

THE MEMPHIS APPEAL.

ESTABLISHED 1840.

MEMPHIS, TENN., FRIDAY, APRIL 22, 1887.

VOL. XLVII--NO. 89

REMNANT SALE | TODAY | REMNANT SALE

B. LOWENSTEIN & BROS.

BIG DRIVE IN REMNANTS TODAY.

REMNANTS OF WOOLEN DRESS GOODS, consisting of the very latest and most fashionable fabrics, all marked to close at less than 33 cents on the dollar. Also, OVER 1000 REMNANTS of Ginghams and Sateens at LESS THAN HALF PRICE.

DON'T FORGET THIS MAMMOTH REMNANT SALE TODAY.

B. LOWENSTEIN & BROTHERS.

PUBLIC SALE BY TRUSTEES OF LOTS!

TWO MILES FROM CORPORATION LINE OF MEMPHIS, EAST,

And a few hundred yards from the proposed Dummy Railroad to be constructed by Land Company Syndicate.

The foregoing Lots will be sold at PUBLIC SALE, separately, if not sold before at private sale, on

SATURDAY, APRIL 23, 1887,

At the Southwest corner of Main and Madison Streets, within legal hours, for CASH. H. L. GUION will show the property to parties wishing to buy. TITLE Pronounced Unexceptional.

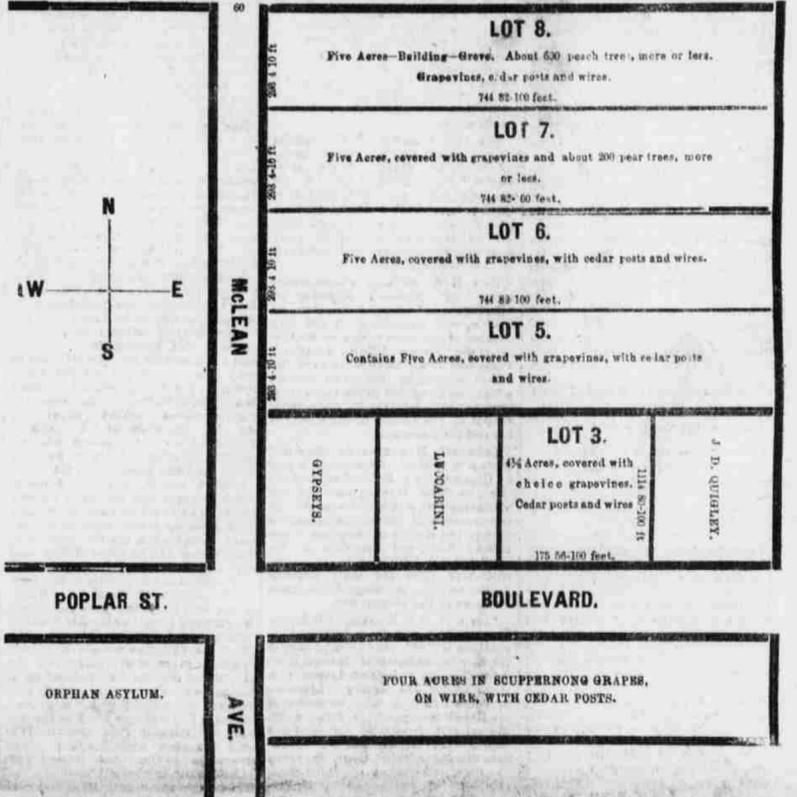

Also, at same time will be sold

3890 SHARES OF THE CAPITAL STOCK OF THE GUADALUPE y CALVO MINING COMPANY,

(Incorporated in Tennessee) par value One Hundred Dollars each. This stock will be sold in lots of One Hundred Shares each. Judge J. R. FLIPPIN, Superintendent of Mines.

Also, LOTS Nos. 256, 66, 151, 44, 35 and 214, as laid down in the original map and survey of the Town of Corinth, in Mississippi.

