

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS

AND THEIR SURROUNDINGS OF MINERAL WEALTH.

Steady Development of a Country Which Grows More and More Inviting Every Year.

INDEPENDENCE OF THE APPEAL. MONTGOMERY WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, MONTGOMERY COUNTY, VA., July 3. Your correspondent counts himself happy, after a sultry journey through the cotton States, to reach this delightful resort, where each morning we are greeted by the arrival of the breeze, which is a welcome visitor here, bringing us from the great Mississippi Valley, we find much here in geological contrast to arrest and possess the traveler, whose nature with lavish munificence has contributed a prestige of wealth in soil, climate and agricultural resources almost beyond computation. Vast beds of ore are yet being developed, and no county in the State has been so generously supplied with mineral water as this, with springs adapted to almost every variety of human disease. Throughout our recent tour of the South we were much pleased to note the marvelous development and progress incident to the extension of numerous new lines of railway, and the rapid advancement of this section of the Union in making in practical ideas, and in appropriating the appellation of "New South," now in common usage. Memphis, Chattanooga and Knoxville seemed animated with a new life and spirit, and the factories and industrial enterprises that are springing up there, speak the sun of peace and prosperity begins to shine in all its fullness upon this happy section of "Uncle Sam's" domain. At no point of our journey were we more impressed with that material growth and business energy than your own beautiful metropolis, with her magnificent public buildings, modern residences and handsome new hotels, which proclaimed that Memphis was keeping step with the progressive spirit of the times, and attaining that grand destiny among the commercial centers of this country guaranteed by her many natural advantages. At one of our marked features of progress is the steady tide of immigration that has set in to the South, and unless the North begins to pick up some neighbor will take the trick. The grounds of this charming resort are looking unusually attractive this season, and the exquisite beauties of mountains, meadow and stream presents a panorama which appeals to the imagination with voiceless eloquence. The mere mention of the name of Montgomery White kindles a volume of hallowed memories with its thousands of happy and contented with a subtle inspiration happy hours that cling like the haunting tones of some late melody. Here beneath the romantic shades of the silver maples that gracefully overarch the gravelled walks—a picture too lovely to paint—lovers went to sit and discuss dreams of a happy and contented life. The isolation of the cottages here is a pleasing feature of the place to those desiring that quiet repose and retreat that is realized here in a homelike degree, resembling in architecture, in finished surroundings and interior comforts and conveniences the residences we find along the mossy beaches of the Atlantic coast. Here one is not bound by those restrictive conventionalities that prevail at Saratoga and Newport, but having doffed the fetters of business enjoys that freedom of action and dress and that restful recreation from which he derives the greatest benefits to the realm of health. A near and favorite retreat for those who love to commune with nature "far from the maddening crowd," is Lever's Leap, in the deep shades of the mountain, where the merry warblers lead their songs of joy and exultation to rambling lovers; and among these nature's songsters we find the famous wood thrush, whose notes of rare sweetness and melody distinguish this bird as the "prima donna" of the American forest. In the near distance looms the celebrated Salt Pond mountain, the level of which (4600 feet above the level of the sea), whose imperial peaks rear their lofty heads in rare and unique combinations. Here the eye ranges over parcs of five States, and a boundless succession of forest mountains presents a scene of surpassing beauty and grandeur. The glory of the poetic sunsets here has become historic, and the spectator from these celestial battlements gazes with mute rapture upon the western horizon radiant with the blue and gold of a gorgeous sunset.

test the sense of Congress on the subject named, and to find out whether the politicians mean to pass measures for the relief of the people; and whether the right of petition is to be respected. Mr. Beaumont expects to present to Congress within a few days petitions bearing at least 1,000,000 signatures. The papers from some of the Eastern States are said by the local assemblies forwarding them to bear the signatures of entire communities, not alone those of the Knights of Labor.

AMERICAN VESSELS Seized by Canada for Violating the Fisheries Laws.

HALIFAX, July 5.—The American schooner George W. Custer and the cutter Harrington, were formally seized yesterday afternoon at Seaburn by the captain of the Dominion cruiser Terror, and handed over to the Collector of Customs, at that port, for violation of customs laws. The O. B. Harrington was seized on the hands of constables, who were placed in charge of her. The Custer still rides at anchor alongside the Terror, but in charge of the Collector. Neither of the three vessels seized at Seaburn (the above two and the City Point), are charged with violating fishery laws, but simply seized for violation of the customs laws, by coming to anchor and allowing their crews to go ashore before reporting at the custom house. The Collector has telegraphed to Ottawa for instructions and has received a reply to detain them and send further papers which he did not receive until yesterday. The decision is now waiting the decision of the department as to the amount of fine to be imposed in the several cases. Capt. Quigley, of the Terror, says he found the vessels under the circumstances above stated and the captain of the seized vessels admitted to be the case but say they purchased no bait although the latter two intended to do so having learned from several American papers that they were entitled to do so. A Yarmouth schooner entered Seaburn yesterday afternoon. Capt. Quigley ordered her name and port of entry to be painted on the stern, which was immediately done.

