ESTABLISHED 1840. MEMPHIS, TENN., TUESDAY, JUNE 25, 1889. VOL. XLIX--NO. 150

HOWARD'S CASE

Keeping Up the Fire on the Plaintiff.

Testimony to Show His Present Name to be an Alias.

Reasons Why He Was Debarred From Baptist Associations.

Charged With Promoting Divisions in the Church Organization.

An Important Witness for the Plaintiff Arrives—Interest in the Trial Very Great Throughout the State.

Special Dispatch to the Appeal.

JACKSON, Tenn., June 24.—Judge, jurors and attorneys were all late getting in this morning. Court did not open until 11:30 o'clock. During yesterday and today quite a number of witnesses came in from various points in West Tennessee. Also a number of visitors were here to be present at the trial.

The deposition of L. E. Wood, merchant at Allendale, S. C., was introduced by defendants. He said he resided in Robbins, S. C., in 1876. Knew plaintiff there by the name of Frederick A. Howlett. He recognized the photograph of the plaintiff as the same man. He testified that the said Howlett left Robbins very suddenly and unexpectedly, carrying with him the wife of C. C. Brown, of that place. Up to that time the proof shows that Brown and his wife had lived happily together and was highly respected by the people of the neighborhood.

J. A. Collins, a farmer of Bethers, Ga., testified in his deposition that he knew plaintiff two years by the name of George L. Howard. Plaintiff said he was educated in a London university; that his mother died when he was quite young; that he had been a Queen's counsel; that he had heard plaintiff speak of his extensive travels to China, India and on the Arctic Sea in search of a lost ship, the name of which he had forgotten; that he was a member of the Baptist Church in good standing while there, and his general character was good as far as he knew.

After reading the above deposition a number of witnesses were examined orally as follows:

T. J. Dupree, Jr., of Memphis, son of Dr. T. J. Dupree, testified that he knew plaintiff since 1882. In conversation with him he stated that he was convicted and converted at the age of seven under Spurgeon; said he left home quite young and went to sea; said he was on the steamship Tigris on the Arctic expedition in search of the lost Polar; said he related many thrilling experiences among the icebergs on that expedition; said he was in charge of the scientific department on the ship, and ranked as Lieutenant.

J. M. Senter, a banker, and a leading Baptist of Trenton, Tenn., was then placed on the stand. He testified that he knew plaintiff, and took his paper, the True Baptist, said he stopped his paper after he had taken it six months, as he regarded it as a disorganizing element; said he was in opposition to the public sentiments among Baptists in West Tennessee, and that the plaintiff was concerned as a disturbing element in the denomination; that plaintiff made an application in the Baptist Church at Trenton, and was not permitted to take a seat in that body.

Dr. M. D. Jordan, of Milan, Tenn., testified that he knew plaintiff, heard him give an account of his Arctic expedition at Humboldt, Tenn.; said he was an officer on the ship and in charge of the scientific department.

A. A. Meadows, of Bradford, was introduced. He stated he had met the plaintiff several times; had a conversation with him in which he told witness that he was raised in England, and was convicted and converted under the preaching of Spurgeon.

week. Something like 400 of the representative homeopaths of the United States will be present, as well as delegates from England and the Continent. Hitherto the Institute has been accustomed to gather at Saratoga, Niagara Falls, or some other Eastern watering place, but this year they did Minnesota the honor of visiting her favorite watering place. The session will open tonight at Hotel Lafayette and will conclude Friday night. After the Institute closes, the doctors will take an excursion to the Yellowstone Park. Thursday evening there is to be a banquet and ball.

THE BEHRING SEA QUESTION.

Attitude of the British Government—Method of Settlement.

NEW YORK, June 24.—An Ottawa special says it was stated in official circles here yesterday that no action will be taken at present, by either the Dominion or British Government, with regard to protecting the British sealing vessels in Behring Sea. The ships of war on the Pacific Coast go north on their usual yearly cruise, to which no significance can be attached. The question as to the right of the United States to exclusive jurisdiction in Behring Sea will, for the present, be held in abeyance, as, on good authority, it is learned that the British Government is seeking the co-operation of the several maritime powers of the world with a view to their joining in the dispute of the United States claim and in the reference of the question to arbitration. The British Government has requested the Dominion Government to take no action until a settlement has been arrived at in this way. It is stated that the several maritime powers, which have been invited to take part in the settlement, support the contention of the British Government that the Behring Sea is not a closed sea. It is also stated that the claims for damages, through the seizure of the British sealers by United States cruisers, will also be submitted to arbitration when the question of jurisdiction is taken up.