DAVID H. POSTON,
U. W. MILLER,
LUKE E. WRIGHT, Trustees.

THE THEATER.

Miss Ella Elliser as "Egypt."
There are few women on the American stage who can compare with Ella Elliser for engaging manner, ingenuous, winning ways, beautifully modulated voice, and an attractive and captivating presence. She can be an almost winsome girl and a woman within the compass of a sentence. She can cuddle closer to the hearts of her audience, and for a little body, rise higher than any of her contemporaries. She is always, in everything, a most charming personality, with powers that rob the pantomime of its artificiality, and the profoundest strains of passion to the sweetest, tenderest sympathies. Little people are usually ridiculous when they assume the airs of tragedy, and we do not know another woman who could so capture and carry her audience with a grace and simplicity of the second act of Egypt, as she did last night, through the melo drama of the third act, and the almost tragedy of the fourth to the culmination of the fifth. As the "Princess Yedd" Miss Elliser was an amusing contrast to the little girl who won the heart of "Lord Somerdyke." Her disguise was complete. Barbic in its splendor, it was worn with a grace, accented by an accent that needs but little more study to make it perfect. Her figure was like and supple, slawly and seductive, without voluptuousness, and her movements were graceful and full of assured masterfulness. It would, perhaps, be truer to say that the effect produced was as that of a great artist with a great conception, but wanting in the physical proportions to make an overwhelming and sweeping demand upon the sympathies of the audience in the hysterical scenes at the close of the third act. The whole business of this act to make it perfect. Her figure was like and supple, slawly and seductive, without voluptuousness, and her movements were graceful and full of assured masterfulness. It would, perhaps, be truer to say that the effect produced was as that of a great artist with a great conception, but wanting in the physical proportions to make an overwhelming and sweeping demand upon the sympathies of the audience in the hysterical scenes at the close of the third act. The whole business of this act to make it perfect. Her figure was like and supple, slawly and seductive, without voluptuousness, and her movements were graceful and full of assured masterfulness.

THE NEW MASONIC HOME

THE WIDOWS AND ORPHANS TO BE CARED FOR.
The Masonic Brethren to Erect and Support an Educational and Industrial Home at Nashville.
Mr. B. F. Haller, of this city, has received a communication from Mr. W. B. Toney, of Nashville, and president of the Masonic Widows and Orphans' Home of Tennessee, stating that the life certificate would be ready in a few weeks and that he deemed it advisable to have a mass meeting of the Memphis brethren called for the latter part of the month, or on May 1st, to discuss the "Home" in full manner, and if the meeting be called and held he would come from Nashville to attend. For many years past the prominent Masons of the State have been discussing the necessity of building a Masonic Widows and Orphans' Home, similar to that erected at Louisville by the Masons of Kentucky at a cost of $125,000, and which will be a monument to Masonic philanthropy that will be a source of pride to the brotherhood of Tennessee. At Nashville, on the 8th of January last, a meeting was held and the Masonic Widows and Orphans' Home was organized by the election of the following officers: M. B. Toney, president; H. B. Grubb, first vice president; F. O. Beazley, second vice president; William H. Bumpas, secretary; Roger Eastman, treasurer; William K. McAllister, Jr., W. A. Barry, Bradford Nichol, W. J. Wallace, J. H. Collins, E. B. Stahlman, William Stockell, Joseph W. Allen, T. O. Morris, W. F. Foster and Ben Herman.
A charter was secured and M. B. Toney and Wm. H. Bumpas were appointed a committee to seek the cooperation of the Grand Lodge, which met at the city subsequently.
The Grand Lodge entered fully into the spirit of the laudable scheme, and indorsed the actions of the "Home" organizers, and promised it the support of the entire Masonic fraternity of the State. A citizen of Nashville donated the site for the Home, a tract of land consisting of five acres, situated in the Eighteenth District, not far from the Gallatin turnpike. It is a healthy locality, and one of the most desirable and handsomest building sites near Nashville.
The friends of the enterprise anticipate no trouble in securing the building fund, and expect to commence work about June 1st, the building to be completed in September next. It is well known that other