Daly's London Success.

LONDON, July 5.—Mr. Daly's comedy "The Country Girl," with Miss Rehan as "Fanny," the performance captured the audience from the first line to Miss Rehan's charming delivery of the old fashioned epilogue. She received three enthusiastic recalls at the end and retired amid bravos. The Times, referring to the performances of old comedies by Mr. Daly's comedians, says they have cultivated in a marvelous degree the faculty of transporting themselves from one dramatic form to speak to another. In their hands the obsolete stage devices of the last century seem to acquire all their original plausibility and effectiveness. In the old piece Messrs. Rehan and Daly are humorous of the first order. Miss Rehan, in particular, has a style which is all her own. It is marked by peculiarities which are irresistibly droll.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with hypophosphites, almost a specific for consumption.

The thousands of testimonials we have received from sufferers who have been permanently cured by Scott's Emulsion testify to the fact that it will cure consumption in its early stages, and alleviates if not cure in a later stage.

The Fourth at Gettysburg.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 5.—Yesterday about 100 or 150 of ex-Confederates came in over the different roads, and all day the street leading to Camp Hancock was thronged. At the 11 o'clock in the National Cemetery Chaplain W. R. Sayers preached from the text, "The Lord is With Us." In the evening at 8 o'clock there was a despatch reviewed by Gen. Sickles and the officers of B.tery C, Third United States Artillery. The battery, under command of Brevet Gen. E. R. Warner, has been here in camp several days attending to the re-organization of the Third corps and will leave today. The Grand Army of the Republic Cavalry post of Philadelphia reached here last night, having made the march in three days.

BRIBERY AND CORRUPTION

SERIOUS CHARGES AGAINST MEMBERS OF THE

St. Louis House of Delegates—How Certain Corporations Influenced Legislation.

St. Louis, Mo., July 5.—Charges of corruption and bribery, fraud and unlawful legislation against the municipal House of Delegates are becoming numerous. The charge that twelve of the members of the House were ineligible to office when elected has been partially substantiated; that the knowledge of this fact by persons interested in railroad legislation has been used by them to influence the members has been proved, and today charges of open bribery are made, and the Republican morning states that a person who speaks whereof he knows will testify before the grand jury that the passage of the Forest Park and Carondelet street railway bill and other bills by the most open use of money. He will testify, the paper says, as follows: "I know that money was used to procure the passage of this bill so far, at least, as the statement of the man who paid the money can go to prove the assertion. I have seen the money of the members of the House was talking about having paid money to the Railroad Committee for reporting the bill. Ed Butler, a member of the House, came into my office one day, and after some casual observations he said to me that he was going to get the delegates to quit talking, and, as he put it, to keep his mouth shut. I was the gentleman, and after five or six preliminary, he told me that he had paid $2,000 to the Railroad Committee for reporting the bill to report the Forest Park and Carondelet railroad bill, and he didn't care who knew it, for the persons who had taken this money had gone back on him on another occasion subsequent to the passage of the bill. He described to me in detail the transaction. I did not ask him from what source the money came, and I had no doubt of it in my own mind." It is also stated that $1000 in cash and $5000 worth of stock was given to a member to influence him to vote against the electric railroad bill, and that the privilege of naming the stations along the route of that road was promised to another for the same purpose.

EUDORA, MISS.

F. P. TODD, IN HIS OWN DEFENSE.

Criticizes the Proceedings of a Meeting by the People of Hernando Reflecting on Him Severely.

