

SMALL ADVERTISEMENTS

For to-morrow's DISPATCH can be left at main office till midnight or at branch offices till 9 P. M.

FORTY-THIRD YEAR.

BLAINE FEELS SAFE. He is so Certain of His Cabinet Calling That He Settles in Washington.

NO WESTERN TRIP NEEDED.

The Bargain Was Consummated in Indianapolis Last Fall.

GEN. WILLIAMSON GETS A FORTUNE.

A Rich Stroke of Fate for the Ex-Land Commissioner—New Year's Day Reception in Washington—Came The High Honorable Cabinet—A Private Residence Wanted for the President—The Jefferson Club to Change Its Name—A Case of Love at First Sight.

While everyone else is in doubt as to Blaine's going into President Harrison's Cabinet the man from Maine doesn't seem to be. He is so certain that he has engaged a suite of rooms and is going to resume housekeeping in Washington. The information comes almost from the Plumed Knight himself. General Williamson strikes something about rich. Congress may be asked to furnish the President a private residence. New Year receptions becoming unfeasible because too costly. A pretty romance is told among a batch of Washington news and gossip.

LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT.

The Pretty Romance of Young Mr. Hilton and Miss Dorothy Phillips. Washington, January 4.—The movements and associations of the Hon. James G. Blaine were not those of a man who is laying the ropes to get into a Cabinet office, but rather those of one who is assured that he will have business in Washington for some time to come. The correspondent of THE DISPATCH was informed to-day by the best available authority outside of Mr. Blaine himself that there is absolutely no truth in the report sent out nearly everywhere last night that Mr. Blaine merely dropped down here on his way to Indianapolis to meet Mr. Harrison.

Mr. Blaine will not go to Indianapolis at all, unless something occurs that cannot be foreseen. He is here solely for the purpose of arranging a home for his family, who will follow him in a few days. His entrance into the Cabinet is regarded as a settled matter by all his friends. No one can be found who expresses the least doubt on that point. It is not only assumed that Harrison could not afford to avoid offering the leading Cabinet position to him, but also that he could not so easily refuse, as he would be quite as fatal to his standing in the party for him to take himself out of active work as it would for Harrison to thrust him out.

A Little Shadow of Doubt. One development of the visit has caused some doubt, that is, that instead of accepting a Cabinet position, and that is that instead of taking a home in keeping with a position of that character, he has arranged for a suite of rooms in an apartment house which is hardly competent for the entertainment of a Secretary of State. But as his arrangement for the suite is only temporary, and the season for entertainments on his part as a member of the Cabinet will not be frequent until the advent of another winter, this view is deprived of its supposed importance.

Moreover, it is asserted that the pretense of taking rooms in the apartment house mentioned is only a ruse, though it is more than probably true, as the fact is that instead of being finished, it is the property of John E. McLean, of the Cincinnati Enquirer, and McLean and Mr. Blaine are known to have relations of the most intimate character. It is said that he will occupy the suite as the most of Mr. McLean's cash, and as far as an adequate house for the brilliant reception over which he will preside as Secretary of State.

Everything Settled Last Fall. The authority referred to in the first instance above asserts that when Harrison visited Indiana last fall the understanding between him and Harrison in regard to a Cabinet position in the event of the election of the latter was complete, and there was no necessity for further communication touching that matter.

Mr. Blaine was out most of the day, and saw only his most intimate friends. He absolutely refused to be interviewed by any one, and the only friends who appear to be wholly in his confidence, such as Messrs. Phelps and Hill, are noted for being quite as secretive as Mr. Blaine himself, and nothing absolutely definite can be got out of them except as they have let words drop here and there to other friends of their own who are not particularly intimate with him, as the Republicans here are concerned, the impressions had from these reports are just as satisfactory to them as if they were facts from Mr. Blaine's own mouth in proof of the conviction that Blaine is going into the Cabinet, and that he is here to arrange for his domestic comfort, with that end in view.