MR. BANCROFT'S VISIT

TO NASHVILLE WAS FOR THE PURPOSE OF
Collecting Data, by Looking Over the Papers Left by His Former Chief, the Late President Polk.
THE RENEWED TALK OF AN EXTRA SESSION
Of Congress is of a Most Confident Character—Judge Ingham Appointed Chief Justice.
[SPECIAL TO THE APPEAL.]
OFFICE OF MEMPHIS APPEAL, No. 514 THIRTIETH STREET, WASHINGTON, April 21.—Of Mr. Bancroft's purpose in journeying to Nashville to collect historical data by looking over the papers left by his former chief, the late President Polk, in whose Cabinet Mr. Bancroft was Secretary of the Navy, a friend of his says that as the last survivor of that Cabinet, Mr. Bancroft is desirous to do justice to that administration in history, which has not yet been done by anyone. Not that he means to write a history of that administration, but there were events shaped during its duration of which he purposes specially to treat, as, for instance, the acquisition of California. It was also while Mr. Bancroft was Secretary of the Navy that the United States Naval Academy was founded.
It is known that Mrs. Polk had all the papers carried on the Executive Mansion by her husband when he retired from the Presidency in March, 1849, only four months before his death. Among these documents are official as well as private records, for there is no law requiring a President to leave at the Executive Mansion in Washington any papers that accumulated there during his administration. The writer was told recently at the White House that there are no records there back of President Grant's term of office. Presidents in retiring have, therefore, done as they pleased about leaving or carrying away with them when retiring the records made during their incumbency. Thus much valuable historical material, which might be used alike for reference by officials of the government or public or private compilers of history, has been hopelessly scattered. Nor is there any record like a journal of each day's transactions of business kept in the President's office for his own use or that of his successors. One might suppose, that as a matter of convenience, such a record should be kept for office use, but any notes made of such matters by a President or his confidential secretary are purely private and personal and are probably more in the nature of memoranda than regular records. Each President has had his own methods for the transaction of the routine business by the clerks employed in his office, and some of the Presidents have had very crude notions about such a routine and have made little or no effort to systematize it.
The renewed talk of an extra session

TWO RAILROAD WRECKS

KILL TWO TRAINMEN AND DEMOLISH MORE THAN 80 CARS.
Two Ladies Struck by a Train—One of Them Killed—A Building Collapses.
PITTSBURG, Pa., April 21.—A heavy snow train on the Pittsburgh, McKeesport and Youngsbury railroad ran into a large boiler near Fuller Station, fifty miles east of Pittsburgh, about 1 o'clock this morning, and was badly wrecked. The fireman, Charles Silk, and a brakeman named George Lewis (now crushed to death. Their remains were terribly mangled and almost unrecognizable. Engineer Samuel Ramsey was thrown from the cab into the Youngbush river and quite severely hurt. He was rescued from a watery grave by the remaining members of the crew, who were not injured. The boiler had evidently fallen from the hill during the night.
1,500,000 Feet of Lumber Burned.
Cano, Mich., April 21.—Last night at 11 o'clock word was sent that the floor, saw and planing mill belonging to William A. Hart, at Wabjama, a small station four miles south-west of Cano, was on fire. The fire department was called on promptly, but the mill and over 1,500,000 feet of lumber were burned before the fire was under control. The fire was supposed to be the work of an incendiary. The loss on the mill is $25,000, and on the lumber $15,000. No insurance.
Killed on an Elevator.
CINCINNATI, O., April 21.—A Times-Star special from Cincinnati, Ind., says the elevator at the Cooley Morrison furniture factory fell from the fourth floor to the cellar this morning, killing George Hampton, and probably fatally injuring John McCormick and W. E. Barcus. The accident was caused by the breaking of the ropes.
A Lady Killed by a Train.
PITTSBURG, Pa., April 21.—An Evening Post special says: While walking on the tracks of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, near here today, two ladies, Mrs. Gettemy and Mrs. Anderson, were struck by a shifting engine and terribly mangled. The former died in a few hours, and Mrs. Anderson is in a serious condition.
A Building Collapses.
PITTSBURG, Pa., April 21.—Between 3 and 4 o'clock this afternoon a section of the first floor of a seven-story building on Seventh street, occupied by Tate & Myers, commission merchants, collapsed and was precipitated into the cellar. Five persons were in the building at the time, but they were warned of the danger by the cracking of the timbers in time to make their escape. The building was owned by Arbuckle & Co. (formerly) and was erected less than two years ago. It is supposed that the girder on the fourth floor, supporting the section which fell, was decayed. The loss was about $30,000.

