banking and Currency Committee: A Senate bill authorizing the receiver of any National Bank to use so much of the money of the trust as may be necessary to purchase any property on which the bank may have a legal claim. House calendar.

By Mr. Frick (La.), from the Committee on Commerce: Authorizing the various Executive Departments to examine articles of the New Orleans Exposition. Committee of the Whole.

By Mr. Davis (Mass.), from the same committee: Providing for the investigation of the discovery of preventing yellow-fever by inoculation. Committee of the Whole.

By Mr. Warner (O.), from the Committee on Postoffice: To reduce the fee on money orders for $5 or less from 8 to 5 cents. House calendar.

By Mr. Peters (Kan.), from the same committee: Providing that the allowance for clerk hire made to postmasters of the first and second classes shall cover the cost of clerical labor in the money order business. House calendar. Also, a verbal, providing for the payment into the Treasury of the receipts of the money order system, and for the system of appropriations. Laid on the table.

The House then resumed in the morning hour the consideration of the bill to prevent the claim of war taxes as set off against States having claims against the government. After considerable debate, but without action, the House went into committee of the whole. Mr. Hammond (Ga.) in the chair, on the half-past one hour, and Mr. Findlay (Md.) took the floor with a carefully prepared speech upon the financial question, which he said resolved itself into the question as to whether or not the Bland act should be repealed. The Bland act on its face was an impeachment of the wisdom of free coinage, and he contended that there was strong ground for making a distinction between gold and silver, and by this act the advocates of silver gave up their whole case. He said to the advocates of silver "follow your leader, wholly regardless of the false position in which you have been placed by the Bland act for the last eight years, take the stand which logic and experience dictates, and demand for your silver its fullest and complete rehabilitation. The whole question was whether Congress should get rid of a measure which was neither fish nor fowl, sea nor dry land." He favored putting both metals on an equal, honest money footing.

Mr. Warner (O.) thought that no permanent settlement of the financial question could be arrived at till gold and silver were restored to the positions they occupied prior to the demonetization of the latter metal. He spoke for silver because he believed it to be the side of truth and justice, and because he believed that the welfare of the country and the world were bound up in it. He would admit that the present condition of silver could not be regarded as permanent—that it was not a gift of constant, but its restoration to a full equality with gold as a money metal could render its condition satisfactory; nothing short of that would satisfy the demand of equity of vast industrial interest of the world. He should say "hold the fort if it but could be done, or take a step in advance if possible, but not to go backward."

Pending action the committee rose, and the House adjourned.

The Senate.—On motion of Senator Teller, the Senate passed the bill to enable the State of Colorado to take lands in lieu of the 190th and 36th sections set apart for Indian reservations.

Senator Cameron called up the bill to provide for the appointment of an Assistant Secretary of the Navy.

Senator Logan submitted an amendment providing for the appointment also of an Assistant Secretary of War at $4000.

The amendment was ordered printed and the bill went over.

The education bill was made the special order for 2 o'clock to-morrow.

On motion of Senator Teller, the Senate passed the bill to grant the right of way through public lands for irrigation purposes.

On motion of Senator Plumb, the Senate then took up and, after a short debate, passed the bill to extend the laws of the United States over the organized territory south of the State of Kansas and known as the "public land strip."

The Senate then adjourned.

In the Committee-Rooms.—The Senate Committee on Finance has determined upon an adverse report upon the nomination of Pillsbury and Chase to be collectors respectively of Boston and Portland.

The report upon Pillsbury will be held back temporarily to give him an opportunity to be heard.

The House Public Lands Committee agreed to report favorably Mr. Ho-me's bill to quiet titles of settlers on the Des Moines river lands in Iowa. The bill forfeiting the Northern Pacific land grant was discussed, and it is expected that a conclusion may be reached on Thursday next.

In the Ways and Means Committee to-day Mr. Morrison stated that he had not yet received the information requested from the Treasury Department regarding the effect of the proposition to pay out $100,000,000 of the surplus money in the Treasury toward the extinguishment of the public debt.

He remarked that he would have something of interest to lay before the committee within a few days, and this was recorded as an intimation that a tariff bill would soon be presented.