Hiscock Returns Feeling Beter. Senator Frank Hiscock left the Senate chamber on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to take the train to Indianapolis. He returned to the chamber at exactly the same hour to-day, having in the intervening 48 hours given President Harrison the ins and outs of the present political situation among the New York big four. Mr. Hiscock had all the outward signs of a conqueror here as he entered through the lobby door and made his way to his seat on the back row. His face was flushed with the excitement of his flying trip. His beautiful iron-gray hair was in an attractive wave, and his eyes shined with a gleam that seemed to say "I want, I saw, I conquered."

To his newspaper callers the returned pilgrim says nothing except that he had a very satisfactory visit. To some of his Senatorial colleagues, however, he was compelled to unburden himself freely. As soon as he had taken his seat, a dozen Senators came forward to shake his hand and jokingly asked for the latest Cabinet news. He gave most of them but joking replies in return, but afterward retired to a corner with Senators Aldrich and Hale, and talked confidentially and earnestly for a long time. At the same hour that Mr. Hiscock re-

STRUCK IT RICH.

General Williamson Gets Bread Upon the Waters—It Returns More Than a Thousandfold—He is Now Independently Rich.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. WASHINGTON, January 4.—The friends of General J. J. Williamson, of Connecticut, formerly Commissioner of the General Land Office, will be glad to learn that he has recently fallen an heir to a large fortune. The exact amount is not known, but is reported to be from $200,000 to $500,000. General Williamson is now general manager of the Atlantic and Pacific Railway, with headquarters at Albuquerque, N. Mex. Up to last year he has occupied a house in Washington, in order that his children might have the advantages of an education here, but now that they have all passed to young school age they have joined him in Albuquerque.

Some years ago an Irishman by the name of Casey, who had a large contract for construction on the Atlantic and Pacific road, failed to comply with the conditions thereof, and the officers of the road directed General Williamson to prosecute him on his bond. If this had been done Mr. Casey would have been financially ruined, but General Williamson, looking over the facts, decided that Casey's failure was more his misfortune than his fault, and earnestly recommended to the company to give him an extension of time and let him get on his feet. At first the officers of the company were inexorable, but the General kept it until he obtained permission to compromise with Casey, and the latter carried out his contract, making considerable money, which was afterward largely increased by other profitable contracts and good investments. While there was undoubtedly honest opposition to the bill because, on one thing, it seemed to confer too much power on the incorporators, and to imply indirectly a Government supervision and control over the main opposition came at all times from the interests of the Pacific railroads, though the fact that it passed the Senate with less opposition than it encountered in the House may seem to suggest a condition of indifference on the part of those roads. The bill will go back to the Senate, and it is probable that it will become a law this session.

LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT.

The Pretty Romance of Young Mr. Hilton and Miss Dorothy Phillips.

WASHINGTON, January 4.—The movements and associations of the Hon. James G. Blaine were not those of a man who is laying the ropes to get into a Cabinet office, but rather those of one who is assured that he will have business in Washington for some time to come. The correspondent of THE DISPATCH was informed to-day by the best available authority outside of Mr. Blaine himself that there is absolutely no truth in the report sent out nearly everywhere last night that Mr. Blaine merely dropped down here on his way to Indianapolis to meet Mr. Harrison.

Mr. Blaine will not go to Indianapolis at all, unless something occurs that cannot be foreseen. He is here solely for the purpose of arranging a home for his family, who will follow him in a few days. His entrance into the Cabinet is regarded as a settled matter by all his friends. No one can be found who expresses the least doubt on that point. It is not only assumed that Harrison could not afford to avoid offering the leading Cabinet position to him, but also that he could not so easily refuse, as he would be quite as fatal to his standing in the party for him to take himself out of active work as it would for Harrison to thrust him out.