THE OHIO SOCIETY

Holds Its Second Session at Cincinnati.
New York, April 21.—The second annual reunion of the Ohio Society was given at Delmonico's tonight. Instead of having a large number of speeches by distinguished men after an elaborate dinner, as last year, and as usual with such societies, a new departure was made and ladies invited. The Reception Committee consisted of the following prominent society ladies: Mrs. Thomas Eakin, Mrs. John Sherman, Mrs. Stanley Matthews, Mrs. George Hoadley, Mrs. William L. Strong, Mrs. Henry L. Burnett, Mrs. A. S. Sullivan, Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, Mrs. Anson G. Cook, Mrs. Samuel Thomas, Mrs. J. A. Bestwick, Mrs. John W. Edie, Mrs. Wallace O. Andrews, Mrs. Calvin S. Rice, Mrs. Stephen B. Ekins, Mrs. C. W. Monton, Mrs. Joseph Pool, Miss Greene, Gen. Thomas Ewing, president of the society, delivered a brief address of welcome.
SOLDIER VS. CIVILIANS.
A Disgraceful Scene at the Armory of the Twelfth New York Regiment.
New York, April 21.—There was a scene of excitement tonight during the dedication of the new armory of the Twelfth regiment, which was to be reviewed by Gen. Sherman. The hall was filled early, and it became necessary to close the doors and station a guard on the outside. In a short time the street was blocked with ladies and gentlemen in evening dress and many officers in full uniform. The young soldiers on guard got into a wrangle with some of the civilians nearest them, which resulted in the former coming to a "charge bayonet," a hand to hand struggle, the disarming of the youths, a stampede by the crowd and many torn ball dresses and military uniforms.

LAW REPORTS.

Circuit Court—Ester, Judge.
Calendar for Friday, Nov. 29, W. J. Weir vs. A. Garbald; 9299, Abernathy vs. Salvi; 9301, Abernathy vs. Mrs. Thomas Keen; 9303, J. M. Arbuckle vs. J. L. Martin; 9304, Johnson vs. Parsons; 9308, Lilly vs. Salvi; 9311, Giltner, guardian, vs. Rhodes; 9312, Hunt, trustee, vs. Campbell; 9314, Chase vs. Cannon, Sheriff; 9315, Hunt vs. Riek; 9354, McEuchera vs. E. Keris; 9356, Thompson vs. Pillow; 9358, Smith & McGrath vs. Goldsmith & Levy; 9359, Taxing District vs. Butler; 9360, Taxing District vs. Thomas Barrett; 9364, Taxing District vs. Johnson; 9368, Taxing District vs. Okonok; 9370, Taxing District vs. Reilly; 9373, Taxing District vs. Sullivan; 9374, Taxing District vs. Wooldrige.
Jefferson Davis Cannot Attend.
CHARLESTON, S. C., April 21.—Jefferson Davis has written a letter expressing regret that he will not be able to attend the ceremonies at the unveiling of the Calhoun monument here next Tuesday.
Subscribe for the "Appeal."