Mr. Reed was authorized to call up in the House at the first opportunity his bill to protect the mackerel fisheries by prohibiting the importation of that fish during the spawning season.

The House Committee on Commerce to-day continued the hearing of arguments on the interests commerce bill, and was addressed by Mr. E. Rosewater, editor of the Omaha Bee, who made a long argument in support of the pending bill, and vigorously denounced the course pursued by the railroad companies in their treatment of the public.

The House Committee on Expenditures in the War Department to-day began its investigation into the accounts of the Signal Office. Second Comptroller Maynard stated the committee had reviewed the accounts, many of which, he said, were apparently irregular and unauthorized.

The House Committee on Invalid Pensions to-day heard Gen. Black in reference to the probable cost of extending the arrears of pensions act to 1888. Gen. Black's estimates were substantially as follows: The cost contained in his recent letters on the subject. He places the entire cost at about $228,000,000.

CORINTH, MISS.—The Wild Statements About Prohibition Killing the Town.

CONGRESS, MISS., February 8.—"Corinth" says I made wild and conflicting statements about the prohibition agitation here. He showed no conflict of my statements, but, doubtless, prohibition does conflict with the growth and prosperity of a town, and some almost "wild" to get whisky here. The mass-meeting was a big success, aside from the dozen or so colored preachers attending a Methodist district conference. The intimation that the anti-prohibition petition was "tampered" with at Jackson two years ago is an old threadbare slander which no informed and respectable person here believes, and which has been openly denounced as such time and again. Not a particle of proof has ever been adduced to sustain it. The prohibition petition two years ago had 600 names, exclusive of a possible error, and was not tampered with by the prohibition ever sent to Jackson. Not a dead man or non-resident was on it. The whisky petition was no imposture and unfair that it killed itself and never appeared in the Senate. The talk about the "tax-payers" opposing prohibition is simply the old story of brass-punching forgers sent by the auction men. Everybody here knows that liquor petitions depend largely on the ignorant lower classes to swell their numbers. I assert positively, and am prepared to prove, that two-thirds of the tax-payers are on our side. Only two or three business houses of any importance whatever ask for "repeal," would three times as many ask for "no repeal."

The talk about trade leaving Corinth because there is no whisky sold here is shallow nonsense, as there is absolutely no place for it to go to get whisky. There are but two liquor shops within about fifty miles of this place, so far as we know. One of them is in a log cabin just across the line, in Tennessee, and I don't think much cotton has been shipped from "Rollinville" this season, or a very extensive dry goods and grocery trade has been carried on there. The other point is Barrowville, in Tennessee county, and whoever hears of Barrowville except when the name is yelled out by the brakeman on the train? Trade has been dealt and times a little stringent at all surrounding towns, and from the same cause, two consecutive short cotton crops and possibly too much liquor before we get prohibition. Prohibition saves the people of this country at least $25,000 per year.

MISSISSIPPI LEGISLATURE.

PROCEEDINGS IN THE HOUSE AND SENATE.

A New Order in the Evers-Watson Land Case—The Grand Commandery.

JACKSON, Miss., February 9.—Senate.—Bills passed: To authorize the supervisors of Adams to pay certain fees to Martin and Lennear; House bill supplemental to provide for the payment of the bonded debt of Hinds county.

Most of the session of today was occupied in the discussion of a bill to provide for the election of the Railroad Commission and to create a Board of Equalization. No result was reached.

Confirmations by the Senate: Of Superintendents of Education, Alexander Yerger for Bolivar county, N. W. Lee for Coahoma, and C. S. McKenzie for Sunflower.

HOUSE.—Bills passed: To amend the Code in relation to the manner of conducting guardianships; to amend the law in relation to the relief of exempt property; for the relief of the sheriff of Clay county; to repeal the act in-corporating the town of Summersville; for the relief of Pleasant, Joy county; to repeal section 47 of the Code as it relates to Green county.

The day was occupied in discussing a bill in relation to enforcing contracts for labor, and the House adjourned without reaching a conclusion.

The Watson-Evers Land Case. SPECIAL TO THE APPEAL.—JACKSON, Miss., February 9.—An order was made by Judge Hill to-day, in the Watson-Evers land suit, which directs the readvertisement of the sale by land numbers. This will postpone the sale to about the second week in March. Nearly a million acres are in the suit, and the interest is a first lien in favor of Watson for about $183,000.