Moreover, it is asserted that the pretense of taking rooms in the apartment house mentioned is only a ruse, though it is more than probably true, as the fact is that instead of being finished, it is the property of John E. McLean, of the Cincinnati Enquirer, and McLean and Mr. Blaine are known to have relations of the most intimate character. It is said that he will occupy the suite as the most of Mr. McLean's cash, and as far as an adequate house for the brilliant reception over which he will preside as Secretary of State.

Everything Settled Last Fall. The authority referred to in the first instance above asserts that when Harrison visited Indiana last fall the understanding between him and Harrison in regard to a Cabinet position in the event of the election of the latter was complete, and there was no necessity for further communication touching that matter.

Mr. Blaine was out most of the day, and saw only his most intimate friends. He absolutely refused to be interviewed by any one, and the only friends who appear to be wholly in his confidence, such as Messrs. Phelps and Hill, are noted for being quite as secretive as Mr. Blaine himself, and nothing absolutely definite can be got out of them except as they have let words drop here and there to other friends of their own who are not particularly intimate with him, as the Republicans here are concerned, the impressions had from these reports are just as satisfactory to them as if they were facts from Mr. Blaine's own mouth in proof of the conviction that Blaine is going into the Cabinet, and that he is here to arrange for his domestic comfort, with that end in view.

Hiscock Returns Feeling Beter. Senator Frank Hiscock left the Senate chamber on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to take the train to Indianapolis. He returned to the chamber at exactly the same hour to-day, having in the intervening 48 hours given President Harrison the ins and outs of the present political situation among the New York big four. Mr. Hiscock had all the outward signs of a conqueror here as he entered through the lobby door and made his way to his seat on the back row. His face was flushed with the excitement of his flying trip. His beautiful iron-gray hair was in an attractive wave, and his eyes shined with a gleam that seemed to say "I want, I saw, I conquered."

To his newspaper callers the returned pilgrim says nothing except that he had a very satisfactory visit. To some of his Senatorial colleagues, however, he was compelled to unburden himself freely. As soon as he had taken his seat, a dozen Senators came forward to shake his hand and jokingly asked for the latest Cabinet news. He gave most of them but joking replies in return, but afterward retired to a corner with Senators Aldrich and Hale, and talked confidentially and earnestly for a long time. At the same hour that Mr. Hiscock re-

BLOODSHED IN ERIN.

An Irishman With American Ideas Bravely Defends His Home.

THE PRIESTS GROSSLY INSULTED.

A Desperate Resistance Made and 14 of the Evictors Wounded.

THE MORIER INCIDENT LOOMING UP.

English Merchants Anxious for the Protection of Their Ports.

There was another lively day at Falaragh yesterday. Neale Doogan, having visited this country, believed he had some rights and claims in the matter. Acting on this, he defended his home from evictors and repulsed them with more or less loss. He finally surrendered at the request of the priests. Numerous arrests of the sympathizers with the tenants are being made daily. The Morier affair is causing Count Herbert to be roughly handled by the English press.

There was another lively day at Falaragh yesterday. Neale Doogan, having visited this country, believed he had some rights and claims in the matter. Acting on this, he defended his home from evictors and repulsed them with more or less loss. He finally surrendered at the request of the priests. Numerous arrests of the sympathizers with the tenants are being made daily. The Morier affair is causing Count Herbert to be roughly handled by the English press.

There was another lively day at Falaragh yesterday. Neale Doogan, having visited this country, believed he had some rights and claims in the matter. Acting on this, he defended his home from evictors and repulsed them with more or less loss. He finally surrendered at the request of the priests. Numerous arrests of the sympathizers with the tenants are being made daily. The Morier affair is causing Count Herbert to be roughly handled by the English press.

There was another lively day at Falaragh yesterday. Neale Doogan, having visited this country, believed he had some rights and claims in the matter. Acting on this, he defended his home from evictors and repulsed them with more or less loss. He finally surrendered at the request of the priests. Numerous arrests of the sympathizers with the tenants are being made daily. The Morier affair is causing Count Herbert to be roughly handled by the English press.