To the Editors of the Appeal: THIRTY SCHOOLHOUSES, Miss., June 23.—A meeting of citizens was held at this place, before whom was read the proceedings of what purported to be an indignation meeting of the citizens of Hernando and vicinity, as well as some remarks by D. L. McKenzie, an Annapolis reporter, and endorsed by said meeting all reflecting upon F. P. Todd, and denouncing him as an unreliable man, un-democratic and unworthy of confidence, and characterizing this community as "socially and morally the lowest class of citizens." On motion a committee of five was appointed to consider the action of said meeting at Hernando, namely: L. A. Barras, J. W. Borias, I. B. Reiley, W. M. Richardson and W. H. Clark, and report, suggesting such action as in their judgment shall be right and proper. The committee reported the following, which was unanimously adopted: WHEREAS, The Memphis Annapolis of June 19th contains the reported proceedings of what was called an "indignation meeting" at Hernando, denouncing F. P. Todd and castigating him as an unreliable man, un-democratic and unworthy of confidence, and morally the lowest class of citizens, and that the people of Hernando did not intend to be unjust to any one they were misinformed, and should hasten to make the amends honorable, for their denunciation of Mr. Todd in saying that his charges against him were untrue, and was induced by every man there, at least fifty being present. There was neither misrepresentation nor fraud about it, nor was there any unfair means used to procure the signature of names. The report of F. P. Todd, is not an impostor, nor untruthful, nor untruthful, but he is an honest, truthful and correct man, standing as high for moral integrity as any man we know, his only crime being that he is a poor, industrious man, who has been mentioned as one of the names procured by fraud, and the committee offers the following proof that the charge is false: "I have known Mr. Todd two years and I have never known anything against his character. I think Mr. Todd was justified in using my name. W. R. Barbee, who procured this copy of these proceedings to be sent to the Memphis Annapolis and Memphis Appeal with the request that they publish them as an act of justice to Mr. Todd and this community. The meeting was adjourned. LEWIS STEWART, Chairman. TALLY STEWART, Secretary.

Now, Messrs. Editors, you have the proof before you that I have been grossly misrepresented by a few men, and that you are making a lie hateful in your severe comments, and I ask you, in justice to me and this community, to publish my defense, for he it is known to you that it is such men as the poor farmers of this county who are preyed upon by D. L. McKenzie as a socially and morally the lowest class of citizens, who support you and all other professions. The meeting at Hernando is described as large and enthusiastic, composed of the citizens of Hernando and vicinity, to express indignation. And at what, fellow-citizens? At me and my neighbors for daring to give our reasons why we were not supported by J. R. Morgan for Congress. I have been told that the meeting at Hernando did not exceed forty persons, and therefore I do not include any in my remarks but those who were at that meeting and took part in it. They seem to be bankers of Judge Morgan, as my slaves to him and to the negroes to their owners before the war. Your solemn declaration that Judge Morgan has ever been loyal to the Democratic party is in a word a wish in the face of facts to the contrary, and, if he is honestly tested by his past history, he will not get, nor does he deserve the support of a single Democrat in the district. They say I cannot write, but the trouble with me is that I never signed any man's name to the article I published without his consent, and no man has said that I did and let his name be known. My friends have shown that the charges against me are false in every particular, and therefore the citizens of Hernando who met to denounce me should meet again and do me justice. I am not a personal enemy of Judge Morgan, but I exercise the right of a freeman, not a slave, to oppose him because he divided the Democracy of this county, then he and Buchanan betrayed the party, as has been proved, and he is an enemy to the people's best interest. Now, Mr. McKenzie, as you are so ready, as you always are, to denounce a poor man, I am glad to be able to prove all your charges against me false, slanderous and without truth. I hold fourteen certificates from citizens in this community, and can get 114, if necessary, given to me for publication. I give you as a sample of the others.

The First Sign

Of falling health, whether in the form of Night Sweats and Nervousness, or in a sense of General Weakness and Loss of Appetite, should suggest the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This preparation is most effective for giving tone and strength to the enfeebled system, promoting the digestion and assimilation of food, restoring the nervous forces to their normal condition, and for purifying, enriching, and vitalizing the blood.

Failing Health.

Ten years ago my health began to fail. I was troubled with a distressing Cough, Night Sweats, Weakness, and Nervousness. I tried various remedies prescribed by different physicians, but became so weak that I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. My friends recommended me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and I am now as healthy and strong as ever.—Mrs. E. L. Williams, Alexandria, Minn.

Dyspepsia Cured.

It would be impossible for me to describe what I suffered from Indigestion and Headache up to the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was under the care of various physicians and tried a great many kinds of medicines, but never obtained more than temporary relief. After taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for a short time, my headache disappeared, and my stomach performed its duties more perfectly. To-day my health is completely restored.—Mary Harby, Springfield, Mass.

RELIEF!

Forty Years a Sufferer from Catarrh!

WONDERFUL TO RELATE. "FOR FORTY YEARS I have been a victim to CATARRH of the bladder, and the time a sufferer from EXCORIATING PAINS ACROSS MY FOREHEAD AND MY NOSE-TRILS, the discharge was so offensive that I hesitate to mention it, except for the good it may do some other sufferer. I have spent a young fortune in medical treatment during my forty years of suffering to obtain relief from the doctors. I have tried patent medicines—every one I could learn of—from the four corners of the earth, with no relief. And AT LAST, 47 years of age, have met with a remedy that has cured me entirely—made me a new man. I weighed 128 pounds, and now weigh 160. I used thirteen bottles of the medicine, and the only regret I have is that, being in the humble walks of life I may have been able to purchase more. My catarrh sufferers to use what has cured me!"