Grand Commandery, K. T. SPECIAL TO THE APPEAL.—JACKSON, Miss., February 9.—The Grand Commandery of Knights Templars to-day elected the following officers for this year: Grand commander, Dr. B. A. Vaughn; deputy grand commander, N. S. Walker; grand generalissimo, Frederick Speed; grand captain-general, J. J. Hays; grand prelate, the Rev. J. E. Martin, Jr.; grand warden, B. T. Kimbrough; grand treasurer, James T. McCall; grand recorder, J. L. Power; grand standard bearer, C. C. Ross; grand sword bearer, W. J. Brown, Jr.; grand captain of guard, Jacob Peebles.

The Grand lodge will meet to-morrow, fully 1,300 delegates being expected.

BROADWAY STREET RAILWAY. Endeavoring to Penetrate the Mystery Surrounding its Charter.

NEW YORK, February 9.—The Senate Committee on Railroads that is endeavoring to pierce the mystery surrounding the granting of the franchise to the Broadway Street railway met again to-day. Mr. Seward, counsel for the committee, put in evidence the books of the Broadway and Seventh Avenue railroad, and also certain papers accompanying the books.

There were eight entries in the books, but only one had been cut, and that only one apparently paid for and delivered, and that was the first certificate in the book, and was to Jacob Sharp, for 9320 shares. The stock ledger was then introduced, and sustained the record of the certificate book. The transfer book was likewise introduced. The minute book of the Broadway and Seventh Avenue railroad Board of Directors was then put in evidence, and it showed the total cost of the Broadway road as $3,452,000. Opposite the head of each detail of horse-cars, dummies, wagons, etc., there was written the word "none." In the income account, dated September, 1885, these entries occurred: "Gross earnings,—; net earnings,—; total gross earnings,—; total net earnings,—." This had reference to the Broadway road. Mr. Jacob Sharp then took the witness stand, and Mr. Conkling proceeded to examine him. The witness testified that young Kerr, the son of the distiller, to whom Sharp paid a check of $270,000, disbursed money to "laborers" on the Broadway road.

The Big Irish Parliamentary Fund. NEW YORK, February 9.—The Sun this morning says: "The most interesting thing in the gathering of the committee men of the Big Irish Parliamentary Fund in the Hoffman house last night, was the little slip of paper that Miles O'Brien laid before Chairman Eugene Kelly. It showed at a glance how universal was the sympathy in this place for 'Parish's efforts to secure home rule for Ireland. Upon it was written the nationalities represented by those who had contributed to make up the $30,000, at which handsome figure the fund now stands. Here they are: American, Austrian, Prussian, Polish, Italian, Spanish, and Greek. Russian, Irish, French, Swedish, Swiss, African. England will be added to the list when Pat Gilmore comes to turn in his list of volunteers for the big home rule concert at Madison Square Garden next Sunday, for it was an Englishman who was the first to offer to foot the bill."

The Storey Will Admitted to Probate. CHICAGO, February 9.—Judge Rogers, in the Circuit Court this morning, decided that the will executed by William Storey, late owner of the Chicago Times, in February, 1881, was valid, and directed that it be admitted to probate. The matter was heard on an appeal from the Probate Court. The will was contested by the blood heirs on three grounds: Want of testamentary capacity, undue influence, and that the instrument was not properly witnessed. The court held that the testator was of sound mind before and after the will was drawn; that there was no evidence of improper influence, and that the will was legally attested. The will leaves the newspaper and the largest portion of the estate to his widow, Eureka C. Storey. The counsel for the blood heirs gave notice of an appeal.

"The Bygone's Refuge." "I am thirty-five years old," writes Mr. Charles H. Watts of West Somers, Putnam county, N. Y., "and had suffered from dyspepsia for fifteen years. The current treatment did me no good. Listlessly, and without hope, I gave Parker's Tonic a trial. I can give the result in three words—'it cured me.' It will cure you."

The West Point, Miss., Failure. WEST POINT, Miss., February 9.—The liabilities of W. H. Robertson foot up $65,000; assets, $40,000. Albert Bush & West of New Orleans have attached Robertson's stock for $12,000.