There was another lively day at Falaragh yesterday. Neale Doogan, having visited this country, believed he had some rights and claims in the matter. Acting on this, he defended his home from evictors and repulsed them with more or less loss. He finally surrendered at the request of the priests. Numerous arrests of the sympathizers with the tenants are being made daily. The Morier affair is causing Count Herbert to be roughly handled by the English press.

There was another lively day at Falaragh yesterday. Neale Doogan, having visited this country, believed he had some rights and claims in the matter. Acting on this, he defended his home from evictors and repulsed them with more or less loss. He finally surrendered at the request of the priests. Numerous arrests of the sympathizers with the tenants are being made daily. The Morier affair is causing Count Herbert to be roughly handled by the English press.

There was another lively day at Falaragh yesterday. Neale Doogan, having visited this country, believed he had some rights and claims in the matter. Acting on this, he defended his home from evictors and repulsed them with more or less loss. He finally surrendered at the request of the priests. Numerous arrests of the sympathizers with the tenants are being made daily. The Morier affair is causing Count Herbert to be roughly handled by the English press.

There was another lively day at Falaragh yesterday. Neale Doogan, having visited this country, believed he had some rights and claims in the matter. Acting on this, he defended his home from evictors and repulsed them with more or less loss. He finally surrendered at the request of the priests. Numerous arrests of the sympathizers with the tenants are being made daily. The Morier affair is causing Count Herbert to be roughly handled by the English press.

There was another lively day at Falaragh yesterday. Neale Doogan, having visited this country, believed he had some rights and claims in the matter. Acting on this, he defended his home from evictors and repulsed them with more or less loss. He finally surrendered at the request of the priests. Numerous arrests of the sympathizers with the tenants are being made daily. The Morier affair is causing Count Herbert to be roughly handled by the English press.

There was another lively day at Falaragh yesterday. Neale Doogan, having visited this country, believed he had some rights and claims in the matter. Acting on this, he defended his home from evictors and repulsed them with more or less loss. He finally surrendered at the request of the priests. Numerous arrests of the sympathizers with the tenants are being made daily. The Morier affair is causing Count Herbert to be roughly handled by the English press.

There was another lively day at Falaragh yesterday. Neale Doogan, having visited this country, believed he had some rights and claims in the matter. Acting on this, he defended his home from evictors and repulsed them with more or less loss. He finally surrendered at the request of the priests. Numerous arrests of the sympathizers with the tenants are being made daily. The Morier affair is causing Count Herbert to be roughly handled by the English press.

There was another lively day at Falaragh yesterday. Neale Doogan, having visited this country, believed he had some rights and claims in the matter. Acting on this, he defended his home from evictors and repulsed them with more or less loss. He finally surrendered at the request of the priests. Numerous arrests of the sympathizers with the tenants are being made daily. The Morier affair is causing Count Herbert to be roughly handled by the English press.

There was another lively day at Falaragh yesterday. Neale Doogan, having visited this country, believed he had some rights and claims in the matter. Acting on this, he defended his home from evictors and repulsed them with more or less loss. He finally surrendered at the request of the priests. Numerous arrests of the sympathizers with the tenants are being made daily. The Morier affair is causing Count Herbert to be roughly handled by the English press.

There was another lively day at Falaragh yesterday. Neale Doogan, having visited this country, believed he had some rights and claims in the matter. Acting on this, he defended his home from evictors and repulsed them with more or less loss. He finally surrendered at the request of the priests. Numerous arrests of the sympathizers with the tenants are being made daily. The Morier affair is causing Count Herbert to be roughly handled by the English press.