THE BIBLE IN THE SCHOOL.

The Radical Attempts of a Baltimore Baptist Clergyman.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 24.—A sensation was caused this morning at the regular quarterly meeting of the Ministerial Union by the reading of a bitter address on "The Bible in the Public Schools" by the Rev. F. M. Ellis, D. D., pastor of the East Place Baptist Church. In the course of his remarks he said: "I am in favor of the Bible in the public schools because Rome is opposed to it. [Applause.] The recent Lenten lecture of Cardinal Gibbons publicly advised and urged upon his people to read the Bible. Now I don't say that Cardinal Gibbons was not honest in that advice, but if he did mean what he said he was not a good Catholic, and if he didn't mean it he was not honest. The aim of the Catholic is to make Romanism; our aim is to make character. Rome controls her people, and therefore a Romanist cannot be a good citizen of this Republic. If the Pope had his way our Republic with its public schools and the open Bible would soon go. Rome has already declared her intention not only of driving the Bible from the public schools, but also of dividing the public school funds to her own advantage. Rome openly antagonizes one of the leading institutions of our country." The Union authorized the Rev. Dr. Ellis to publish this paper.

A POSTMASTER CENSURED.

Action of the Civil Service Commission in the Milwaukee Case.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The Civil Service Commission today made the following report on the Milwaukee postoffice:

Having investigated the management of the Milwaukee postoffice in so far as it is affected by the political considerations that during the past four years the postmaster, Mr. G. H. Paul, has repeatedly violated said law, and in many cases, has manipulated the list of eligibles so the person whom he preferred should be certified to him. Mr. Paul had any considerable portion of his term to serve we should recommend his immediate removal; but we have determined not to make such recommendation in view of the fact that his term has already expired; of the fact that no satisfactory proof has been adduced to show that his action in making appointments was due to political considerations; and of the further fact that his construction of a letter of the commission written in 1885 may partially excuse a portion of his misconduct. The commission, therefore, reports that Mr. Paul should be, and hereby is, severely censured.

AVOIDING A LIQUOR LAW.

A Kansas City Restaurateur's Sharp Method of Evasion.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 24.—An interesting case under the recently enforced Sunday law was developed today when Rudolph Woelek, who keeps a combined restaurant and saloon, was arrested for violating the law. Woelek's place was open yesterday, but a white curtain hung across the bar bearing the sign "No drinks sold here today." On almost every table, however, could be seen a wine or beer bottle, with the contents of which Mr. Woelek's customers were regaling themselves. A police officer, asking the meaning of this, was told that the liquor had been purchased by his customers on Saturday evening and had been kept on ice over night for their use on Sunday. Woelek confirmed his statement by showing receipts for the liquor dated Saturday. The restaurateur-maker will make his test case.

THE MILLE LACS OUTBREAK.

Official Report of the Cause of the Recent Troubles.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Capt. Stouch, Third Infantry, has reported to the War Department the following results of the investigations of Capt. Hanney, Third Infantry, in the recently reported outbreak at Mille Lacs Reservation, Minnesota: "The shooting of the white man was the result of drunkenness. Three families who left the neighborhood of the Indian camp were new arrivals, and were frightened off, and by drunken Indians. They went about six miles. The Indians will deliver up the one who did the shooting, Wadela, as soon as the Sheriff comes for him. He will not leave his present whereabouts. The shooting took place in the Mille Lacs country. There seems to be some apprehension on the part of the whites and some ill will on the part of the Indians, partly because of the accidental killing of one of their number last winter by a white man, and partly because they still think that the same tide is being land. But there is no danger of an outbreak. When drunk they may have made threats, but there is little in them. The whisky and alcohol trade is the worst feature of the matter."