There was another lively day at Falaragh yesterday. Neale Doogan, having visited this country, believed he had some rights and claims in the matter. Acting on this, he defended his home from evictors and repulsed them with more or less loss. He finally surrendered at the request of the priests. Numerous arrests of the sympathizers with the tenants are being made daily. The Morier affair is causing Count Herbert to be roughly handled by the English press.

There was another lively day at Falaragh yesterday. Neale Doogan, having visited this country, believed he had some rights and claims in the matter. Acting on this, he defended his home from evictors and repulsed them with more or less loss. He finally surrendered at the request of the priests. Numerous arrests of the sympathizers with the tenants are being made daily. The Morier affair is causing Count Herbert to be roughly handled by the English press.

There was another lively day at Falaragh yesterday. Neale Doogan, having visited this country, believed he had some rights and claims in the matter. Acting on this, he defended his home from evictors and repulsed them with more or less loss. He finally surrendered at the request of the priests. Numerous arrests of the sympathizers with the tenants are being made daily. The Morier affair is causing Count Herbert to be roughly handled by the English press.

There was another lively day at Falaragh yesterday. Neale Doogan, having visited this country, believed he had some rights and claims in the matter. Acting on this, he defended his home from evictors and repulsed them with more or less loss. He finally surrendered at the request of the priests. Numerous arrests of the sympathizers with the tenants are being made daily. The Morier affair is causing Count Herbert to be roughly handled by the English press.

There was another lively day at Falaragh yesterday. Neale Doogan, having visited this country, believed he had some rights and claims in the matter. Acting on this, he defended his home from evictors and repulsed them with more or less loss. He finally surrendered at the request of the priests. Numerous arrests of the sympathizers with the tenants are being made daily. The Morier affair is causing Count Herbert to be roughly handled by the English press.

OVER A MILLION OUT.

The Gigantic Fraud Perpetrated on a Sugar Refining Company.

CLEVER AND SUCCESSFUL SCHEME.

Worked by a Sharp Knife With an Alleged Electric Process.

EVEN THE SUGAR TRUST WAS FOOLED.

Interesting Details of the Greatest Confidence Game of the Age.

Henry C. Friend organized the Electric Sugar Refining Company to operate a secret process discovered by him. A company was formed, and much stock disposed of in England and America. The Sugar Trust was alarmed by the reported success of the plan. The whole scheme is discovered to be a daring fraud.

NEW YORK, January 4.—The Electric Sugar Refining Company has been duped to the extent of over a million dollars, and its whole secret process turns out to be a humbug of the most barefaced kind. The secret process was the invention of one Henry C. Friend, who appeared in the trade four years ago with samples of wonderfully pure sugar, which he said had been refined by his "electrical process." About a year ago he induced a number of English and American capitalists to organize a company and buy the "secret process" from him.

NEW YORK, January 4.—The Electric Sugar Refining Company has been duped to the extent of over a million dollars, and its whole secret process turns out to be a humbug of the most barefaced kind. The secret process was the invention of one Henry C. Friend, who appeared in the trade four years ago with samples of wonderfully pure sugar, which he said had been refined by his "electrical process." About a year ago he induced a number of English and American capitalists to organize a company and buy the "secret process" from him.

NEW YORK, January 4.—The Electric Sugar Refining Company has been duped to the extent of over a million dollars, and its whole secret process turns out to be a humbug of the most barefaced kind. The secret process was the invention of one Henry C. Friend, who appeared in the trade four years ago with samples of wonderfully pure sugar, which he said had been refined by his "electrical process." About a year ago he induced a number of English and American capitalists to organize a company and buy the "secret process" from him.

NEW YORK, January 4.—The Electric Sugar Refining Company has been duped to the extent of over a million dollars, and its whole secret process turns out to be a humbug of the most barefaced kind. The secret process was the invention of one Henry C. Friend, who appeared in the trade four years ago with samples of wonderfully pure sugar, which he said had been refined by his "electrical process." About a year ago he induced a number of English and American capitalists to organize a company and buy the "secret process" from him.

NEW YORK, January 4.—The Electric Sugar Refining Company has been duped to the extent of over a million dollars, and its whole secret process turns out to be a humbug of the most barefaced kind. The secret process was the invention of one Henry C. Friend, who appeared in the trade four years ago with samples of wonderfully pure sugar, which he said had been refined by his "electrical process." About a year ago he induced a number of English and American capitalists to organize a company and buy the "secret process" from him.

NEW YORK, January 4.—The Electric Sugar Refining Company has been duped to the extent of over a million dollars, and its whole secret process turns out to be a humbug of the most barefaced kind. The secret process was the invention of one Henry C. Friend, who appeared in the trade four years ago with samples of wonderfully pure sugar, which he said had been refined by his "electrical process." About a year ago he induced a number of English and American capitalists to organize a company and buy the "secret process" from him.

NEW YORK, January 4.—The Electric Sugar Refining Company has been duped to the extent of over a million dollars, and its whole secret process turns out to be a humbug of the most barefaced kind. The secret process was the invention of one Henry C. Friend, who appeared in the trade four years ago with samples of wonderfully pure sugar, which he said had been refined by his "electrical process." About a year ago he induced a number of English and American capitalists to organize a company and buy the "secret process" from him.

NEW YORK, January 4.—The Electric Sugar Refining Company has been duped to the extent of over a million dollars, and its whole secret process turns out to be a humbug of the most barefaced kind. The secret process was the invention of one Henry C. Friend, who appeared in the trade four years ago with samples of wonderfully pure sugar, which he said had been refined by his "electrical process." About a year ago he induced a number of English and American capitalists to organize a company and buy the "secret process" from him.

NEW YORK, January 4.—The Electric Sugar Refining Company has been duped to the extent of over a million dollars, and its whole secret process turns out to be a humbug of the most barefaced kind. The secret process was the invention of one Henry C. Friend, who appeared in the trade four years ago with samples of wonderfully pure sugar, which he said had been refined by his "electrical process." About a year ago he induced a number of English and American capitalists to organize a company and buy the "secret process" from him.

NEW YORK, January 4.—The Electric Sugar Refining Company has been duped to the extent of over a million dollars, and its whole secret process turns out to be a humbug of the most barefaced kind. The secret process was the invention of one Henry C. Friend, who appeared in the trade four years ago with samples of wonderfully pure sugar, which he said had been refined by his "electrical process." About a year ago he induced a number of English and American capitalists to organize a company and buy the "secret process" from him.

NEW YORK, January 4.—The Electric Sugar Refining Company has been duped to the extent of over a million dollars, and its whole secret process turns out to be a humbug of the most barefaced kind. The secret process was the invention of one Henry C. Friend, who appeared in the trade four years ago with samples of wonderfully pure sugar, which he said had been refined by his "electrical process." About a year ago he induced a number of English and American capitalists to organize a company and buy the "secret process" from him.

NEW YORK, January 4.—The Electric Sugar Refining Company has been duped to the extent of over a million dollars, and its whole secret process turns out to be a humbug of the most barefaced kind. The secret process was the invention of one Henry C. Friend, who appeared in the trade four years ago with samples of wonderfully pure sugar, which he said had been refined by his "electrical process." About a year ago he induced a number of English and American capitalists to organize a company and buy the "secret process" from him.

NEW YORK, January 4.—The Electric Sugar Refining Company has been duped to the extent of over a million dollars, and its whole secret process turns out to be a humbug of the most barefaced kind. The secret process was the invention of one Henry C. Friend, who appeared in the trade four years ago with samples of wonderfully pure sugar, which he said had been refined by his "electrical process." About a year ago he induced a number of English and American capitalists to organize a company and buy the "secret process" from him.

NEW YORK, January 4.—The Electric Sugar Refining Company has been duped to the extent of over a million dollars, and its whole secret process turns out to be a humbug of the most barefaced kind. The secret process was the invention of one Henry C. Friend, who appeared in the trade four years ago with samples of wonderfully pure sugar, which he said had been refined by his "electrical process." About a year ago he induced a number of English and American capitalists to organize a company and buy the "secret process" from him.

NEW YORK, January 4.—The Electric Sugar Refining Company has been duped to the extent of over a million dollars, and its whole secret process turns out to be a humbug of the most barefaced kind. The secret process was the invention of one Henry C. Friend, who appeared in the trade four years ago with samples of wonderfully pure sugar, which he said had been refined by his "electrical process." About a year ago he induced a number of English and American capitalists to organize a company and buy the "secret process" from him.

NEW YORK, January 4.—The Electric Sugar Refining Company has been duped to the extent of over a million dollars, and its whole secret process turns out to be a humbug of the most barefaced kind. The secret process was the invention of one Henry C. Friend, who appeared in the trade four years ago with samples of wonderfully pure sugar, which he said had been refined by his "electrical process." About a year ago he induced a number of English and American capitalists to organize a company and buy the "secret process" from him.

NEW YORK, January 4.—The Electric Sugar Refining Company has been duped to the extent of over a million dollars, and its whole secret process turns out to be a humbug of the most barefaced kind. The secret process was the invention of one Henry C. Friend, who appeared in the trade four years ago with samples of wonderfully pure sugar, which he said had been refined by his "electrical process." About a year ago he induced a number of English and American capitalists to organize a company and buy the "secret process" from him.

NEW YORK, January 4.—The Electric Sugar Refining Company has been duped to the extent of over a million dollars, and its whole secret process turns out to be a humbug of the most barefaced kind. The secret process was the invention of one Henry C. Friend, who appeared in the trade four years ago with samples of wonderfully pure sugar, which he said had been refined by his "electrical process." About a year ago he induced a number of English and American capitalists to organize a company and buy the "secret process" from him.

JOHN B. REITERATES.

That Gov. B. is Certainly in Error About That $1,000,000 Mistake.

AN EXTRA SESSION CONDEMNED.

That May Throw a Little Light on the Executive Explanation.

AMPLE PROOF SAID TO BE AT HAND.

A Chance for Other Well-Known Legislators to Corroborate or Deny What They Are Alleged to Know in Keeping With the Interesting Contradiction.

The flat contradiction of Governor Beaver's Revenue Bill explanation is reiterated. Its author names other well-known Legislators who, he says, can also correct the Governor, if they will. At all events, he says he is prepared to prove the executive misstatement. He certainly dodges nothing, but talks to the point.

The flat contradiction of Governor Beaver's Revenue Bill explanation is reiterated. Its author names other well-known Legislators who, he says, can also correct the Governor, if they will. At all events, he says he is prepared to prove the executive misstatement. He certainly dodges nothing, but talks to the point.

The flat contradiction of Governor Beaver's Revenue Bill explanation is reiterated. Its author names other well-known Legislators who, he says, can also correct the Governor, if they will. At all events, he says he is prepared to prove the executive misstatement. He certainly dodges nothing, but talks to the point.

The flat contradiction of Governor Beaver's Revenue Bill explanation is reiterated. Its author names other well-known Legislators who, he says, can also correct the Governor, if they will. At all events, he says he is prepared to prove the executive misstatement. He certainly dodges nothing, but talks to the point.

The flat contradiction of Governor Beaver's Revenue Bill explanation is reiterated. Its author names other well-known Legislators who, he says, can also correct the Governor, if they will. At all events, he says he is prepared to prove the executive misstatement. He certainly dodges nothing, but talks to the point.

The flat contradiction of Governor Beaver's Revenue Bill explanation is reiterated. Its author names other well-known Legislators who, he says, can also correct the Governor, if they will. At all events, he says he is prepared to prove the executive misstatement. He certainly dodges nothing, but talks to the point.

The flat contradiction of Governor Beaver's Revenue Bill explanation is reiterated. Its author names other well-known Legislators who, he says, can also correct the Governor, if they will. At all events, he says he is prepared to prove the executive misstatement. He certainly dodges nothing, but talks to the point.

The flat contradiction of Governor Beaver's Revenue Bill explanation is reiterated. Its author names other well-known Legislators who, he says, can also correct the Governor, if they will. At all events, he says he is prepared to prove the executive misstatement. He certainly dodges nothing, but talks to the point.

The flat contradiction of Governor Beaver's Revenue Bill explanation is reiterated. Its author names other well-known Legislators who, he says, can also correct the Governor, if they will. At all events, he says he is prepared to prove the executive misstatement. He certainly dodges nothing, but talks to the point.

The flat contradiction of Governor Beaver's Revenue Bill explanation is reiterated. Its author names other well-known Legislators who, he says, can also correct the Governor, if they will. At all events, he says he is prepared to prove the executive misstatement. He certainly dodges nothing, but talks to the point.

The flat contradiction of Governor Beaver's Revenue Bill explanation is reiterated. Its author names other well-known Legislators who, he says, can also correct the Governor, if they will. At all events, he says he is prepared to prove the executive misstatement. He certainly dodges nothing, but talks to the point.

The flat contradiction of Governor Beaver's Revenue Bill explanation is reiterated. Its author names other well-known Legislators who, he says, can also correct the Governor, if they will. At all events, he says he is prepared to prove the executive misstatement. He certainly dodges nothing, but talks to the point.

The flat contradiction of Governor Beaver's Revenue Bill explanation is reiterated. Its author names other well-known Legislators who, he says, can also correct the Governor, if they will. At all events, he says he is prepared to prove the executive misstatement. He certainly dodges nothing, but talks to the point.

The flat contradiction of Governor Beaver's Revenue Bill explanation is reiterated. Its author names other well-known Legislators who, he says, can also correct the Governor, if they will. At all events, he says he is prepared to prove the executive misstatement. He certainly dodges nothing, but talks to the point.

The flat contradiction of Governor Beaver's Revenue Bill explanation is reiterated. Its author names other well-known Legislators who, he says, can also correct the Governor, if they will. At all events, he says he is prepared to prove the executive misstatement. He certainly dodges nothing, but talks to the point.

The flat contradiction of Governor Beaver's Revenue Bill explanation is reiterated. Its author names other well-known Legislators who, he says, can also correct the Governor, if they will. At all events, he says he is prepared to prove the executive misstatement. He certainly dodges nothing, but talks to the point.

The flat contradiction of Governor Beaver's Revenue Bill explanation is reiterated. Its author names other well-known Legislators who, he says, can also correct the Governor, if they will. At all events, he says he is prepared to prove the executive misstatement. He certainly dodges nothing, but talks to the point.

The flat contradiction of Governor Beaver's Revenue Bill explanation is reiterated. Its author names other well-known Legislators who, he says, can also correct the Governor, if they will. At all events, he says he is prepared to prove the executive misstatement. He certainly dodges nothing, but talks to the point.

The flat contradiction of Governor Beaver's Revenue Bill explanation is reiterated. Its author names other well-known Legislators who, he says, can also correct the Governor, if they will. At all events, he says he is prepared to prove the executive misstatement. He certainly dodges nothing, but talks to the point.

The flat contradiction of Governor Beaver's Revenue Bill explanation is reiterated. Its author names other well-known Legislators who, he says, can also correct the Governor, if they will. At all events, he says he is prepared to prove the executive misstatement. He certainly dodges nothing, but talks to the point.

The flat contradiction of Governor Beaver's Revenue Bill explanation is reiterated. Its author names other well-known Legislators who, he says, can also correct the Governor, if they will. At all events, he says he is prepared to prove the executive misstatement. He certainly dodges nothing, but talks to the point.